

TWO CANDIDATES FOR LEGISLATURE NOMINATED AT CONVENTIONS HERE AND IN DALTON.

John Scheuer, Jr., Chosen Unanimously as the Republican Candidate in the Second Legislative District and Dr. N. C. Mackey, of Waverly Named to Succeed Himself. Resolutions That Were Adopted at the Second District Gathering. Both Conventions Very Quiet.

Two legislative conventions were held in the county yesterday afternoon. Representatives of the Republican voters of the Second district gathered in the arbitration room of the court house and unanimously nominated John Scheuer, Jr., of South Scranton, as their candidate. He is one of the city's progressive and representative business men, and his unanimous nomination was a deserved compliment.

Delegates representing the Republicans of the Third district assembled at Dalton and renominated Dr. N. C. Mackey, of Waverly, who is the present representative of the district. Ex-County Superintendent of Schools N. S. Davis opposed him.

BUSINESS-LIKE GATHERING.

John Scheuer, Jr., Nominated by Second District Republicans. John Scheuer, Jr., of the Eleventh ward, was unanimously nominated by the Second district Republicans yesterday afternoon. The convention was held in the arbitration room of the Court House and was a brief and business-like affair.

It was called to order at 2 o'clock by Chairman Fred W. Flitz and after O. H. Jadin had been appointed to assist Secretary E. Davis, the roll call was proceeded with. The credentials showed that every district was represented except those of the Seventh and Twelfth wards.

So many prominent Republicans attending a convention that was devoid of a contest and the absence of personal or factional strife in the district, as evidenced by the fact that the important nomination that virtually carried with it an election, was to be given by acclamation, bespoke the enthusiasm and harmony that existed in the district and augured well for the party's future.

Alderman John T. Howe, Fred Durr, W. D. Green, I. H. Allbaugh and William Smith were appointed a committee on resolutions. After they had read W. A. Raub was unanimously chosen permanent chairman and W. E. Davis was re-elected secretary.

The committee on resolutions, after a few minutes, returned and submitted the following:

THE RESOLUTIONS.
We, the Republicans of the Second legislative district of Lackawanna county, in convention assembled, hereby renew our pledges of confidence and allegiance to the cardinal principles of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States and to the Union of the States.

We congratulate the people of this country, regarding the party lines, that in a great crisis such as this government is now passing through, we have at the helm of the ship of state a strong, firm, unshakable, and unswerving hand, and a cool, conservative, reliable Republican. We endorse with reservation the wisdom and statesmanship of President McKinley in dealing with the situation with Spain, and are confident that the solution of the many problems to which the war has given birth will be accomplished in such a manner as to uphold the honor and credit of this great nation throughout the civilized world.

We endorse and commend our two Republican senators from Pennsylvania, Hon. M. S. Quay and Hon. Boies Penrose, and our own congressman, William Coakley, for their faithful and patriotic service in the last session of congress. We ratify and endorse the action of the late Republican convention at Harrisburg, and pledge to Colorado the support of the delegates on the ticket our hearty, undivided and loyal support.

To the candidate, this day nominated, we tender our hearty support and assistance, and promise to do all in our power to bring about his election and a Republican majority for the whole ticket in November next.

On motion of Mr. Flitz, the resolutions were adopted. Nominations were declared in order by Chairman Raub, Attorney M. W. Lowry placed the name of John Scheuer, Jr., of the Eleventh ward before the convention with neat and appropriate speech. He told that Mr. Scheuer was born in the district he now sought to represent and lived there continuously. He was closely identified with the business interests of the great industrial section of our great city. He served for three years as president of the South Side board of trade, represented his ward in the city councils and was prominently identified with the city's politics.

MR. SCHEUER CHOSEN.

The nomination was seconded by James McGuinness, of the Eleventh ward. He knew Mr. Scheuer as a neighbor and could vouch for him as an upright honest man of business and a stalwart Republican.

There being no other nominations, Mr. Scheuer's nomination was made by acclamation on motion of Alderman Howe.

Mr. Scheuer was brought before the convention by a committee consisting of Attorney Clarence Balentine, Emil Bonn and Solomon Millar. After he had expressed his thanks for the convention's favor and went on to say that he recognized the fact that the Second district is the most important in Northeastern Pennsylvania, because of its many charitable institutions, its large and varied manufacturing interests and the great number of laboring men who lived within its boundaries. A man from a district like this should be in accord with the majority, he argued, but yet it is always the experience that a Republican candidate for the legislature must make a hard fight to be elected. He hoped to be able to continue the district in the Republican fold and if hard work would be effectual he would be elected.

On motion of Alderman Howe the selection of the standing committee was left to the candidate and then the convention adjourned.

DR. MACKEY RENOMINATED.

Third District Convention Was Held at Dalton.

At Dalton yesterday the representatives of the Republicans of the Third legislative district renominated Dr. N. C. Mackey, of Waverly for legislature. He was opposed by ex-County Superintendent of Schools N. S. Davis, of Clark's Green. It is the third time the doctor has been thus honored by the Republicans of that district. He was nominated and elected in 1888 and represented the district during the two succeeding years. In 1890 he was defeated for a renomination and became an independent candidate against W. K. Beck, of Covington, the successful candidate in the convention. Both were defeated and the district sent Hon. Frank R. Coyne, a Democrat, to represent the district in the legislature for two years.

In 1896 Dr. Mackey was again nominated by the Republicans of the district and in November of that year defeated M. C. Judge, of Taylor, the Democratic candidate.

One of the features of yesterday's convention was the speech of Attorney R. H. Holgate, in which he indirectly attacked Dr. Mackey while presenting the name of Professor N. S. Davis for the legislature. He said it was time the Third district shook off the stigma of being the worst boodle district in the state and gave its politics over into the hands of clean, decent men. It was a speech alone somewhat the same lines followed by Mr. Holgate in opposing the nomination of Dr. Mackey two years ago.

JOHNS WITHDREW.

John R. Johns, of Taylor, would not allow his name to go before the convention. His friends said he had many delegates instructed for him, but they were persuaded to leave his standard for money considerations, and as he saw his following dissipating he decided to withdraw from the race.

N. S. Davis allowed his name to go before the convention that the delegates who objected to Dr. Mackey's methods might have an opportunity of registering their protest.

M. E. Charles' hotel was the headquarters of the candidates, John R. Johns and N. S. Davis had rooms on the first floor of the hotel and Dr. Mackey had a room on the second floor, to which his steering committee escorted delegates. Wade M. Finn and W. S. Langstaff were actively engaged on this committee.

About 1:30 o'clock the train that carried a big batch of the delegates arrived at Dalton, and immediately thereafter the members of the steering committee became very active. It soon became evident to Mr. Johns that the arguments advanced in the Mackey headquarters on the second floor were having a strong effect on his following, and he decided not to allow his name to go before the convention. He arrived at this decision about half an hour after the arrival of the train, which contained the delegates from Taylor and its vicinity. Mr. Johns spoke somewhat bitterly of the conduct of the delegates from his own town, who were elected in his interests and then deserted him.

HELD IN A CHURCH.

The convention was held in the old church of the Six Principles Baptists, which is now rarely used as a meeting place. After they had read the resolutions and the roll call was entered the church they were greeted by the strains of "The Merry American March," which was played by an orchestra composed of musicians of Dalton and its vicinity, led by Alfred B. Tillmuth, and engaged by Dr. Mackey.

T. J. Matthews, of Spring Brook, chairman of the district committee, called the convention to order and in the course of his remarks introduced the resolutions, G. T. Davis, of Greenwood, C. D. Finn, of Dalton, was chosen secretary. A. D. Dean, of Waverly, and George J. Powell, of Taylor, were named as assistant secretaries and they received the credentials of the delegates and recorded their names.

After the roll of the convention was prepared nominations for permanent chairman of the convention were called for. Mr. Matthews, and G. J. Powell, of Taylor, were nominated and unanimously chosen. Chairman Powell dispensed with a speech and began the duties of his office by appointing Ben Fern, of Lackawanna township; John Cook, of Old Forge, and John Williams, of the Sixth ward of Scranton, as a committee on credentials. There were no contests and the only matter to come before the committee was the seating or rejecting of the delegates from the newly created Second district of South Abington township. No provisions were made in the call for representation from this district but Silas Griffin presented credentials. It was held that the number of Republican voters in South Abington township only entitled it to two delegates while the acceptance of Mr. Griffin's credentials would give it three.

GRiffin REJECTED.

The committee on credentials decided to reject Mr. Griffin's and the permanent chairman of the permanent organization was completed by the election of C. D. Finn as secretary.

Nominations for a candidate for legislature were asked for and Attorney A. D. Dean, of Waverly, named Dr. N. C. Mackey. The nomination was not seconded.

Attorney R. H. Holgate next claimed the attention of convention and after reciting a story that had a very harsh application he said it was time that the Third district shake off the stigma of being the worst boodle district in the state, a reputation it has had all too long. It was time he declared that the boodler and thief should be frowned upon and the control of affairs in the district given over to decent, reputable men.

"I want to say," continued Mr. Holgate, "to the men who accepted the cold cash they now have in their pockets, and who sit in this convention that it is a blistering shame that they can come here and after prostituting their manhood dictate the nomination of a candidate for the decent element of the Republican party. It is time that an effort was put to such outrageous conduct. I want to name for your consideration as a candidate for the legislature a decent man and a loyal Republican, a man who has always been faithful to his party; whose name is untainted by jobbery of any kind. He will ably represent you at Harrisburg. I nominate ex-County Superintendent of Schools N. S. Davis, of Clark's Green."

GREEN WITHDREW.

Herbert Noble, of the Sixth ward, who sat in this convention that it is a blistering shame that they can come here and after prostituting their manhood dictate the nomination of a candidate for the decent element of the Republican party. HIS LEG TORN OFF.

Distressing Accident to Joseph Murphy, of 321 Stone Avenue, While Trying to Ride on a Carriage.

By a peculiar and shocking accident yesterday afternoon a 10-year-old boy, Joseph Murphy, of 321 Stone Avenue, lost one of his legs, and very nearly his life.

While playing in front of ex-Councilman H. W. Coyne's store a barouche owned by A. R. Raub and driven by Jerry Lancelo passed by. He thought to steal a ride and catching hold of the rear springs attempted to swing his legs over the axle.

In doing this his left leg passed between the rapidly revolving spokes and in a twinkling was broken, lacerated and almost torn off at the knee.

Bystanders rushed him and conveyed him to his parent's home where Dr. Hargerty was summoned to treat him. At the advice of the physician the lad was removed to the Lackawanna hospital, where the leg was amputated. For a long time he was in a critical condition, but finally recovered from the shock, and late last night was reported to be resting easily with the chances of recovery strongly in his favor.

The little fellow bore his terrible suffering in a heroic manner and was apparently more concerned about the effect the accident would have on his mother than about the consequences to himself.

A GREAT ENTERTAINMENT.

Given by the Animals at Sipe & Blake's Circus.

Sipe & Blake's greatest of all trained animal exhibitions, which opened a four-days' engagement on Monday at the corner of Ash street and Washington avenue, is one of the most unique exhibitions ever given in this city. The attendance at the matinee yesterday was extremely large.

Professor Blake stands foremost as an instructor of animals, as the ponies, dogs and monkeys that perform under his direction, demonstrate. Their feats are surprising and particularly amusing to ladies and children.

Mr. Francois was out of the city yesterday. The committee will probably be named by him today.

William Jones, residing at the corner of Price street and Washington avenue, was caught by a fall of rock in the Diamond mine yesterday morning and sustained an ugly gash across the nose and another on the back of the head. Bartommy Luberda appeared as prosecutor before Alderman Kannon yesterday against Jacob R. Rosenfield, of Olyphant, who was arraigned on the charge of perjury. Last week Luberda, as he was about to leave this country, was arrested on Rosenfield's complaint. Luberda was charged with the theft of a suit of clothes and was required to furnish bail before Alderman Millar. Yesterday's was a counter case. Rosenfield was held in $300 bail to appear at court.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE JACOB C. LANGE

BAR ASSOCIATION PASSES RESOLUTIONS UPON HIS DEATH.

Addressed by Judges Archbald and Gunster, ex-Judge Ward and Many of the Fellow Practitioners of the Lamented Young Lawyer—Funeral Will Take Place Tomorrow Afternoon and Will Be in Charge of Schiller Lodge of Masons, of Which He Was a Member.

The Lackawanna Bar association assembled at noon yesterday to take action on the death of the lamented Jacob C. Lange. Addresses extolling his many and positive virtues were made by those of his bar associates who knew him best, and resolutions were adopted. The following resolutions were adopted: Resolved, That the death of Jacob C. Lange, a member thereof, in the city of Philadelphia, on the 22nd instant, in meeting assembled for the purpose of extending his membership in the bar, do hereby set forth the following record of his life and pass the following resolutions: That the members of the bar of Lackawanna county, in this city of Scranton, Pa., do hereby express their sympathy to the family of the late Jacob C. Lange, who was born in the city of Scranton in December, 1863, and graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in the year 1885, and entered the law office of Messrs. W. H. Garrison and John H. Schickel, in Scranton, Pa., in the year 1885, and was appointed a teacher of mathematics and Latin in the same year, and while in that position he filled with marked success and ability the duties of his position, and devoted himself to the preparation of his chosen profession, that of the law, upon which study he had entered in the year 1885, registering with William H. Gearhart, on August 18, 1887, he was admitted to the several courts of this county after passing a most brilliant examination, since which time he has devoted himself to the practice of the law.

During the time he was engaged in teaching, he was also connected with a number of the leading building and loan associations in this city, and by his ability, and skill in the management of these associations did more than any other man in this city to popularize building and loan associations. Although his life was brief, it was a life of activity, energy and marked success, and his death was a loss to the bar of Lackawanna county, and a loss to the community in general. Resolved, That the taking away of Jacob C. Lange has deprived this Bar of one of its most promising and able members, and the community of a valuable citizen; the skill and ability which he displayed and manifested in the conduct of his professional and useful careers in his chosen profession, and his untimely death would have become one of the leading members of the Bar.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Bar association, a copy thereof presented to the Board of Control of the county, and that the Bar association attend his funeral in a body.
