How many Americans ever heard of Dewey before the battle of Manila? Not one tenth per cent, of our people knew there was such a man, and yet he had just as much fight in him before we knew him as he has now. Knabe Pianos, to the number of 47,000, have been made during 61 years; Vose has made 40,000 pianos in 47 years; Briggs, 25,000 planes in 30 years, and Ludwig 17,000 planes in 15 years. Dr. N. E. Newbury, senior house surgeon at the Lackawanna hospital, will re-tire from that position the latter part of this month, when his year will nave expired. The rules of the hospital will not permit a physician to remain there longer than that period. During the first six months he is a junior house surgeon and during the last half of his year he carries the title and responsibilities of senior house surgeon. Dr. Newberry is ambitious and studious with a natural aptitude for his profession and is well fitted to win laurels for himself wherever he begins the practice of medicine after his retirement from the Lackawanna hospital. He came here one year ago from his home in Jersey City, almost imme-diately after completing his medical studies and has won many warm friends among these with whom he has come in contact since his residence here. He will be succeeded as senior house surgeon by Webb, the present junior surgeon, latter position will be filled by Dr. John B. Courser, who several years ago won much renown as a fast bicycle pro-peller. Three years ago he raced under the colors of the Scranton Bicycle club.

Thomas J. Gildea, of Archbald, is again a justice of the peace. He was recently commissioned by Governor Hastings and Saturday in court he qualified and was formally inducted into office for a term of five years. Mr. Gildea has been a jus-tice of the peace in Archbald for years and the stories that are told of his administration of justice would make an interesting volume. His honor's court was noted for the absence of red tape and the strong common sense that per-vaded his decisions. Last February he was a candidate for re-election but through a misunderstanding his name did not appear on the ticket and his opponent, a man named Dougher, was elect-ed. Then Gildea bethought him that Archbald was entitled to another justice and he prepared a petition and had it presented to Governor Hastings, who an-pointed him. Several years tgo the 'Souire created a sensation by appearing among the dudes in the Hoffman house cafe during a severe April snow storm attired in a straw hat, white vest and other articles of clothing to match. CAPTAIN ROBLING'S SWORD.

Mayor Bailey Chosen to Present It. and a Watch to Lona Day.

Chief Gurrell and the police force, with the exception of a few patrolmen who could not be spared from day duty, met Saturday afternoon in headquarters to arrange for presenting the sword and accoutrements to Captain Robling. The sword was put on exhibition before the officers, and won many compliments.

The unanimous opinion was that Mayor Bailey should present the gift to Captain Robling at Camp Alger. Cantain Edwards, Detective Moir and Patrolman Saltry were appointed a committee to buy a watch to present perjury preferred by Common Council-man Morris V. Morris, of North Main and with the sword will be placed on public exhibition in the window of some business place.

Chief Gurrell addressed the officers for the first time since his appointment. He congratulated them on the harmony existing among them and on their faithful work. He instructed them in case any complaint or report is made to them individually while on duty and it is not convenient to consult a superior officer to go ahead and attend to it to the best of their judgment. In that way they will get credit for prompt and effective work.

HE USED HIS HEAD.

Dr. D. B. Hand Showed a Crowd s Practical Way of Getting a Horse Out of a Hole.

Dr. D. B. Hand went to Dunmore Saturday and had an accident that might have cost him one of his horses. On Cherry street a ditch for a water pipe was dug from one of the houses to the center of the road, at which end there was a hole large enough to pernit the plumbers to work in tapping the pipe. There was a hitching post on the opposite curb, and the space between the post and the hole was just barely wide enough for a vehicle to pass. On his way up the doctor passed safely enough, but on his return trip he did not.

As the horses' hind legs were on a line with the ditch the one on that side began to prance and side-step, and down it went backwards into the hole until its head was all that was above ground.

Several men came quickly to render assistance, and then it was the doctor's practical common sense was displayed. The men helped to unhitch the other horse first and then to loosen the traces of the fallen animal. One man said he knew where he could get a rope and tackle, but the doctor said no. The idea of how the thirsty crow got drink out of the deep pitcher came to him. He thought if the crow raised the water by dropping pebbles in the pitcher, he could raise the horse filling up the hole gradually. He di-rected the work of two men with shovels and little by little the bottom of the ditch was raised until the horse was able to step out. With every two or three shovelfulls he would spank the horse gently to make it lift its legs and pack down the dirt. It took just fifteen minutes to extricate the horse by this method.

SWEENEY MADE A MISTAKE.

He Thought Patrolman Finherty Could Not Arrest Him.

2.30 o'clock yesterday morning John Sweeney and Michael Dougherty were loating around the Scranton House. Patrolman Flaherty told them to move on. Sweeney got saucy. He was told what to do if he wished not to be arrested, but he remarked that he didn't think Flaherty could take him. Suiting the action to the word he made a quick attack and struck Flaherty a heavy blow in the eye, blackening it. He no sooner did than the club descended with Flaherty's might on his head. Dougherty took a hand in. He caught the club and tried to prevent Flaherty from using it on Sweeney. The latter broke away, but Dougherty was held and turned over

Bail not forthcoming he was sent up to await trial.

POLITICAL JOTTINGS.

Michael Grant, of Langstaff avenue, is a candidate for delegate from the Second district of the Twenty-first ward, to the oming Democratic county convention.
The primaries to elect delegates to the Democratic county convention will be held Saturday. During this week the Democratic leaders will confer and make an effort to agree upon a slate to be pre-sented to the convention. A dispatch from Bloomsburg in yesterdays Philadelphia Press reads as follows "Charles L. Hawley, of Scranton, Prohibition candidate for president judge of the Twenty-sixth Judicial district, composed of Columbia and Montour counties, has begun his campaign in this county. The Prohibitionists of the district ex pect the Republicans to endorse Mr. Haw ley for the judgeship."

ANOTHER CHAPTER OF BONTA HISTORY

Capital Stock of Glass Pipe and Condit Company to Be Sold.

MAN WHO HAS INVESTED LARGELY IN STOCK OF TWO BONTA COM-PANIES SAYS THE SALE IS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PUTTING CON-TROL OF COMPANY IN HANDS OF A MAN WHO WILL BE ABLE TO GIVE PROPER ATTENTION TO ITS MANAGEMENT.

Notices are posted on the poles at the corners of court house square and have been advertised in the city newspapers concerning the sale of the capital stock of the Bonta Glass Pipe and Conduit company next Thursday ferencon at o'clock in the arbitration room. The stock will be sold by the sheriff to the highest bidder. A Scranton man who invested considerably in Eonia stock was asked by a Tribune reporter last night what the meaning of these notices is, and he said the sale is for the purpose of putting control of the majority of the stock in the possession of one man, who has promised to run the company on a business-like plan. For nearly a year the Glass Pipe ompany has been at a stand still. The reporter's informant said that there is no question about the success of the operation of making glass pipes. The concern, he said, has not been properly managed, but it will be after this one man takes charge. The Plate Glass concern is a thing of the past. Everything that belonged to the company has been sold, excepthe patents which are held by the stockholders. He stated that the manufacture of glass pipe is a success if properly managed.

PREPARING TO PAY THE DEFICIT.

Representatives of United Irish American Societies Met.

Representatives of the United Irish-American societies of the county, unde whose auspices the field day events were scheduled for July 4 in Athletic park, met last night in John Boyle O'Reilly council rooms. The societies do not form an amalgamated federation, although a meeting will be held on Sunday evening. July 21, to effect permanent organization.

Some months ago a party of prominent Irishmen decided to interest the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Young Men's Institute and the Temperance societies in the plan to hold a celebration in honor of the centennial of the Irish uprising of 1798. As many of them as were favorable to it were instructed to send delgates to a meeting the time of which was appointed. Conscious of the vagaries of Fourth of July weather the delegates pledge their respective societies to make good any deficit that might result.

It rained on the Fourth and the games postponed to the following Saturday drew an attendance of less than 200. The games went on just as if the park were crowded, and twenty-four medals were won, fourteen of them, gold, costing $10 apiece, and other ten being of silver at $5 apiece. The de ficit all told amounted to $525.

How to pay this off was the topic under discussion last night, and the decision was to raise the money this forenoon on a note in one of the banks. The societies that took part in th preparations for the celebration will pay their pro rata share to meet the note. The bills will be paid this week and the medals secured and presented to the winners.
