MAJOR WINT'S WOUND.

Telegram and Cablegram Are Received by Scranton Relatives.

A telegram and a cablegram have been received in Scranton containing information as to the condition of Major Wint. The press reports have said his wound was in the groin.

The telegram was from Key West, Fla. It was signed "Folts" and addressed to Mrs. Wint in care of L. H. Wint, the wounded officer's brother. "Folts" is presumed to be an army officer but is unknown to Major Wint's relatives. The telegram follows:

Key West, Fla., July 4.—Saw Major July 2. He writes, "Leg broken above knee all right; good shape. Wint." Everything favorable and comfortable.

The foregoing was forwarded to Mrs. Wint who is out of the city.

The cablegram was received here yesterday morning. It reads:

In the field near Santiago, July 5.—Doing well.

LITTLE POOLS ARE ANNOYING.

Many of Them Form on the Sidewalks About Court House Square.

Much complaint is made by pedestrians about the little lakes that form on the sidewalks about the court house square every night.

The sprinkler on the lawn is kept stationed in one spot so long that small rivulets flow down onto the sidewalks and form small pools that are annoying to pedestrians and those who seek the comfort of the park benches.

COMPANY D IS THE FIRST

Sworn in Last Night as Part of New Regiment.

FREMONT STOKES ELECTED CAPTAIN, C. F. PROSS FIRST LIEUTENANT AND F. A. BRANDA SECOND LIEUTENANT—SPIRITED CONTEST FORTWOLATTER OFFICES—MAJOR CAMERON HOPES TO FINISH HIS WORK HERE TOMORROW NIGHT. MONTROSE TO HAVE A COMPANY.

Company D is the first company to be mustered in as a part of the regiment which is to replace the Thirtieth. At the army last night Major Cameron accepted twenty-three of the men examined and approved by Dr. Halberstadt, a total of fifty-five when added to the thirty-two enrolled Tuesday night.

Following the enrollment the men were sworn in and fifty-one of them participated in a spirited election conducted by Major Cameron and which resulted in the election of Captain Fremont Stokes, First Lieutenant C. F. Pross and Second Lieutenant F. A. Branda. The names of the twenty-three men enrolled last night are:

David M. Levy, Benjamin D. Cooper, L. C. Brink, A. C. Breig, Fremont Stokes, Ira Mitchell, P. J. Gitzelson, John T. Jones, Jr., Samuel I. Berger, Charles H. Warner, Albert Gie, Michael Schmelphenig, Ross Sordam, Chester Weiss, F. M. Koehler, Thomas McGuire, Terry Maloney, Peter Nelson, O. A. Beemer, Charles Dippie, Charles D. Swift, Fred, P. Weyandt, Henry R. Campbell.

The company was drawn up in two lines on the drill floor, where Major Cameron administered the oath of fealty to the state and nation, but not until after the oath had been showing his authority as mustering officer. The order as appended gives some important information in lieu of an interview with Major Cameron, who, since his arrival here, has politely but firmly declined to discuss the reorganization beyond the facts revealed in this document:

THE OFFICIAL ORDER.

Headquarters National Guard of Pennsylvania, adjutant general's office, Harrisburg, May 18, 1898.

General Orders, No. 10.

I. In compliance with the call of the president of the United States for troops in the present war with Spain, the state of Pennsylvania has furnished the quota assigned to it, 10,500 officers and enlisted men. These troops were recruited largely from the National Guard of Pennsylvania, thus depleting the National Guard to an extent that renders it necessary to enlist other organizations for the public defense and to meet the requirements of the law.

II. The commander-in-chief directs that there shall be recruited nine regiments of infantry and three batteries of several companies each, to be organized as follows: The First, Second and Third brigades. Each regiment will consist of three battalions of four companies each, but only two battalions to be recruited and organized at this time.

III. The strength of each company of infantry, each troop of cavalry and each battery of artillery will be ascertained with the provisions of the act of Assembly approved April 13, 1887, and the act of Assembly approved thereto.

IV. Brigade commanders are charged with the duty of recruiting and organizing the several commands herein provided for, in such order as may be necessary, pass upon the same, and when approved forward through regular channels to adjutant general's office.

V. In enlisting men, who have formerly served in the National Guard of Pennsylvania shall have preference.

VI. Companies and regiments shall be organized as far as possible with the view of utilizing and caring for present armaments.

VII. The recruiting and organizing of commands as herein provided shall be conducted with the express provision and understanding that the officers and enlisted men who serve as the National Guard of Pennsylvania shall have preference as far as possible in future enlistments in the volunteer army of the United States, and may be disbanded at the close of the war.

VIII. The officers and enlisted men shall be subjected to a proper examination as to physical qualifications.

IX. The commanding officers of the several brigades are hereby placed on duty with the express purpose of organizing the commands and shall make such detail to officers to assist them as may be necessary.

X. The headquarters of the First brigade will be established at city hall, Philadelphia, room 39; of the Second brigade, at Franklin, Pa., of the Third brigade, at Lebanon, Pa.

XI. Officers and men now in the National Guard who are physically disqualified for active service may be transferred to the commands to be organized under this order.

By order of Daniel H. Hastings, Governor and Commander-in-Chief. Thomas J. Stewart, Adjutant General.

ADMINISTERING OATH.

While the oath was being administered, the men stood with uncovered heads and right hand raised and answered in concert "I do" when the oath was concluded.

Ex-Captain Fremont Stokes was the only person nominated for captain. After his election he was called to the front and answered affirmatively to Major Cameron, who asked if he accepted the command of the company.

C. F. Pross and F. A. Branda were nominated for the first lieutenant and the former being elected by the vote of 32 to 19. The written ballots were received and recorded by tellers, one having been selected by each candidate.

For second lieutenant F. A. Branda, A. W. Jurisch and C. D. Swift were nominated. Tellers were appointed as before, one for each candidate. The first ballot showed 19 for Branda, 18 for Jurisch and 15 for Swift. To insure an election 25 of the 32 votes cast were required and another ballot was ordered. It showed 21, 22 and 9 respectively.

Swift withdrew after the second ballot. When the third was counted 26 appeared for Branda and 27 for Jurisch, and Major Cameron decided that only 31 votes should have been cast. He declined to announce a result and ordered a fourth ballot. The men were called slowly to the front and as each deposited his vote it was closely watched. The tellers counted 30 votes for Branda and 21 for Jurisch. The former was declared elected and announced his acceptance as First Lieutenant Pross had done.

Major Cameron informed the men they were soldiers of the state and subject to Captain Stokes' orders. They were then dismissed by the latter. The three elections will be certified and reported at once by Major Cameron to the state authorities. The elections will be at once approved and the commissions forwarded here. Montrose, it now appears, is to be

LIGHT SENTENCES.

Women Convicted of Shoplifting Will Spend Thirty Days in the County Jail.

Mrs. Rachel Wincham and Mrs. Mary Thomas, of the North End, were sentenced to thirty days in the county jail by Judge Gunster yesterday. They were convicted last week of stealing from the store of Jonas Long's Sons.

Attorney C. W. Dawson made a plea to the court for suspension of sentence, and presented a petition signed by the mayor and other householders of the ward of the community in which the women reside. He said that Mrs. Thomas is getting quite old, and for ten years she had to work hard to support her family by means of washing, ironing and other household work.

He said for Mrs. Wincham that she has two small children, and the separation from them would be an untold hardship. Both women had suffered punishment of sufficient character in the humiliating and name of the arrest and trial to compensate the ends of justice. Judge Gunster made the following remarks:

"I do not see my way clear to suspend sentence. I know it will be a severe hardship to the families of these defendants to take them away from their children. But the innocent always suffer most. That is one of the greatest restraints that controls society, the fear that misconduct may bring suffering on those whom we love. Some imprisonment must be imposed in this case. There must be a deterrent to this pilfering not only to restrain the defendants again, but also to restrain others from imitating their example."

Mrs. Wincham's two-year-old daughter is seriously ill, and she was allowed to wait until next Monday before entering upon her period of imprisonment. Both women were visibly agitated during the remarks of the attorney and the words of Judge Gunster. They brightened up considerably though when sentence was imposed.

They were expected to be sent to jail for a term ranging anywhere from six months to a year.

Thomas McDermott was on the list last week charged with refilling recycled bottles that belonged to another person. He was sentenced to six months in the county jail on the condition that the bottles he took be restored to their owner. He must come back at the October sessions and show that he has fulfilled the obligation.

INSPECTION OF WATER SUPPLY.

The board will go to Lehigh next Wednesday on the 8 a. m. Delaware Lackawanna and Western train to inspect the water supply of the Scranton Gas and Water company at that place, and on that day a time will be selected to visit the supply of the Providence Gas and Water company, and of the company in Elmhurst and along the Stafford Meadow brook.

Secretary Murray's report summarized for the month of June is as follows: Actual city mortality, 116; deaths from the month of June, 116; contagious diseases, 19; causes died, 10; deaths in public institutions, 12; births 88; marriages, 42.

Health Officer Allen supplemented his written report with a verbal one in regard to the necessity of a sewer on the Diamond. He said that E. T. Blowitz, formerly city engineer, told him that it was next to impossible to sewer the district. It is so low that the river would block up the sewer, unless the outlet was run down as far as the Mount Pleasant bridge.

The subject was discussed at some length. Dr. Bentley said that the board recommended a sewer there three years ago, but it was pigeon-holed. The matter was referred to the street commissioner to open the sewer.

The written report said that 25 nuisances were reported during the month and 123 abated, comprising water closets, pig pens, filthy houses, streets and courts. The high water in the month put a stop to the pools on Belmont, Lehigh, Warren and McDonough avenues in condition not quite broad and deep enough to hold what may be left of Admiral Cervera's fleet, but disgracefully large for the roadways in a city of 100,000 inhabitants.

The main sewer on Robinson is entirely inadequate to carry the water and in consequence many cellars are flooded a great part of the time. A petition signed by between 250 and 300 of the young women employed in the stores and offices of the central city who frequent the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association was presented to the board of managers of that institution yesterday.

The petition set forth that the subscribers "do respectfully ask the board of managers to retain Miss Libbie Luersam as general secretary. Knowing her excellent qualities to sympathize with and help the girls who think that her influence would be more helpful than a stranger among us."

In accordance with the wish expressed by the board of managers asked Miss Luersam to become general secretary but she declined, preferring to remain in the subordinate position in which she has so endeared herself to the young women, who frequent the rooms.
