THIS AND THAT.

There seems to be a good deal of misapprehension about that decision of the supreme court in the Jermyn assessment case," said Attorney I. H. Eurns yesterday, "I have read in some newspaper in the city that the decision will put $30,000 into the city treasury. That is not true. The decision settles a disputed point but aside from that is of no value to the city. When the board of assessors made a new assessment in 1897 it was attacked and fearing the whole assessment might be invalidated the city fell back on the triennial assessment and on that computed the taxes of property owners. That tax was paid and property owners received receipts in full from the city. There is nothing additional due. nothing to be paid, the new assessment having been abandoned. The decision of the supreme court allows the board of revision and appeal to order a new assessment whenever they see fit so to do, but I cannot but believe that the supreme court did not have a firm grasp of the subject matter in dispute when that decision was decided upon.

KELLY'S SIDE OF THE CASE. It Differs Radically from the Statement of Mangan.

"Your paper did me an injustice today in associating my name with that of the notorious Mike Mangan, of Third street," said John Kelley, esquire, yesterday. Mr. Kelley is the young man who wears the loose fitting ermine in the Eighteenth ward and whose judicial career has been checkered by large splashes of color. "I was not passing by as your paper next door to the Mangan house, and while in there I heard a woman yelling murder. On looking out the door, I saw Mangan after his wife with an iron in his hand. They ran into the next house and Mangan caught his wife by the head. When I got to where Mangan was, he was unmercifully beating his wife. Both were on the Constable Newman tried to get him from behind the stove while I went and telephoned for When I returned both the police. Mangan and Newman had gone. I will have Mangan before me before many moons and I will treat him as he treats his wife and children."

This statement differs radically from the one given by Mangan, which was printed in yesterday's Tribune. The case is now before the public in its entirety.

ARE MARRIED AT LAST.

Lewis Cass Case Miller and His Youthful Bride Had a Stormy Time of It.

Lewis Cass Case Miller and Jennie M. Hendricks were married yesterday by Alderman Howe, after a checkered experience the past thirty days in which elopements, arrests, sails, and forgiveness followed one another as in-

Miller up to July I lived with his widowed mother on West Lackawanna avenue and was employed as barber in a shop conducted by James Gibbong near the city line, Minooka. On the above date he did not go to work, but, pursuant to an arrangement, met Miss Hendricks and went to Binghamton to be married, an event which they were unable to have accomplished because they could get no clergyman or justice of the peace to marry them on account of their juvenile appearance. Miller is only 17 years old, and his bride is but 15. The first day of July was Friday. The next her parents saw was on the Sunday following. They asked what kept her away two days. She told the truth. The next day, which was the Fourth, a hearing was given Miller before Alderman Millar on a warrant sworn out by the girl's parents alleging a number of serious charges for enticing one so young away from home for the purse of marrying her. He was held in $1,000 bail which he could not furnish, and was committed to the county jail. A few days later he secured bondsman and was released.

Within a week negotiations were made between both families for mutual consent toward the marriage, nd a license was secured yesterday at the office of Clerk of the Courts Daniels, after which they went to Alderman Howe's office and were married.

SEVENTH AND NINTH WARDS. Number of Voters from These Places Examined Yesterday.

The witnesses examined at yesterday's hearing in the Langstaff-Kelly contest were from the Ninth ward of this city, and a few were from the Seventh ward.

They were as follows: Patrick Tolan, sr., Terence Rafferty, Anthony Clark, Patrick Harrison, Martin Devoney, Charles Burkell, George Burkell, James Maloney, John J. McCarthy, M. W. Flynn, James Bisbee, Thomas Flynn, Patrick Bird, nael Murphy, Frank J. McCawley, Hugh J. Keenan, Martin V. Daniel, James asey, R. N. Roche, M. Barenty, M. J. Colligan, T. F. Collins, Joseph Keogh, James Cadden, William Corcoran, John Devanney, John Culkin, Luke Burns, Patrick Mulderig, Michael Weir,

Thomas Mooney. The hearing this forenoon will be deoted to the examination of witnesses from Archbald. The attorneys on both sides have beome habituated to badgering each other, but at a stage of yesterday's hearing this conduct suddenly rose to fever heat. Mr. Hamilton laid a tax receipt on the table and Mr. Donovan picked it up. He was told to put it down and he refused, and upon still refusing he was informed that some one might come over and take it from him. The magistrate of the Twelfth reddened up and promised to wipe up the floor with some one.

PENMAN'S DISTRICT MAKES A FINE SHOWING.

War Revenue Bill Has Increased the Amount of Collections One Hundred and Fifty Per Cent .-- Commissioner Scott Rules That a Marriage License or Certificate of Marriage Does Not Have to Be Stamped-Tax on Bond Accompanying Mortgage.

Major T. F. Penman, internal revenue collector for this district, has prepared and forwarded to Washington his report for the month of July. It shows that during the thirty-one days the war tax measure was in operation stated," continued Mr. Kelley, "I had up to Aug. 1, the revenue of Uncle Sam business with Mrs. Connors, who lives in this district has increased about 150 per cent. An opinion from Revenue Collector Scott received yesterday states that marraige licenses and the certificates of marriage issued by cler gymen are not subject to the war tax when first issued. Subsequent duplicates of them must be stamped.

The amount of business done by this internal revenue district during the month of July is shown by the following figures: List, under which head is included all revenue for which stamps are not issued, $26,757.54; beer, fray and hid behind the stove like a $100.476.08; whiskey, $3,367.32; cigars, $6,-whipped cur, pleading to his wife not 766.15; tobacco, $4,934.11; specials, $25,-677.43; documentary stamps, $25,994.65; proprietary stamps, $4,758.31. Total, $293,733.59. The revenue collected during the month of July, 1897, was $148,-506.96, but that does not give a fair indication of the normal condition of revenue affairs at that time for the reason that the Dingley tariff bill went into effect during that month, cutting off the seven and one-half per cent. discount that had been allowed on beer stamps when bought in quantities. Knowing that the new law would cut off this rebate many brewers bought thousands of dollars worth of stamps early in July which increased that month's receipt to a wonderful extent, but decreased the receipts for the succeding months.

BETTER COMPARISON.

A better comparison is furnished by the month of July, 1896, when normal conditions prevailed. The following were the receipts for that month: List, $4.80; beer, $50,710.90; whiskey, $3,-686.21; cigars, $7,698.00; tobacco, $3,973.-98; specials, $15,850.50. Total, $81,924.39. It will be seen by these figures that the mount derived from the sale of cigar stamps in July 1896, was almost $1,000 more than in July of this year. This is due to the fact that prior to July 1 the cigar manufacturers stamped all the stock they had on hand with stamps at the old rate and consequently there was a decided falling off in he demand for cigar stamps during Taken altogether, Uncle Sam should be very well pleased with the showing made by Collector Penman's

At the request of the clerk of the orphans court of Luzerne county, Colector Penman asked for an opinion as to whether or not marriage licenses and the marriage certificates issued by ministers should contain ten cent stamps. He received Commissioner Scott's reply yesterday. He rates that the marriage license and marriage certificate are for the purpose of collecting and registering vital statistics as a basis for the administration of public health laws and that the license and original marriage certificate come within the exemption of Section 17 of the war revenue act, which is to the effect that all state, county, town or other municipal corporations in the exercise of functions strictly belonging to them in their outline of governmental taxing or municipal capacity are exempt from the stamp tax imposed by the revenue act. On certificates issued subsequently to the original the commissioner decides that a stamp must be placed.

TAX ON BONDS.

At the request of many lawyers, Collector Penman secured an opinion as to whether or not bonds accompanying mortages should be stamped and if so at what rate. The revenue law provides under a sub-division entitled oonds in schedule A that "All other bonds of any description require a fifty cent stamp." Mr. Penman gave it as his opinion that bonds attached to mortgages are independent securities and should be classed with promissory notes, requiring stamps at the rate of two cents per $100.

The department has sustained Mr Penman's view of the law in an opinion which says: "In all cases where a mortgage is accompanied by a note or bond for the amount secured by the nortgage the note or bond which is in effect a promissory note is subject to a stamp tax as provided in schedule A. under the head of bills of exchange, etc." This requires that a tax of two cents for each $100 shall be affixed to every bond attached to a mortgage. The commissioner goes further and states that when a mortgage contains clause or stipulation promising to pay a certain amount the instrument will be subject to taxation as a promissory note according to the rule provided therefor and this is, notwithstanding the fact that the mortgage may be for the sum of $1,000 or less. This leads to the conclusion that the commissioner considers a mortgage as a defeasible deed as distinct from an agreement for the payment of money. Many of those who did not pay the war tax before Aug. 1 are settling up and paying the 50 per cent. penalty, although not without much murmur-It is not likely that extreme measures will have to be resorted to in many cases. If it is necessary, however, this will be done.

TAX ON WINE.

It has been reported to the collector that many liquor dealers are not ob-serving the part of the war revenue law which requires that each bottle of wine must be stamped. The stocks in the hands of the local dealers were obtained prior to July 1, it is reasonable to suppose, and therefore were un-stamped by the manufactuerer or wholesaler. It therefore became the duty of the retailer to stamp it. Not many of them have done so, and arrests are likely to follow.

The same applies to dealers who had proprietary medicines on hand when the war tax went into effect. Many of them have made no effort to secure stamps or comply with the law.

WILL RECEIVE THE MAN. Dr. H. M. Wetherill, secretary of the Board of Public charities, sent a communication to the board requesting the admission of an insane man to the Hillside Home. He states that it is a pitiable case and the Danville authorities will not take it. The man is a resident of Watsontown, Northumber land county, and by present inference will not live long. The board felt highy complimented by the apparent confidence reposed in them by Dr. Wetherill, and the patient will be admitted. Almost identical with the above case s the request of the Mayfield authorities to have an insane woman admitted at the Hillside Home. Warren and Danville asylums both plead a crowded condition. The woman will be sent to the Home as per request and Mayfield pays expenses. John Sargeant, of Nicholson, appeared before the board and asked to have his boy, Charles Sargeant, given back to him. The lad is now at the Pope school, after having been at the Home for the Friendless, St. Patrick's Orphanage and the Hillside Home. The father gave up his son becaus the mother had deserted the home and he could not devote sufficient time to his care.

This was about four years ago and although the wife has been back about three years, they did not want the boy Mr. Sargeant says, because he and his wife thought the boy would be better cared for where he was than with them. Now that the boy is nearly sixteen years of age, he thinks different
