SAD SHOOTING ACCIDENT OC-CURS IN PARK PLACE.

Thirteen - Year - Old Mary Moran While Toying with a Self-Acting Revolver Accidentally Shoots and Almost Instantly Kills der Seven-Year-Old Playmate, Lizzie Russell-Moran Girl's Brother Was Lying Dead in the House Where the Shooting Occurred.

While toying with a 38-calibre re-Moran, the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Moran, of 1130 Providence road, accidentally shot and almost instantly killed her playmate, Mrs. Albert Russell.

An infant son of the Morans had died the day before. Mr. Moran in-to apply even to the most aggravated, tended to drive to Wilkes-Barre to swollen and inflamed hemorrholdal consult with his brother about the tumors. funeral arrangements, and as he would be detained until after nightfall he ook from its place of concealment his 38-calibre, self-acting revolver and left it on a low mantel in the kitchen until he should have finished his break-

A number of children, the two principals of the tragedy among them, ame in from the street after Mr. Moran had gone up on the second floor o the dinning room.

While playing about the Moran girl aught sight of the revolver, and, taking it down from its resting place, siezed it by the grip and trigger and began to flourish it about,

THE FATAL SHOT.

The Russell girl was sitting on a chair, leaning over looking at her new shoes and telling the rest of the children all about them. In swinging the revolver about and just at a moment when it was directed at the Russell girl, the self-acting trigger was pressed sufficiently to raise and release the hammer and the gun was discharged. The bullet struck the Russell child at the point of the chin and after ploughing a jagged furrow in the flesh, entered the breast between the breast bone and clavicle, directly above the heart, severing the main artery, the aorta.

When Mr. Moran reached the room he found the Russell girl lying in the chair with blood flowing in a stream from her breast, and his own daughter rushing around the room hysterically "I did it, I did it, but I didn't erying:

Mr. Russell who also heard the shot and arrived soon after Mr. Moran had picked up the wounded girl. Selzing her in his arms he rushed with her over to his own house and held her in his lap while physicians were being hurriedly summoned. She was breath-ing her last when she was carried into the house and died in her father's arms a few moments later.

ARE GRIEF STRICKEN.

Both families were fairly in a frenzy of grief over the terrible affair. The Moran girl collapsed several times dur-ing the morning and when any one approached her she shuddered like a leaf. Some one suggested that she go before an alderman and her father accompanied her to Alderman Roberts' office. When the story was related, the alderman told them to take her home that there was no occasion for her arrest. She was sent to the home of friends on the West Side that she might be away from the scene of the sad calamity. Coroner Longstreet investigated the case and decided that it was purely accidental.

STAMPEDE IN THIRTEENTH.

Soldiers Taking Leg Bail from Camp Meade. Many Thirteenth regiment men who have taken leg bail from Camp Meade arrived in town last night, yesterday and the night before. Ever since Wednesday when the regiment received its August pay the men have been leaving singly and in squads and stealing home for a visit. Twelve of them without furloughs were counted in one group n a central city hotel yesterday. Not a few non-commissioned officers are among the runaways. One sergeant told a Tribune reporter that up o the time he left the camp, Thursday morning.twenty-two men had decamped from company B street and possibly a hundred or more from the other com-

They say they are disgusted with the prospect of being retained in the service and when they saw their neighbors in the Twelfth packing up to go home they followed suit. They intend to get back inside of ten days in order to escape being tried for desertion. They are satisfied to put up with the fine and imprisonment that awaits their return.

Those who wish can make exchanges before the no matter what they bring. Go and try them before the sale so you know just what you are buying. Coachers, roaders and business horses are among the lot. Also a few good match-ed teams for undertakers purposes. **

IS IT CURABLE.

A Question Often Asked by Those Afflicted with Piles.

Is a strained joint curable? Is local inflamation curable? Of course, if properly treated. So is piles. People become afflicted with piles and ask some old "chronic" who has always persisted in the wrong treatment and naturally he discourages them by telling them that their case is hope-

They in turn discourage others, and thus a disease that can in every case be cured by careful and skillful handling is allowed to sap the energy of thousands who might free themselves of the trouble in a few days. Pyramid Pile Cure will cure the most aggravated case of hemorrhoids in an astonishingly short time. It relieves the congested parts, reduces the tumors instantly no matter how large, alcolver early yesterday morning, Mary lays the inflammation and stops the aching or itching at once.

Thousands who have resorted to expensive surgical treatment have been cured by the Fyramid Pile Cure-in Lizzie Russell, the 7-year-old daughter a number of instances persons who of the next door neighbors, Mr. and had spent months in an hospital under a pile specialist.

It is a remedy that none need fear

If you are afflicted with this stubborn disease you can master it and master it quickly.

This remedy is no longer an experi-nent but a medical certainty. It is manufactured by the Pyramid Pile

mpany, of Marshall, Mich. Druggists sell it at 50 cents per box. It is becoming the most popular pile cure the country has ever known and druggists everywhere are ordering it for their customers.

SOLDIER WAS INSANE.

Experience That Colonel H. M. Boies Had While Returning from Camp Meade at Middletown.

Colonel H. M. Roies and family paid visit to Camp Meade this week and ame home greatly pleased with their The colonel considers the site ideal and his iden of idenlity isn't identical with that of certain high officials to whom has been delegated the selection of camp sites during the late unpleasantness. He, together with other Scrantonians was surprised at the vast extent of territory covered by the camp. He paid special attention to the sick of the Thirteenth regiment.

Mrs. Boles visited the hospitals in Harrisburg and offered her assistance to a Honesdale boy she found who seems threatened with very serious illness. On taking the train Colonel Boies observed a sick and emaciated soldier embarking in the care of a nurse who was not to accompany him on the train, but was sending him home like a baby with a bottle of

The nurse was overheard to remark that it was a pity he had to go all the way to Wilkes-Barre alone, as he was really unfit to travel. Colonel Boles immediately stepped forward and said that as he was coming to Wilkes-Barre he would look after the man who seemed desperately ill and refused to alk to any one save Colonel Boies.

He was advised to go to a hospital when he reached home, but he roused enough to say fiercely that he had had and when he was advised before reachng Wilkes-Barre to take a cab, he persistently refused. Colonel Roles gave him some money which he was reluctant to accept, but afterward took, clinging weakly to his new friend's hand.

At Wilkes-Barre the chief of police and a number of other people came forward stating that they had come for a member of the Ninth regiment named Carroll who had gone crazy through filness Colonel Boies told them there was but one soldier on the train and that he was tottering up the platform, but that he had not given Carroll as his name. The officers made a dash after the disappearing boy in blue, and Colonel Boies was borne on home wondering extremely whether he had been spotted as one of the commissioners on lungcy or whether it was the custom to send home insane soldiers unattended. The nurse had made no mention of the man's malady, and the incident was to say the least, rather exciting.

FUNERAL OF R. W. LUCE.

Services Held Yesterday at His Late

Home on Mulberry Street. The funeral of R. W. Luce was held vesterday afternoon at his late home, 815 Mulberry street.
