ACTIONS LOUDER THAN WORDS. That At Least Is What an Old Eric Man Now Thinks.

It is evident that the employes of the Jefferson division of the old reliable Erie are as loyal to each other's interests as they are to the company. It has just leaked out that Caller George Schoonover, who lost an arm while acting as brakeman several years since, was called into the superintendent's office a few days ago and informed that his fellow employes on the Jefferson division, who had been for years called for duty by him and invariably advised "Now hurry up, they are waiting for you," had concluded that the time had arrived when he (Schoonover) should be called in and told "Now hurry up, they are waiting for you" in New York to fit and furnish you with an artificial arm. the cost of which had been voluntarily centributed by his associates. George was given a pass to New York for himself and his family and admenished to "hurry up." and is at present en-joying himself in the metropolis: It is doubtful if George appreciates the gift more than the satisfaction derived by each of the contributors to this useful, and to him, valuable pre-

AT THE ACADEMY.

An enormous crowd attended the lecture of Hon. M. J. Fanning at the Academy of Music last evening. Mr. Fanning spoke in the interest of Dr. S. C. Swallow and his ticket and used many of the arguments which the doc or himself used in his discourse in this city a few weeks ago. He is an able talker and his lecture was interspersed with many witty narratives and tales of amusing anecdotes. He kept the audience in good humor during the evening. He has a fine voice and altogether is one of the finest speakers ever heard in this city.

A ROBBERY.

Thomas Cobb and "Star" Quinn were committed to the county fail without bail by Alderman Jones yesterday. They were accused of robbing Joseph Perry, a Dundaff farmer, of a silver watch and chain and coin to the amount of sixty-one cents. The robbery occurred just the other side of Joseph Scheck's saloon, on the Crystal lake road, on Monday night. Sufficient evidence was produced by Perry to warrant the alderman committing the men, who are old offenders, to the county jail to await trial.

This is the third time that bicycists have run down school children at this point and they should use much more caution.

JACOB HENRY.

After a long and severe iliness. Ja

A more pitiful sight than a mother and her child, both captives and shackled in a dungeon, could not well be imagined. There are thousands of mothers and their babes who lie shackled by disease in the dungeon of death.

Without knowing it, or having the faintest comprehension of it, the fault lies with the mother. Too many women enter upon the responsibilities of wifehood and motherhood while suffering from weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. A woman who suffers in this way cannot be a gapable wife and a competent mother. Before entering upon the duties and responsibilities of these positions, she should see to it that her health, both general and local, is thoroughly restored. Dr. Fierce's Favorite Prescription is the best babes who lie shackled by disease in the eral and local, is thoroughly restored. HARD TO HIT. At Two Thousand Yards a Cruiser Looks Like a Postage Stamp.

From the Boston Journal. One of the things which naval experts hope will be thoroughly settled by the Spanish-American war is the degree of accuracy obtained in modern naval gunnery in actual warfare. evening the comedy drama "Nobody's it said that, although the art of the gunmaker has been for years pitted against that of the armor manufac turer, the greatest difficulty experienced at sea is not the piercing of th enemy's armor plate, but the hitting of the ship at all. The main trouble, naval officers say. s that in aiming the big guns only a very minute picture of the ship aimed at can be seen. Professor Alger, of the United States Naval War college at Newport, recently declared that at a convenient fighting distance a ship of the size of the Indiana appears to e about one inch long. This, he added, was the case when the ship was looked at under ordinary conditions. In actual warfare, however, this pic ture would be considerably lessened by the fact that the man who aimed the gun would have to pay quite as much attention to the alignment of his sigh as he would to the position of his target, and that he would have to do all these things at the same time.

Naval authorities say that the recent occurrences at the bombardment Matanzas bear out these statements It is noticed that, although the battleships had no difficulty whatever in hitting the forts, not one of the numerous shots fired from the shore hit a boat. Very much the same condition was en-countered at the bombardment of Alexandria by the British fleet in the early eighties. In that case the ves-sels were at anchor in smooth water, and their targets were good big ones Although the range was short, the dam age done by the forts was insignificant Another thing which it is hoped will cleared up thoroughly is the exact utility of the fast unarmored cruises in battle. Theoretically it is intended to arm these boats with a multitude of machien guns carrying small-caliber bullets. The fire from these is to be directed on every porthole, conning tower slot or aperture in the gun shields that can be made out from the decks of the boat. It is believed that the fire from one of these boats will be so searching and withering that all the dicers in the conning tower will be killed and that the crews of the guns will be so decimated that the ship attacked by one of these modern spitfires will be put out of action in five minutes. There are opponents to this theory, however, and they say that, fast as an unarmored cruiser may be able to go, a modern shell can travel faster. They cast doubt upon the ability of the unarmored cruiser to turn loose the hail storm of lead with which she is credited, and declare that one shot from a big gun on a modern battle ship will put the unarmored cruiser both out of action and out of existence.
