TWO MORE FLAGS WILL BE RAISED THIS AFTERNOON.

Funerals of Mrs. John McColligan and Mrs. J. G. Nicholson—Members of St. Leo's Battalion Tendered a Complimentary Social to Their Friends Last Evening in St. David's Hall—Party Given by Mr. and Mrs. David J. Cosgrove at Their Home.

One would imagine that sections of West Scranton's patriotic citizens are vying with each other in an exhibition of their patriotism. In several localities already a body of citizens have planted poles and unfurled flags.

At the Continental a high eminence which to an extent overlooks the city was selected and a 75-foot pole placed in position. The flag to be unfurled is 26x32 in size and was purchased by popular subscription.

Thomas Stevens, George T. Griffiths, Milton and Edward Gross, Daniel Williams, Thomas, George and William Thompson and John Redmond are the nine soldier boys in whose honor "Old Glory" will be "broken out from a pole erected at the corner of Washburn street and South Rebecca avenue.

A committee, of which J. Archie Jones is chairman, have arranged a programme appropriate for this event. The music will be provided by Stern's band. Exercises will begin at 7 o'clock. Following is the programme:

ONE DAY'S FUNERALS.
A large concourse of friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. John McColligan, wife of Patrolman John McColligan, which was held yesterday morning from the residence, 419

Twenty-third street. The remains were borne to St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock, a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. A. Broderick. Father Broderick also preached an eloquent funeral sermon eulogistic of the deceased.

At the conclusion of the services, the remains were borne to the Cathedral cemetery, where interment was made. The floral tributes were very beautiful and a large funeral cortege accompanied the remains to the cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. G. Nicholson was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, 240 Jackson street, and a large number of friends attended. The remains were borne to the Sherman Avenue Mission church, where the final services as a mark of respect were held. Rev. Peter Roberts, of Olyphant, officiated and preached an eloquent funeral sermon.

The funeral of Casmer Gullis, the young man who was killed in the Continental mines last Wednesday, was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, 2122 Jackson street. The remains were borne to the Lithuanian church where a blessing was pronounced by the pastor, Father Culpas. Many friends were in attendance. At the conclusion of the services, the remains were borne to St. John's German Catholic cemetery and interred.

ST. BRENDEN'S CONCERT.
Fully 1,500 persons stood, seated and sat in the vicinity of the rooms occupied by St. Brenden's council, No. 243, Young Men's Institute, over Jenkins' Pharmacy, corner Main avenue and Jackson street, last evening to enjoy the splendid band music provided by this society of popular young men.

Their object was two fold, first to provide the public of this side with an enjoyable evening of music, and secondly to advertise their coming excursion to Lake Ariel, Aug. 9. They succeeded admirably in each instance. A platform was erected immediately in front of the shoe store of Evans and Powell, by their kind permission, and therefrom Lawrence's band discoursed sweet music. During the progress of the concert a Chinese lantern containing three tickets for the excursion was set adrift from the building and the tickets were secured by William Saul, Thomas Barrett and Joseph Duffy. The clarionette solo "My Winnie," is worthy of special notice, as it is probably the finest composition of its kind yet heard in this city. It is in three parts, the two first polka and the last a polonaise. The piece throughout, by its pure simplicity and beauty, enables the performer to bring out all those rich vibrant effects of which the clarionette is so admirably adapted.

The soloist, R. G. Knowles, the well known pianist, gave rendition of this piece which readily justifies his efforts both as performer and composer. The rest of the programme was well received, particularly the march "Hotel

Hart," by Alexander, of Wilkes-Barre, and "Merry Matilda," a characteristic medley. It is to be hoped that the city will soon find means of creating a regular series of open air band concerts as they are certainly well appreciated and largely attended.

CHAIR OF ACCIDENTS.
Michael Cannon, of Bennett street, is suffering from a cut on his head, several inches in length, which was inflicted by a nail of rock in the Cayuga mine on Thursday.

While doing his housework yesterday Mrs. Patrick Healey, of West Market street, stepped on a nail. Nothing was thought of the injury until a few days ago when tetanus developed. Physicians are endeavoring to stay the progress of the disease which is rapidly affecting her whole system. She suffered excruciating pain and morphine is continually administered.

William Nicholas, an employe of the Cayuga mines, yesterday had his badly crushed fingers yesterday afternoon. He was assisting in replacing a derailed car when his fingers were caught between the frame and rib. He is a miner and resides on Ferdinand street.

ALDERMANIC CASES.
Alderman Roberts was quite busy yesterday deciding the troubles of different persons. Vincent White secured goods from Merchant Otto Myer's under false pretense, so the latter said. He was committed in default of $300 bail.

John Maxwell abuses his wife and frequently drives her and their children from the house, so his helpmate alleges. In default of $500 bail he was committed.

James Sheridan threatened to cut the throat of John Martin. $300 bail was required and furnished.

Joseph Haydock was charged with assault and battery by Maggie Cusacavitch. He was discharged.

CARRIAGE RECOVERED.
Constable Black, after a tour of investigation, succeeded in finding the missing carriage of the late John H. Fickover, repository on North Main avenue, Thursday night, in the rear of Phelps street. Joseph Morphone, the occupant of the property was returned.

The carriage was returned, however, after receiving a deep gash on the right side of his head, and still another is probably injured internally. The others are badly bruised and shaken up and several are suffering from the shock. The escape of all from instant death is a terrible injury is almost miraculous.

The injured men are William Morgans, blacksmith, leg broken; James Flynn, assistant driver boss, head gashed, and John Polack, assistant blacksmith, probable internal injuries. Morgans resides near the Archbold; Flynn, on Twenty-fourth street, and Polack on Keyser avenue. All were removed to their homes and given medical aid. The others resumed work after receiving from the jolting.

Just how the accident really did happen will never be known, but Engineer Snow says that while hoisting he took his hand from the lever for an instant to blow the 12:30 whistle. In that instant the accident happened.

As is customary, the men employed about the foot of the shaft and those at the head came up and down at noon to eat their dinners in or about the engine house. They return to their respective stations a few minutes before the 12:30 recall and were doing this when the accident occurred. The one "carriage" was brought to the ground landing and those going down got on. There were eleven men and they were let down the shaft until the other carriage reached the landing. Here the other four men got on. The carriages then had about 100 feet to go to the top and bottom. They went.

The one struck the sheave wheel, and the men were thrown about but only bruised. These four were: John Swingle, docking boss, and three Polanders who work on the "bars." The other carriage dropped onto the bottom and the men were thrown in all directions. Beside the three mentioned as injured seriously, there were on the "bars" Jeffrey Powers, pump runner; Thomas Harris, William Roderick, Joseph Roboski and W. John Davis, footmen; William Gleason, driver boss; Edward Thomas, greaser, and a Polandier laborer. The shaft was delayed about 40 minutes to straighten out things.

One of Mr. Speaker's Jokes.
From the Pittsburg Dispatch.
Recently Speaker Reed wished to see a man on an abandoned legislative train, and telegraphed for him to come to Washington. The man took the first train available, but a wash-out on the road made it impossible for the train to proceed. John toward its destination. Going to a telegraph station he sent this dispatch to the speaker:

"The wash-out on the line. Can't come." When Reed read the message he sent back this reply:
"Buy a new shirt and come, anyway."

Senator Hagar's Surgery.
From the Boston Herald.
Senator Hagar's surgical operation on Professor Norton was remarkable alike in the skill and rapidity with which the knife was used. The shock was severe, but the patient is doing as well as can be expected.

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

MRS. HERMAN SAAR ARRAIGNED ON A TRIVIAL CHARGE.

At the Hearing a Sad Domestic Intelligibility Was Related—Century Hosiery Company Transacted a Great Deal of Business at Their Meeting—Joseph Geiger Is Reported to Be Very Ill at Camp Alger—Notes of a Personal Nature.

Mrs. Herman Saar, of Willow street, after a four months' stay at Chicago, returned to the city yesterday morning and was arrested at noon by Constable Jack Chase on a warrant issued by Alderman Storr. Miss Lena Ehrhardt, formerly a neighbor of Mrs. Saar, charges her with having threatened to slay her face. It is alleged that the threat was made a day or two previous to the departure of the defendant for Chicago. Mrs. Saar was arraigned for a hearing last night and, incident to the proceedings, she made statements reflecting on the character of the prosecuter. When placed on the witness stand Mrs. Saar asked the magistrate to allow her to make a clear and full statement of the cause of the trouble. Her request was granted. She said that several months ago she was married to her husband. After a short time he began to relax in his kindly and affectionate conduct towards her. Instead of passing his leisure hours with her, he called on Miss Ehrhardt and remained at her home for hours.

Further than a friendship existed between her husband and his fair neighbor she believed nothing more serious existed. It appeared to her that Miss Ehrhardt was attempting to make her life miserable by laboring under such a distressing impression she made the statement at divers times that she would slay Miss Ehrhardt's face.

She further stated that, owing to her husband's cool treatment and indifference towards her, she was forced to leave her home today to spend a vacation with his mother, Mrs. T. E. Williams, of William street.

Alfred John, Thomas J. Owens, Thomas and William Evans, David Evans and James Williams will leave tonight for New York city on a week's stay.

Prof. Tate will give one of his fine graphophone entertainments at the Primitive Methodist church Monday evening.

Miss Annie Morgans, of Plymouth, and George Morgans, of North Main avenue, are announced to be married at the First Welsh Baptist church next Wednesday.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Annie Reese, of Wayne avenue, to Miss Margaret Watkins, of Putnam street.

The marriage of Dominick Kline, of Hudson street, and Miss Kate Brady, of Keiser avenue, will be celebrated during the coming week.

Miss Lucie Kline, of Margaret avenue, is in Wilkes-Barre visiting relatives.

H. M. Morrison, who has spent several years in Spain, will give an address upon that country and its inhabitants Sunday evening at the Christian church.

JOSEPH GEIGER ILL.
A report reached the city yesterday that Joseph Geiger, a member of Company H, Thirtieth regiment, at Camp Alger, was dying. Chief Hickey sent a telegram to Major Keller, inquiring for the condition of Geiger. Last night Major Keller replied stating that Geiger was quite ill, but was receiving good attention.

Peter Marber, of this section, who enlisted with Geiger, wrote to Alderman Storr yesterday. He did not make any reference to the illness of his comrades.

THE INCREASE OF NATIONS.
From the New York Herald.
While European Russia will need only forty-five years or so, Germany about sixty-five years, Austria-Hungary seventy years, England eighty years and Italy 100 years, it will take France over 800 years to double its population.

What signifies the loss of Alsace Lorraine's 1,500,000 souls, compared with the loss France suffers every day? In the last five years the German population has increased by 4,000,000, who are every one fully German. France meanwhile has increased her people by only 175,000, who are not even of French nationality. The increase of a nation is of the utmost importance to the success of its country. It has meant much in the nineteenth century; it will mean more in the twentieth.
