A number of councilmen do not seem satisfied with the manner in which the new sewer is being constructed, pital a most singular case. Thomas and a meeting was called on Monday Hunt, of Herrick Centre, has been an- to discuss the matter. Some of the members claimed that an inferior grade of cement was being used than the specifications called for, and that the excavation was not wide enough to warrant first-class work. One of the contractors was present and emphat ically denied the charges and wen further to say that a better grade of cement was being used than agreed pon. Some dissatisfaction was also manifested in the way the inspector is performing his duties, and a commitee was appointed to confer with Engineer Dunning and the inspector. Mr Patten called the council's attention to the fact that the Delaware and Hudson intended to build a railroad along Culm street, and said that the borough take steps to prevent the compeny from encroaching on the street Lurgess McNulty stated that the railway company would put a stone crusher on the Diamond street line and repair that street where needed.

"The Way to a Man's Heart is ner one day but thought it would pass Through His Stomach."

PHYSIOLOGY THROWS NEW LIGHT ON THE OLD SAYING.

It is popularly held that what the sun is to our solar system, the heart is to the human system .- the center of life and energy. And so, coined in our common speech, are a multitude of sayings, which recognize in the heart the center of mental, moral and physical life. Thus we speak of the "desire of the heart," of heartache and heart. break. We say of a man he is a hearty man and that he is a hearty eater so associating both cordiality and appetite with the heart.

Perhaps it is but a natural result of this view that the instant the heart is affected, off we go to the doctor, no matter what the fee. We suffer all away: it did not however, so I felt compelled to call in the doctor. He said 'Why you have no heart trouble. said it must be—I could not lie down my heart beat so (as I called it) through my head. He left me medicine and it lulled the pain for about three weeks. The pain annoyed me at times for twenty-one nights; I had not slept nor did I want much to eat. seemed to want was rest. Some said I was too stout. I weighed 195 pounds, height 5 feet, forty-four years old, mother of four children. One day I was making the fire and I picked up a piece of paper out of one of your books and it described my case so closely I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's medicine. I handed it to my husband and he said, 'Well you might try it, if it is not like all the rest.' I sent to the drug store and got a bottle; I took two doses and slept good that night. I kept on taking it, I did not take quite six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' until I felt like a new woman. People were surprised for my neighbors knew how I had Such results as these are not obtained by stimulation. There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it contains no whisky or other stimulant. The secret of its healing power lies in its prompt and powerful action on the stomach, the organs of digestion and nutrition and the blood-making glands.

Another specimen case is that which follows where years of suffering could have been saved by a timely use of the "Discovery." "Six years ago stomach and heart troubled me so much I had to do

We endure much from the torpid liver. We put aside the thought of danger to the lungs, by saying: only a cough. It will go away after a time." But when the heart gives an uncommon pulsation, or when it beats too quickly, or seems to miss an occasional beat, nothing will do but an immediate ex-

Yet physicians affirm that organic disease of the heart is rare. Perhaps only once in a hundred times where there is derangement of the heart is it found to be due to a disease of the organ itself. In the other ninety-nine cases it is functional. Functional disease of the heart means that the functions of the heart are interfered with by an abnormal or diseased condition of some other organ, and this organ is generally the stomach. Through the sympathetic and pneumogastric system of nerves, which are distributed to the heart and stomach in ommon, the heart at once sympathizes with any disturbance of the stomach.

The great organs of the body are deigned to occupy a certain space in the avity of the trunk in which they are o nicely arranged.

When the stomach is over-distended y cating, or when indigestion causes the gas from the fermentation of half digested food to inflate that organ, the tomach extends outside its allotted bound, the heart is encroached upon and crowded, and then follow shortness of breath and irregular, palpitating action of the heart.

Now in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred, supposed heart disease is functional and curable, and in every such case no other medicine will so quickly effect a cure as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an axiom that diseases which originate in the stomach must be cured through the stomach. It is in line with this axiom that the "Golden Medical Discovery" works its logical and legitimate cures. By strengthening the stomach, by promoting the flow of the digestive juices the digestion is improved, the stomach restored to its normal condition of health, and the functional disturbance of the heart thereby corrected. Thousands of people who believed they had heart disease have been radically cured by the "Golden Medical Discovery." It cures indigestion or dyspepsia, weakess of the stomach and all affections of the nutritive system, except cancer of the stomach. Among the commonest symptoms of these derangements and weaknesses of the digestive and nutritive system are frequent attacks of bilious or sick headache, bitter taste in the mouth tongue coated white or covered with a brown fur, "backache" and tired feelings, lassitude and a sense of debility There is generally depression of spirits and a decided tendency to be discouraged, and despondent; there is loss or irregularity of appetite, uneasiness or undue fullness in region of the stomach after eating, sometimes sour stomach, "heart-burn" nausea and "waterbrash," flatulency, and acrid or sour eructations or "risings" soon after eating: the bowels become irregular, usually constipated, and occasionally subject to diarrhea, attended with colicky pains. Not often is there any pain ex perienced in the region of the liver, but sometimes accompanied with 'sideache." The foregoing symptoms are not all likely to be present in any one case, nor are any two cases alike in every respect.

"I never took any medicine that did me so much good as Dr. Pierce's,' writes Mrs. Sophronia McCrea, of Castleton, Hartford Co., Md. "When I wrote to you I was suffering from such pain between my shoulders I could not draw a long breath at times, and had a soreness across my shoulders and breast upon rising in the morning. I suffered off and on for eight years, trying different physicians and asking different doctors what caused this, but with no satisfactory results. I took medicine, and at last I said I would not take any more. I couldn't even do light work with any ease, nor do much of any thing that caused me to bend couldn't sleep at night, had terrible headaches and numbness in my arms and hands. I was taken with a pain around my heart while eating din-
