A GENUINE ELECTRIC MAN AT VISTOL.

He Is Charged Before a Storm-Farmer Houghton Has a Dog with a Remarkable Appetite-Paragraphic Points of Interest-The Other Side of Life.

Susquehanna, Oct. 18.-Near Vistol. there lives a remarkable freak, Henry Longman. Three years ago, during a storm, he was engaged in gathering tan bark, when the tree from which he was taking it was struck by lightning. Longman received a severe stroke. It transformed him into a genuine electric man. Anyone who shakes hand with him now receives a severe shock. By passing the blade of a knife between his thumb and finger during the progress of a storm he charges the metal so strongly that heavy weights can be lifted. When files alight upon him they drop dead, and when he is in a dark room sparks flash from his flesh, eyes shine like incandescent lights. Whenever a storm approaches, Longman becomes highly charged with electricity, and it is dangerous to touch him. He claims to feel no inconvenience, except that he will not go near a moving locomotive for fear of being drawn against it and killed.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The Eric shops have been placed on nine hours' time, a gain of two hours.

The Mormon missionaries are still distributing tracts and tracks hereabouts, but they are making no converts.

The funeral of Mrs. John Fitzgerald. an aged resident, will occur this morning from St. John's Catholic church, The Susquehanna and Deposit banks consolidated, for the purpose of giving counts in both places.

The funeral of Maurice J. Prendergast, for years a Susquehanna business man, but for some years past a resident of Huntsville, occurred in Monday in Binghamton.

A mammoth metal planer, the largest in the United States, has just been placed in position in the Eric shop. It weighs forty tons and cost about $5,000. HE IS SAD, YOU SEE.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The poor board of Forest City has under consideration the establishing of a poor farm for the care of indigent residents.-Forest City News. It ought to be an easy matter to secure such a farm. There is a lot of mighty poor farms up that way. A Unlondale writer says there is pure water for the proposed trotting course. That will be nice-for the horses. The Farmer Houghton, of the Cascade, has a dog with a remarkable appetite. The other day Mrs. Houghton made a few small cheeses and set them in a cool room. A few hours later the cheeses were nowhere to be found. The dog had a guilty expression in his face, and it was believed he had stolen them. The cook vowed she had not seen the dog near them, and that if he had attempted to steal them he would have attracted attention. The disappearance of the cheeses remained a mystery for several days, when the mistress of the home was one afternoon attracted to the yard by the barking of the dog, and on going to the side door she saw the dog pull out from under a pile of rubbish one of the missing cheeses. He then proceeded to eat the cheese with undisguised gusto. The remarkable part of it was that the had sufficient sagacity to store the chaeses away and partake of one of them each day, instead of munching at them all at one sitting, as most dogs and probably all children would do His love for cheese is accounted for

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"The Little Host."

"The Little Host," in which Della Fox this season reappears as an individual star, will not increase her fame to any measurable extent, but it furnishes one consoling fact. Miss Fox is content to allow others to assist her in giving the vening's performance, it is well that she does.

She is still thic and can wear men's lothes as men do, an accomplishment ew actresses have mastered, but, alas, her voice does not improve. It is still seamed and ragged, and if her vocal efforts are not exactly tortur-ng, neither are they exactly musical. The musical comedy in which she appeared at the Lyceum last night re-in-roduced John C. Siavin to the audience, this impersonation of the German hotel-keper in "The Girl from Paris," will be emembered with pleasure by many Scrantonians. In "The Little Host" he s Herr Einesing, an eccentric composer, music. To Mr. Slavin belongs the cred-of evoking more laughs last night han all the other members of the company. Although but an incidental character, he is the most interesting and entertaining personage that appears during the performance, R. E. Graham, an old Scranton favorite, is also in the company and did excellent work last eve-ning. Hugh Chaivers, Eugene O'Rourke, Alice Johnson, Alice Baker and Mablo flouten assisted very materially in un-selling the slet der thread of a plot which s the basis of the music comedy. There was a large chorus of handsome young warmen whose singing was perhaps the was feature of the musical annex in t ed). The entuming was tasteful and a and the stage settings of both acts Seidl Concert. Monday night at the Lyceum the Scidl rehears will give a concert, The Toronto thole are of the orchestra; "The programme was carried out in a manner that gave unalloyed satisfaction. The orchestra has made a wenderful improvement in the direction of refinement of execu-tion and beauty of tone production since its first appearance in Toronto et the Pavilion Music hall in November, 1822. Whether the fact is to be attributed to the collisiment of new material since that event or to the influence of Mr. Seidi's long-continued direction, the artistic advance in the niceties of playing by the orchestra is most marked.

"The Prisoner of Zenda." No play of modern times has achieved greater success than "The Prisoner of Zenda," which, after several years of successful repetitions, is now a greater drawing card than ever through the country. Last year the receipts of the play were greater than almost any other organization traveling, with a possible ex-ception in favor of some of the great stars. It is owing to the large business done last year with the piece that Manager Daniel Frohman has decided to book it for another year with a company materially strengthened both artistically and numerically. A fine company of twenty-five artists of ability, headed by Mr. Howard Gould, who has played the title role for several seasons has been engaged, and the scenic production is now more beautiful and elaborate than ever. The date is announced as Thursday, Oct. 50.

"A War Correspondent." Dr.Bull's Is a wonderful remedy for lung trouble, gives relief at once, eases ont." which is the very latest offering, up to date of plays having the American-spanish-Cuban trouble for their back ground. We understand, however, that methigher, May, 28'4a28'4c, closed 39'4c. October, 37'4c. October, 37 the treatment of the theme in "A War Correspondent" is radically different from anything that has preceded it. It will be seen at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, Oct. 18 .- Prices of stocks rifted sluggishly and to all appearnces were steady all through the day's ssion. The almost stagnant consition of the market was scarcely relieved by a single feature. Even the trust' stocks '+1 into neglect after long a gried of a ratio fluctuations. obacco was raided down at the openng on explicit announcements that the most talked of plug tobacco combination had once more fallen through. here was injected into thedullest portion of the day's 'radius two succersive transactions of 12500 shares and 6.000 shares respectively of tobacco preferred at 115, "seller 30." This represented a transaction of over $2,000,000 and was supposed to show the disposal of the company's treasury stock, agplication for the listing of which was made yesterday. The railroad list held generally firm throughout the early part of the day, but subsequently eased off in sympathy with the sugar and the Northern Pacifics. The daily attack on the coalers lacked vim and the decline only reached a point in New Jersey Central. Total sales were 174,550
