SIGHTSEERS TO BE BARRED. County Jail Mot a Curiosity Shop, Says the Sheriff.

Sheriff Pryor has had a big placard printed, for display in his office, an-nouncing that on Tuesday, and Tuesday only, will visitors be admitted to the county jail. He has been extending the privilege on other days, but it has become necessary to shut down on it, he says, because of the generally prevalent belief that the county jail is a sort of public curiosity shop. One woman, not many days since, asked permission to visit the jail, and being granted the same, went thither and proceeded to settle herself there for an extended stay. She said she was a student of palmistry and wanted to study the lines on the hands of the criminals. This is just an instance given by the sheriff to illustrate the ideas some people have regarding the administration of affairs at the jail.

CLAIMS ORDERED PAID.

Phoenix Chemical Company Is Now a Member of the Scranton Firemen's Relief Association. Business Transacted.

Phoenix Chemical company was reinstated to membership and claims to the amount of $558 were ordered paid ton Firemen's Relief association. The latter action is important from the fact that the injuries or sicknesses of June 6, the date on which the association was chartered.

Some time ago the claims were referred by rule to the board of trustees. Instead of a report the board last night presented the minutes of a meeting at on the claims, but to refer them to the association. The board considered it date prior to the date of incorporation. Last night's meeting considered not only the claims referred to the sented by Patrick Loftus, of Cumberland company, who was injured April

Mr. Simrell, of the board of trustees, remarked that in view of the opinion McGinley, that firemen injured prior to June 6 had no legal claim on the ity in recommending their payment. any legal obligation, but said there the claims were subsequent to the receipt of the money from the state of organization.

After a long debate it became plain Thomas Conlan, $36: Thomas Campbell, $106; Lincoln Tillman, $50; James W. George, $36; George Grieser, $32; Henry Hines, $8; Charles E. Tropp, Isaac Tice, $32; George Connor, $50; Patrick Loftus, $50,

There was final opposition to only one claim, that of Grieser, of the Neptune company, who was hurt by a falling wall, which killed Michael Gogolin, of the South Side, in the Young Men's Christian association ruins. It was argued that Grieser, though a fireman, was in the ruins as an ploye of the street department, and by paying his claim it would be suggested that the city might be liable for damages for the death of Gogolin, although the street department had repudiated the employment of Grieser and had refused to pay him for his work in the ruins.

From Phoenix Chemical company stated in effect that the company repudiated the unauthorized action of some of its members in writing letters share in the fund; that money for the appropriated, and that the former delegates would represent the company in the association. Only one member, who alleged that the company had not made sufficient "apology" for having been so "sassy." intimated an objection to the reinstatement. His re-marks had no weight, and the company's delegates, Charles Schadt and Max Zizleman, were voted to member-

Before adjournment Treasurer A. B. Holmes called the attention of the members to the report that a movement was afoot to repeal the 2 per cent tax law which procures the benefit fund. He thought the firemen should post themselves as to what candidates for the legislature were against repeal and govern themselves accordingly.

LONG WINDED CASES IN COMMON PLEAS

ONLY ONE NEW SUIT WAS CALLED FOR TRIAL.

Duffy Ejectment Case and the Damage Suit of Smith Against the Jermyn and Rushbrook Water Company Were on During the Entire Day and Are Not Yet Concluded. Verdict for the Defendant in the Mason-Flynn Case--New Trials Ap-

In court room No. 2 Judge Gunster and twelve men good and true spent the greater part of yesterday listening to an interesting question involving the ownership of a piano. J. L. L. Travis delivered a plane to Mrs. Leah James. Mrs. James was sold out for rent by J. O. Ackerman and the plane was among the goods he seized upon. Travis is now endeavoring to recover the plane, alleging that it was only leased to Mrs. James and that she had paid but half of the $400, which was the selling price.

Ackerman contends that the plano was sold outright and was therefore subject to seizure for Mrs. James' debts. The principal bit of evidence in the case is a paper purporting to be a lease. It bears Mrs. James' name, but the signature was not hers. Travis admits that it is not Mrs. James' owr signature but claims it was put there at her authorization by her daughter. The case was given to the jury late in the afternoon. C. S. Woodruff and C. W. Carpenter represent the plaintiff, while J. E. Watkins and O'Brien and Kelly are the defendant's attorneys,

THE EJECTMENT SUIT. The Duffy ejectment suit was on all day yesterday before Judge Archbald. It will not be concluded until probably noon today. The defendant, Mary Duffy, of Carbondale, while on the stand yesterday morning became so excited on two different occasions that court took a recess until she could recover her mental equilibrum. Although the damages demaned are only $1,000 and the case from a legal point of view is not of great importance, the suit of Smith against the Jermyn and Rushbrook water company dragged itself through all of yesterday and bids fair to take up the greater part of today. The unusually large number of witnesses summoned by the plaintiff accounts for the case being so long drawn out. A verdict agains the defendant is assured as it admits having gone upon the plaintiff's land The only question is as to the amount of damages.

The defense opened yesterday afternoon. It is contending that while the farm was slightly damaged by the company running its main through it and spoiling a spring this damage is recompensed fully by the fact that the plaintiff can have the use of the company's service, a convenience which, it claimed, enhances the value of the farm fully $500. In the case of Thomas Mason against Thomas Flynn, growing out of an alleged illegal sale by landlord, the jury yesterday returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. A new trial was forthwith asked for on the grounds of errors by court.

NEW TRIAL ASKED.

A new trial was also asked for by the defendant in the big ejectment suit of the Lacoe and Shiffer coal company against W. M. Springer, which took up all of last week before Judge Edwards Twenty-one allegations of errors on the part of the court are assigned.

T. F. Penman, attorney for the defendant, petitioned court to set aside the verdict for the defendant, taken by default in the case of Hunt and Connell against A. P. Bedford. On Tuesday when the case was called for trial no one appeared for the defense and judgment was directed for the plain-Mr. Penman now avers that he had no knowledge of the case being on the trial list or he would have been there to defend it. A rule was granted to show cause why the verdict should not be set aside and a new trial granted, returnabe at argument court. It is a suit of a $150 judgment note given in payment for an account that is now disputed.

B. Fenton Tinkham referee in the case of George L. Wakeman against P. J. Conway, agent, reported a verdict finding in favor of the plaintift for $210.14. The suit was over a car of hay which was delivered to the defendant. There was a dispute as to the terms.

The Kingston Coal company has broken ground on Pringle Hill, Kingston town-ship, for a shaft 12x20 feet for the purposof affording better ventilation for their No. 1 mine. The fan engine will be 22x22 inches and will run a 29-foot fan. A large bore hole is being put down through which a rope will be run to hauf the coaon one of the inside slopes. The large engine which is now on the site will b called into requisition to haul from both the slopes.

The W. G. Payne Coal company, of Luterne, has put in a large pair of air compressors, Corliss engines, cylinders measuring 18836 inches and air barrels 28x. inches, to run stationary engines are pumps, which heretofore have be-driven by steam, but which did not give such satisfactory results on account condensation and its effect in heating airway, thus interfering with the ventus tion. The compressors which are being set up by the above company will affore them great advantage not only as a pow or for handage but also a means of ven tilating gaseous places in cases of emer Reney.

At Plymouth the Delaware and Hudse Canal company has put down several bore holes to ascertain how the veins run near their No. 3 colliery and have met with good success and are now sinking a slope on the hillside above their No. 3 breaker to mine the coal that underlies the hillside. At their No. 4 mine they are recting a foundation for the bedding of large set of high pressure beliers, which will displace the old nest of cylinder bolt ers that are now used but found meth tent in producing steam.
