POLICE APPOINTEE WAS NOT CONFIRMED

REASON FOR IT IS FOUND IN THE TELEPHONE FIGHT.

Only One Vote was Lacking but it Couldn't Be Secured-Appointee Was Thomas A. Potter, Whose Name Was Suggested to Mayor by Select Councilman Schroeder. Aside from This Feature, Last Night's Regular Meeting of Select Council Was Dull and Tame.

It was expected that Mayor Bailey's nomination of Thomas A. Potter to the police force would be confirmed by select council at its regular meeting last night, but the meeting adjourned before the necessary eleven votes to confirm could be secured, although all the twenty-one members were present. Previous to the meeting the police con-mittee was in session and decided to report favorably on the nomination. The committee did not report, however, during the first order of business, which, by rule, is devoted to committee reports. Throughout the meeting several members who were chiefly cerned in Potter's nomination lobbied vigorously, but evidently to no avail, as nothing was heard from the police committee.

During the recent telephone franchise fight the promise was made to Select Councilman Adam Schroeder that Mayor Bailey would nominate any acceptable police candidate who might be suggested by Schroeder. The promise was carried out in the nomination of Potter, but the members who voted against the new franchise remain solid in opposition to confirmation. Those who wanted to see the nominee confirmed devoted most of their efforts to Mr. McAndrew, but he remained firm in his determination to oppose and vote against confirmation. Only one vote is necessary to make Potter's appointment a surety.

BONDS APPROVED. On recommendation of the judiciary ommittee the bonds of Plumbing Inspector M. F. O'Malley and Street Commissioner P. J. O'Boyle were approved. The former's bond for $3,000 is signed by Thomas and James H. O'Malley. Mr. O'Boyle's bond is for $5,000, and is signed by A. J. Casey and John A. Mears.

The streets and bridges committee reported favorably the common council ordinance providing for plans, etc. for sidewalks and gutters on Prospect avenue from River to Beech street, also the ordinance for narrowing the roadway and widening the sidewalks of Vine street, between Jefferson and Madison avenues and between Taylor and Arthur avenues.

Among the concurrent resolutions adopted were the following: For plans and estimate for sidewalks and curb n Gibson street, between Capouse and Washington avenues; awarding the contract for building the Bromley avenue sewer between Washburn Jackson streets to Flanagan & O'Horo, at $1.59 per lineal foot: directing repairs at Neptune Engine house. Resolutions approved were introduced as follows: Mr. Prable-Directing the street commissioner to notify the Scranton Railway company to repair the pavement between its rails on Cedar avenue from Cedar ave-nue bridge to Hickory street.

Mr. Coyne-Directing the city engines to prepare plans, estimates, etc., for sidewalks on the following streets: Cedar avenue, between Brook and Breck streets: Pittston avenue, between Brook and Breck streets; Breck street, between Pittston and Cedar avenues; Brook street, between Pittston and Stone avenues,

The following contracts were awarded by resolutions from the streets and bridges committee: To R. S. Kiester, sidewalks on West Linden street, between Ninth and North Main avenues; to Nicholas and company, the Mt. Pleasant ravine culvert for $569.

ON .THIRD READING.

Ordinances passed third reading as follows: (Select) Providing for a sewer basin and an elevated crosswalk on the northeast corner of Wyoming avenue and Spruce street; (common) as amended providing for pavement and gutters on Hyde Park avenue between Lafayette and Division streets and narrowing the roadway; (common) providing for an electtic light at the corner of Clay avenue and Gibson street in the Ninth ward; (select) for paying Dix court in the rear of the city hall.

No little amusement was occasioned by referring to the vice and immorality committee a challenge issued by the city hall base ball team to the two branches of councils to play a game of base ball at the outing of the "Clay Pipe club" at Lake Ariel tomorrow

The ordinance providing for sidewalks on the South Side of Scranton street between Seventh street and the gas house bridge passed first and second reading.

Mail Carriers Will Bring the Big Convention of 1899 to This City.

Unless all signs fail the 1899 national convention of the letter carriers of the United States will be held in this city. Since the more general introduction of the free delivery system in different cities the position of mailcarrier has had added importance. He is now as much of a factor in the daily life of every citizen as the baker and is met with at different times during the day as the direct medium between friends and the business public. It will require funds to conduct the reliminary and other work in securing the presence of the convention here next year. If it is secured a fund must be made available for use in caring for the delegates. All this the carriers have in mind and to provide a portion of the necessary funds a picnic will be conducted under the auspices of the Scranton branch in Laurel Hill Park next Tuesday. The interest of the carriers in this instance is the interest of the city and all should assist in making the

HAS SECURED A WIFE.

John Urweider Married to Mrs. Sarah Roberts, of Union Street Petersburg.

Through the agency of Mrs. Duggan's matrimonial bureau John Urweider, of the Sloan Patch, has secured a wife. Her name was Mrs. Sarah Roberts, and her residence 910 Union street, Petersburg, but now she is his wife, and has transferred her home to his. It was the third time for both of them to embark upon the matrimonial sea. Their first choices passed away in the same year, 1868, just three decades ago. His second wife died on July 25, 1897, and her second husband on Sept. 11, 1895. Urwelder was born three years ago, and her maiden name was Greenbush.

A week or so ago Urweider came to Mrs. Duggan for her good offices in securing him a wife. He was willing to make big concessions. All he wanted was that she be a good cook and a fair housekeeper. He made no provisos about her disposition, because he had confidence in his ability to keep desire was given considerable advertising, and on Wednesday Mrs. Duggan received a visit from this woman, She thought she would fill the void.

Urweider was notified. A meeting was arranged between them yesterday forenoon. It was a case of instantaneous infatuation. In the afternoon they went to the office of Clerk of the Courts Daniels and secured a marriage license; from there they went to Alderman Howe's office and were mar- tional pupils will be admitted, a total ried. Mr. and Mrs. John Greenbush, of of 238 the West Side, were groomsman and limit. bridesmaid respectively.

At Urweider's home at No. 4 Sloan street there was quite a reception last the bride's friends from the Petersburg section of the city. There was no wed ding trip. Urweider proposes to resume his customary work today at the Sloan mine.

CONVENTION AT ALTOONA. Arrangements for the Coming Gath-

jurisdiction will convene and continue in session for three days. About twenty-five delegates will attend from this section, and will leave here in a special car Monday, Aug. 15. L. J. Lynch, of Altoona, secretary of the committee on arrangements, has sent out a communication to all councils throughout the district stating the plans as arranged by the committee for the three days' session of the grand council. In connection with the first day the communication states that:

"All delegates and members are earnestly requested to assemble at Library hall, Logan house, at 8-30 a. m., on the 16th, for the purpose of proceeding in a body to St. John's church, where the grand council will be opened with a solemn high mass and sermon. Immediately after mass the grand counil will convene in Library hall."

Regarding plans for entertainmen visiting delegates he says: "On Tuesday, the 16th, councils No. 120 and No. 299 will give the members of the grand council a trolley ride to Lake-Mont Park, where an entertainment and several addresses will be given in the open theater. On the czening of the 17th the delegates and grand of icers will be entertained by councils No. 132 and No. 465 with a reception and banquet in the Logan house."

All arriving delegates will be met a far as possible by members of the Alcona councils and escorted to the hotels. For any further information address L. J. Lynch, 1605 Eleventh avenue, Altoona, Pa.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL

NEW RULE FOR ADMISSION TO THE ADVANCED BUILDING.

It Was Considered at a Meeting of the Teachers Committee and Will Be Reported to the Board-Conclusion Reached Which Overcomes an Objection Feared on Account of a Considering Monthly Grammar A | tered: Averages.

At a meeting of the teachers' committee of the board of control last night an agreement was reached on a proposed rule for admitting to the high school pupils who failed to pass the Grammar A examinations, At the last meeting of the board Mr.

Jennings offered a motion, which was referred to the committee, providing that pupils whose yearly averages and final examinations showed the required general average should be admitted to the high school. It was apparent that the proposition would not meet with approval unless some steps were taken to make future Grammar A examina tions uniform in the different classes. It was pointed out that some principals marked high while others marked low, and that the examinations by some were written and by others oral. Without some rule to make the examinations uniform it was apparent that some pupils would be admitted to the high school without being entitled to it, while others would not be admitted by reason of the disposition of their principals to mark low.

The matter was straightened out in committee after a hearing had been accorded Superintendent of Schools Howell and Mr. Jennings, whose moin Switzerland and is 52 years old; she tion opened the controversy. It was was born in Phoenix, N. Y., forty- decided to recommend to the board a rule that admission to the high school army. should be granted on the general average of monthly averages and final examinations, but that the examination questions should be uniform throughout the city and upon questions prepared by Superintendent Howell. The markings by the principals are also to be submitted to Superintendent Howell for verification. All this will be subher in an amiable frame of mind. His mitted to next Monday night's regular meeting of the board.

It is estimated that 1,000 pupils will fill the capacity of the high school. That would accommodate 250 pupils in the result of the recent Grammar A examinations 184 pupils will enter the high school from that grade. From the permits and second examinations of pupils and the examinations of pupils from private schools fifty addiof 234, or only sixteen less than the

POLAYK IS RELEASED.

It Was Shown That He Was Not the Murderer of Michael Kadzina of Jessup.

The man arrested on suspicion of beng Joseph Kolar, murderer of Michael Kadzina, of Jessup, on June 19, 1896. was given a hearing before Judge Archbald in chambers yesterday and it proved to be a case of mistaken identity. The prisoner took off his coat and bared his right forearm to exhibit to the judge his name, George Polayk, tattooed on with India ink, and beneath the year, 1886, which was the time he served in the Austrian Besides that evidence, D. R. Davis, of Jessup, the miner with whom Kolar, the murderer, worked for a year prior to the commission of the crime, testified that the prisoner was not the right man, nor nothing like him. Kolar is taller and thinner.

Constable Reese, who made the arrest, swore that he had been instructed by County Detective Leyshon to watch for Kolar. He knew the man by sight, or at least thought he did, and he went into Moyles' saloon the night he made the arrest. The prisoeach of the four classes. The constable heard the companions calling him Joe Kolar, and went over and asked him his name. The prisoner answerd him by inviting him to take semething. The question was repeated and then the prisoner began acting in a suspicious manner. The constable invited him to take a walk down to the squire's office, but he refused and resisted when an attempt was made to bring him there. A bystander was called on for assistance and between them they had a hard time to bring him before Justice of the Peace Cannon. He kicked and squirmed all the way.

Justice Cannon was sworn and testified that the man gave his name as Joseph Kolar when brought before him. # MANGAN BEAT HIS CHILD.

Alderman Kelly Tried to Arrest Him

But He Did Not Succeed. M. J. Mangan, of 334 Third street, called at The Tribune office last night and gave out a statement of an occurrence he alleges took place at his home at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. His 5-year-old son, he said, was out on the street running after wagons and he thought it was his duty to discipline the youngster, which he did in a mild kind of way. But the screaming of the boy might be taken as a sign that he was being misused. While the chastisement was in progress, Alderman Kelly, of the Eighteenth ward, happened along in a buggy accompanied by Special Officer Niewan, an official of the same court Kelly went into Mangan's house and proceeded to arrest him for beating the child. A scuffle ensued. Mangan is a stone mason and of wrought iron make up. The alderman is by no means lacking in muscle. In the melec the stove was upset, and hot coals came out on the floor. Mangan scampered upstairs to his bedroom for a revolver and when he came down the alderman was gone. Mangan intends to have the 'squire arrested today, he says.
