JULY 26 THE DATE OF CONVENTION

Democrats of County Will Name Their Candidates That Day.

IT WAS DECIDED AT THE MEETING OF THE COUNTY COMMITTEE LAST NIGHT TO HOLD THE SENATORIAL CONVENTION ON THE SAME DAY AS THE COUNTY CONVENTION-M. J. CADDEN RE-ELECTED TO THE POSITION OF STATE COMMITTEE-MAN FOR LACKAWANNA.

July 26 is the date selected for the Democratic county convention to nominate candidates for judge, congress and coroner. The convention will be held in the court house, and will be called to order at 10 a. m. The primaries will be held on Saturday afternoon preceding between the hours of and 7 p. m. It was decided to hold the senatorial convention to nominate a candidate for state senator at the same time and place as the county con-

The meeting of the county committee, which selected the time for holding the convention, was held last night in the St. Charles hotel. Colonel F. J. Fitzsimmons, the chairman of the committee, presiding. In the absence of the secretary, M. F. Sando, the proceedings of the committee were recorded by John M. Corbett, who was chosen secretary pro tem. Other members of the committee were C. G. Boland, John J. Durkin, D. J. Reedy, M. J. Cadden, Hon. M. E. McDon-ald, Captain P. DeLacy, Joseph O'Brien, Patrick Kerrigan, R. J. Beamish, of this city; Hon, T. J. Duggan and Victor Burschel, of Dunmore; Thomas Mack, of Winton: John J. Salmon, of Lackawanna, H. Hoffecker, of Blakely.

Colonel Fitzsimmons said he had called the committee together at the solicitation of a number of prominent Democrats, who seemed to feel that the convention should be an early one. The Republicans had already made a number of nominations and were preparing for the fall campaign, and those who had spoken to Mr. Fitzsimmons seemed to feel that they should be up and doing. He was ready to hear any suggestions the committeemen had to offer, for they were called together to ascertain their views

MR. CADDEN'S MOTION.

M. J. Cadden said he was in favor of an early convention, and moved that it be held on July 19, the primaries to be held on the preceding Saturday, July 16. This motion was seconded by Joseph O'Brien. Hon. T. J. Duggan was opposed to such an early date, holding that it would be injudicious. The party have no candidates now in sight for congress or state senator, and if the primaries are held on July 16, which is only a week away, he feared they would go into the convention with white elephants on their hands in the shape of offices, that it would be hard to obtain suitable candidates for. He favored delaying the convention for a week that candidates might have an opportunity to announce themselves and make an effort to place candidates for delegates in the field in their interest. The men who will bear the burden of the campaign ought to be considered in selecting a time for the convention. Mr. Duggan closed his remarks by ing that the convention be held on July 26 instead of July 19, and C. G.

Boland seconded the nomination. Joseph O'Brien spoke against the amendment. He preferred an early convention and he thought an early convention would be the best for reasons that were apparent to every committeeman. C. G. Boland spoke in favor of the amendment, holding that a week was too short a time to prepare for the election of delegates. He feared the Democratic voters of the county might enter a protest if such a hasty convention was called. He believed in giving the voters ample time to decide just what they want to do. D. J. Reedy and Senator M. E. McDonald also favored the amendment, and Mr. Cadden defended the wisdom of selecting the date named in his mo-

AMENDMENT ADOPTED.

A vote was taken and the amendment was carried. It was decided to call the convention to order at 10 a. m. and hold the primaries on July 23 between the hours of 4 and 7 o'clock p. m. Mr. McDonald suggested that the senatorial convention be held at the same time and place as the county convection and after this was embodied in the form of a motion it was adopted. Joseph O'Brien, Captain DeLacy and Cleaning company, which recently ob- M. E. McDonald were selected as a committee to wait upon the county ommissioners to see about securing the court house for the convention.

Chairman Fitzsimmons announced that it was time the county committee elected a state committeeman from this county. M. J. Cadden, who has acted in that capacity for several years, was unanimously re-elected. Captain P. DeLacy, the Democratic candidate for secretary of internal affairs, was called upon for a speech and made a few remarks, in which he said that since his nomination he had received many letters from friends in various parts of the state assuring him that he will have their support in November. Not a few of these letters came from Republicans. He was not prepared to say he will be elected, but if he falls in November it will be very close to the line. His remarks were greeted with applause

THE CANDIDATES.

Thus far no opposition to Judge F. W. Gunster for the nomination for judge has been developed and it is probable he will be unanimously nominated. No one has announced his candidacy for congress and the same is true of state senator, although T. P. Hoban, C. C. Donovan, John J. Murphy and R. J. Beamish have been mentioned for the latter office. For the office of coroner, Dr. J. F.

Saltry is the one whose name has been discussed up to date.

MONSTER LOCOMOTIVE.

Made for the D. and H. to Draw Two Hundred More Tons.

Engine 2427, manufactured by the Richmond Compound Locomotive works of Richmond, Va., has arrived at the Oneonta round-house, to be placed in service until August 1. The manufacturers of the engine claim it will draw 200 tons more than the heaviest of the Delaware and Hudson engines, and it is for the purpose of giving it a trial that it was sent there. It took a train from Mechanicsville, in charge of Engineer Reid and Fireman Feeley. The handled it well. An engineer, J. L. MAJOR CAMERON Pugh, accompanied it from the works and goes with the locomotive engineers on all trips. It will be used on various runs on the east end from Oneonta and given a thorough trial. The locomotive carries a steam pressure of 210 pounds, has a high pressure cylinder of large dimensions on the left side, and on the right side a low pressure cylinder of still greater size. It is a ten-wheel connective, without fingers on forward drivers and with very heavy connecting rods. It is constructed for the use of soft coal.

SAD HOSPITAL CASE.

Woman, Without Relatives Other

Than Two Small Boys, Dies. Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, of Railroad evenue, a woman who had no relatives in this country, except the two small children who survive her, died last right at the West Side hospital. She kept a small store on Railroad averue, but was forced to abandon attention to her business several days ago on account of Illness. She was suffering from typhoid pneumonia when taken to the hospital.

Mrs. O'Brien's body was removed last night to the home of a friend, Mrs. Kern, of 275 Railroad avenue, where the funeral will probably be held. John and Harry, the two children, are 12 and f years old respectively. The father, John O'Brien, died cight years ago.

ALL FROM HERE LOST

No Hope for Lackawanna County Passengers on La Bourgogne, Which Went Down July 4.

In the list sent out by the Associated Fress of the survivors of the French liner, La Bourgogne none of the names of the persons from this county appears. Joseph Cassesse, of Lackawanna avenue, agent here for the company, has not received any notice whatever, and he sent a letter last night to the general agent in New York, asking for an official list of those who took passage and of those who were saved.

Mr. Cassesse's office was besieged again yesterday with relatives and friends of the lost families, pleading for good news. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinando Staffarino, the aged couple from Connellton, was to see him several times, and her grief at not hearing her parents were saved was uncontrollable.

From the first day that news of the disaster reached the general public, and people began pouring in on Mr Cassesse for information, he told them candidly and in a few words that the chances were 100 to 1 that all from this county were lost.

Mr. Cassesse was told yesterday that the husband of Catherina Molinarid. instead of going to California, went to New York with her to see her away and there suddenly changed his mind and took passage with her. They came into possession of some property in Italy recently by the death of a relative, and were going over to sell it and return. If that be true then another victim from here was added, making Lackawanna's total twentyfour, instead of twenty-three.

NEW HOTEL AT HARVEY'S LAKE.

Managed by Fred R. White.

The prettiest body of water in Penn sylvania, Harvey's Lake, no longer will be embarrassed by lack of suitable hotel facilities. On Thursday in the presence of several hundred guests from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties the new hotel, the Oneonta, recently constructed by the Harvey's Lake Hotel and Land Company, an organization of Wilkes-Barre capitalists, at a cost exceeding $50,000, was opened by its manager, F. R. White. The opening was informal save for a dinner served in the handsome dining room fronting on the lake, from whose windows a view was afforded comprehending well-nigh the entire lake and its wonderfully picturesque shore line.

The site of the hotel is a sloping tract of several acres at the lower end of the lake directly opposite the Lake house. The structure is chateau-like, four stories high, with finished basement, spacious verandas, large reception halls, exceptionally well lighted guest rooms and every modern con venience. Fire places at various places in the halls and parlors and in many of the guest rooms give a home-like air and will enable the hotel to remain open the year around. The hotel is designed to accommodate comfortably 100 guests. It is heated by steam, lighted by electricity, has electric bells, telephone and telegraphic connection and secures its water supply from mountain springs. Mr. White is assisted in the management of the hotel by Percy H. French, long and popularly identified with the Wyoming and later with the Jermyn of this city.

LEAVES FOR HOME

Will Finish His National Guard Work Here Later.

HIS TRIP YESTERDAY TO MONT-ROSE, WHERE ONLY TWENTY-EIGHT MEN WERE ENROLLED, WAS NOT SATISFACTORY - WILL RETURN TO SCRANTON IN TWO WEEKS TO CONTINUE THE REOR-GANIZATION OF COMPANIES A, B AND C-MAJOR MILLAR IS MADE BRIGADE INSPECTOR.

Major Cameron will not finish the eorganization of the Scranton battalion of the new regiment until week after next. He returned last evening from an unsatisfactory mustering trip to Montrose, and will leave this morning for Harrisburg.

Twenty-eight men were accepted for the Montrose company. It had been expected that the work of mustering the command would be finished on the one trip, but the men promised were not presented for examination and enrollment. The same disappointment in securing National guard recruits was experienced in Montrose, as has been the case in Scranton.

Major Cameron, Dr. Halberstadt and Sergeant Rice returned to Scranton on the 8 o'clock Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train. Dr. Halberstadt, soon after his arrival here, left for home, and Major Cameron and Sergeant Rice will leave at 6 o'clock this morning. Major Cameron was last night the guest of Major W. S. Millar. At the armory last night a score or more of prospective members of Company B were waiting to be enrolled. There was a misunderstanding as to the programme of Major Cameron, who announced Thursday night that he would not finish the mustering of Companies A, B and C until two weeks hence.

A meeting of Company D, the only ompany mustered in for the new regiment, has been arranged for next Tuesday night. The regular drill night will not be decided upon until the other companies are organized, although the drilling of Company D recruits will be started at once, Captain Stokes

Major Millar has accepted an appointment as Third brigade inspector on the staff of Brigadier General Frank J. Magee, General Gobin's sucressor as commander of the brigade. News of the appointment was received yesterday in the following letter:

BONNET WAS COSTLY.

Displayed Ribbon Which Figured in an Aldermanic Case.

Mrs. Ellen Randall, of Robinson treet, was arrested yesterday on complaint of Mr. and Mrs. James White, neighbors, for the theft of some ribbon and for making threats. When arraigned before Alderman Millar last evening Mrs. Randall's hat was trimmed with the ribbon alleged to have been stolen. The charge of theft was made by Mr. White. He said Mrs. Randall had taken the ribbon from his wife's bureau. Mrs. White identified as her own the ribbon which decorated the prisoner's headgear. Mrs, White was prosecutor in the threat case. Mrs. Randall insisted that she was innocent and that the action against her was suggested by spite, but she was held in $300 bail to appear at court.

CHARGE AGAINST KERWIN.

It Is Said He Was Avoiding the Payment of Revenue on Cigars.

For selling cigars in boxes which had already been used for that purpose, Martin Kerwin is in the county fail awaiting trial at the next term of the United States court. He was arrested at Susquehanna by Constable Moran.

jail yesterday by United States Commissioner Milo J. Wilson.

Kerwin had a partner who eluded arrest. It is presumed they were able to make a dishonest profit by not using internal revenue stamps on the boxes. It has not been learned how long the pair have been avoiding the payment of the tobacco tax, nor whether they manufactured the cigars themselves or sold them as agents. The deputy internal revenue collector for the district in which the sales were made is obtaining evidence which will be imparted to the United States authorities before the trial. Kerwin's arrest was indirectly caused by his being locked up for intoxication in Susquehanna one night when Constable Moran was there. To the latter was related the suspicion that Kerwin was avoiding the tobacco tax. for the hearing of motions and hand-Moran communicated the facts in his possession to Collector Penman, of this city, who advised that the arrest be made.

It is believed Kerwin is liable to punishment for violation of the war revenue act as well as the old revenue

OUR CONVICTS IN PEN

We Have Ninety of Them in Cassidy's Big Boarding House and All of Them Are Well.

Sheriff Pryor on his trip to the Eastern penitentiary Wednesday with the four prisoners, Patrick Battle, Frank Schueneman, Charles Wasaluskey and William Osborne, called on the Lackawanna county contingent now in durance. The number is ninety.

Frank Bezek, who is serving a life sentence for the murder of his sweetheart, Mary Kerzik, at Olyphant three days after they landed together in the country, is big and stout, and his conduct as accredited on the prison docket is exemplary. He can talk English remarkably well for a man who four years ago couldn't understand one word. He has considerable freedom for a life convict, being kept in the hospital "corps," as they call it. He goes around as if he were employed there. At his trial it was urged in his defense that he was not responsible for his act, that he had been driven to desperation by the refusal of the girl to marry him, and that he was attempting to kill himself when she arose from the floor which she was scrubbing when he came in to plead with own head by her grasping the revolver to restrain him from suicide.

A wound in his chin was shown to the jury as having been made by a bullet fired after she fell dead, but the commonwealth maintained that the wound was received by coming in contact with a barbed wire fence when he was trying to escape after the murder. The prison physician recently cut into Bezek's chin and found a bullet, showing that his story of attempted suicide was true after all. Bezek has the bullet now and would not sell it for anything less than his liberty. He means at some future time to make application for a pardon. Joseph Boschino, who was also convicted of first degree murder and commuted, is in good health, but not good spirits. He does not get any latitude except what the other convicts get and he maintains steadfastly that the murder of Frank Conforti was done not by him but by Rocco Salvatore. who was himself murdered not more than 100 yards from the spot where
