Ludwig Pianos Are Favorites. WHY?

Because they are well made. Because they have a beautiful tone. Because the action is perfect. Because they stand in tune.

Because the cases are most artistic. Because we sell them at a low price. Because we guarantee them in every particular.

Because our guarantee is worth something.

THIS AND THAT.

A notable new novel entitled "The Queen of Sinners," by Winfield F. Mott, has just been issued by G. W. Dillingham company, of New York, publishers of high class works only. Mr. Mott is a resident of Blakely during the summer, and is well and favorably known throughout the valley. He is one of the popular and successful novelists of the day, and "The Queen of Sinners," his latest production, is a well-written and intensely interesting story. The leading New York newspapers have spoken of this story as strikingly original and unlike other novels. dramatic and realistic and worthy of great success.

The plea for help for the Chirurgical hospital at Philadelphia has found an earnest friend in this city in the person of Mrs. E. N. Willard, who is making strong efforts to interest people in this most worthy object. An hospital that cares for 500 soldiers at once is doing a great work and should be given aid by the people of the country. Scranton as a city has done little for the army in the way sending supplies. Scarcely another town of its size can be found here the women have not lent some sistance to the Red Cross movement in some concerted way given aid comfort to the soldiers. This is opportunity where excellent work he accomplished.

PLAINTIFF'S ALLEGATION.

The plaintiff alleges that the farm stock to the value of $945 which belonged to him were sold as the property of his mother and he seeks to recover $2,000 damages. He says he notified the constable, the landlord owned the goods in question. It was also averred that the seizure of the goods was illegal because it was made before sunrise and because no notice of distress was served on the tenant, The defense denied these latter alleations and contended that the claim of the plaintiff was simply a scheme to save the property for his mother. Geore W. Beale and Vosburg and Dawson represent the plaintiff and J. H. Bonner and O'Brien and Kelly the

In court room No. 1 before Judge Archbald, the case of Mary C. Duffy, of this city, against her aunt, Mrs Mary Duffy, of Carbondale, is on trial. The action is to settle the title to an ere and a quarter of land on Hospital street, Carbondale. It was originally in the possession of the plaintiff's grandmother, who is the defendant's mother, and who claimed it by right squatter sovereignty. The defendant attempted to enter upon possession of it recently on the strength of a deed from the Delaware and Hudson Canal company, which claimed it under a paper title.

Ward and Horn, T. P. Duffy and S. B. Price represent the plaintiff. E. C. Newcomb and John F. Reynolds are the defendant's attorneys.

Clerk John F. Williams-His Reports Are Models of Neatness and Correctness.

Few people have anything like an ccurate idea of the manner in which the moneys appropriated for the mainenatee of the Hillside home is pred. Part of the many duties of Clerk John Williams at the home, is to prepare report for the state auditor every three months. The fiscal year of the begins December 1 and the home port which follows here is the third quarterly report for the present fiscal mitted. The total receipts of the thirteen weeks amounts to $11,884,30. This amount is derived from several sources as follws: From payments for care of private patients, $1,217.90; from the Scranton Poor district, $4,452.35; state apportionment, $6,214.05; grand total

Opposite this tabulation of receipts s put the itemized accounts showing There are probably xpenditures. wenty-five heads for proper classificaion of the expenditures. The enumration covers supplies such as food, lothing, coal and medicine, etc. The food part covers that which cannot be produced upon the farm attached to the home. Furnishings, etc. and salaries for officers, attendants and hired help are included in this enumeration. This footing in total being $11,884.30, including a balance unexpended, corresponds with the amount f receipts.

To gain a clear idea the data which is also attached to the report is here-by used in connection. For thirteen vecks of maintenance the cost week is $914.17; cost per patient per week $3.67. The institution must provide $1.75 per patient per week. Over and above that, but not to exceed $2.00, the state provides. Thus deduct-$2.66 10 which represents excess per patient per week. The full excess per patient for thirteen weeks amounts to $24.93. Then for 249 91-22 patients for thirteen weeks at $24.93 per week, we get $6,214. 05. This corresponds to the amount noted as due from the state for recepits. The report throughout indicates that the least detail is fully and accurately cared for and referring back from report to the books which are in charge of Clerw Williams one sees that here in the same painstaking teare ob-

MARRIED SOLDIERS TO BE DISCHARGED

THOSE HAVING DEPENDENT FAMILIES MAY COME HOME.

Assurance Has Been Given the Soldiers' Relief Association That Discharges Will Be Granted on Application by Families Dependent on Members of the Thirteenth-Will Be Necessary to Have Applications Endorsed by Clergymen, the Relief Association's Secretary.

Assurance has been given to officers of the Soldiers' Relief association that husbands or other whole or part supports of families now being aided by the association will be discharged from the Thirteenth regiment and their places filled by recruits. An intimation that something of the kind was afoot was given recently by The Tribune's special correspondent at Camp Meade. He reported the receipt of orders providing that the names of all the married members of the regiment be forwarded to the war department D. B. Atherton, secretary of the Soldiers' Relief association, now makes the statement that the association is positively assured by unquestionable to a Tribune reporter: "The Tribune may state that each family or others who are receiving or have received aid from this association and who desire the discharge of husbands or others who have been their support, can now procure the dis charges. A prescribed course of routine is necessary, however. It is required that a letter asking for a soldier's discharge be addressed to the secretary of war, the writer declaring that she is a dependant on charity.

authority that the discharges will be granted. Mr. Atherton said yesterday

"It is necessary to have such a letter endorsed by a clergyman, preferably the writer's pastor, and then by me as a witness to the truth of the declaration. I am instructed to send the letters to Camp Meade for further en dorsement by the commander of the regiment and the captain of the company in which the man whose dis charge is sought is a member. The letters will then be sent to the war de-

"No," replied Secretary Atherton in answer to the reporter's question," I cannot tell you the source of our positive assurance that the discharges will be granted. This source is, however, authoritative and I am authorized to say there is no uncertainty about it." A week ago it was known that the discharges would be granted under certain conditions. It was not known then, nor is it now, whether the same privilege will prevail among regiments other than the Thirteenth. At first it was intended to send someone to Camp Meade and obtain there the applica tions and endorsements. But it was ascertained that the later plan of securing the applications from the families would be the more feasible.

AT PENN AVENUE CHURCH. Reception for Rev. and Mrs. R. F. Y. Pierce.

Probably the largest assemblage ever en in the Penn Avenue Baptist church was there last evening to greet the pastor, Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, and his wife to their new church home. It was an enthusiastic greeting which they received and must have been very orately decorated under the direction of Mrs. L. R. Stelle, Mrs. W. W. Browning and Miss Elizabeth Howell. Mrs. A. D. Stelle and Mrs. William Pierce arranged the tables, which were exquisitely decorated, the vivid scarles of the flowers making a pleasing bit of color. Mrs. M. W. Lowry was the chairman of the refreshment commit tee, and was assisted by Mrs. C. W. Roberts and Misses Frutchey, Many attractive young ladies assisted in serving the throng of guests.

Mrs. D. J. Thomas and Mrs. William Pierce presided at the table during the latter part of the evening. A large reception committee, composed of Mr and Mrs. J. W. Browning, Dr. and Mrs. L. M.
