

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

FUNERAL OF MRS. EVANS FROM THE FAMILY RESIDENCE.

Picnic of the Forest Band at the Artesian Well Grove Saturday Was a Big Success—Formal Opening of the Home of the Tiger Hunting Club on No. 5 Mountain—Clam-bake of the Scranton Athletic Club at the Meadows—Permanent Man William Fickus Injured.

From the family residence at 420 Pittston avenue, the funeral of Mrs. Mary Evans, whose death was noted in Saturday's Tribune, took place yesterday afternoon. The old homestead was crowded with friends, neighbors and acquaintances, who called to gaze for the last time on the features of a woman so noble, self-sacrificing and true. The remains reposed in a handsome black casket, surrounded with floral pieces.

At 3 o'clock the services, conducted by Rev. F. P. Doty, of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, in the absence of Rev. E. J. Haughton, acting pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church, were begun. Rev. Mr. Doty pronounced a touching eulogy. Eloquenty he referred to noble characteristics of the deceased woman. The choir of the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church sang beautifully. The casket was closed, and the cortege moved to the Dunmore cemetery, where the remains were interred.

OTHER FUNERALS.

The infant daughter of the late Mrs. John Quigley was laid to rest in the cathedral cemetery yesterday afternoon. The little one, who was five months old, was taken by her mother's brother, John Langan, of 538 River street, to raise. From the Langan residence the obsequies took place. The child was interred beside her mother. The funeral of the two-month-old daughter of Charles Miller 312 Alder street, took place yesterday afternoon. Interment was made at the German Catholic cemetery on the West Side.

ANNUAL PLEASURE EVENTS.

The picnic of the Forest band at Artesian Well grove Saturday afternoon and evening, was a success far beyond the most sanguine hopes of the band boys. The immense happy throng in attendance amply demonstrated the fact that the people of this section appreciate the efforts of the members of this splendid organization, in providing such commendable and thoroughly enjoyable events as is the custom of the boys each year.

LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

FLAG RAISING EXERCISES AT BELLEVUE BREAKER.

Foreman John Hale was Chairman of Meeting and Gave an Interesting History of Colliery—Superintendent B. C. Green Spoke About the Flag—Funeral of the Late Mrs. Dorothy Jones—Number of Social Events—Poem of Mrs. G. W. Powell Read at Flag Raising.

If any person residing in Bellevue failed to attend the flag raising Saturday afternoon at the Bellevue colliery, they missed an opportunity to exhibit their patriotism, their home pride and the good speeches and stirring music.

The affair throughout was purely local, everyone participating, with the exception of Professor Howell, being a resident. The flag and pole were purchased by subscriptions by Bellevue employes. A recitation, "Destruction of the Maine," and a song, "On to Cuba," are both original productions, Mrs. G. W. Powell, a resident of Bellevue, being the authoress.

A complete description of the pole's position and surroundings were given in Saturday's Tribune. The platform was gaily decorated with the national colors. There were nearly 250 persons present. The music was provided by Stenner's band. The exercises began about 2:45 o'clock with Inside Foreman John Hale acting as chairman. The band played an interlude, after which the chairman made a short opening address, choosing as his subject "Bellevue Colliery."

Mr. Hale is just finishing his forty-second year at the colliery, the last 23 years of which he has been inside foreman and few men are better qualified to speak of colliery life.

In 1854 the slope opening was made and the next year coal was being prepared for market. Some of the machinery which was used there is still in use and it was brought here from March Chunk by opportunity. The coal was mined by individuals. The mine is supposed to have been given the name by those officials of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company who were so intimately connected with Bellevue Hospital, in New York city.

Few collieries are as richly blessed with good conditions. There are 19 workable veins, aggregating 70 feet of coal. The output has ranged from 32,859 tons in 1852 to 195,332 tons in 1897. In 1855, 220,595 tons were taken out. The total tonnage for 44 years is 5,444,105, or 2,838,070 cars. Few serious accidents have happened here and only 12, since Mr. Hale became foreman in 1869. In 1874, the present breaker was begun and in 1876 was put into operation. Considerable improvements have been made. Fourteen distinctive languages are spoken among the employes. There has never been a strike and only once did the company fail to pay monthly and the weekly wages for a month due bill 6 per cent interest was then given.

Twenty men left the shaft to enlist in the Civil war. Five have gone thus far to the present field of action. They are David Donovan, J. P. Malone, Benjamin Watkins, John E. Davis and Patrick McLean. Three assistant mine superintendents and fifteen inside foremen have graduated from Bellevue. They are E. J. Evans, Thomas J. Williams and the late Thomas W. Phillips, superintendents; and Lewis Roberts, Edward James, sr., Henry P. Davies, Elijah Daggler, Joseph D. Lloyd, James A. Evans, Frank Zimmerman, D. W. Mosler, James W. Thomas, David Z. Davies, Thomas E. Williams, James Daniels, William O. Williams, William Harris and Ebenezer Lloyd. All in all no finer or better equipped plant exists in the valley. Electricity here has been applied more extensively than elsewhere.

Superintendent B. C. Green, upon whom fell the burden of arranging the affair gave a short history of the flag Mr. Green is a good speaker and told some entertaining facts in connection with the glorious emblem. City Superintendent of Schools George Howells was orator of the day. Usually brilliant and always more than common effort, the speaker outdid any previous interrupted by applause.

He spoke of patriotism, its cause and the results of its stirring influence. He said that the truest patriotism is found always existent, and the true patriot was not waiting for a test, but was up and doing. That flag was an element in the inspiring of patriotism. For what reason, scholars nor wise men could neither perceive nor define. It is a growing flag, representing progressive thought, brotherly love and Christian charity.

That flag now floated over a solid north and south. Sectional hatred and animosity of the past are now dead and buried without hope of resurrection. Its flaunting folds thrill a nation and the results of this country's acts are due to education, preparation and self-confidence. As it was said of the Franco-German war that the German schoolmaster whipped the French soldier, so it was now that the country over which that flag floated was by its twentieth century education was destroying the dense ignorance of Spain's sixteenth century condition.

Her expulsion of the Moors, a crime, is being visited upon her now and fifty years hence the names of naval heroes are recorded by history will dip her pen in the sunlight and write of Dewey far above the others. To him belongs a victor's crown. Our patriotism is and should be of the purest kind and ever present under all sorts of conditions. J. P. Atrihno, our present success first to the efficiency of Democratic institutions in this country, and second, to the positive results of a good liberal education.

Recitations were given by Misses Effie Browning and Louise Sumner, Miss Myra Davies and Mrs. W. Powell sang solos. Several selections were given by a children's chorus. The flag was unfurled by Miss Laura Green, daughter of Superintendent Green.

At the close of the exercises a game of ball was played by two teams, the one representing the outside and the other the inside workers of the colliery. The outsiders won handily. Many amusing incidents developed during the game. The batteries were: Inside, Warner and Rogan; Outside, Duffy and Gallagher.

SEVERAL SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

Miss Josephine Coleman was delightfully surprised Friday evening at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, of South Van Buren avenue, by the visit of a large party

MR. AND MRS. J. B. ALVORD'S GOLDEN WEDDING.

Were Married in Prompton, Wayne County, Half a Century Ago by Rev. Everett Guild, Uncle of Rev. George E. Guild, of the Presbyterian Church—Johnson's Grocery Store Entered by Burglars—Eisteddfod to Be Held on Thanksgiving Day—Officers Elected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Alvord celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding Saturday at the family residence, 2909 North Main avenue. From noon until late in the evening their home was crowded with admiring friends all desirous of expressing their congratulations to the aged couple upon attaining so eventful a career in their happy lives. The presents bestowed upon them represented a vast collection of handsome and costly gifts and were graciously received by Mr. and Mrs. Alvord. The list of guests who called was large.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvord were united in marriage by the Rev. Everett Guild, at Prompton, Wayne county, Pa. The latter is an uncle to the Rev. G. E. Guild, pastor of the Providence Presbyterian church. At a residence of about three years at Prompton the couple came to Scranton. They have five children and twenty grandchildren. This is the second event of a like character in the Alvord family, as Mr. Alvord's oldest brother and wife celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage about five years ago.

Among the guests from out of town were: J. M. Hobbs, of Cannonville, N. Y.; Willard H. East, Benton, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Alvord, of Carbondale; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleft, of Carbondale; Mr. and Mrs. I. Churchill, of Uniondale; Mrs. S. Carpenter, of Uniondale; D. W. Alvord and family, of Waymart, Pa.; W. B. Alvord and family of Mayfield; Miss Ida Alvord, of Summerville, N. J.

STORE ENTERED.

The robbery store of Mrs. Johnson, corner of East Market street and Dickson avenue, was entered by burglars some time Saturday night or early yesterday morning and several articles of a perishable nature taken. They gained admission to the place on the Dickson avenue side by forcing open a window and so noiselessly had they done their work that people residing overhead were not given the least intimation that the store was being despoiled.

The articles taken were a quantity of cigars, candy and bananas, while the money in the cash drawer was left intact. The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Johnson yesterday and was immediately reported to the police who are putting forth every possible effort to apprehend the thieves. They will probably be brought to justice before many days have elapsed.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JAMES.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Dorothy James was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, 508 North Main avenue. The remains were borne to the First Welsh Congregational church, where in the presence of a large number of friends the services were held. Many beautiful floral offerings were placed on and about the handsome casket.

Rev. David Jones, pastor, officiated and preached a short funeral sermon in the Welsh language. Rev. D. P. Jones, pastor of the Tabernacle Congregational church, assisted in the service. A quartette from the church choir sang. At the conclusion of the services the remains were viewed. They were then borne to the Washington street cemetery where interment was made. The pallbearers were: J. D. Lloyd, S. R. Jones, David Pritchard, Thomas R. Lewis, W. C. Jones and W. T. Watkins.

PECULIAR SERENADE.

Robert Green colored, and a hostler by occupation, was arrested in Kelly's patch, Scranton street, last evening by Patrolman McColligan. Green was throwing stones, using fiery language, and shouting and incidentally the Sabbath day, annoying other denizens of the "Patch," and several other things of lesser degree. It seems that Fen Johnson, the local assman's daughter is Green's amantha and he says he was only serenading her. His story will be given a fair value by Alderman Kellow in police court this morning. A small addition may be made as a reward for Mr. Green's murderous threats towards the guardian of the peace and others.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.

Nearly 2,500 persons enjoyed the open air band concert given by Bauer's band Saturday evening from the portico of Fairchild's hotel. The realization of the concert was so nicely entertained are indebted to the Scranton Elks who provided the concert. The band will go to Lake Ariel with the Elks Wednesday. Medleys, patriotic airs and a variety of songs composed Saturday evening's programme and this popular organization was heartily cheered.

CHASE IS IMPROVING.

Engineer George Chase, whose condition since the sad accident of Thursday last gave his family and friends much concern, was much improved yesterday. He is still, however, in a very weak state and has not entirely recovered the use of his faculties.

MINOR NEWS NOTES.
