

MORE PATIENTS IN THE HOSPITAL

LIEUTENANT HUFF, OF COMPANY H, IS ONE OF THEM.

Sergeant Keiper, of Company B, is in a dangerous condition—He is suffering from typhoid fever. Well that was being sunk to supply the Thirteenth Regiment has been abandoned—Supply of water from it very meager—Another bore hole is being put down.

Special from a Staff Correspondent.

Camp Alger, Dunn Loring, Va., July 31.—This morning four more patients were sent to the hospital. Lieutenant John Huff, of Company H, went to Fort Myer suffering from typhoid. Private Thomas A. Gillis, of Company H; Musician Samuel Davis, of Company H, and Private Archie Bisbing, of Company B, were sent to the division hospital as typhoid suspects. Sergeant Keiper, of Company B, is in a precarious condition and is not expected to live. Dr. Shimer, executive officer of Fort Myer hospital, yesterday sent word to this effect to his relatives.

Private John Stanton, of Company D, whose case was one of the most severe that the hospital surgeons had to contend with, was today placed in the convalescent ward and in the course of a week he will be able to be about. Lieutenant Berry was slightly improved today and the others were all reported to be doing nicely. At last the Thirteenth's well has been given up as a bad job. At a depth of 158 feet the best well could do was two gallons to the minute. This might do for family use, but for a regiment of nearly 300 men it is about as good as nothing at all. Another well is to be sunk at the opposite end of the camp. In the meantime the two gallons a minute will be made use of as an auxiliary to the supply received by wagon from the adjacent farms.

When water is secured—it is a thing ever comes pass—the question of purity will offer no room for worry. Dr. E. O. Shakespeare, of Philadelphia, well known to Scrantonians by reason of his connection with business enterprises there, and Dr. George G. Groff, professor of organic sciences at Drexel university, are here as representatives of the National Relief association for the purpose of establishing in the camp an immense water-purifying apparatus. General Gobin readily approved of the plan, and the work of putting it in place will at once begin.

Company H had a flag raising Friday night, which, although wanting in pre-arranged ceremonies, was a very interesting and enthusiastic affair. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon Private Thomas Gillis appeared upon the company street with an 8x12 flag, and said: "Let us have a flag raising. Four hours later the flag was raised on a fifty-eight-foot pole. Where the flag was secured is neither here nor there as far as this article is concerned. The pole was cut in the neighboring woods by a detail in charge of First Sergeant Rogers and Corporal Dikeman. When the preparations were all complete the flag was nailed to the pole, encased in a bag to which strings were attached by which it could be removed at the proper time and then the pole was raised and securely planted.

The company was assembled and at a word from Captain Corwin, Mrs. Huff, wife of Lieutenant John Huff, pulled the string and "Old Glory" floated in the moonlight, flapping its folds in the evening breeze to the tune of "The Stars and Stripes Forever," by the regimental band. There was a season of cheering for everybody and everything from the "Stars and Stripes" down to the intrepid war correspondents, and then came a salute to the colors by Bugler Emmet McDermott and another by a firing squad, commanded by Corporal Dikeman. It is the only flag displayed in camp.

GOSSIP OF THE CAMP.

Special from a Staff Correspondent.

Camp Alger, Dunn Loring, Va., July 31.—The heroes are not all at the front. Coming out of the telegraph office at Dunn Loring station last evening I was accosted by a worn-looking lad with tear-stained face, who wanted to know when the next train left for Washington.

"What's the trouble? Are you sick?" I inquired, noticing his emaciated and sad face.

"Now, I ain't sick. Was a little sick, but I'm all right now," and each word seemed to call for all the energy he possessed.

"Excuse me I thought you had been crying."

"Crying? Me crying. Well no, no indeed," the lad denied made with his eyes seeing as unmistakably as mine did the moisture on the back of the index finger that had just made a half involuntary tour of inspection. I smiled.

"Well, I'll tell you mister, it was only with madness I was crying. They don't think any more of a fellow's feelings at that hospital than they do of nothing. What do you think? When I went up to get my transportation to join my regiment this is what they give me," and he displayed a discharge from the service because of inability to withstand tropical heat, having been three times prostrated by sun-stroke. "Say don't they have to send a man to his regiment when he is discharged cured? You bet they do, and I'm going to see our congressman about it."

The lad's regiment is the Eighth Ohio, now at Santiago. "Corporal Wallace Miller, Company K, enlisted at Alliance, Ohio," the discharge paper read.

The Thirteenth's band, by invitation of General Butler, will give a concert at division headquarters tomorrow evening.

Work on the new well for the Thirteenth is being pushed with all the energy that the Virginia contractors can summon. It is located in a peach orchard on the western side of the camp, opposite to where the abandoned well is situated. The water famine was augmented today by the breaking down of the Eighth's well, from which the Thirteenth was drawing a limited supply of water. The thermometer was one hundred in the shade at noon.

Chaplain Stahl delivered an address at the Y. M. C. A. tent last night and conducted regimental "church" there this morning. The Catholic boys of the regiment are without a convenient place to attend mass. Father Sherman, of the Fourth Missouri, having been stricken down with typhoid fever. Rev. W. K. Weaver, of the One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Indiana, a Presbyterian clergyman, is also a typhoid patient. Father Sherman is being cared for by his brother Jesuits at the Georgetown university hospital. Chaplain Weaver is at Fort Myer.

Sergeant Frutcher and Private Bradbury, of Company B; Privates Mitchell, Hill and Somer, of Company E; Corporal Arthur Mills, of Company H; Privates LeRoy Bunnel and Joseph Whelan, of Company G; Wagoner William Williams, Corporal William A. Davis and Private Richard Phillips, of Company F, returned last night from a seven days' furlough.

Private Postler, of Company C, has been detailed to corps headquarters to assist in running the new bread ovens that have been established there and which will be put into operation tomorrow.

A. B. Johnson, of Orange, N. J., who has been visiting his brother, Lieutenant V. V. Johnson, of Company A, returned home yesterday.

Dr. George C. Merriman, the newly appointed assistant surgeon, successfully passed his examination and is now in full possession of his commission, stripes, straps and sword. The examination was conducted Friday night by Majors Jaus, Focht and Keller, the three senior surgeons of the Third brigade. Major Parke, the brigade surgeon, has moved his belongings to General Gobin's headquarters' camp and Lieutenant Merriman has moved into the vacated tent.

The new officers' mess has gone into operation. Caterer Hood started in by giving his boarders a regular Hotel Jersey luncheon, with napkins, toothpicks, spoons for every man and various other tokens of civilization as accommodations.

Hon. Pulaski F. Hyatt and son, John P. Hyatt, who were consul and vice-consul respectively at Santiago from the beginning of Cleveland's term until the outbreak of the present unpleasantness, visited General Gobin last evening. George W. Brumell, editor of the Philadelphia Gazette, and Hon. George Sterr, Jr., state representative from the Twenty-seventh Philadelphia district, were also guests at brigade headquarters.

Sergeant Bert Murphy, of Company D, is home on a furlough.

Ex-Sergeant John M. Edwards is visiting old comrades in Company F.

Private Fred C. Day, of Company G, has been permanently detailed to the much-sought-after position of commissary clerk.

Private Thomas F. Hagan, of Company G, was yesterday removed to the general hospital at Fort Myer, suffering from malarial fever.

Captain McCausland, of Company G, felt sufficiently well this morning to participate in battalion drill. He is not strong, however, and may take a month's leave of absence to recuperate.

Mrs. C. S. Watson, wife of Headquarters Hostler Watson, was the guest of Company H headquarters yesterday.

Milo H. Finn, of Providence, is visiting his son, Corporal Finn, of Company H.

C. C. Dean is spending a few days with his stepson, Private Alvin H. Price, of Company H.

Corporal Bailey, of Company H, is entertaining his brother, James Bailey, of Scranton.

Privates Leo Murphy, of Company D, and Frank O'Neil, of Company G, who have been serving as stewards at regimental headquarters, returned to their companies today, the new mess making their services in the culinary department no longer a necessity.

Sergeant Miles received word today that another good musician has signified his intention of joining the Thirteenth's band. He is C. F. Lange, of Newfoundland. He is said to be a first-class cornet player. According to his letter he will arrive here tomorrow.

One of yesterday's visitors to the camp was Thomas Hughes, of Mineral street, now a United States marine, stationed at the Washington navy yard. He expects to be assigned to the Chicago within a few days. During his visit Mr. Hughes was the guest of Privates James O'Malley, of Company B, and Lieutenant Colonel Mattes left for home yesterday on a week's leave of absence. He will return in time for the corps' review, in which the Thirteenth expects to make a fine showing.

The Thirteenth's band serenaded General Gobin at brigade headquarters Friday night and was highly complimented.

Strong Today

Because Hood's Sarsaparilla Built Up His System

Child Was Weak, Had Night Sweats and Poor Appetite.

"Our youngest child was in a bad condition. One physician said the trouble was malaria and another thought it came from the stomach and liver. Meantime the child kept growing weaker. He had night sweats, poor appetite and various other troubles. We worried along for two years, and then we determined to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and from the first day we noticed a change in our little boy. We kept on until he had taken about three bottles. Today he is a strong, hearty child. We have always had to keep him indoors in winter, but last winter he was out with other children and we found no trace of the old trouble returning." RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

The work of straightening the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad between this city and Lake Ariel is progressing rapidly.

John M. Wilson, of the Lehigh Valley shops, of Wilkes-Barre, who has been appointed by the company to take charge of the works at Manchester, N. Y., left Saturday for that place. Mr. Wilson has been lately employed as foreman of the erecting department of the Lehigh Valley shops at Wilkes-Barre.

On Monday next an additional force will begin working at the machinery department of the shops in this town. Several carloads of machinery have been received from the North Paterson shops. W. H. Taylor has been appointed master mechanic of the Wilkes-Barre and Eastern railroad, New York. Susquehanna and Western railroad and Scranton Connecting railroad, and branches belonging to these roads. His appointment takes effect Monday next.—Stroudsburg Times of Saturday.

Baltimore and Ohio engine No. 30, which has just been laid aside at Gratton, W. Va., and will be consigned to the scrap pile, has quite a history. It is one of the "Iron Wives" made one and was built in 1852. There are only four of this class of engines now remaining. During the late war this engine was one of several captured the Martinsburg of the Confederates, and hauled across the country pike to Staunton, Va., under direction of Colonel Thomas R. Sharp. President John W. Garrett, after the war was over, hunted up Colonel Sharp and appointed him master of transportation, in recognition of the ability displayed in the past.

It is understood that the entire line of the Lehigh Valley, from New York to Buffalo, is to be re-ballasted with crushed stone, and that it will take five years to complete the work, also that the line is to be straightened out at Le Roy by taking out a number of sharp curves and this will necessitate the purchase of considerable ground at that point. The entire main line has been laid with continuous rails, so that the track is exceptionally smooth. President Walker and other officials of the road have been over it more than once recently, making critical examinations of its physical condition, and points like these and minor points of improvement have been put in hand.—Hagston Sentinel.

ECHOES OF THE WAR.

Lamar Fontaine, the famous Confederate scout, has been at the Chickamauga camp for several days. The name of Fontaine was once on the lips of every Federal soldier. His exploits and deeds of bravery were discussed around the camp fires. Every day he would pick off Federal soldiers in exposed parts. In one campaign he is said to have killed, and probably correctly, more than sixty men with a single rifle. When he took aim it was with deadly effect. He never missed a mark. During the war this brave man was literally shot to pieces. He was hit badly sixty-seven times. He is now walking on wooden legs cut and whittled by himself from the battlefield of Manassas. He was captured by the Union army once, but after talking to the commanding general was told, after a sentence of death had been passed upon him, that he was too brave a man to die and he was exchanged. He is hunting for the man for whom he was exchanged. That man is said to be a brigadier in the volunteer service.

John Farnham, of Wilkes-Barre, who has returned from Chickamauga, where he visited his brother, Hamilton, who has recovered from typhoid fever, stated that he himself was under the weather for some time and spent the time at Lookout Inn. Mr. Farnham says that while the food in camp is plain yet there is an abundance of it, and it is wholesome. The heat in the hospitals is sometimes unbearable, but then the walls of the tent are raised, permitting a breeze to pass through.

The patients suffer from the flies that will gather in spite of all efforts to keep them away. The men are sick generally for only a few days at a time and then get out again. Sometimes they go back, being unable from weakness to stand the heat and the burden of drill exercise.

FACE ON FIRE

I had Eczema of the scalp, itchy kind seven years. I thought my face and arms were alive. My face was full of large white scales, and my head was full of sores. I was ashamed to go in company. I took five bottles of CUTICURA. Resolved, washed with CUTICURA SOAP, put on CUTICURA ointment, and found great relief instantly, and got a clean face again, thanks to CUTICURA.

BOARD IS IN EARNEST.

Does Not Propose to Allow City to Appropriate Finances.

It is rumored that an action on behalf of the board of control against the city will be instituted today by Solicitor D. J. Reedy for the recovery of $11,000 collected in police court fines for drunkenness.

Solicitor Reedy communicated on this subject to councils and intimated that a refunding of this amount would be acceptable by the board. The councils ignored the communication.

GREAT AUGUST SALE.

The Newark Shoe Store

GREAT AUGUST SALE.

IT IS OUR CUSTOM, at the end of each season's trading, to devote one month to the cleaning up of the store and stock and making ready for the next seasons' goods which commence to come in at the end of our sales. By doing this we get rid of all the odds and ends and lines which we wish to discontinue using, thus keeping our stock always fresh and clean and showing each season the newest and best the shoe markets produce.

To make our semi-annual sales the great success they have been it is necessary to mark prices low enough on all lines to induce all our regular customers to take advantage of the bargains offered and influence many others to trade with us. Of course such sales, if genuine, means a money loss to the merchant, but this is more than made up by the many new friends and customers which we make during these sale months.

The Newark has only one price to all and every cent taken off the marked price of any shoe means a bonafide reduction of just so much. To our customers acquainted with our methods of conducting these sales it is hardly necessary to quote prices, but for the benefit of those who are not we name the following:

- All $6.00 Shoes, Men's, August Sale Price will be.....$4.50
All 5.00 Shoes, Ladies' or Men's, August Sale Price will be..... 3.95
All 4.00 Shoes, Ladies' or Men's, August Sale Price will be..... 2.95
All 3.00 Shoes, Ladies' or Men's, August Sale Price will be..... 2.45
All 2.50 Shoes, Ladies' or Men's, August Sale Price will be..... 1.95
All 2.00 Shoes, Ladies' or Men's, August Sale Price will be..... 1.65

Misses' and Children's and Boys' and Youth's Shoes, all reduced in like proportion.

These prices are on regular goods and do not include the lines we want to close out entirely or the odd lots and shoes slightly soiled from fitting. These we arrange on tables and mark prices that it is almost like giving them away. For instance, on one table will be found a lot of Men's and Ladies' shoes marked $1.00, the regular price of which was $1.75 to $2.50. On another table Ladies' Oxfords marked 50 cents, some of them worth $1.50, others worth more. We'll tell you more about these tables from day to day as the sale progresses. In conclusion we would say that you can't well afford to miss our August Sale of Shoes.
