FIGHTING TO SAVE PAVE ORDINANCE

ANSWERS THAT WILL BE MADE TO BILL OF COMPLAINT.

Respondents Claim That the Only Part of the Ordinance That Did Not Receive a Three-Fourths Vote Was One Particular Clause That Is Not Necessary to the Operation of the Ordinance, and Which Can Be Cut Out Without Killing the Ordinance Proper.

By agreement of council the time for filing the answer in the Provisional case has been extended to the 15th inst. The respondents claim that the ordinance is a valid one, and that the respondents' attorneys feel confident of being able to secure a dismissal of the injunction proceedings. The main contention of the plaintiff is that the ordinance under which the paving is authorized is illegal because in common council it received only fifteen votes, while a three-fourths vote of each branch of councils, it is claimed, is necessary.

WHAT THE ACTS SAY.
Under the act of 1889, a two-thirds vote of each branch of councils was necessary. The act of 1895 provides that the ordinance shall receive "an affirmative vote of three-fourths of the members-elect composing the councils." The act of 1898 is specifically for the government of cities of the third class. The act of 1895 is "for all cities of the commonwealth."

The answer will aver that the act of 1895, prescribing a three-fourths vote is not supplementary to the act of 1898, under which the ordinance in question was framed and passed, but that it is simply an extension act and that a third-class city can take its choice of acts in passing this class of municipal legislation. It will further be claimed that the act of 1895 does not refer to improvements where the property holders are compelled to stand the expense, as there is no direct provision made in it for assessments and liens.

It will further be pointed out that the act of 1889 requires a certain majority of "all members elected to each branch of the councils," while the act of 1895 demands only a certain majority of the "members-elect, composing the councils," and it will be argued that under the latter act an ordinance needs only a certain vote of the members of councils taken as a whole. The ordinance in question having received twenty-one votes in common council and fifteen in common council, was therefore made operative by much more than the necessary three-fourths vote.

WILL PRODUCE RECORDS.
If all these fail to win the court to their way of thinking, the attorneys for the respondents will bring in the records of common council to show that it was a simple clause of the ordinance, Section 13, dealing with the railway company's part of the paving, that failed to receive a three-fourths vote and that as this clause is not necessary to the life of the ordinance and only tacked on after the rest of the ordinance had received a more than three-fourths vote, court can decree that the clause in question can be cut out and the ordinance proper remain operative.

CITY ENGINEER IS FIRM.

Will Not Allow Work on the Pave to Begin.
City Engineer Phillips clings to his determination not to allow the contractor's men to begin work on the Providence pavement. Mr. Phillips yesterday waived a point, however, by permitting Superintendent Shaugnessy to begin excavating for the tile drains which are to be laid underneath the curb lines.

A half dozen men began digging from Green Ridge street northward yesterday morning. They will not be allowed to disturb the drains to lay any concrete over the drain. This latter could have been done without disturbing the roadway, but City Engineer Phillips wants the pavement concrete and the concrete beneath the curb and over the drains to be laid at the same time, thus running no chance of having any part of the concrete disconnected.

ANOTHER SOLDIER DEAD.

He Was Thomas Roberts and He Resided at Olyphant.
Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, several days ago received word from his brother, Captain W. H. Pierce, Company C, Third Pennsylvania volunteer Infantry, of Philadelphia, that Thomas Roberts, of Scranton, a member of the regiment, had died in a Philadelphia hospital. Rev. Mr. Pierce was asked to find and notify the Scranton relatives.

The case was also reported to the Soldiers' Relief association. Further correspondence elicited the information that Roberts was sent north on a hospital train among fifty-two sick soldiers from Huntsville, Ala. He was received at the Jefferson hospital at Philadelphia and died there last Saturday. The body was buried in the Pitville National cemetery, near Philadelphia.

POLICE SHOOTING TODAY.

Revolver Match Will Be Decided at Mountain Park.

The revolver shooting match between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre police teams of four men each will be decided at Mountain Park this afternoon. The shoot will occur in connection with the excursion of the Ancient Order of Britons, of the West Side. The Scranton team, Lieutenant Williams, Desk Sergeant Reese Jones and Patrolmen Lowry and Neuls will leave Scranton on the Jersey Central excursion train at 8.15 o'clock this morning. Arrangements have been made with the railroad company to carry excursionists on the 1.29 p. m. train, which will stop at Mountain Park.

YESTERDAY'S CONTRIBUTIONS.

Ice Fund Is Nearing the Half Hundred Mark.
Twelve dollars was subscribed yesterday to the purchase of ice for the Thirteenth regiment. The response to this urgent need has not been as generous as it should be however. It ought to be the duty of every patriotic Scrantonian to see to it that the regiment is well supplied with ice and such delicacies or necessities as are needed for the sick and convalescent. They can assist in this work by sending in their contributions. Those who subscribed yesterday were:

TRANSFERRED TO MONROE

Case of Jennings vs. Lehigh Valley Railroad Company Will Be Tried There—Yesterday's Hearing.

At the hearing in the case of Jennings against the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Wilkes-Barre, yesterday morning, Cornelius Smith was present, representing the plaintiff, and I. H. Burns and Everett Warren represented the defendant. Mr. Smith presented a new petition in which there was no charge made against our judges, or anybody else, of any impropriety, and he based his application for a change of venue simply and solely on the ground that his client could not get a fair trial in this county, because the newspapers of the county had severely criticized Mr. Smith and Mr. Jennings, and thereby prejudice had grown up among the people against them both.

Under this new petition and answer, and after some discussion, Judge Woodward announced that he would transfer the case to Monroe county, and this was practically acquiesced in by both parties, where it will come up for trial, probably, in the near future. The case now pending against the company is the case of the father for loss of his son's property by reason of an injury he sustained while a passenger on the cars of the defendant company. The case of the son for injuries to himself was tried years ago in this county and a final verdict in favor of the company was obtained. The other case, however, is a new one, and the claims of the son are now satisfied in full.

THEY ARE TOTALLY DISGUSTED

Town of Weatherly Bids Fair to Disappear from the Map.
The people of Weatherly are totally disgusted with the town. The Lehigh Valley having removed the shops and having closed down everything, many of the residents are moving away and others are looking for places to live. A prominent business man of that place said yesterday that if Weatherly does not secure new industries soon the town will be wiped from the map in short order.—Mauch Chunk Times.

FUNERAL OF A YOUNG SOLDIER

HUNDREDS WERE PRESENT TO DO HIM HONOR.

Remains of Alvin L. Evans Arrived Shortly Before Noon and the Funeral Took Place at 2 p. m.—They Were in Charge of Rev. F. P. Doty, of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal Church—The Pallbearers and Flower Bearers—Services at the Grave.

"Sad are the hearts who are tenting" at Camp Meade, especially among the members of Company C, Thirteenth regiment, for full well they know that yesterday afternoon the remains of their late comrade in arms, Alvin L. Evans, was laid in final rest. The remains arrived here shortly before noon from Washington, D. C., in charge of Private Harry Hall, of Company C, and were immediately taken charge of by Undertaker P. W. Tague, of South Main avenue. Long before the appointed hour friends began to gather at the residence of the bereft parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Evans, 422 C. street. "One country nature makes the whole world akin," and this was strongly evident yesterday. From the humble workman of the shop and for the well known business and professional man all grades were represented, each doing the memory of the departed soldier honor.

The service began at 2 o'clock and was in charge of Rev. F. P. Doty, former pastor of the Hampton Street Methodist church, now of the Cedar Avenue Methodist church. P. W. Peasall, secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association, assisted. The beautiful and appropriate hymn, selections of the service were rendered by a double quartette in charge of Mr. E. Evans, who accompanied Mrs. John Hughes, the Misses Gladys and Agnes Joseph and Mae Evans, and Roger Evans, Talliesen Evans, Gomer Reese and David E. Hughes, all of the Plymouth Congregational church choir.

REV. MR. DOTY'S REMARKS.
Rev. Doty chose for his text the 4th verse of the 119th psalm: "He being dead yet speaketh." His sermon, in part, was as follows: "The past months of this year have been full of exciting events. Dearly beloved, today we come to bury a soldier. He died in a hospital and not on the field of battle detracts nothing from his record. Had he been called forth he would have responded to his duty. As did Washington and Lincoln, who were martyrs to the cause of humanity, so did our brother in his wish to help others so meet death. He is gone from us. No more will he wake to hear the beat of drum or call of bugle. He is being dearest to our hearts, by example in upholding the honor of the flag. The lesson of self-sacrifice is herein taught. A promising future, love of home and mother were all his. An upright young man, who formed correct habits early in life, he speaks, though silently, to all young men, both associates and others."

Following the conclusion of the services the remains were viewed as they lay in calm repose in a handsome casket. He was then embraced, though he gave up his life for. On the other were the beautiful floral offerings. Among these were the pillow design from "Members of Company C, to our Comrade of the Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, Thirteenth Regiment," an anchor and American flag designs from the shop and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Mutual Aid; the emblem design from the Knights of Malta, and an anchor design from the Sabbath school class.

GOING TO THE GRAVE.

The cortege which accompanied the remains to the cemetery was very large. Representations from Electric City commandery, No. 177, Knights of Malta, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Shop Mutual Aid society and members of the First United Congregational church, Sabbath school, the Railroad Young Men's Christian association and the drum corps of Camp No. 430, Patriotic Order Sons of America, led the procession. The pallbearers were: Private Harry Hall, Fred Luthert, J. J. Corbett and Edward Jenkins, Company C (active service); Spencer Kimball, Company C, and Harry P. Davies, Company F (ex-members). The escort-of-honor, led by ex-Lieutenant W. C. Scott, Inspector of Rifle Practice Rees Watkins and Second Lieutenant Thomas Murphy, Company C (active service), were: Sergeant William Hall, Jr., Company A; Quartermaster Sergeant J. D. Kiger, Company B (active service); Corporal W. P. Kennedy, Company C; Corporal E. R. Faulkner, Company B; From the present Eleventh regiment, N. G. P. were: Privates Peter Getz, William Hornbach and Wilfred Blair.

IN THE CEMETERY.

At the cemetery the burial service of the Methodist church and the Knights of Malta was carried on by Rev. Doty and Sir Knight H. C. Hall. The military part of this service was performed by a firing squad in charge of First Lieutenant David W. Davis, Company C, Eleventh regiment, N. G. P., and comprised Corporal Handford Swingle, Company C; Privates Daniel J. Jordan and Charles Whipple, Company D; George Bald and William Marvin, Company B (active service); and Privates James Cooper, Frank Nicholas, Charles Ash and Edward Kingsbury, of Company C, Eleventh regiment, N. G. P. Taps were sounded by ex-Chief Musician Ted Richards, of the regiment.

The flower-bearers were: G. B. Bidleman, Company C (active service); Walter Jones and Fred Jones, Knights of Malta, and Charles Boldry and David Davis, of the Mutual Aid.

The Misses Merrill's private school, 612 Jefferson avenue, for pupils between 5 and 13 years of age, will open Monday, Sept. 12, 1898.

REUNION AT ANTIETAM.

The Arrangements for It Are About Completed.

Arrangements have been about completed for the reunion of the One Hundred and Thirty-second Pennsylvania volunteers at Antietam battlefield on September 17 and 18. Those who are in charge of the transportation feel confident that the time limit in the tickets will be seven days instead of five as mentioned heretofore. This will give all who desire to go an opportunity to stay until Friday, September 23, and by doing this all who desire can take side trips for a day or two.

The governor of Massachusetts and staff will be in attendance dedicating their handsome state monument near the old Dunkard church and several other regiments will have a meeting. Secretary Newman will be glad to give any one desiring accommodations the names of hotels and private parties so that accommodations can be secured ahead. Parties who contemplate going should apply to the ticket agent at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station a few days before the 17th so that tickets can be prepared in time.

Scranton Business College.

Both sessions of the Scranton Business college opened on Monday last. Although it was a legal holiday and the heat intense, the enrollment was unusually large. Many others have arranged to enter Monday and later. The prospects for the coming year are exceedingly flattering.

Among the out of town students are: J. W. Lee and Paul Harman, Bloomsburg; D. J. Poellmann, Liberty, N. Y.; Miss Nellie Britton, Mill City, Miss Elizabeth Noyes, Westport, Pa.; O. P. Ehrhardt, Moscow; L. Abrams, Colfax, Wash.; Miss Marie Croghan, Honesdale; M. A. Cullather, Stroudsburg; Misses Emma and Gertrude Ilager, Gouldsboro.

Wyoming Seminary.

Outfit for educational work complete. The highest grade of teachers employed. Laboratory work in all sciences. Highest testimonials from colleges regarding work in language and mathematics. Departments of music, art and education of the highest standard. Excellent drill in English branches for teachers. Beautiful gymnasium and large athletic field. Business college one of the best in the state. Money expended for education in this school the best investment that can be made for children. Fall term opens September 12. For catalogue address, L. L. Sprague, D. D., president, Kingston, Pa.

The 13th Regiment Boys

May not come home right away but when they do greet them with "Return from Camp March," by Samuel Powell, published by L. B. Powell and company.
