PERSONAL. Hon. E. C. Corey, of West Pittston, was in the city yesterday. Attorney James Scarratt, of Danville, was a Scranton visitor yesterday. Mrs. Mary N. Laubach, of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Henderson, of this city. Mrs. G. W. Tuttle, of Waterbury, Conn., is visiting her brother, John Lardner, of Gardner avenue. John McDermott, of this city, left at noon yesterday for Denver, Col., to remain for an indefinite period. Rev. Dr. Griffin, presiding elder of Wyoming district, will make his residence in this city. He will reside at 1556 Monroe avenue. Miss Martha W. Moses, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Moses, will be married to Samuel Woolner, Jr., this evening at 5 o'clock in the Linden Street Temple. Miss Emma Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Cross, of Richmond, Va., is on a protracted visit to her sister, Mrs. Eli J. Davies, of Church avenue, this city. Cards announcing the marriage of Miss Ellen Connolly, of Electric avenue, to M. Mannion, of Carbondale, to take place October 19 in St. Mary's church, Dunmore, are being mailed. Ex-Street Commissioner A. B. Dunning, who was the representative at the National Good Roads parliament held at Omaha last week, was elected permanent secretary of the parliament, a well-recognized honor. He returned to the city yesterday and was warmly congratulated by his friends. During the sessions Mr. Dunning read a paper on "The Supervisory System." A wedding which is looked forward to with much interest is that of Miss Helen Dawson Gallatin, daughter of Mrs. James Gallatin, to Mr. George Kilder Davis, of Wilkes-Barre, which will take place early in January, or perhaps a trifle sooner, says the New York Herald. "Miss Gallatin is one of the fair girls of society and she will make a handsome bride. Mr. Davis, who is a Princeton graduate in the class of '92, belongs to a well-known Pennsylvania family, and on his mother's side he is a descendant of Bishop Kildner, of England. His family own valuable coal mines in Wilkes-Barre, and Mr. Davis, who is in business with his father, is rich in worldly possessions. Miss Gallatin is at present a guest at the Davis residence in Wilkes-Barre, as is also Count Cavaliere Diero de Parri, of Florence, Italy." Dr. W. E. Allen has moved his offices to rooms 208 and 209 Conwell building, Washington avenue.

THE MUSICAL ALLIANCE. Meets at Factoryville During Last Week of October. The thirteenth annual meeting of the Lackawanna and Wyoming Musical Alliance will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church, Factoryville, beginning Monday evening, Oct. 24, at 7:30, and continuing with three daily sessions through Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 25-28, inclusive. Dr. H. R. Palmer, of New York, will be conductor. Under his leadership seven of the twelve past annual meetings have been held. He has contributed largely to the success of the alliance. Mrs. Genevieve Baker, of Nicholson, has again accepted the position of accompanist. Miss Susan Black, solo soprano of the Second Presbyterian church of this city, has been engaged and will be heard at both the Thursday and Friday evening concerts. A new chorus book prepared for use in the great Chautauqua chorus, of which Dr. Palmer is director, will be offered for the first time in the alliance, and, as usual, the music is free to all the chorus. A pleasing feature of the last annual meeting was the competition in four-part singing. The committee offers this year a prize of $5 for the best rendering of "The Lost Chord," Sullivan-Anderson, and "Bridal of the Birds," Bryant Richards, by choirs of not less than twelve nor more than twenty-four ladies. The choirs already entered in this competition are from Nicholson, led by Jewell Shields; Factoryville, led by W. N. Manchester, and Waverly, led by A. J. Hall. A prize of $5 has also been offered for the best singing by a male quartette, music to be of their own selection. Daily sessions will be held as follows: Morning, 9:30-11:45; afternoon, 2:00-4:15; evening, 7:00-9:15.

DECIDED INNOVATION. Has Been Introduced by the Economy Furniture Company in the Annex to Their Big Wyoming Avenue Store. A good illustration of the progressive spirit of Scranton merchants is given in the latest innovation of the Economy Furniture company, of Wyoming avenue. In April, 1898, the Ottlinger brothers came to Scranton and opened a modest furniture store that had a floor space of 5,000 square feet. Careful attention to business caused it to expand and now the company finds it necessary to have 30,000 feet of floor space, just six times the amount of room they had when they opened their doors. The three floors of the large building occupied by the company at 225 and 227 Wyoming avenue and the annex in the rear grew too small months ago and it was found necessary to rent the second floor of the adjoining building at 221 and 223 Wyoming avenue. This gave them an additional room 4x100 in size. On this floor the firm has introduced a decided innovation for this city. It is a suit of rooms fitted up complete in every particular. Persons looking for ideas about house furnishing will find this an excellent place to obtain them. The rooms furnished are a parlor, library, bed room, ladies' dressing room, dining room and kitchen. Nothing is lacking in any room, and everything they contain is taken from the regular stock of the firm. In each room the harmonizing of colors received careful attention and furniture, carpets, draperies, etc., blend into a perfect picture. Frequent changes will be made in the furniture of these rooms. One day they will be fitted luxuriously, as the man with abundant means would furnish his home, and the next they will contain furnishings suited to the workman of modest income. These rooms are open for the inspection of the public. Whether or not persons desire to purchase they are welcome to visit the rooms and make use of any ideas with reference to house furnishing and decorating they contain. Besides these rooms there is a fine display of parlor furniture, library cases and ladies' desks in the new annex.

THEIR ANNUAL DANCE. Ball of the Young Men's Hebrew Beneficial Association. Despite the inclement weather of last evening the attendance was very large at the eighth annual ball of the Young Men's Hebrew Beneficial association, which was conducted in the music hall. The association's membership comprises many of the best Hebrew young men of the city and is very powerful. Their annual affairs grow more and more popular each year. The grand march was started promptly at nine o'clock and was led by Miss Kate Weisberg and Sam Jurkovic and 125 couples participated therein. The music for the march and subsequent dances was furnished by Bauer's full orchestra. The officers of the association are: President, B. Lehman; vice-president, J. Grossman; recording secretary, I. Greenberger; financial secretary, Oscar Aronson; treasurer, Edward Weiss; assistant, H. Shumalovitz; trustee, M. Grossman. The several committees in charge last evening were: Floor manager, Sam Jurkovic; assistant floor manager, Meyer Judkovic; door committee, Jake Weiss, H. Bernstein, M. Grossman, Sam Aronovitz; arrangement committee, B. Spiegel, chairman; J. Grossman, vice-chairman; reception committee, Samuel Weisberger, chairman; H. Schmulovitz, Oscar Aronson, S. Bernstein, Sam Fejos, J. Judkovic, Joe Grauman, Is. Greenberger, M. Mechlowitz, D. Feldman; prompter, Harry Taylor.

DOUBLE CONVENTION OF CHURCH WORKERS. THE CONGREGATIONALISTS AND SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEET. Addresses Delivered and Papers Read by Prominent Clergymen. New Officers Elected and Edwardsdale Selected as the Place for Holding the Next Convention—Evening, Address by the Retiring Moderator, Rev. William Smith—Three Interesting Sessions Were Held Yesterday. The fourteenth annual meeting of the Wyoming association of the Congregational church, and the seventh annual meeting of its Sunday school union opened yesterday in the Puritan Congregational church on West Market street for a two days' session. The association delegates who answered roll call yesterday were: Rev. William Smith, Nanticoke; Rev. D. L. Davis, Williamstown; Rev. E. J. Morris, R. J. Reese, Arnots; Rev. D. L. Davis, Rev. W. L. Evans, Plymouth; Rev. W. H. Hyatt, Coaldale; Rev. Thomas McKay, Plymouth; Rev. J. G. Evans, Vandling; Rev. E. J. Morris, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. Mr. Robinson, West Pittston; Rev. William Smith, Nanticoke; Rev. E. H. Romig, Lebanon; Rev. Horace Peckover, Scranton. Delegates of the Sunday school from the several churches under the jurisdiction of the conference were present in large numbers, but the main body of them will come today, when the principal sessions of the union take place. DISTRICT MODERATOR. The sessions are presided over by Rev. William Smith, of Nanticoke, who is a moderator of the district. Rev. J. P. Davis, of Kingston, is secretary. There were three sessions yesterday, morning, afternoon and evening. At the morning session Rev. E. J. Morris, A. B. Eynon and Rev. R. J. Reese were appointed on nominations, and Rev. W. H. Hyatt, Rev. Horace Peckover and W. G. Wynne a committee on resolutions. An able paper on "How Can We Best Help Our Weak Churches?" was read by Rev. R. J. Reese, and discussed by Dr. T. W. Jones, Rev. J. G. Evans and Rev. W. H. Hyatt. A general discussion concerning the remainder of the morning was provoked by Rev. W. L. Evans' thoughtful paper on "The Relative Importance of Home and Foreign Missions." Rev. W. H. Hyatt led the devotional exercises with which the afternoon session opened. Reports were heard from the churches and from the delegates to the state association. A motion to withdraw from the state association, because of the depressed times and the consequent hardship of maintaining membership therein, was discussed at length, and then laid over till the next meeting. Papers were read during the afternoon as follows: "Is It Desirable to Raise the Standard of Our Ministry?" by Rev. J. G. Evans; "The Church and Her Children," Rev. E. J. Morris, of Wilkes-Barre; "How Can the True Worship of God Be Restored to Our Religious Assemblies?" by Rev. Thomas McKay. By request, Rev. P. J. Kain, of Philadelphia, addressed the convention. OFFICERS CHOSEN. Officers were elected as follows: Moderator, Rev. W. L. Evans, of Plymouth; scribe, Rev. D. L. Davis, of Williamsport; treasurer, Rev. W. G. Thomas, missionary committee, Rev. R. M. Harris, Rev. R. J. Reese, Rev. D. L. Davis. Edwardsdale was unanimously selected as the place for holding the next meeting. In the evening there was a public meeting at which the retiring moderator, Rev. William Smith, delivered a brilliant address on the association's work. Dr. Jones, of Philadelphia, made an earnest plea for the home missions, which brought the first day's session to a close. There was an introductory song service led by Rev. Mr. Robinson. Features of the service were a solo by Miss Margaret Davis and anthems by the church choir.

There were three sessions yesterday, morning, afternoon and evening. At the morning session Rev. E. J. Morris, A. B. Eynon and Rev. R. J. Reese were appointed on nominations, and Rev. W. H. Hyatt, Rev. Horace Peckover and W. G. Wynne a committee on resolutions. An able paper on "How Can We Best Help Our Weak Churches?" was read by Rev. R. J. Reese, and discussed by Dr. T. W. Jones, Rev. J. G. Evans and Rev. W. H. Hyatt. A general discussion concerning the remainder of the morning was provoked by Rev. W. L. Evans' thoughtful paper on "The Relative Importance of Home and Foreign Missions." Rev. W. H. Hyatt led the devotional exercises with which the afternoon session opened. Reports were heard from the churches and from the delegates to the state association. A motion to withdraw from the state association, because of the depressed times and the consequent hardship of maintaining membership therein, was discussed at length, and then laid over till the next meeting. Papers were read during the afternoon as follows: "Is It Desirable to Raise the Standard of Our Ministry?" by Rev. J. G. Evans; "The Church and Her Children," Rev. E. J. Morris, of Wilkes-Barre; "How Can the True Worship of God Be Restored to Our Religious Assemblies?" by Rev. Thomas McKay. By request, Rev. P. J. Kain, of Philadelphia, addressed the convention. OFFICERS CHOSEN. Officers were elected as follows: Moderator, Rev. W. L. Evans, of Plymouth; scribe, Rev. D. L. Davis, of Williamsport; treasurer, Rev. W. G. Thomas, missionary committee, Rev. R. M. Harris, Rev. R. J. Reese, Rev. D. L. Davis. Edwardsdale was unanimously selected as the place for holding the next meeting. In the evening there was a public meeting at which the retiring moderator, Rev. William Smith, delivered a brilliant address on the association's work. Dr. Jones, of Philadelphia, made an earnest plea for the home missions, which brought the first day's session to a close. There was an introductory song service led by Rev. Mr. Robinson. Features of the service were a solo by Miss Margaret Davis and anthems by the church choir.

DOUBLE CONVENTION OF CHURCH WORKERS. THE CONGREGATIONALISTS AND SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEET. Addresses Delivered and Papers Read by Prominent Clergymen. New Officers Elected and Edwardsdale Selected as the Place for Holding the Next Convention—Evening, Address by the Retiring Moderator, Rev. William Smith—Three Interesting Sessions Were Held Yesterday. The fourteenth annual meeting of the Wyoming association of the Congregational church, and the seventh annual meeting of its Sunday school union opened yesterday in the Puritan Congregational church on West Market street for a two days' session. The association delegates who answered roll call yesterday were: Rev. William Smith, Nanticoke; Rev. D. L. Davis, Williamstown; Rev. E. J. Morris, R. J. Reese, Arnots; Rev. D. L. Davis, Rev. W. L. Evans, Plymouth; Rev. W. H. Hyatt, Coaldale; Rev. Thomas McKay, Plymouth; Rev. J. G. Evans, Vandling; Rev. E. J. Morris, Wilkes-Barre; Rev. Mr. Robinson, West Pittston; Rev. William Smith, Nanticoke; Rev. E. H. Romig, Lebanon; Rev. Horace Peckover, Scranton. Delegates of the Sunday school from the several churches under the jurisdiction of the conference were present in large numbers, but the main body of them will come today, when the principal sessions of the union take place. DISTRICT MODERATOR. The sessions are presided over by Rev. William Smith, of Nanticoke, who is a moderator of the district. Rev. J. P. Davis, of Kingston, is secretary.
