LIVE NEWS OF WEST SCRANTON

FIRE PROTECTION BETTER TOO EARLY THAN TOO LATE.

Additional Arguments Why This Big and Live Section of the city Should Not Be Helpless-Bale of Hay Catches Fire and An Alarm Fiend Sends In An Alarm-Flag Raising Saturday at Continental. St. Cecelia's Society Elects Officers.

Fortunately for prospective better fire protection there are but few persons who concur in the opinion that 'people need not be alarmed, the pressure of the city water from the fire hydrants is sufficient to send a stream of water over the highest building on the place, even on Gammon hill, without the aid of a fire engine." Apparently the few holders of that opinion have forgotten the fire of last New Year's eve when much difficult was experienced in securing a twenty-foot

In that instance the steamer was of no use and the house only a short distance away from the fire hydrant. That residence was on Price street, near Filmore avenue, and firemen say that had a decent steamer been available the fire would not have cost one-third what it did. Again, on Gammon hill about five months ago another fire started in an outside kitchen. A disastrous fire nearly resulted. A garden hose was more effective at that fire than the fire hose, simply because the pressure was so low. It is probably true that the whole West Side should not rise up in alarm, but with firemen looking significant when the matter is mentioned; insurance rates increasing with every writing of a new policy, and contractors deploring their high rate of protection, there is need that the true facts be made known and some alarm be felt now rather than later after trouble

Property owners, firemen, insurance men and business men are seriously oncerned, and the fact that the West Scranton board of trade has taken up the matter is sufficient evidence that high pressure is not a sure means of owering insurance of property own-

STRANGE DOINGS IN HEAVEN. Queer Story of superstition Related in a Criminal Court in Bavaria.

A curious story of credulity and superstition has been brought to light n a recent trial for fraud before a Bayarian court. About a year ago a farm manager named Kotterich, living in the little town of Kaufbeuren, lost by death a daughter who was a cripple. Soon after, one of his neigh-bors, a Frau Wohlfarther, the wife of a mechanic, began to communicate to the family letters from Heaven dictated to her or left at her bedside by the Virgin Mary, and asking for money or objects of value. The Kotterich family had received forty-eight such letters and had complied with the requests contained in them before the police got wind of the swindle and inerfered

An early letter contained the news hat the little girl was married in Heaven, that she liked it there, and that she wished the Virgin would ask for a dowry for her. The Kotterichs gladly gave Frau Wohlfarther the money and asked her to send it for them. Then they were informed that their daughter had three children, who must be christened and clad according to their rank. After that the children received the gift of a chanel, but were in need of an altar. Then strange things happened in Heaven; the twelve apostles needed new clothes, a faming broke out and all the angels would die of hunger unless the Kotterichs sent a pig, the Angel Gabriel tost his gold sword in driving back the devils, the daughter committed a deadly sin and it would take 1,600 marks to save her from purgatory.

The Virgin, however, made presents from time to time. She sent a churn, later a sofa, for which, however, an upholsterer later sent a bill; then she thought Frau Kotterich needed a new connet, but as this came unaccom panied by the milliner's bill, the good woman thought it unkind. The family delivered 8,400 marks, ($2,100) in cash. besides many objects that cost much money, to Frau Wohlfarther for the when their medium of com munication with heaven was arrested.

From the Philadelphia Times. A curious wedding took place in Mandalay a few days ago that is worthy of note. The betrothed were the Chief of Theinni, one of the Slav states tributary to Burmnni, and the daughter of the chief of Nyoungwe, another Slav state. The ceremony was performed at the house of the bride by the chief commissionr of Mandalay.

The lovers vere gorgeously arrayed in robes of state, which cost nearly £100 each and which will be used hereafter on special occasions in the state vet robe, trimmed with an infinity of gold lace and braid, and on his head a kingly crown that might have done duty to any fairy tale. The bride was arrayed chiefly in that orramental an have held its annual picnic at Nay Aug gular cardboard arrangement in which the souls of people in these parts deame until Monday. August 15, when light, till she looked all points and corthey will leave Green Ridge as had ners, Her headgear was a peculiar sort of compromise between a skull cap and a Roman belmet, but very becoming withal, and in front shone a diamond butterfly. In front of this, with their backs to it, the bride and groom knelt while offerings were made to various nats," or spirits. Rice cakes and water were then offered to the couple, though not actually given to them. They then took their place on the couch, facing each other, their hands were joined and a band of white muslin was bound around them both. There were many Brahmins present in long white robes and crowns like kings in a pack of
