KENNEY TO TESTIFY IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Commonwealth Closes Its Case and the Defense Begins.

THE EVIDENCE THUS FAR AD-DUCED TENDS TO SHOW THAT KENNEY PROFITED PRETTY LIB-ERALLY THROUGH HIS ACQUAINT-ANCE WITH BOGGS, RECEIVING SOME RATHER EXTRAORDINARY

Wilmington, Del., July 14.-Senator Richard R. Kenney, of Delaware, today faced the jury on the fourth day of his trial for aiding and abetting William N. Boggs, the defaulting teller of the First National bank of Dover, in the misapplication of the funds of that institution. Boggs, the teller, who yesterday told the jury that Senator Kenney as far back as 1895 knew of his being a defaulter and that the senator subsequently was permitted to draw money when he had no funds, was again on the stand today. Boggs' direct examination being resumed, he said that when in 1895, he first told Senator Kenney he was in default. Mr. Kenney asked him how he had concealed it and said when the witness expressed his fear of exposure, "you have concealed it before, I don't see why you cannot do it again." The witness also said that in the latter part of 1896 Amos Cole came to him with a letter from Senator Kenney asking him to loan the bearer $500 and that he would secure it. Boggs gave Cole the money from the bank's funds and several other sums afterwards. $500 was never returned to the signed by Kenney were eventually made good except the Shaw check for $1,650 and the Anderson checks aggregating over $1,200 and a $500 check in the stock dealings with Cuthbert & company. All of these, witness said. represented his personal dealings and that he requested Senator Kenney to sign the checks as it would be dangerous for him to do so. These moneys were lost to the bank.

Three bonds aggregating $7,300 made out to Senator Kenney were identified by witness as belonging to him (Boggs). They had been made out to the defendant just before witness disappeared and were to support Boggs' family during his absence. The bonds had been given to Boggs in exchange for checks he had been carrying along.

BOGGS CROSS-EXAMINED

Under cross-examination witness said his downfall was due to faro, poker and stock gambling. He admit-ted having said to Ezekiel T. Cooper, now in prison, that Kenney's account was all right. He denied saying that the senator was not responsible for his trouble. He admitted having then said to E. T. Cooper, bookkeeper of the Farmers' National bank, that he had "manipulated" Senator Kenney's accounts and at times had temporarily withheld Kenney's deposits when he had a good balance, and at the same time he said held out other people's deposits to pay Kenney's checks. He also denied having threatened to get even with Kenney.

T. E. Ross, expert accountant, was recalled and went over Senator Kenney's accounts in the individual ledger of the First Union National bank of Wilmington, and the Farmers' Nation- in Speech of Deaf Children. at of Dover. These checks had not al ways been charged to Mr. Kenney's account, and witness quoted figures to prove that Mr. Kenney's account, if they had been properly kept, would have almost daily showed overdrafts from May, 1896, to the latter part of the BANK OFFICIALS TESTIFY.

During the afternoon session J. H. Pateman, cashier of the First National bank at the time of Boggs' flight, and H. A. Richardson, president of the bank, said that they had no knowledge of Boggs' defalcation prior to his dis-appearance, and that he had no authority to loan money or permit everdrafts. They had always considered Senator Kenney as a good customer of the bank, but in view of the developments following the discovery of Poggs' shortage they would not con-

Thomas E. Well, a correspondent for the Baltimore Sun, identified an interview he had with Senator Kenney on June 9, of this year, and which was printed in the paper of the following The defendant was quoted as saving he knew of Boggs' defalcations as far back as 1895. The commonwealt here rested its case,

IN REBUTTAL.

Senator Gray then opened for the defence and addressing the jury said that the prosecution had failed to make out a case, but that he would have Senator Kenney and other witnesses testify in order to show conclusively that the defendant is innocent. Before calling any witnesses Senator Gray made application to Judge Bradford for a writ of habeas corpus to summon the warden of the Trenton, N. J., prison to produce Ezekiel T. misapplying the bank's funds. The court stated that it would facil-Itate the appearance of Cocper should he decide to grant the application af-ter consideration, but in the meantime he suggested that the defense proceed and tomorrow morning District Attorney Vandegrift could answer the argument of counsel as to the granting of the writ. Senator Gray then called William Anderson, of Philadelphia, the builder with whom Hoggs entered into a contract to build houses in Philadelphia. Mr. Anderson said he did not know Kenney in the transaction at all, other than to accept the checks signed by him as he would any accommodation

A. B Magee, a law partner of Senator Kenney's, said that while the senator was in Washington in the spring of 1897 Roggs called at the office and together they prepared a deed of assignment of the holdings of Boggs to Senator Kenney. When the latter returned and found what the witness had done he told him he had no right to do so and tore away the deed of assign-Court then adjurned until tomorrow.

MURDER OR SUICIDE?

Wilmington's Freight-Car Mystery Is Still Unsolved.

Wilmington, Del., July 14.-The police authorities are divided in opinion as to whether the man, whose dead body was found in a car of a through freight train, was murdered or committed suicide. The weight of opinion, however, sustains the murder theory.

It is known that the dead man was Jared Matthews, of Merrill, Wis., although letters found on him were addressed to "E. H. Munson" and were written from Chicago. A telegram was received by Chief of Police Dolan this morning from Thomas J. Matthews, of Merrill, Wis., asking particulars of the case. He is supposed to be a brother of the dead man. His request was promptly complied with.

No information as to when or where the victim got on the car in which his body was found has been obtained, but inquiries are being made all along the There have been hold-ups by highwaymen on freight trains recently and it is supposed that Matthews was a victim of this kind of violence,

When the New England league was brouded and sent to the cemetery the other day, Uncle Daniel immediately teleother day, there baile inhabitation of graphed to Bill Coughlin, the Scranton lad who has been playing such fine ball for Pawtucket at third base, asking fain for his terms to play that position for the Barons Coughlin immediately replied and the figures being satisfactory he was notified of their acceptance. Coughlin remained at Pawtucket a few days awaiting the return of his manager from Pittsburg. In the meantime his from Pittsburg. In the meantime his manager sends him over to Providence on an ostensible sale to Billy Murray, and Coughlin played third against To-ronto at Rocky Point on Sunday, at-though the lad protested against ge-ing there. Manager Shannon wired ing there. Manager Shannon wired Coughlin to report here at once, else he would be suspended, and notified Pat Powers of the situation. Last evening Coughlin's matager telegraphed Shannon, asking him how much Wilkes-Barre would give for Coughlin, thus giving away that he had not sold the player to Providence, or if he had atempted to do so placed himself in a position of trying to work two managers while Coughlin work two managers while Coughlin is playing with Providence. Uncle Daniel replied to the down east manager that he had accepted Coughlin's terms over a week since and that he would give Cough-lin until today noon to report, cise he would be superded for the season.— Wilkes-Barre Record.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 14.—The stock market showed a firm resistance to pressure all day when the news was received that Santiago had surrendered on our terms a vigorous upward movement set in which wiped out a large part of the losses incurred in yesterday's bear raid. The fear of the introduction of yellow fever into this country if it should gain a foothold among our forces had as much to do with yesterday's decline as the fears of a military setback. This was indicated by the sharp recovery today in such stocks as Louisville and Nashville and Southern Railway preferred. The covering movement was aided by a raid upon the anthracite group which yielded casily and dragged the market back to near last night's final level, about which it drifted Wall Street Review. and dragged the market back to near last sight's final level, about which it drifted very sluggishly until the final upward movement. Net gains in most active stocks were a point and in some cases, notably in Omaha and Hawatian commercial gains exceed 2 points. The total sales were 228,600 shares.
