OFFICERS OF YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION INSTALLED.

Afterwards an interesting programme was rendered—There will be a flag raising tonight at the home of Mrs. Catherine Maddocks—Programme That Will Be Rendered at the Children's Services in Jackson Street Baptist Church—Some Who Are at Seashore.

The members of the Baptist Young People's union of the South Main avenue First Welsh Baptist church met in regular session last evening in the church parlors. In addition to other routine business officers-elect for the ensuing term were installed. Those seated were: James R. Hughes, president; Miss Sarah Meredith, first vice president; Miss Elizabeth Hughes, second vice president; Miss Martha Hughes, corresponding secretary; Luther Lewis, treasurer; Hugh Williams, conductor of singing; Miss Elizabeth Jones, organist.

At the conclusion of the business a literary session was enjoyed. James R. Hughes presided. Patriotic songs were sung. Thomas Davis recited a patriotic selection. Thomas Davis, born a member of Company F, Thirteenth regiment, who is home on a furlough, gave an interesting word sketch of "Camp Life." Miss Elizabeth Hughes read a well prepared paper on the subject of "Causes of the Present Strife." Thomas Reese made an address upon "Patriotism and Prayer." The exercises were concluded by singing the Doxology.

Muzzle the Dogs. There is an ordinance among other ordinances which would bear enforcing. The effort need not be long continued so that those who should enforce it might be wearied in so doing. The ordinance referred to is the one which declares that all dogs shall be muzzled during certain periods of the year. That time is now and yet not one dog out of 500 is so muzzled.

Of course you will find many who will say it is such an apparent cruelty to strap up a dog's nose or place a wire cage like a baseball catcher's mask on his face. But let some canine, suffering from the heat and probably teased by some persons, bite a child or grown person and witness the indignation.

Of late, much proof of the necessity of the enforcement of this ordinance has existed. Many instances of bitten persons have been recorded and yet the dogs still wear no masks. One case of muzzling exists in this district and that is that of nearly every canine whether mad or not, has been shot, after the biting, this year.

It is a well known fact that many dogs are neither vicious or mad, but are being hung about by the neck and animals are just as entitled as human beings and have not the means of seeking alleviation at their command as human beings do.

Some one will see the poor canine being hung about by the neck and "mad dog" and cry, "Well, it will not take much chasing and stoning to madden that champing dog and then some one gets bitten. It is still fresh in the memory of many on this side how little Evans, of Academy street, and Willie Jordan, of West Lackawanna avenue, were victims. Yet that dog was given water and food and even whipped after his wild escapade.

Only Thursday evening, Patrolman McCalligan was notified that a dog was acting strangely on Thirtieth street near Luzerne street. He went back there and found the dog and shot him. No one claimed the animal and the body was removed to the crematory. Instances like the above occur almost daily yet the dog either owned or unowned wanders about without muzzles.

We would suggest that those who own dogs put muzzles on them and keep them muzzled as much as possible during the heated term. They can thus anticipate the enforcing of the ordinance and prevent the dog being worried and biting some one.

SOCIAL EVENTS. A party of friends visited the residence of Mrs. Daniel James, of 523 North Rebecca avenue, last Thursday evening and tendered her a happy anniversary in honor of the thirty-fourth anniversary of her natal day. Mr. Thomas responded in a happy manner. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served. Mr. Thomas returned to Camp Dunn Loring Thursday morning to assume his duties as orderly to General Butler, division commander.

Miss Foster was also becomingly attired. Frank Astringer, of West Locust street, acted as groomsmen. The wedding marches were played by Organist Sies.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Buwen, who are very popular in this city, were tendered a reception by a large party of their friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, of 729 Eynon street. The festive occasion was heartily enjoyed by all and at a seasonable hour the happy couple were served. John, the 2-year-old son of John Kreech, of Irving avenue, was painfully injured at his home Thursday. The little fellow was standing near his mother, who was engaged in putting through a wringer some linens just washed. Mrs. Kreech turned about for a moment and John put two of his fingers in the rolls of the machine. Without noticing, his mother turned the handle, drawing the child's hand into the wringer. The cries of the boy caused the mother to reverse the rolls without any unnecessary delay. Dr. Walsh was sent for. The fingers were badly bruised, but nothing serious will occur.

SOME BEAUTY RULES. Modern Recipes for Attaining Good Looks of Varied Kinds. From the Philadelphia Times.

To Get Thin.—Eat a great deal of chopped meat without any potato in it. Drink little fluid of any kind except strong tea. Exercise a great deal without drinking and do not eat bread, butter, or candy. Lemonade, acid drinks of all kinds, and saline mineral waters are excellent. Drink a glass of clear water before breakfast.

To Get Fat.—Eat vegetables and sleep after each meal. Go to bed at 9 o'clock and lie in bed half an hour after you wake up. Laugh a great deal. Drink water by the pint or the quart if you can. Drink weak and sweet tea with plenty of milk in it. Take cod liver oil and sweet oils as much as you can. Eat until you feel as if you would burst at the table. Put plenty of butter on your bread, and do not be afraid of ales, lagers, and wines.

This will guarantee a gain of five pounds a month, and, if you can sleep a great deal, of double that amount.

To Have a White Skin.—Eat no meat at all. Become a vegetarian; they always have beautiful skin. Once in six weeks or so eat a meal of fresh meat. This does away with the tendency to scurvy—that curse of the vegetarian. Drink as much water as you can, eat little grease, and touch no tea or coffee. Your breakfast may be oatmeal and oranges; your dinner fruit, nuts, fruit tea—preferably quince tea—gramma muffins, cauliflower croquettes, marmalade, and dishes of stewed vegetables. The diet is not so bad when you get used to it. In large towns you will find one or two restaurants catering to such as you.

To Become Very Muscular.—Walk a great deal, carrying something always in the hands. This develops the arms. To roll a hoop might be good if one were brave enough to do so in public. Practice lifting a little every day. Never strain or tire yourself. Eat meat, drink milk, and practice bending backward, forward, and sideways every day. At night rub about a tablespoon of brandy or rum into your skin of the under and tender part of the arms.

To Have Plumb Hands.—Rub them with sweet oil night and morning. Exercise them by rubbing together. Never wear tight sleeves or snug gloves.

To Keep the Hair Small.—This is difficult. The first sign that one has passed youth is the tendency to wear a larger pair of shoes—and this is necessary. The feet spread and really grow. To remedy this wear shoes as long as can be managed, but not as wide as seem necessary. Never wear old slippers around the house, unless they are snug in the width, and be careful of corns. These are never necessary while the chiropodist exists.

To Have a Fine Color.—Wash the face with the juice of preserved strawberries in the winter, and in summer rub a ripe berry on the face.

For a Smooth, White Skin, Without Dieting.—Bathe the face daily with buttermilk. A preparation of tincture of benzoin and rose water is excellent for whitening purposes. There are very good prepared creams, but these are never cheap. Do not go under a dollar for them if you want them compounded of fine and pure materials.

To Have One's Pimples Sweet-Scented.—Make sachet bags and slip them in the linings of dresses. They will, if good at first, keep their scent for a year or more. Fold the bodies of the scented gowns and lay them away in air-tight boxes. This fills them with scent.

A LETTER THAT GOES ALWAYS. Started in 1844 and Has Been Circulating Ever Since. From the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette.

Probably no letter in the whole world in all time has been traveling for so long as that of the class of '44 of Yale college. Some 50 years ago some of the members undertook to keep a letter circulating, each man receiving it adding whatever he considered would interest the others, and when the epistle got around to him again removing his previous effort and replacing it with a new one. So the letter went on its endless way, year after year, and today it is being told to the aged men who are left of the class of '44 what their fellows are doing, of their successes and disappointments, of deaths, too often, as the class dwindles away, before the ruthless hand of time. Not all the survivors are members of the chain, but the letter writers are so well distributed that almost all of the classmates are heard from and hear of the news contained in the letter.

At present the letter makes a long journey in the interval between its arrivals to any one man. A Worcester member is John A. Dana. He has just received the regretful comments of his classmates at the death of their old friend at college, Colonel John W. Wetherell, with comments on the newspaper biography which Mr. Dana had enclosed at his last sending. The letter had gone from Worcester to Lee, Mass.; thence to Chicago, to Minneapolis, to Pasadena, Cal.; Birmingham, Ala., Cape May and another New Jersey town; Plantville, Conn., Pittsfield, Somerville and back to Worcester.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES. "Johnnie" asked the teacher of a pupil in the juvenile geography class, "What state is called the 'Bay State'?" "Kentucky," was the reply. "No, that isn't correct," said the teacher. "Well," answered Johnnie, "that is where my horses grow."

Willie and Nellie are twins, aged 8, and one Sunday they were discussing the accident at the church where they attended. "I don't see what they have sermons for," said Willie. "Why," replied Nellie, "it's to give the poor sinners a chance to rest."

"Minnie" said a mother to her naughty 5-year-old daughter, "what's the reason you and your little brother Harry can't get along without quarreling. 'I don't know," was the reply, "unless it's because I take after you and Harry take after papa."

Little Tommy, aged 4, was visiting in the country, and the ringing of a bell to call the farm hands to dinner interested him very much. One day he noticed a cow with a bell on and asked: "Grandpa, does that cow ring cow when he goes to little cattle's dinner is ready?"

"Mamma," said 6-year-old Robbie, "you should let Ann put up my school lunch instead of doing it yourself." "Why, Bobby," she replied, "it's no trouble and I'd just as soon do it myself." "Yes, I know," answered the youthful diplomat, "but you see Ann has a bigger appetite than you have and she always puts more in."

Sometime had just returned from Sunday school and his mother asked him if he had been a good boy. "No, not very," was the truthful reply. "Then you didn't get a good-behavior card?" queried his mother. "Oh, yes, I did," replied the precocious youngster; "I saved the money you gave me for the heathen and bought two from the other boys."

The Dog of It. "So you call your dog Dewey, do you? It seems to me that he's a very homely looking cur to be honored with such a name."

"But Dewey is an especially appropriate name for this dog."

"How so?"

"It doesn't matter what he happens to be doing, he's always ready to suspend operations for breakfast."—Chicago News.
