WAGES CUT AT ARCHBOLD'S ROCK AND BOTTOM VEINS.

Prices Have Been Cut from 98 Cents and $1.07 Per Car to 89 and 98 1/2 Cents—Cut Was Necessary Owing to the Expense of Operating the Mine—May Be Some Objection on Part of Miners—Horse Enters a Sewer—Harvest Home Festival at the Salvation Army Barracks.

Through much joy resulted among many of the residents of the mining hamlet of the Archbold by the resumption of that colliery Wednesday last, after an idleness of nearly seven months, that joy was somewhat tempered by an order which was put into effect that those who are employed in the Rock and the bottom vein. A reduction of nine cents per car went into effect as a result of this order.

Previously to the shutting down of the colliery early in the year, 98 cents was the price per car in the Rock, and $1.07 in the bottom vein. These prices held good despite the fact that the same veins in neighboring collieries were being worked for nine cents less per car.

Now, however, the 89 and 98 1/2-cent rate per car goes into effect at the Archbold. The men were personally notified by Assistant Mine Superintendent Reese Phillips. It is said that the Archbold colliery is a very expensive mine, owing to the heavy royalties, and this fact had something to do with the shutting down several months ago.

The lowering of the rates is not the only cause for discontent, for they were once required to send out six cars for a shift, they now have to send seven. It was hinted that some general form of objection was contemplated on the part of the miners, but such does not seem to be a probability.

HORSE ENTERS A SEWER.

Merchant John B. Reese, of South Main avenue, nearly lost a valuable horse yesterday afternoon as the result of a very peculiar mishap. As it is the annual fair, the horse was being driven to the fair, and was being driven by a man who was taking the horse to the show mounted him, and this horse did not like it. He started to back up, and the driver jumped off the horse's back and tried to stop the animal's backward course.

Excavations for the sewer repairs are being made along this block and the horse, a big, heavy animal, was backing directly into the trench. It was impossible to stop him, and in being wedged in like a jack knife and wedged in sardine style. The trench was nine feet deep at this point. It was nearly three hours before the horse was extricated. A trench had to be dug leading from the horse's position and he was then hauled out. The animal's sides and haunches are cut and bruised and he was bloated. Dr. Sutton is caring for the animal.

HARVEST HOME FESTIVAL.

These articles have been artistically arranged in the barracks and present an attractive appearance. An admission of 10 cents will be charged. Three services of religious nature will be held Monday and Tuesday. Auction sales of the goods will be held Monday and Tuesday. The funds obtained will be used in laying sidewalks in front of the barracks and making other necessary repairs. It is hoped that the public will respond in a liberal manner.

The Stingy Duke.

An English paper tells a story of a royal duke who has the reputation of being somewhat close in money matters. When he was asked to dine at a restaurant and requested to be driven to Victoria station. Arriving at the terminus he had a shilling in his pocket. Of course, came the inevitable, "Mr. what's this? Can't you make it another inner?" said the noble. "And what is more, you came the wrong way. What made you go right around the block?" "I had no chance and chaffingly replied: "Wot for?" "Cos St. James' park is closed—that's wot for!" "Closed? St. James' park closed. Why, how's that?" "Oh, they say as how the Duke dropped a threepenny bit a comb across the park last night, and the park's closed till they find it!"—Montreal Herald.

HON. ALEX CONNELL SENDS A LETTER FROM KLONDIKE.

He and His Party Have Prospected Over Many Hundreds of Miles but With No Success—He and His Companions Are in Good Health. Farewell Reception to John Gavin Who Leaves for Lehigh University on Monday—Minooka Women in Alderman Ruddy's Court.

John Gibbons, jr., cashier at the Meadow Brook coal office of Connell & Co., received a letter early in the week from his friend, Hon. Alex Connell, who is in the far Klondike, at the head of a prospecting party. The major portion of the letter is of a personal nature.

Mr. Connell, however, states that under no circumstances would he encourage anyone to leave for the gold fields. When Mr. Connell wrote he was on the trail along the Lewis river, and he said that he was of the opinion the date was July 25, but he did not know. Evidently he had not heard of the recent war as he did not make any reference to it. The climate when the letter was written, was grand. Hunting was plentiful and Mr. Connell's health was the very best.

The Connell party of prospectors have gone over one thousand miles in search of gold without the least success. They have gone up the Salmon river one hundred and twenty-five miles, and the Nisetteen river forty-five miles, and they have not made any year longer, and in the event of not realizing their desires they will proceed homeward. Mr. Connell directs that his mail be forwarded to Dawson City.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

The esteem and respect that the members of Columbus council, 473 Young Men's Institute, entertain for their brother member, John Gavin, was evidenced in a substantial manner last night. Mr. Gavin will leave Monday to enter Lehigh university at Bethlehem, and a farewell dance was arranged for him at Pharmacy hall last night by his friends.

During the intermission John B. O'Malley president of the Young Men's Institute, in a neat speech, presented to Mr. Gavin a fountain pen and an ink well mounted in a handsome silver plate. The speaker gave a fitting eulogy of the worthy qualities of the student's character. Mr. Gavin responded feelingly. The lid of the ink well bears the inscription: "Presented to John B. Gavin by Y. M. I., Sept. 16, 1898." Dancing was resumed after the speaking.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Mrs. Rudy, of Minooka, was arrested before Alderman Ruddy last night on the charge of assault and battery, preferred by her neighbor, Mrs. Ruane. The latter purchased a cow from the defendant several days ago, and a part of the bargain, Mrs. Ruane says, was that she was to have a patch of corn when the same was grown.

Thursday she went to the Hudyt plot and commenced to help herself to the corn when Mrs. Rudy was seen on the spot. The women began to quarrel and the result was a hair pulling match. Mrs. Rudy was held in $300 bail, which was furnished. Mrs. Ruane will be the defendant today on a similar charge to be heard before Squire O'Neill, of Minooka.

NERVOUS WOMEN.

The Opinion of a Famous Medical Writer as to the Cause.

In a recent lecture on diseases of women, Dr. Hartman, said: "A nervous woman is always a sick woman. Some drain on her system is the cause of it. If the mucous membranes are healthy, the woman is usually healthy. Each one of the numerous and delicate organs of the human body is lined with mucous membrane. The slightest catarrhal congestion of any of these membranes gives rise to weakening discharges, which lead to nervousness, and finally prostration. Fe-r-u-na is the only remedy that I have ever found to be of lasting use in these cases. Thousands of women are languishing with the very common ailment known as female weakness, which in almost every instance is caused by catarrh of the pelvic organs. Fe-r-u-na will cure these cases promptly and permanently." Mrs. Lucy Lee, Naples, Texas, writes: "I am enjoying better health than I ever did in my life. I can't praise Fe-r-u-na enough; it is the greatest medicine there is in the world."

Dr. Hartman's latest book, written especially for women, "Health and Beauty," will be sent free to any address by the Fe-r-u-na Manufacturing company, Columbus, Ohio.

CORRECTS ITS OWN ERRORS.

The Republican Party Can Be Trusted to Heal Itself.

Colonel Stone at Williams' Grove.

If one Republican introduces a bad bill, which meets its defeat at the hands of another Republican member, or if the hands of a Republican governor, if the bill is introduced with the introduction of the bill, it should also be credited with its defeat. If it is charged with its birth it should be credited with its death.

One of the great reasons why the Republican party maintains its supremacy so long in Pennsylvania is that all wrong-doing finds publicity in time to prevent its success and finds it inside the Republican party. We do not always agree in our party. There are many issues and disputes, many criticisms and complaints, but this fact only inures to better government and cleaner politics inside the party.

No Wonder the Query.

From the San Francisco Wave.

When the news came to the Chickamauga hospital of the destruction of a woman's feet, one of the nurses commenced to read it aloud. He had got as far as the statement that the Brooklyn had been hit forty-five times, when a fever patient, a little out of his head, shouted: "Great Scott! Who pitched for Brooklyn?"

Why a Long Distance Chat Is Generally Expensive.

An authority on such matters, presumably, tells us that some impatient criticism of long-distance telephone rates might be saved if the public understood better the basis on which the charges are made. The correspondent of telephone, says the Boston Herald, must have all the line when he requires it, and practically the entire earnings of the long-distance line must be withdrawn in the hours when business men are at their offices. The capacity of a long-distance line is confined to an average of six conversations an hour, so that the rate must be sufficient to yield during a limited time an adequate return upon the investment and expense. Telephone rates, therefore, are based on mileage, and the time the line is occupied in arranging the connection, in conversation and in disconnecting. Many people are unable to understand the cause of the difference of the rates of telegraph and telephone services. This difference is easily explained. The telegraph employs a single wire conductor, and by the quadruplex system this wire is made to serve the purpose of four wires. The long-distance telephone service requires two copper wires for each circuit, which altogether, weigh nearly double what the single wire does, and cost over five times as much per pound. The general construction and equipment of the long-distance telephone service is also far more expensive than that of telegraph. Furthermore, an ordinary ten-word telegram may be transmitted in a minute, and four messages can go over the same wire at the same time. Each complete conversation over the long-distance telephone occupies two wires for ten minutes, which brings the comparison to two wires for ten minutes, as against one-fourth of one wire for one minute. Another essential difference in the two systems is that a sender of a telegram writes out his message and goes about his business, and the operator forwards it when convenient, thus keeping the telegram wires fully employed at all hours, whereas the telephone must necessarily be inactive for the greater part of the 24 hours.
