WHITNEY'S WEEKLY BUDGET OF NEWS

STRANGE STORY OF THE BOX WITH A FALSE BOTTOM.

A Chapter on John the Baptist. News of Interest to Railroad Boys. Rapid Trip of a Tree--The Modie Husband of Gulf Summit--The Turtle and the Cat--Foot-prints of Other News.

Special to The Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, Sept. 27.--In 1872 a German shoemaker named Schmidt lived in Montrose. He had a brother there, to whom, on his deathbed, he bequeathed an old box about the size in which the ladies plant geraniums. The brother, who became heir to the box, knew not what to do with the legacy, but he left it in a trunk until a few years ago, when he married. It was subsequently taken from the trunk, and given to his little girl as a plaything. The little girl scattered the contents of the box, pegs, awls, etc., to the four winds. About a year ago the father died near Carbondale, and the loving wife utilized the box in which to plant geraniums. She then placed it upon her husband's grave. When the plants grew the box was taken back to the home, and did service again as a plaything. One day the bottom fell out of the box, and it was found that the heirloom had two bottoms. A roll of bank bills fell out of the false bottom, and with the roll three silver half dollars. The fact was reported to the little girl's mother, and on counting the amount she found that it was $135.00. It has since been ascertained that the man who left the legacy died before he could explain the reason for the gift of the box.

THERE IS SUNSHINE IN HIS SOUL. The signs of the times are bright. The day of purer and better politics is dawning--Honesdale Independent.

THE NEWS RECORD. The funeral of Mrs. Emma Daley, late of Lansboro, occurred from St. John's Catholic church on Friday morning.

The funeral of Lawrence Griffin, the oldest resident of Susquehanna, took place from St. John's Catholic church on Saturday morning.

Sunday was Sunday school rally day in the Presbyterian church, and the attendance was large.

Rev. Bishop Talbot will visit Christ Episcopal church in the near future.

Charmed by the extreme picturesqueness of the vicinage, some of the Summer cottagers have sent for their overcoats and will remain here all winter.

RAILROAD ECHOES. The Erie's excursion from Binghamton to Riverside Park on Sunday was not largely attended.

The Erie authorities will hereafter arrest persons found loitering at the station and jumping upon switching engines and moving trains.

The Erie ship men will today be reimbursed for services in August.

D. I. Roberts, general passenger agent of the Erie, has ordered that all soldiers without money, and traveling on that road, be provided with food in the dining cars.

It is now said that in October a survey will be made for a railroad from Nicholson to Lansboro. The map showing the location of the towns and the grades will be taken to New York, with the hope of inducing capitalists to furnish money to build the road.

MORE ABOUT JOHN THE BAPTIST. The esteemed Forest City News announces the beginning of a new serial story, entitled "Abduction of John the Baptist." We are told that "the scene of the tale is laid in the coal regions between Carbondale and Scranton. The adventures of John, the Baptist, in the vicinity of Carbondale, will doubtless be well worth reading, and it cannot help being a valuable addition to biblical history. I have always wondered why the bible had so much to say about St. Paul and other apostles and so little about Carbondale and Forest City. This serial story will fill a long-felt want.

IN SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY. Captain Beardsley, of Montrose, in a newspaper card states that the location for holding the next county soldiers' encampment has not yet been decided upon.

Forest City reports progress. The county commissioners have jumped over from Montrose and viewed the spot where a county bridge is needed.

The next county convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Montrose.

The Jefferson Branch Christian Endeavor convention is being held today in Thomason.

The apple crop in this county this year will be light. Lansboro hopes to have a fine apparatus before there is nothing to burn. The next meeting of the Bridgewater Baptist Association will be held in Jackson.

The Binghamton district convention of the Epworth League will be held in the Methodist church in Hallstead, Oct. 15-19.

Hallstead and Great Bend will soon have electric lights. In more ways than one they have needed light down there for some years past.

THE OTHER SIDE OF LIFE. Mary had a little lamb, Its fleece was white as snow, And every body that Mary went to school with was sure to go, It fleece is still white as snow, But Mary's lamb has grown, And now she'd rather walk three miles Than face that lamb alone.

"I am tired of living with such a homely woman," exclaimed a Gulf Summit man, as he walked away from home six weeks ago. The other day she was left a legacy of $75, and the husband hurried back home to call her his angel one, but she wouldn't let him in.

Talmage has been ill. For six weeks he didn't see a newspaper. Neither did the apostles.

Every affliction has its blessing. The man with the wooden leg never knows what it is to have rheumatism in that ankle.

Infidelity, what is it, and what has it done?--Lancaster Intelligence. The average layman will answer that it has increased the population of school.

"Economy is wealth," but the Lansboro boarding house mistress who split the feathers in half so that they would go further, carried economy too far.

This month will decide with many young men whether they are to be made welcome by freighth and "lovely creature" all alone in the parlor, or whether they will be received in the sitting room in the presence of the whole family and the bulldog.

Footprints of men, women and children, supposed to have been left on the hardening soil 50,000 years ago, were recently discovered near Great Bend.

The way they distinguished the footprints of the men from the women is because the tracks of the former show where they occasionally stopped and clung to the lamp post.

A TREE'S RAPID TRIP. One day last week a woodsman felled a tree above the railroad track near state line. The tree did not fall as the men intended, but went sliding down the hill, gaining speed at every turn, and trimming itself of branches as it went. A freight train was coming north and the tree crushed endwise through a box car loaded with shelled corn and went on into the river. There was a hole in the roof and side of the car as large as the log. The corn was distributed along the track for some distance. When the log struck the car the shock to the train was so violent that the trainman in the caboose thought it was a collision and jumped off. The train never stopped.

IN A LINE OR SO. The semi-annual meeting of the Susquehanna County Medical Society will be held in New Bedford, Oct. 4.

The grand officers of the Grand Chapter of Pennsylvania, H. R. A. M., paid Susquehanna Chapter, No. 2761 an official visitation, on Thursday evening, with Susquehanna masons and their families on Thursday afternoon they enjoyed an excursion up the river on the "Erlime."

Editor Taylor, of Montrose, and Editor More, of Great Bend, are showing as judges for the largest families showing up at the business fair. Are they experts, and what are their qualifications for the position? Ah-um!

THE TURTLE AND THE CAT. A cat owned by Farmer Edgerton, of the Cascade, has long been the terror of the dogs and cats of the neighborhood. Recently he met his match in a turtle. Discovering the queer creature taking a leisurely promenade in the meadow, "Scraper" leaped on its back and clawed away at a lively rate. The turtle seemed to rather enjoy the performance, so the cat changed its tactics. He was not long in discovering the place where the turtle's head came out, and he sat down to watch that spot. Presently the turtle peeped out to see if its enemy was gone. The cat made a grab and missed. This was repeated three times, and then the turtle, keeping his head safely inside the shell, put out his feet and started to crawl away. Then the cat caught a foot of the turtle with his teeth, and the fight began in earnest. The turtle pulled and struggled, but finding itself being hauled away, put out its head, and with a quick snap, caught the cat by the ear in its visor-like jaws. The cat pulled, but he scratched, and doubtless would have called the fight off, but the turtle held on in triumph. Finally the cat secured a good hold on the turtle's head, and then the turtle would have withdrawn if he could, but he couldn't, and in a short time the victorious cat was limping home with the turtle's head in his mouth as a trophy of his hard-fought battle. --Whitney.

SPORTING NOTES.

Sportsmen will be glad to hear that hunting prospects are good in all parts of the state this fall and winter. The summer has been favorable for the rearing of young birds and quail and partridges are particularly numerous, many more being seen now than during the fall months of several preceding years. Wild turkeys are also in evidence and prospects are bright for a successful autumn's hunting among gunners who regard turkey hunting as their favorite sport. Farmers report the birds have come down into the valley in large numbers to feed on the wild grapes of which there is a big crop this year. Pheasants are also doing their share in the grape eating and now appear quite tame, allowing persons to approach close to their feeding places before rising. Squirrels in some sections are not very plentiful, but in the heavily wooded hickory and chestnut districts reports indicate good shooting and many young animals.

Rabbit season will not open for about two months, but already farmers' dogs are in the field and underbrush hunting for the little animals. During the harvest season just past hundreds of rabbits met death in the fields by the sharp knives of the reaping and mowing machines, and those in a position to know, say that for years there have not been seen so many young rabbits in the country districts. A good report has been received from other counties to the effect that the "bunnies" are doing good marks for sportsmen this fall. Not much is known of the big game prospect and very little about the abundance of fur-bearing animals.

Both varieties abound in most cases only in the absence of man and far from any habitations. The distance of their haunts from the paths of humanity makes it difficult to get a thorough knowledge of their numbers. These animals are, despite reports to the contrary, becoming scarcer every year, and will continue to do so as long as game laws are not rigidly enforced or more stringent laws adopted.

Coach Woodruff and Captain Outland of the University of Pennsylvania team, have chosen the house ball for the last twelve years, though his arm isn't worth sixty-eight cents at a liberal estimate. But his granum does the work, and does it better than the great majority of $10,000 arms. His victims wonder how he wins, and loudly declare on the lack of speed and scanty repertoire of curves. But Cunningham wins 70 per cent. of his games, with a fast-tanned team behind him. His last game performance has all been triumphant, and Boston is his latest figure on his roll of recent victims.

New York Journal. Cunningham several years ago twirled the sphere for the Scranton club.

A chance to see a crack-a-jack game of base ball will be given to the lovers of the national game, at Athletic park on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, between a club made up of professional players from different leagues, who are now at home, and the Eureka, the county champions, of the North End. Most of the professional players are from championship clubs and are satisfied they can down the local "champs."

On the other hand, the "champs" are sure they can cut a large, juicy chunk out of the "profs." The game will no doubt be the best seen here this year, and should draw a large crowd of starved and hungry enthusiasts.

Tom Linton, the Welsh rider, who failed to accomplish anything great in the way of middle-distance racing in this country, and who sailed for France a week or so ago, has been matched to ride a 50-kilometer paced race in Paris, with the French crack, Bonhours.

A team from the Scranton Country club will go to Binghamton Friday and play golf against a team from the Binghamton club. The following are the players chosen: Messrs. J. H. Brooks, T. H. Watkins, Fuller, Walker, Huntington and Frey.

There is a proposition being discussed to organize a foot ball league composed of teams of this and Luzerne counties.

TROTTERS SHOW THEIR METTLE AT AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

The World's Record Lowered at Louisville--Klatawa Wins the Selbach Stakes--Events at the Interstate Fair of New Jersey--Dallas Fair Races.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 28.--Two races unfinished yesterday and three additional heats up the card for the driving and fair association's third day. The first heat trotted decided the Douglass stake. John Nolan had two heats from yesterday and was a strong favorite. He won the heat and race in a close finish with Mattie Patterson and Caracalla. Nolan's driver, Foote, was fined $500 for laying up heats.

The chief event today was the Selbach stakes for 2 1/2 pacers and the first heat saw a world's record lowered. Klatawa won in 2:04, reducing his own mark of 2:05 1/4 for three-year-old pacers. He was not in the race afterward, however, the record-breaking effort seeming to wear him out.

Summary: First, 2 1/2 trotting; purse, $1,000 (unimproved) for 2 1/2 pacers, by Chimes (Geers), won fifth, sixth and seventh heats and race. Espy Boy, blk. h., won third heat.
