NINETY-SEVEN VOTERS EXAM-INED BY COMMISSIONERS.

Two of the Voters Brought in On Attachments Asked for Hearings and the Privilege Was Granted to Them-Two Witnesses Who Refused to Answer were Called Before Judge Archbald to Show Cause Why They Should Not Be Punished for Contempt.

Ninety-seven voters, the largest number in one day since the hearings began, were examined yesterday in the Langstaff-Kelly contest. Ten or twelve of them were brought in on attachments. Two of the attached voters, Thomas J. Kelley, of the Thirrounds. teenth ward, and John Reap, of the Twelfth ward, desired a hearing. They did not want to submit to paying the

A hearing was given them before Judge Archbald in chambers. Reap said he sells ice along a daily route. One evening on his return home his sister told him a man was at the house and left word that he go to court the next day. He decided not to pay any attention to such notice. Mr. Kelley's excuse was that he had been examined already and took it for granted that the subpoena was for his son who is of the same name. Judge Archbald will call in the officer who served the subpoenas and find out whether or not he served these men personally. Anthony McHugh, of Luzerne street, and E. J. ### CONDUCTED BRISKLY.

In yesterday's hearing the examination was conducted briskly and without incident, except that now and then some one would get a triffe gay in his answers. Richard Flynn, of the Thirteenth ward, in answer to whether he received any money for his vote said he didn't see any around. Mr. Holgate asked him would he if he could. He responded, "You bet your sweet life." Michael Kerrigan answered the questions two or three octaves higher than was really necessary.

Those examined were from the Thirteenth ward, except about a dozen brought in on attachments. They were as follows: Michael Gilbride, John J. Sweeney, Albert Bodycomb, John B. ## SEVEN COUNTY VETERANS.

Final Arrangements for Their Reunion in Binghamton Friday.

The general committee appointed to make preparations for the Seven Counties Veterans' association which holds its re-union at Ross park, Binghamton, Friday, met on Saturday afternoon and finished arrangements for the reunion. Reports were received from this city and Carbondale, announcing that excursions would be run. Bauer's band will accompany the Scranton delegation. The committee on entertainment reported that provision had been made to feed a large number of people at the park. Dinner will be served from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m.

The committee on the line of march reported that it had been decided as follows: The line to form on Lewis street and to march down Lewis to Washington, to Ferry, to Front, to North, to Murray, to Court, to Carroll and countermarch to Washington. The parade will disband at the armory, from which point cars will be taken to the park.
