

HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

TWO BROTHERS INJURED IN THE SOUTH MILL

John and Robert Farrell Were Employed at the Moulds in Which Ingots of Steel Are Prepared for the Rolls—Injured in Almost Exactly the Same Manner—Sudden Death of John Leonard—He Was a Well-Known Business Man.

John and Robert Farrell, brothers, residing with their widowed mother on Cedar avenue, were injured in a singular manner at different hours yesterday morning in the same spot in the converting department at the South mill. The young men are employed near the large moulds in which ingots of steel are prepared for the "rolls." At 10 o'clock Robert was engaged with a number of men at the machine where the steel is stopped, and when the long piece was being moved he attempted to get ahead of it. He was not quite alert enough in his movements and the ingots went against his left foot, smashing it to a pulp.

John Leonard, of the firm of Leonard Bros., bottlers, died suddenly at his residence, 618 River street, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. His death is attributed to heart failure, superinduced by a severe cold, which he contracted Saturday last.

Late that day he complained to his wife of his illness and upon her suggestion he went to bed. Home remedies for such ailments were applied without good result and at midnight Saturday, Dr. Haggerty was summoned. He approved of the line of treatment Mrs. Leonard was giving her husband, and under the impression that the sick man would be about in a short time he left.

Sunday Mr. Leonard grew worse, and Dr. Haggerty was again called. The cold had developed into pneumonia of a slight nature. Yesterday the deceased was apparently improving, and about 4 o'clock he told those at his bedside he was going to sleep. From that slumber he will never awake. His wife, about thirty minutes later, tenderly laid her hand on his forehead and found that he was dead.

Few men enjoyed the esteem and friendship of all who knew them as did John Leonard. He was generous to a fault and loyal to his friends. As a business man his standing was the best. He is survived by his wife and a two-year-old son, and brothers, Michael Leonard, of Providence; Patrick Leonard, of Moosic, and Anthony Leonard, of this side, all of whom were associated with the deceased in business. The funeral arrangements were not completed last night.

OTHER ACCIDENTS. George Schumacher, the butcher, doing business at 324 Cedar avenue, is suffering from a bruised leg, sustained by being thrown from his delivery wagon last night. He was returning from the central city, and when crossing the Cedar avenue bridge the horse became frightened by the noise of an engine passing on the small tracks beneath the bridge. In his attempt to check the speed of his horse, Schumacher was thrown from his seat, the wagon passing over his right leg. He was taken to his home and given medical attention by Dr. Kolb.

George Van Horn, the painter, is caring for a badly discolored optic and lacerated face, caused by coming in contact with a street car yesterday afternoon. Van Horn made an effort to board a moving car, but he miscalculated his step and was thrown with much force against the side of the conveyance.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. PATRICK MCGUINNESS took place from her late home, 3 Stone avenue, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock. A mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Peter's cathedral by Rev. D. J. MacGoldrick. Interment was made in the Cathedral cemetery. The pallbearers were: Thomas Rafter, Patrick Miles, Philip Stungmeyer, Michael Reardon, Thomas Barrett and Patrick McCann.

The married ladies of St. John's Catholic church congregation met in the church basement hall last night to formulate a programme of the work which they will do in arranging and assisting at the coming fair of the congregation. Mrs. Michael McGarry presided at the session and the policy followed by the men at a meeting Sunday night, as told in yesterday's Tribune, was adopted. Another meeting will be held a week hence, when the work will assume a more definite shape.

The Neptune Engine company met in special session last night to decide whether the horses tested Saturday, should be accepted for the horse wagon. It was decided not to take them as the majority of the members favor a team of blacks to match the horses used on the steamer. The animals tested Saturday are brown.
