

This Vote Not Good After Sept. 8, 1898.

A little boy and girl were playing on a fence when the boy fell off and hurting himself began to cry. A lady passing by asked another who saw the accident, "Why, what's the matter with Johnnie?" The lady replied, "Oh! he was walking on the fence and I guess he lost his balance." A few moments later the children were earnestly searching in the grass and when asked what they were looking for the little girl replied, "We're hunting for Johnnie's balance."

It must have been these same youngsters who taking a walk in early spring came to a pond. They heard the lizards calling: Briggs, Briggs, Briggs, Briggs. When Johnnie asked his sister, who taught the lizards to say this familiar word she immediately replied, "Perry Brothers."

adelphia; George B. Bowers, state vice-councilor of Altoona; Rev. M. D. Lichliter, of Pittsburg; junior past state councilor of Tyrus, W. S. Wiles of Wilkes-Barre, national representative. The meeting was presided over by Frank L.
Crane, of Moosic. Large delegations from various lodges throughout the county and many members of the order in old Luzerne were in attendance.
The trend of the addresses was an exposition of the arms and work of the order. It is a fraternal, beneficial and patriotic organization with a membership of 100,000 in this state, comprising 1,000 councils. Throughout the United States there are 2,500 councils with a membership of 200,000.
The state officers were in the city yesterday afternoon and were met at the Jermyn by many prominent members of the order in this locality.

BROWN-VAN HATTEN NUPTIALS

Well Known Newspaper Man Married Yesterday Morning.
The marriage of John Theron Brown, of Minooka, and Miss Catherine Van Hatten, of Mulberry street, was solemnized at St. Peter's cathedral yesterday morning. The ceremony was accompanied with a nuptial mass and was performed by the rector, Rev. J.
A. O'Reilly.
Mrs. Anna Brown, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Thomas
A. Donahoe groomsmen.
At the conclusion of the ceremony,
the wedding party breakfasted at the Jermyn and following this there was a reception at the home of the bride.
In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for Cleveland, Ohio, the home of the bride's parents, stopping at Buffalo and Niagara Falls en route. On their return they will reside on Mulberry street.
Mrs. Brown was a member of the graduating class of '97 at Lackawanna Hospital Training School for Nurses, and since her graduation has been practicing her profession in this city.
The groom is well known in the city by reason of his connection in an editorial capacity with The Tribune and other local papers.

SCRANTON CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

Important Changes in the Arrangement of Office, Studios, Etc.
Some important changes have been made in the arrangement of some of the beautiful rooms of the Scranton Conservatory of Music, Adams avenue and Linden street. The reception room has been entirely transformed;
the new office opens directly into the reception room; two large studios have been thrown into one which is provided with a large stage, for the use of the elocution and physical culture department; the halls, beginning with street entrance are to be tinted, etc.
A new teacher was added to the faculty yesterday, which now numbers fifteen professors, namely: Senor P.
Fitzgerald de Rivero, professor of the Spanish language.
The conservatory director, J. Alfred Pennington, and the registrar, Miss Ella MacNutt, will be in the office daily from now on until the opening of the term, September 7th, from 8.30 until 12
a. m. and from 1.30 until 5 p. m. Farnham street, and from 8 to 10 o'clock. Bauer's orchestra will render a delightful programme. All are invited—old students, new students, prospective students; those interested in business education and those not interested. This affords a good opportunity to inspect the college quarters.

SCRANTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.

IT IS NOT AN ORIGINAL SCHEME

MAJOR HAYES IDEA ALREADY INCORPORATED IN A BILL.

Was Introduced in Congress on April 11 last by Hon. William Connell, Congressman for This District. Captain James Moir in Speaking About the Matter Yesterday Gave an Outline of Amendments It is Proposed to Offer to It—Provisions of the Bill.

The dispatch that appeared in The Tribune yesterday from Cleveland, O., giving a brief outline of the scheme of Major Webb Hayes, son of the late ex-President Hayes, for a national militia was much discussed yesterday by those interested in military matters.
"Major Hayes seems to be under the impression that he is exploiting a new idea that is original with himself," said Captain James Moir yesterday in speaking about the dispatch. "The captain is an enthusiast on citizen soldiery, Spartan soldiery as he calls it, and is one of the best informed men on military matters hereabouts. He laughed at the idea of Major Hayes' scheme, but he admitted that the idea, 'Why,' said the captain, 'the same ideas are incorporated in a bill introduced in congress on April 11 last by Hon. William Connell, of this district. The bill was ordered printed and is now in the hands of the military committee of the house.' The provisions of the bill are:
NATIONAL GUARD OF UNITED STATES.

A bill to provide for organizing, arming and equipping a portion of the militia, to be known as the active militia, to be called the National Guard of the United States.
Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that upon the passage of this act the president shall proceed to call forth, to be organized, armed and equipped a portion of the militia, not to exceed in the aggregate of all arms, three hundred thousand men, and shall apportion the same among the several states according to their ratio of the enrolled militia liable to military duty under the laws of the United States, and shall be known as the active militia, and shall be called the National Guard of the United States.

Section 2—That the president shall apportion the number of each of the militia of the several states, arms, and shall prescribe their organization, arms, and equipment, and the system of drill, discipline and instruction to be observed, which shall correspond as nearly as may be with that of the regular army.
Section 3—That the active militia hereby organized shall be composed of men who shall enlist in the service of their respective states and the United States for a period of not less than three years. They shall at all times be subject to the orders of their officers, and shall be subject to active service whenever called upon by the president, for the national defense, in cases of war, insurrection, or rebellion for a period of not to exceed six months during any one term of enlistment.
Section 4—That the national guard may be organized by the several states in accordance with the requirements of the president as to numbers not less than the allotment as herein provided, and as to organization, arms, equipment, drill, discipline, and instruction as shall be prescribed by the president as hereinbefore provided. Said guard so organized, except when called into active service by the president, shall be subject to the laws of their respective states, which shall be responsible for the drill, discipline and instruction of the same.

PRESIDENT MAY ORDER.

Section 5—That the president may require the guard to be assembled in their respective states in camps of instruction or for marching and camping tours not of longer than once a year, and for periods not exceeding twenty days, and, when so assembled, transportation to and from the same shall be furnished with subsistence and proper equipment, and the president may also mobilize the guards of the several states or such parts thereof as he may desire for purposes of instruction, parade, review, or other maneuvers and reviews, not, however, requiring of any portion of the guard more than the twenty days' time per year, as hereinbefore provided. When called into active service by the president, or by the state in pursuance of prescribed methods of instruction, the officers shall receive as compensation the same pay per diem and allowances as officers of like rank in the regular army, and enlisted men shall be paid as follows: Non-commissioned officers of the general staff, $2 per day; non-commissioned officers of the regimental staff, $3 per day; first sergeants, $2.50 per day; sergeants, $2 per day; corporals, $1.75 per day; privates, $1.50 per day. When the guard of any state or portion thereof shall be so mobilized for purposes of instruction they shall be under the command of the president, who may detail an officer of proper rank from the regular army to their command.
Section 6—That military duty shall require the attendance of officers, non-commissioned officers, musicians and privates on all occasions of drills, parades, reviews, inspections, encampments or marches, tours of duty, and active service ordered by the president, and the members of the company, regiment, battalion, brigade, division, the governor of the state, or the president of the United States, or provided for by the laws of the company, unless excused therefrom by the officers having authority to grant such excuses; and that after receipt of such order or notice to appear, and while on such duty, or going to and returning from the same, obedience shall be rendered to all rules, regulations, usages, customs and requirements of the regular army of the United States and of the state wherein the soldier shall be located.
Section 7—That on enlistment every man shall take an oath, which shall be administered by any commissioned officer of the state or of the United States, to support the constitution of the United States and of their respective states; faithfully discharge his duties as a soldier of the National Guard of the United States as prescribed in section 6 of this act.

GOVERNMENT EXPENSE.

Section 8—That all expenses of organizing, arming, equipping, and instructing the National Guard hereby created shall be paid out of the treasury of the United States. And when any state in pursuance of this act shall reorganize its present active militia to meet the requirements thereof, or shall organize its quota of the National guard in accordance therewith, and by act of assembly shall accept the provisions of this act, and so certify to the president, the latter shall proceed to inspect said militia, and if the same shall be found equal to the required standard of the National guard the same shall be accepted as a part thereof; and such state shall be reimbursed for the cost of the current year's maintenance or, if newly organized, the cost thereof and thereafter, year by year, upon a satisfactory inspection of when any state in pursuance thereof shall be reimbursed to such states.
Section 9—That the president shall prescribe the arms, accoutrements, equipments and camp and garrison equipage, and other supplies of the National guard and the armament of the same, which shall be supplied upon proper requisition from the governors of the several states. Such arms, accoutrements, equipments

PEACE CELEBRATION HELD AT SUSQUEHANNA'S CAPITAL.

The Celebration Included a Fireman's Parade and the Annual Gathering of the Veterans of the County—Large Crowd Contained Many from the Surrounding Country and from Along the D. & W. Road—Galusha A. Grow and A. J. Colborn Among the Speakers.
Montrose and a large portion of the country in its vicinity devoted yesterday to a peace celebration, a fireman's parade and a veterans' reunion—all rolled into one big time. Ideal weather, a large crowd, fine speaking and everything else combined to make the day a splendid success.
On Tuesday began the County Veterans' association annual reunion, which ended today. This event alone attracted several hundred veterans who swelled the otherwise large crowd. In the throng were many who had taken advantage of a low rate of transportation from Scranton, Binghamton and intermediate points along the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road. Soon after 2 o'clock in the afternoon began the parade. It was led by Colonel W. H. Telford, of Susquehanna, and a staff of aides representing numerous sections of the county. The Telford band preceded a float on which were "Uncle Sam" and "Goddess of Liberty," respectively, portrayed by Captain H. F. Beardsley and Mrs. Harry Beach.
REALISTIC FEATURE.
A float thirty-five feet long and of generous width contained in miniature an attack by United States soldiers upon a Spanish block house. The soldiers, in command of Lieutenant J. C. Harrington, of Company G, who is home on a furlough, fired continuously the block house from the time the parade started until noon. Its close, Spanish guns finally were silenced and the red and yellow colors lowered.
An excellent representation of the battleship Oregon, built upon a 1-1/2 scale, was a float which created no little favorable comment. The structure was thirty feet in length. Its turrets revolved and its guns were sighted and fired at the will of the men concealed inside the structure.
On three floats were seated girls who represented the states of the Union.
Another float carried the "Angel of Peace," Miss Louise Warner, and a representation of "Signing the Protocol," Hawaii, Puerto Rico and other young children of Uncle Sam preceded a line of carriages containing veterans, citizens, borough officials and committee and command women.
The Gibson band headed the fire department division of the parade. This division included the borough's three companies, Rough and Ready, No. 1, with a chemical apparatus and parade carriage; Montrose fire company, No. 2, with a four wheeled horse carriage, a two-wheeled carriage and its old hand engine, the latter drawn by a pair of horses; Rescue Hook and Ladder company No. 1, with its truck drawn by four horses.
A party of colored boys in fantastic costume and accompanying the parade, depicted apparatus comprised a ludicrous Darktown brigade.

BACK FROM PORTO RICO.

Edward McGuire of This City Fought with Eleventh Infantry.
Private Edward McGuire, of 1908 Capoue avenue, who was recruited into the Eleventh infantry by Lieutenant Dentler when in this city, is home on a thirty days' sick leave. Mr. McGuire was in the last engagement with the Spaniards at Porto Rico, and was one of the number of sick soldiers brought to New York city.
For a time he was confined in St. Peter's hospital at Brooklyn. He saw the naval parade from the hospital by being propped up by pillows.
Mr. McGuire is enthusiastic in his praise of the treatment of the sick soldiers at the hospital. The best and tenderest care was given them by the physicians and nurses.
REMEMBERED.
A carriage containing thirteen little girls who represented as many members of Montrose fire company No. 2 who are with Company G, Thirteenth regiment, was the finale of the parade.
The parade terminated at the picturesque and rock-studded grounds of the Susquehanna County Agricultural society where the tents of the Veterans' association had been pitched and where the speech making occurred.
Captain Beardsley, commander of the Veterans' association, presided. The speakers were Hon. Galusha A. Grow, of Glenwood, congressman-at-large; A. J. Colborn, Jr., of Scranton, ex-district attorney of Broome county, and Attorney A. B. Smith, burgess of Montrose.
In the evening a camp fire with its attendant spirit of joviality, concluded the day's doings. During today the encampment of the soldiers will terminate.

Our Food

is important. Some one has said: "Tell me what you eat and I'll tell you what you are." What a man eats certainly does influence his disposition, character, etc., and the careful housewife will give him good nourishing food, anyway. This she can always be sure of doing if she uses
"Snow White"
Flour.
The Best Cooks Use It. All Grocers Sell It. "We Only Wholesale It."

Five Dollars for Writing a Letter

In order to introduce my new line of Kimball Pianos and organs I will pay FIVE DOLLARS to any one who will send me the name of any party who will buy a piano or organ of me.
This will be paid when first payment is made on the instrument and to the first one who sends me the name. If you know of a neighbor who talks of getting one send the name in.
