Ludwig Pianos Are Favorites.

WHY? Because they are well made. Because they have a beautiful tone. Because the action is perfect. Because they stand in tune. Because the cases are most artistic. Because we sell them at a low price. Because we guarantee them in every particular.

SOFT COAL NUISANCE.

Editorial from a New York Trade Publication on the Action Taken by the Councils of This City.

The following editorial from the current number of the Engineering News and American Railway Journal of New York will be read with interest by Scrantonians: "The smoke nuisance due to the use of soft coal, has reached Scranton, Pa., the chief center of the anthracite region, an ordinance has been adopted in the select council directing the city engineer, building inspector and plumbing inspector to 'acquire a knowledge of matters and devices now in use for the purpose of reducing to a minimum the smoke and dust annoyances resulting from the use of bituminous coal, and to report to councils at the earliest date possible. The burning of soft coal in Scranton is worse than 'carrying coals to New Castle.'"

About two years ago the Scranton papers were full of claims that the anthracite culm piles in and near the city were a storehouse of the cheapest fuel in the country, that the culm could be made into gas, and the gas used to generate power at a cheaper rate than water power could be furnished at Niagara Falls; and now it appears that it is found cheaper, by some of the Scranton people at least to burn soft coal obtained from a distance of, say 200 miles than to burn the culm which may be had in the city for 25 cents a ton.

"We in New York city can sympathize with Scranton in this matter, for the use of soft coal here is increasing steadily, and complaints of the smoke nuisance have become quite common. One method of getting rid of the nuisance has occasionally been tried here with success, which may be commended to the attention of the Scranton officials, who have been directed to 'acquire a knowledge' of the subject. It is an ordinary suit in court brought by any individual who is aggrieved, praying for an injunction restraining the offender from using it in such a way that it will emit smoke and cause a nuisance.

Such injunctions, we understand, have been granted on the ground of the common law respecting nuisances. That no man has a right to maintain a nuisance that injures his neighbors property or destroys his comfort, and offenders have been compelled to abandon the use of soft coal and return to anthracite."

PURE FOOD EXHIBIT.

Can Now Be Seen at Jonas Long's Sons' Stores.

Jonas Long's Sons opened their second annual Pure Food exhibit Saturday afternoon in the well-lighted and spacious basement of their building. As a prelude to the event, the Messrs. Long entertained representatives of the various local daily and Sunday newspapers at dinner in the store dining room.

After dinner, Mr. Campbell, the advertising manager of the Green Store, piloted the news-gatherers to each booth of the exhibit.

The booths, twenty-five in number, are arranged in three rows, the entire length of the building. All are handsomely decorated and attractively arranged. Bauer's orchestra played one of their delightful programmes throughout the afternoon from a decorated platform at the lower left hand corner of the immense room.

The following are the exhibits in the various booths, which are in charge of experienced demonstrators: Shredded wheat biscuits, by the Cereal Machine company, of Worcester, Mass.; Anker's bouillon cordial, by the Anker Manufacturing company, of New York; Mason's A-1 sauce, by George Mason & Co., of New York; Beaumont's gelatina and Jack Frost cake icing, by the Beaumont company, of New York; Nutt extract, by Albert H. Harris, New York; Edison's phonographs, by De Witt, Scranton, cakes, biscuits, etc., by the New York Biscuit company, of New York; Junket, a concentrated pudding, by Charles Hansen, Little Falls, N. Y.; Miller's breakfast cocoa, by George Miller & Co., of Philadelphia; canned goods, by the Reliable Preserving company, of Scranton; assorted cakes, etc., by Niagara Baking company, of Buffalo, N. Y.; devices for making and mixing table dressings, by the Never Fail Manufacturing company, of Elmira, N. Y.; starch display, by the Sioux City Starch company; Boston brown bread, by Russell & Birkett, of Penn Yan, N. Y.; lard, hams, etc., by Stowers Packing company, of Scranton; Kentucky smoking tobacco, by the J. P. Zahm Tobacco company; corn flake, by the Crown Cereal company, of St. Louis, Mo.; Schepp's cocoanut, Tetley's tea, by Joseph Tetley & Co., London, Eng.; canned goods, by Kent Preserving company, of New York.

Much of the success and completeness of the exhibit is due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Dusenberry, manager of the grocery department of the store.

Such a display of foods has never before been seen in this city, and the store will no doubt be continually thronged with people throughout the term of the exhibit.

MIDNIGHT MESSAGE FROM C. SMITH, ESQ.

TO ERASE JUDGE GUNSTER'S NAME FROM ONE COLUMN.

A Man with a Paper and a Gruff Voice Served Notice on the Candidate or Judge Between 11 and 12 O'clock at Night That Cornelius Smith Intends to Enter Complaint Against Having Judge Gunster Certified as Both Republican and Democratic Nominée.

Between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock Saturday night there was a long and loud clanging of the door bell of Judge Gunster's residence on Jefferson avenue. The judge was suffering from a sudden and severe bilious attack and his wife, who was attending him, went down with some trepidation to see what the trouble was.

In answer to her "who's there?" a gruff voice responded with the information that Judge Gunster was wanted. Further inquiry drew out that the man outside had a paper which he wanted to serve on the judge. Mrs. Gunster, of course, declined to admit the midnight caller with the gruff voice and the paper, but believing that probably the man was an officer of the law in pursuit of some duty, agreed to carry the paper to the judge if he of the gruff voice would push it under the door.

"This seemed to satisfy the gruff-voiced messenger, for without further ado he slid the paper under the door and tramped away.

After waiting until the footsteps of the messenger had died in the distance, Mrs. Gunster carried the paper to her husband's room and gave it to him. This is what he read:

In re nomination of Hon. F. W. Gunster. In the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. First-Annex, October 1, 1898. The act of assembly, approved July 3, 1887, provides that "upon the official ballots, transmitted as herein provided by the secretary of the commonwealth and county commissioners, and upon the ballots so voted at any election the name of any candidate, shall not appear more than once, either by nomination, or by more than once by nomination paper."

Second—That the name of a candidate cannot appear twice on the ballot to be voted at the ensuing election. Cornelius Smith, To the Hon. Frederick W. Gunster. Dear Sir: You are hereby notified that the above certified objection to the title of nomination by the Republican convention will be filed in the court of common pleas of Dauphin county.

WHAT IT MEANS. Boiled down and spread out in plain United States English means that Cornelius Smith believes that one man can't be nominated for the same office by two parties and with this belief in mind proposes to go to the Dauphin county courts, where the statutes direct all such matters shall be heard, and there undo the work of the convention of the majority party of this county, by having its nomination for the office of judge declared null and void.

For fear there may be somebody besides the intending independent candidate for judge, who does not know what the petition or whatever it is, is above quoted, is ludicrously silly, it might not be amiss to say, parenthetically, that Judge J. B. McPherson, of Dauphin county, with whom Mr. Smith lays his complaint, declared two years ago that it is permissible to do just what Mr. Smith desires to do.

The case is entitled Com. vs. Martin and is reported at length in the Sixth district reports. It is a case where two Democratic judges in Philadelphia were nominated by both the Republicans and Democrats. The same complaint was made as Mr. Smith now makes and the complaint was dismissed. It is interesting to note in this connection Judge Carl Canteloupes, of Susquehanna; Judge Metzger, of Lycoming; and Mitchell, of Mifflin, are nominees both of the Republicans and Democrats of their respective districts.

Judge Gunster sent Mr. Smith's communication to Major Warren with the request that he give it any attention it might demand. Major Warren said last night he couldn't just see that there was anything for him to do.

If, however, Mr. Smith follows out his avowed intention and files the paper in question, Major Warren will be on hand to see that Judge McPherson does not reverse himself.

EXCURSION TO CAMP MEADE.

It Will Leave This City on Next Saturday.

On Saturday next the much talked of excursion to Camp Meade will be run. All the troops were at Gettysburg on excursion from home carried friends to see the boys. All summer no effort was made to take a big aggregation to Camp Meade. Now through the efforts of Colonel Boies arrangements have been made and it is expected that a large number of people from this region will take this opportunity to visit the soldiers.

Colonel Boies has secured the Lehigh Valley and Reading railroads for the trip, the fare will be $3, nearly 34 cents about 11 o'clock at night on Friday. All surplus above actual expenses will be devoted to the companies' mess. Children will be carried for three-quarters fare. Tickets may be had at various points in the city and should be secured before Friday noon. The fare will be exchanged for regular tickets on board the train.

TONIGHT'S CONTEST.

Both Smith and Eger Are in Good Condition and Engage for the Fray—Record of the Mysterious One.

Everything is ready for tonight's glove contest in Music hall between Jim Judge, of this city, and "Mysterious Billy" Smith, the world's champion waterweight. Smith reached here from New York city Saturday evening. A crowd estimated to contain 600 or more persons was packed on the depot platform and made a rush to get a glimpse of Smith when he alighted from the train. With him were Mrs. Smith, Harry Tuttle, the well-known newspaper and hardier of fistic stars, and Jack Skelly, manager of the American Sporting club.

Smith got separated for a moment from the other members of his party during the crush, but they were soon together and landed in a cab which took them to the St. Charles hotel. There Smith met his manager, Billy Roche, and a party of friends who had arrived earlier on the ground. After a quick sponge bath, Smith had a light lunch and then received a party of newspaper men and photographers who were introduced to a large number of local people.

Yesterday morning Smith took a two and a half hours' run on Eimhurst boulevard. In the afternoon he was at work in Frank Beckel's gymnasium. Judge has been kept quietly working at Simpson near Carbondale. He will leave there this morning for Scranton. Assurance has been given that he is in splendid physical trim. Further than this, no statement is made by those near to him concerning his condition or his chances of winning.

Before and after the men enter the ropes tonight they will be examined by Dr. S. P. Longstreet and Dr. John O'Malley. These physicians have been engaged by the club to determine the fitness of Smith and Judge to undergo the effort of physical contest. This is to be done for the first time in Scranton, although it is exacted by law in New York and has been voluntarily adopted by most of the large clubs in the country.

Until 6:30 o'clock reserved seat tickets will be on sale at Loftus & Melvin's drug store on Wyoming avenue. After that hour no tickets will be sold under any circumstances until 7:30 o'clock at Music hall. It is probable that the most fortunate seated persons will be those who reserve their seats before the sale closes at the drug store.

An effort will be made to conclude the preliminaries soon after 9 o'clock so that the star contest can begin soon afterward. The preliminaries have not been announced as last night the club officials were trying to decide on one or two pairs from among nine good men who are anxious for an engagement.

Smith's given name is "Amos" and not "Billy." He was born May 15, 1871, at Eastport, Me., but Boston has been his home for many years. His height is 5 feet 8 1/2 inches, about 14 inches less than the height of Judge. "Fistiana," published by Richard K. Fox, gives Smith credit for an exhibition early in 1892. Smith has met Tommy Ryan, of Syracuse, six times. Three were draws; Ryan once got a decision in 50 rounds, and once in 40 rounds; they met once without any decision being rendered. Among the men defeated by Smith were the following: Shadow Maher, Danny Needham, Tom Williams, Jack Ryan, Abe Ullman, Johnny Gorman. Smith has broke even with Tommy West (1892), Dick O'Brien (1894), Joe Walcott (1895). Besides Ryan the only men to defeat Smith were Kid McCoy (1896) (1897), Jim Ryan (1898), and George Green (1897). Among the cities in which Smith has boxed are San Francisco, Portland, Ore.; Coney Island, Chicago, New York, N. Y.; Minneapolis, St. John, N. B.; Philadelphia, Baltimore, London, Syracuse, Macheth, L. I.; New York city, and Brooklyn.

Sam C. Austin, of the New York Police Gazette, who will referee the contest, will probably not reach here until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, though he was partly expected during last night. Tom O'Rourke, the well known manager of boxers; "Honest" John Kelly and Tom Sharkey will be among a party of New York notables at the ringside, a number of friends of Smith's manager, Billy Roche, are already in town. Jack Bonner and his brother of Summit Hill, and the two Tommy Ryans are among the boxers expected. Jerome Quigley, of Philadelphia, is already here. Tickets at these reduced rates will be sold at 100 Broadway Oct. 8 to 15, and good to return from Pittsburgh any time up to and including Oct. 17. As an additional accommodation for those attending this contest, it has been arranged that those who present their tickets to the joint agent in attendance before Oct. 17, may, upon payment of a fee of 50 cents, have their tickets extended until Oct. 31. Information will be furnished by agents applying to N. Y. O. & W. Railway agents.

Rate for Knights Templar.

The triennial convocation of Knights Templar will be held at Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 10 to 14. The New York, Ontario and Western railway announce that they will sell round trip tickets to Pittsburgh at the fare one-way, in other words at one-half rates, on account of this meeting. Tickets at these reduced rates will be sold at 100 Broadway Oct. 8 to 15, and good to return from Pittsburgh any time up to and including Oct. 17. As an additional accommodation for those attending this contest, it has been arranged that those who present their tickets to the joint agent in attendance before Oct. 17, may, upon payment of a fee of 50 cents, have their tickets extended until Oct. 31. Information will be furnished by agents applying to N. Y. O. & W. Railway agents.

ANNUAL MEETING OF YOUNG PEOPLE

HELD AT NICHOLSON ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.

Those Who Attended Were Members of the Christian Union of the Susquehanna Universalists—There Were a Number of Interesting Addresses and Valuable Papers Were Read—Next Meeting in Scranton. Names of the Officers Who Were Chosen at Saturday's Session.

The annual meeting of the Young People's Christian union of the Susquehanna Universalists held its session on Saturday and Sunday at Nicholson. There was a good attendance, the best of weather and most hospitable entertainment. In the absence of the president, E. S. Giles was elected chairman pro tem. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. F. W. Whipple. After the reading of the minutes and the report of the treasurer, the following officers were elected: President, Rev. James Herrick, of Nicholson; vice-president, E. A. Sweet, of Gibson; secretary, Miss Gertrude Walde, of Brooklyn; treasurer, J. L. Tiffany, of Nicholson. It was voted to continue the publication of the Susquehanna Universalist, and Rev. James Herrick was elected editor and E. L. Sloat, business manager.

After other items of business reports were rendered from the unions at Brooklyn, Kingsley, Gibson, Nicholson and Scranton, it was voted to hold the February meeting at Scranton. The balance of the afternoon was given up to the hearing and discussion of three papers. The first was by J. L. Tiffany upon "Best Methods of Work in Our Association." The paper emphasized the importance of new preaching stations, of oversight, of personal sacrifice, of co-operation, of standing for the faith, of positive belief and preaching, and it incidentally brought out that General Merritt and Miss Clara Barton are Universalists.

MISS LOOMIS' PAPER.

The next paper was by Miss Nellie Loomis, the topic being "Devotion and Consecration." Miss Loomis emphasized the truth that Christ is the true leader, that individual work counts, that Young People's unions are for the church, that Christianity asks both faith and works, and that life service but service in spirit and in truth, that it demands sacrifice and that religion ought to cost us something. The third paper, by Mrs. S. C. Benjamin, was on "Attendance at Devotional Meetings," the object being to show how to work out a life service. Some of the points were these: Look for success, let the older people cooperate, select good officers, welcome strangers and visitors cordially, have regular business meetings together with socials, be enthusiastic and pray for strength and wisdom.

The evening exercises began with a helpful devotional meeting, led by E. L. Sloat. Papers followed. S. B. Eldridge spoke on "Our Message." He dwelt on Bethlehem and the birth of Jesus, on Galilee, on Jesus in the temple, and the temptations of Jesus. He pointed out that our message is the teaching of Christ. We must individually bring some message to others, we must impress others in some way. Let us bring His message and impress with His life.

ONWARD AND UPWARD.

Miss Gertrude Walde read a paper on "Onward and Upward," which made suggestions along the line of change, progress, evolution and salvation. Mrs. E. L. Bacon followed with a paper on the "Relation of the Y. P. C. U. to Temperance." She pointed out that the attitude of our young people is significant, also the importance of petition work, of voting as one prays and of working with faith. This address was followed by generous discussion.

L. J. Richards spoke on "Instruction," making the three-fold division of body, mind and moral nature. The public schools of America, he showed, are doing marvels for us along these lines. Temperance instruction, cultivation of true literary tastes and manliness were specifically dwelt on. The evening's exercises were closed with a recitation from Whittier by Miss Maud Walde.
