THEY SUFFER FROM DEEP DISGUST

FIRST CONNECTICUT ORDERED TO PORTO RICO.

It Was Probably the Worst Regiment at Camp Alger and the Thirteenth Boys Who Have Zealously Prepared Themselves for Action Feel They Have a Just Grievance. Order Posted by Chaplain Stahl with Reference to Forwarding Soldiers Pay.

Special from a Staff Correspondent.

Camp Alger, Dunn Loring, Va., Aug. 5.-Double dashes and exclamation points are the only typographic characters that would spell out the sentiments of the men of the Third brigade this hot and muggy day. It wasn't so bad until the First Connecticut began to celebrate. Then the Pennsylvarians lost all patience. Two weeks ago the Connecticut regiment came here from its state encampment. A sorrier lot of looking soldiers never shouldered a gun. Thirty-seven of them, by actual count, fell out of the ranks during the ten minutes' walk from Dunn Loring station to their camp site across the valley from the Pennsylvania brigade.

Surgeon Major Focht, of the Eighth Pennsylvania, who cared for the fal-len, ascribed alcohol as the cause of complaint in thirty-five of the thirtyseven cases. Ever since, the Connecticut people have kept up the pace at which they started in. Wild orgies that disturbed the camp until early morn were no uncommon thing. A stabbing affray and many minor incidents of a like character were among their contributions to the records of the court-martial.

A few nights ago they had some sort of goings-on in which their drum corps augmented by fish horns and tin pans kep up a terrible din until long after midnight. If there was any one regiment in the country, excepting, possibly, the Sixth Pennsylvania, that would be naturally picked upon to stay around Virginia guarding berry patches, it was that same First Connecticut. Imagine the feelings of our well drilled, thoroughly equipped and perfeetly disciplined lads, lying in their darkened tents from 9.30 until 1 o'clock last night listening to their undeserving neighbors across the way riotously celebrating their good fortune at being ordered to Porto Rico. There is no word expletive enough in the language to half portray the feelings of the unfortunate Pennsylvanians.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL ONES, Some of the philosophical ones are offering consolation by saying, "Ach, we didn't want to go on such an expedition as that, enyway." Everybody who watches this phase of the war doings realizes at a glance that this expedition is nothing more or less than a movement to satisfy the clamorings of the unfortunate soldiers and politicians. General Miles refused to "request" that reinforcements be sent him. "General Wade may come if he wishes to," is the plain English of his ditpatch. The make-up of the expedition is evidence enough that state representatives and not soldiers of the United States were picked upon. There is no great glory in being part of such an expedition. It is junket, pure and simple.

Five new cases of "epermeral fever" were sent out of the Thirteenth regiment to the division hospital during the past twenty-four hours. The victims are Carl J. Frank, private, Company D; Harry Griner, Company D; Henry H. Meinzer, private, Company C: Thomas Carroll, private, Company B; Michael Keogh, private, Company D. None of the patients show symptoms of malignant typhoid, but it is feared by Major Keller that all will develop into mild typhoid at least.

The patients previously sent to the hospital are still improving, even Sergeant Keiper, who it was thought would die, being expected to recover.

General Butler thinks he will be able to have his division en route to Manassas by Tuesday next. He is more anxious than any one else to get to the new camp, as it was he who suggested it to the war department. The confederate army, numbering 60,000 men, was encamped there for five months. General Butler says that during all that time there was no complaint of a lack of water. Bull Run and Brood Run are both good streams, he maintains, and will easily supply the whole corps with all the water it will need for every purpose.

Lieutenant McLean needs of a corps and that eventually, left home weighing 185 pounds and rein their opinion, the camp will be moved farther on to some point on the Rappahannock, likely near Remington. There are many believers still in the story that the troops will eventually go into permanent camp at Mt. Gretna and has an intimate knowledge of his or Sea Girt, there to remain until disbandment or a possible call to the front. A good-sized wager was laid this morning by a prominent Pennsylvamorning by a prominent Pennsylva-nian, who is a member of General putrid water which the men have quite Gobin's staff, that the brigade would be disbanded and sent home before the third Monday in October. The bet was the government with respect to the accepted by the taker another attache of the staff who was arguing that the Pennsylvania troops would surely receive an assignment as an army of occupation some place or another. ECHOES OF THE WAR.

The sad news was received in Plymouth yesterday that Julius B. Weil, a prominent young Hebrew of that town, was killed in the battle near Santiago last month, and that his body was buried at Siboney, Cuba, near the battlefield. The deceased was twentyeight years of age. He was born in Plymouth, his father, now deceased, having been in the butcher business there for many years. Upon the death of Mr. Weil, Julius and his mother continued the business for a time. About a year ago the young man went o Mehoopany and thence to Buffalo, where, at the opening of the war, he enlisted in the Thirteenth infantry, United States army. This was one of the three regiments which participated in the famous charge up San Juan hill, before Santiago, and Private Weil was among those who fell. The official list of the dead cabled to Washington inorrectly gave his name as Julius Weiler, and it was not until this week, while the clerks in the war departnent were comparing the list with the original muster roll, that the error was discovered. Secretary Alger then sent letter to the young man's family in Plymouth, notifying them of his death. Young Weil was a member of the Shawnee Wheelmen, Plymouth, and of the Young Men's Hebrew association, Wilkes-Barre. He was also chief usher n the Grand opera house, Wilkes-Barre, Besides his mother, Mrs. Bertha W. Weil, of Plymouth, the following prothers and sisters survive: Mrs. A. Breakstone, of Luzerne: Isaac M., Jennie, Bessie, Bella and Ray, of Plymouth, and Abram, who resides at Anderson, S. C.

Chester Wells, first assistant engineer on the battleship Texas, visited his home at Spring Hill, Bradford county, the early part of the week, Engineer Wells' vessel took a prominent part in the destruction of Cervera's fleet and he also witnessed the daring act of Lieutenant Hobson in sinking the Merrimac in the channel at Santiago. After the engagement Engineer Wells was one of the first to board the Maria Teresa and secured a board the Maria Teresa and secured a Engineer Wells was one of the first to board the Maria Teresa and secured a number of souvenirs, among them being a mauser rifle, a lot of cartridges and several projectiles and shells. Engineer Wells was a classmate of the late Ensign Bagley, who was killed early in the Cuban campaign. After graduating at Annapolis, Wells served his time as a cadet, after which he was assigned to the Concord. He was afterwards placed on duty at the New York navy yard, and in the latter part of 1896 he was assigned to the battleship Texas. His ship is in need of extensive repairs, owing to a Spanish shell going through its armor plate at the Santiago battle. Mr. Wells is a son of State Dairy and Food Commissioner Levi S. Wells.

Lieutenant George S. McLean, son of Attorney W. S. Mc Lean, of Wilkes-There are others, however, and Barre, arrived in town from Chickaamong them members of the Virginia mauga Wednesday and left for danoga Lake a couple of hours later, where back to health, Lieutenant McLean turns after his siege of typhoid weighing 139 pounds. BOWS ONLY TO VICTORIA.

The American Wife of Parliamentary Secretary Curzon Destined to Reign at the Splendid Palaces in Calcutta

oday that the distinguished young diplomatist, George N. Curzon, parlia-mentary secretary for the foreign ofice, has accepted the appointment as viceroy of India. He will take with him to the brilliant courts of Calcutta and Simla an American woman, his wife, formerly Miss Mary L. Leiter, of Chicago, Ill., whom he met when she was a reigning belle in Washington society. Mr. Curzon is the eldest son of Lord Scarsdale, is an Oxonian and gold medalist of the Royal Geographical society. He formerly held the position of under secretary for India, and is the author of a number of prize essays, including "Russia in Central Asia," "Prussia and the Persian Question" and "Problems of the Far East."

It is a remarkable fact that his American wife is one of the strongest factors in his appointment, and it tes-tifies in the highest possible way to England's regard for an Anglo-Saxon alliance and will be the finest compliment the British nation could pay an American. This fact is seriously taken into consideration by the queen and Comparatively few persons have a correct idea of the importance of the viceroyalty of India, from which ofice the present incumbent, Lord Elgin. will retire in November next. It is unquestionably the highest appointive position under the British government. As the representative of the queen, the viceroy ranks as ruler of about 300,000,-000 people, while his wife is the social inferior to only one woman in the world, the Queen, Empress Victoria.

A number of the United Service club, at Simla, discussed the question of the viceroyalty succession and the exalted character of the office and its brilliant surroundings, recently pictured it thus; "The next viceroy is the question of the hour. All agree that the next ruler must be a strong man of affairs, who can keep a level head in a crisis. But another point on which opinions coincide remarkably touches the personality of the viceroy's consort.

"Goodness alone knows why. Why should a mere man all suffice as the representative of the queen and empress of India and no notice be taken of the woman who must preside over the viceregal courts of Calcutta and "I might dilate on the importance of the grande dame who can entertain regally; who can enter joyously into the life of our society, give it tone and set the fashion in all things, both great and small. These matters may sound like trivialties, but they are not. They make for the peace and prosperity of the empire.

"Mrs. Curzon is an American lady, wealthy, accomplished, charming. The Anglo-Indians pride themselves on their freedom from insular prejudices. We should accord the very warmest welcome to this fair American.

"Mrs. Curzon would not entirely sev er herself from the land of her birth were she to come to India. An English viceroy and an American consort occupying the throne of the Great Mogula would be a living, splendid testimony that an Anglo-Saxon alliance is no mere passing phrase. India would be glad thereat."

TO OPEN MARKETS.

ident McKinley.

Chicago, Aug. 4.-A move was made today to include in the peace treaty with Spain provisions for opening new markets for the products of American industry. The following telegram which was sent tonight to President McKinley, is self explanatory:

Whereas, Negotiations for peace are now pending between this country and Spain, in which negotiations the president of the United States has outlined his demands, and, tlations will result in the appointment of commissioners by both countries for the purpose of concluding a treaty of peace. Whereas, It is of great importance to the manufacturers of this country, and consequently of equal importance to all of its people, that the markets of the of its people, that the markets of the world be open to its manufactures; now, increfore, be it Reselved, Without in any way express ing an opinion upon the question of ac-quisition of Spanish territory by this juisition of Spanish territory by this country, that it is the sense of this association that the president of the United States be and he is hereby respectfully requested to instruct those having in charge for this country the conclusion of such treaty of peace, to exact that the ports of all Spanish territory in the Pacific ocean be opened upon the most lib-eral terms to all products of American mustry; be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of this association send a copy of these resolutions to President McKinley.

TROOPS WILL REST.

Shafter's Army to Be Sent to Montauk Point at Once.

Washington, Aug. 4.-An official statement was issued this afternoon stating that the secretary of war has ordered General Shafter's troops relieved from further duty in Santiago as fast as transportation can be provided and the transfer of Spanish prisoners will admit of reduction of the garrison. Ships for the Spanish prisoners with a carrying capacity of 18,-400 men, are now on the way to Santiage and the removal of the prisoners will proceed rapidy.

There are now eight American trans-ports at Santiago with a capacity of 5,770 men, and these will sail for New York as fast as they can be comfortably embarked.

The rest at Montauk Point will prepare these seasoned troops for the campaign against Havana, in which they probably will take part. The first transport left Santiago yesterday. The movement is expected to be completed by the 20th of the month. Five United States volunteer regiments, immunes, have been ordered to Santiago for garrison duty; the first has already arrived, the others are being pushed forward as rapidly as the transportation can be furnished.

THE WAR AT ILOILO.

Operations Have Been Pushed with

Madrid, Aug. 4 .- Official reports from lloile, brought up to July 15, show that the operations against the insurgents in Viscayas had been vigorously pushed: that there had been several skirmishes with bands in the Camarines province, the insurgents being beaten, and that the insurrection in the northern provinces had been suppressed.

According to the same reports a British steamer, loaded with natives and a cargo of arms, coasted along the Viscayas shore, but the inhabitants of the eastern towns opposed a landing of munitions. On the queen regent's name day the notables of Viscayas tendered General Rios assurances of their devotion to the throne.

TOBACCO TARIFF FOR CUBA. Schedules to Follow United States

Internal Revenue Rates. Washington, Aug. 4.—It is understood that the officials of the war depart-ment have almost completed the topacco tariff schedules to be applied to Cuban ports and that they are to fol-low very closely, if not exactly, our own internal revenue rates. The latter are as follows: Twelve cents a pound on manufactured tobacco and snuff, $3.60 per thousand on cigars weighing more than three pounds to the thousand; $1.50 on cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds to the thousand, and $1 a thousand on all tobacco cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds to the thousand.

The general tariff for Porto Rico has been prepared at the treasury department and is now awaiting the action of the war department. It is intimated that the rates are to follow closely the present Spanish rates as applied to imports from Spain, which are about 10 per cent. less than the general rates collected upon shipments from other countries.

INDIANA THE WINNER.

Big Surprise at the Grand Circuit Races.

Columbus, O., Aug. 4.-The track for the grand circuit races at the Columbus Driving park was heavy today as result of recent rains, but very fast time was made in the three races run in the mud. The 2.11 pace furnished the sensation of the day. Charlie B was backed by Hubinger to win this race, and it is said his losings aggregate $6,000. In the pools Charlie B first brought $225 to $300 for the field and Hubinger's nervy betting soon forced the field down to $100. It is said the pools on this race amounted to $25,000. The sensation was furnished when Indiana, a horse that was never considered, won the race in straight heats Indiana has speed but is a bad actor The mud just suited him, however, and he paced without a break, never being in danger. The best Charlie B could do was to take fourth place. Murphy is said to have been a big winner in the pools. Second place went to Allor-Time, 2.1114, 2.1014, 2.1214. Owing to the condition of the track, Star Pointer will not go against the track ecord until Saturday.

The favorites won in both the other races. Directum Kelly lost the second heat of 2.24 trot by a break, but did not again disappoint his backers. The second heat was won by True 'himes, who took second money. Best time, 2.1316.

In the 2.27 pace, Split Silk (the favorite) won easily, but lost the third heat, which was taken by The Swift. Best time, 2.1314.
