was ablaze, but the flames had not got much headway and they were easily extinguished. An hour or two later, another alarm was sounded from the same locality, and the fire was found in the same locality as the first one. The wife of Mr. Bevan's shop, adjoining the building which had previously been on fire, was blazing lively. The flames were extinguished in short order, the damage being very small.

THE MALTA CONVOCATION. Arrangements Already Under Way for the Big Meeting.

Preparations are already under way for the annual convention of the Grand Commandery Knights of Malta, which is to take place in this city next May. At a meeting of the joint local commanderies in Malta Temple, on Washington avenue, a committee of arrangements was organized with W. S. Bartlett as chairman; W. H. Davis, first vice-chairman; D. W. John, second vice-chairman; F. H. Young, secretary; E. J. Thomas, assistant secretary; John R. Hall, treasurer. Sub-committees were also appointed to look after the various details.

THEY BRAVED THE ELEMENTS. Number of Home Managers Went to Harford.

Several managers of the Home for the Friendless braved the weather yesterday and accompanied Colonel Ripple to Harford to visit the Soldiers' Orphan school. To say they were delighted is to express but mildly their enthusiasm on perhaps the best managed public institution in the state. They closely observed the economical and pleasing methods in operation there and took many mental notes of the same to be applied in modified form to the Home managed by them.

ORGANIZED HALF A CENTURY AGO ANNIVERSARY SERVICES IN THE FIRST CHURCH.

During the Years the Church Has Been Prominent in the Religious Development of the City It Has Had But Five Pastors—Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan, One of Them, Spoke at the Services Held Last Night in the Church.

THE FIRST PASTOR. The first pastor, Rev. Dr. J. D. Mitchell, remained five years. He was followed by Rev. John Baker, whose stay was but two years' duration. Rev. Milo J. Hickok succeeded him and stayed for twelve and one-half years.

DR. LOGAN'S REMARKS. Dr. Logan then spoke briefly. He referred to the early history of the organization when it had to struggle for an existence. Before him sat the first man received into the church, then a young man, now old.

SMOKE IS PROVING A GREAT NUISANCE LARGE CITIES TRYING TO RID THEMSELVES OF IT.

Use of Soft Coal Is Responsible for the Dirty, Smudgy Appearance of Many of Our Large Cities—Action Taken by Hon. John E. Roche to Rid Scranton of the Smoke Nuisance Is in Line With Similar Action in Other Cities.

THE ACTION OF HON. JOHN E. ROCHE in introducing in session a measure to prevent the use of soft coal in this, the heart of the anthracite coal region, has caused no little comment. This measure is in line with the action of bodies that have in charge the making of laws for many of our large cities, where the smoke which is produced by the use of soft coal, has proved an intolerable nuisance.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF NEW YORK has put itself squarely on record against the use of soft coal in that city and is doing what it can to stamp out the nuisance.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, which has taken an active part against the increasing smoke nuisance in New York, says, relative to the promise of the Long Island railroad to use hard coal: "The larger use of hard coal on the Long Island railroad is to be commended, and a hope expressed that one of these days hard coal will be used altogether on not only that road, but on every road that carries passengers and pretends to give anything like first-class accommodations. No doubt it will cost the roads more to use hard than soft coal. No doubt, also, it costs more to provide cushioned seats than would provide wooden benches. It costs more to make passengers comfortable than to leave them in discomfort. But there is such a thing as additional expenditure that is in the end a source of profit. And there are such things as common comforts and conveniences that should be assured to the public by law if they can be in no other way."

CONVENTION OF DRUGGISTS. John J. Davies, of West Scranton, Will Be a Delegate.

Pharmacist John J. Davies, of South Main avenue, has been chosen for St. Louis, Mo., where he will represent the retail druggists of this city and virtually of the county, at the first annual convention of the Retail Druggists' association. This association is national, there being no local organization in this city or section will be represented on the basis of one delegate for every hundred druggists, or fraction thereof, members of the association.

THE PURPOSE OF THE CONVENTION is a patriotic one indeed, being no less than an intention to consider ways and means to make a counter move to one recently made by the manufacturers of drugs and medicines. This move is really an echo of "our late difference" with Spain and emanates from the indignation of the tax upon patent medicines, etc. Practically the manufacturers thereof have so arranged that the retail druggists must pay the tax and in some, you may, instances nearly four times as much. This is the "tax of contention."

THE CONVENTION will open Monday afternoon, Oct. 17. The meeting of druggists of this city and suburbs for the purpose of selecting a representative was held last Monday and was attended by a large number of druggists hereabouts, which indicated universal interest in the matter at hand.

DECLARED A COMMON SCOLD. But Her Daughter Now Alleges She Is Insane. Catherine Walther, of Petersburg, who was on Wednesday convicted of being a common scold, is alleged to be insane and on the application of her daughter, Henrietta Holstein, court yesterday appointed Attorney Clarence Balentine as a committee in lunacy in the case.

HELD A SECRET SESSION. Board of Health Retired to Discuss Crematory Contract. Three members of the board of health, Dr. Paine, Dr. Bentley and W. G. O'Malley, constituted a baroque quorum at last night's special meeting of the board of health, which was done in the private office away from the inquisitorial glances of newspaper reporters.

SOME MONTHS AGO the board let the contract for the repair of the garbage canatory for an amount of town fund. The contract price was $125. The work was completed, and the crematory is in operation, but there are several men who were employed by the contractor, and they have wages due them for the past three months. The excuse the contractor gave was that he hasn't received his pay from the board.

TWO HOURS were spent by the board in looking over bills for the work. It is alleged that payment has been withheld because the work was not satisfactory. F. A. W. of Green Ridge, who acted as supervising agent for the firm that had the contract, was present and was called into the private room to shed some light on the question. A half dozen of the hopeful employees of the board, the corridors awaiting for cheerful news.

BEER COMBINE MEETS. The Pennsylvania Central Brewing company held its second annual meeting in its office at the Coal Exchange, Wilkes-Barre, yesterday.
