

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

Andrew Medler Badly Injured by Being Thrown from His Bicycle.

FRED L. TERPPE IS ANXIOUS TO LOCATE THE FAKIRS WHO HAVE BEEN TRADING ON HIS BUSINESS REPUTATION—VALUABLE DOG OWNED BY FRANK SLOCUM POISONED—FUNERAL OF THE LATE MRS. MICHAEL KILCOYNE FROM HER LATE RESIDENCE.

Andrew Medler, of Cedar avenue, when going to his dinner yesterday on his bicycle, met with an accident that has disfigured his face to no small degree. Medler came along Cedar avenue at a rapid pace and after leaving the asphalted portion at the intersection of Hickory street, his wheel began to wriggle from one side to another. Presently the front wheel fell to the ground.

Mr. Medler followed with much force landing on his face. His nose was bruised and blood flowed from it freely. His whole face was a mass of bruises and cuts. Dr. Kolb was called to attend him. It is not expected that serious results will ensue.

IS AFTER FAKIRS. Fred L. Terppe, the pioneer druggist of this section, is making strenuous efforts to locate a gang of fake medicine sellers who have misrepresented him among a great number of residents of the South Side. Mr. Terppe ascertained yesterday that these fellows have been circulating an alleged purifier that they said was compounded by Mr. Terppe, and as the respected druggist has filled prescriptions for almost every family of this section for years, the concoction sold rapidly.

The fakers entered a house, stating that Mr. Terppe had personally sent them to the place, to sell his great medicine. Invariably a sale was made and the unsuspecting were told that when the bottle was used that another could be purchased at Terppe's drug store, or as many as were wanted. Yesterday as many as ten women went to the drug store and asked for a bottle of Terppe's medicine as we bought from an agent.

Upon investigation Mr. Terppe discovered how his reputation was being used. The police have been notified and a strict outlook will be kept on the fakers today.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KILCOYNE.

The funeral of Mrs. Michael Kilcoyne took place yesterday morning from her late residence, 113 Cedar avenue. The house was thronged long before the remains were forever closed from view, by sorrowing neighbors and friends. The cortege, which moved to St. John's church at 9:30 o'clock, was the largest seen here for some time, a fact that eloquently attested the respect entertained for the deceased.

Rev. E. J. Melley was celebrant of the mass offered for the repose of her soul. At the close of the services, Father Melley pronounced a beautiful eulogy. The reverend speaker patriotically recalled the noble traits that characterized the life of the departed woman. The procession moved to the Dunmore Catholic cemetery, and the remains were interred in the family plot.

VALUABLE DOG POISONED.

The valuable pointer dog of Frank Slocum was found dead yesterday morning at the Slocum homestead on Slocum street.

Jerse, as the beast was known, was poisoned by an unknown person, who has brought to an end the existence of a number of valued dogs on this side recently.

NUBS OF NEWS.

Mr. Normile, with a co-worker, attempted to raise a piece of iron and in doing so sprained his back. He was taken to Moses Taylor hospital for treatment. Later in the day he was removed to his home.

Joseph Rader, of Birch street, was removed to a private hospital yesterday. The young man is suffering from appendicitis, and the family physician, Dr. Kolb, ordered his removal. Today Dr. Kolb, assisted by several other physicians, will operate on Mr. Rader.

Matthias Schneider, of Birch street, received a message yesterday from his wife, who is at York, stating that their daughter, Mrs. Jacob Buck, was rapidly sinking.

Comet lodge, 421 Kaleiths of Pythias will have an installation of officers Tuesday evening next.

William Schmidt, Jr., clerk at Terppe's pharmacy, has returned from a visit at Philadelphia.

Frank Decker, of Prospect avenue, the boy who was injured in a runaway accident Tuesday, was slightly improved yesterday.

Mrs. David Lewis, of Cedar avenue, is visiting at Spring Brook.

Jacob Pontius, of Locust street, has accepted a position at the Scranton Axis works.

Miss Marie Hanaboe, of Olyphant, is a guest at the residence of Grover W. J. Nealon, of Prospect avenue.

Mrs. D. H. Murphy, of River street, is visiting at the residence of Phillip McHugh, of River street.

Edward Rader, of Birch street, has returned from a stay at Hartford, Conn.

Lena, the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Singer, of Cedar avenue, was run down by a horse driven by Jacob Weisman, near her home, yesterday. The horse stepped over the child, and she escaped any serious injury.

The First Teacups.

From the Jewelers' Circular. Even after tea was introduced into Europe, and had come into general use, teacups were scarce. At the same time coffee was introduced, but apart from Constantinople, the first coffee cups in Europe date back only as far as 1645 in Venice, 1659 in Paris, 1652 in London and 1698 in Leipzig. From the first, however, the conventional form of porcelain was undoubtedly introduced into Europe in the middle ages, yet not till the sixteenth century were cups imported from China in any great quantities, and even then it was as articles of vertu. Most of those found their way back into China again, as collecting porcelain is a hobby which is desired, requires immense study and knowledge, as the Chinese are skillful imitators and put numerous falsifications on the market.

LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

Improvements That West Side Councilmen Are Working For.

FUNERAL OF WILLIAM B. LETCHER FROM HIS LATE RESIDENCE, 133 NORTH HYDE PARK AVENUE—SERVICES IN CHARGE OF REV. J. P. MOFFAT—COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT TO LEWIS WATKINS—CHILD SERIOUSLY INJURED ON JACKSON STREET.

There seems to be a more general and concerted movement among West Scranton's councilmen representing various streets toward improving conditions on this side. Much of the legislation enacted by council recently has had for its direct purpose improvements of some kind on this side. The most direct one was a resolution which became active by the mayor's signature Monday. The Scranton Street Railway company is directed to remove their overhead street tracks from the centre of the street to the northern side. After this is done, a better grade established and consequently better drainage afforded, the continual annoyance of this street's condition will be in a large measure removed.

Another resolution of considerable import to residents and property owners is the one directing an estimate to be made of the cost of a sewer to be laid on Railroad avenue from the Third district main to Emmet street. This will greatly advance property in value and also the health of the community affected.

Much interest is also centered in the outcome of the street commissioner's investigation of the Hyde Park avenue sewer as upon his report in a large measure depends whether the Hyde Park avenue sewer is laid this year or not.

Though nothing has been done as yet, everything is going for the building of the ravine sewer on the southern side of the Mt. Pleasant culvert on North Main avenue. When this is finally accomplished another long needed and much anticipated improvement will have been added to the list.

BURIED YESTERDAY.

A large concourse of friends and relatives were in attendance at the funeral of the late William B. Letcher, which was held yesterday afternoon. Short prayer service was held at the residence, 133 North Hyde Park avenue, preceding the removal of the remains to the Washburn Street Presbyterian church.

At the church the pastor, Rev. J. B. Moffat, preached an eloquent sermon. His remarks were eloquent of the deceased, who in life had for so many years performed increasing and splendid service for that church. He spoke of the consequent reward and uttered words of consolation and hope to those of the family left behind. The choir of the church rendered the selections. At the conclusion of the services, the remains were viewed and then borne to the Dunmore cemetery where interment was made. The pallbearers were William Frink, D. A. Stone, L. A. Stever, P. V. Tracy, H. H. McKenzie and A. W. Dickson.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.

In honor of the efficient services rendered St. David's Episcopal church by Lewis Watkins, as chorister and organist, during his connection with the church in the above dual capacities, a grand complimentary concert has been arranged by the choir and will be given at the church tomorrow evening. Mr. Watkins is about to sever his connection with the church and the concert is in a sense a testimonial. He has accepted a flattering offer of a similar connection with the Episcopal church at Newcastle, Pa.

Following is the programme for this evening. Exercises begin at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Watkins will act as accompanist: Piano Solo—'The Silent World is Sleeping.' Buck

Meyers Book company, was given an opportunity to explain the merits of his company, is introducing in the township the new book, "The Director." Coyne opposed a measure to place the matter in the hands of the supply committee. After a little sparring the case was left to the committee with power to act. Mr. McConnell, another trustee, was next permitted to entertain the board with an extemporaneous speech on the merits of a new code of pennmanship. A few architects were present at the meeting and President McConnell informed them that the board had not yet taken definite action on whether they would erect a new building or not. Director Thomas of the school, the motion carried without a dissenting voice. The following committee was appointed on building: Thomas King and Lovinger. Under the head of new business the report of ex-Secretary O'Leahan was received and read. Nothing else of importance was transacted and the board adjourned.

A BALLOON RAILROAD.

From the Chicago Tribune. The most remarkable railway in the world has for its motive power not steam, but electricity, and it is still in the streets. The official stamp of approval has just been put upon this most marvelous railway, which goes to and from the summit of Hochstauffen mountain, at Eads-Reichenhall, the well known watering place in the Austrian Alps. The Aerial railway—to give it its correct designation—was the invention of the well known inventor, Herr Volderaue, who had long ago convinced the experts that his scheme was perfectly feasible and safe. A single rail guides the cars, and keeps the balloon with its load captive, the cars gripping the rail at the sides and underneath the flange. At about every three feet are the counter-weights. In descending the mountain, of course, gravity is the propelling force, water ballast being taken aboard at the upper end to counter-balance the buoyancy of the balloon. The cock on the water tank of the car can be opened by the operator at any time. The tank carries about 800 pounds of water and tank and car together weigh about 600 pounds. The balloon is sixty-seven feet in diameter, and carrying capacity of something over 11000 pounds. Weights, also, can be taken aboard and discharged at the various stations along the line. At the foot of the track are the gas tank and gas generator. The summit of the Hochstauffen offers a sublimely beautiful view, but before the advent of the Aerial railway, the climb was long and tedious. It was only attempted by experienced mountaineers.

While delivering milk upon his route Tuesday morning, Michael Hennigan was severely bitten by a large dog. The animal inflicted two wounds before he could be driven off. One of the wounds is quite severe. The incident happened at an early hour at a house on Franklin avenue. Dr. J. Carroll, of West Scranton, canterized the wounds later in the day.

It seems that the animal is ugly
