TO HOLD UP THE HYDE PARK AVENUE PAVE. a hard trial to a delicately organized woman.

Changes in the Manner of Laying the Pave and Curb May Prove a Very Serious Objection-Funeral of Mrs. Margaret Clark from Her Late Residence on North Garfield Avenue--Exercises in Scranton Street Church-Notes of a Personal Nature and Other Short Paragraphs.

After several years of agitation, many set-backs and discouragements, and at last the success of having councils pass the necessary ordinance for paving Hyde Park avenue, it now ments that after all no pave will be land. This, too, after the contract has been awarded. It is this very contract that develops the features which will in all likelihood either kill or delay almost indefinitely this much-needed pavement. The task of bringing about the necessary petition and other preliminary work to get the pave, the difficulties of securing the passage of the ordinance.

etc., have all been thoroughly dealt with heretofore in these columns and needs no repetition. The original ordinance directed that vitrified brick should be laid on a sand and gravel base, but just previous to a final passage this was changed to "sand and broken stone base."

This fact caused some misglvings, but under the circumstances would undoubtedly have passed muster so far as the affected property owners were concerned. However, there seems to have been other changes of a more serious nature. The curb, which is generally understood as being the flag urb, is designated as "sawed stone" curb. A system of tile drains was also included in the ordinance wording. Many of the property owners were against a pave because of heavy expense. This fact prevented an asphali pavement. The vitrified brick met with better reception and ultimately enough petitioners were secured, though ome doubts were expressed by those to whom several hundred dollars pave assessment would be no small burden.

Those little changes in the ordinance wording proved to be possibly the proverbial "straw" and the chances of the pavement going down are fluctuating. The changes of "base" means nineteen cents difference per square yard; the curb change means twenty-three cents difference per lineal foot; and the tile drain is a total additional cost, not of attendance is attributed to a mishaving been figured in when original estimates were made. A still further feature that is causing talk is the fact that "sawed" curbstone is only procurable at one place hereabouts, and that at Carlucci Brothers. As the contract stands, the cost will e approximately $1.42 per square yard for pave and 65 cents per lineal foot for curb. Before it was $1.23 per square yard for pave, and 42 cents per lineal foot for curb. The contract was let to the Alcatraz Paving company, ostensibly of Philadelphia, but believed to be under Scranton capital and control. The next step in this pave question will undoubtedly be the petitioning for an injunction restraining the contractors. This seems a certainty, as many of the property owners who heretofore were gentle and educated person charmed ev-ery one who came within the circle of her acquaintance. She was at once gentle, devoted, educated and thoroughly well read in every literary subject which goes very much "for" the pavement are now very much "against" the same
