DEATH OF PRIVATE FRANK E. KEITH

SUCCUMBED TO TYPHOID IN DI VISION HOSPITAL,

His Parents Were at His Bedside When He Expired-Remains Were Shipped Last Night and Will Be Received Here This Morning. Joined Company A, of the Thirteenth, at Mt. Gretna on May 10. Promotions Make Many Changes in Seniority of Officers.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

· Camp Meade, Middletown, Pa., Oct. £1 .- Another death has been recorded in the regiment. Private Frank E. Keith, of Company A, died at 11 o'clock last night at the First division hospital of typhold fever. Deceased lived in Scranton and was about twenty-two years of age. He joined the regiment at Mt. Gretna on May 10 and with his company was sworn into the service of the United States on May 13. His parents were present at his death bed.

Transportation was promptly arranged for and the remains left here this evening and will arrive in Scranton tomorrow morning. Corporal Homer D. Pease and Private Michael Webber accompanied the remains home as a guard of honor and will represent Company A at the funeral service.

The Thirteenth regiment is now on the eve of wholesale changes in the personnel of the staff and line officers on account of the appointment made no men fell out; but it was "good-by by Governor Hastings due to the resignation of Lieutenant Colonel Mattes. The governor has informed Colonel Coursen of the following promotions: Major F. W. Stillwell, of the First battalion, to be lieutenant colonel; E. D. Fellows, of Company F, to succeed Major Stillwell; First Lieutenant Har- anticipated from marching over asphalt rry P. Decker, to be captain of Com- and block pavements. PREPARING FOR TRIP.

There is little else talked of now in camp besides the contemplated trip to Philadelphia next week, and to the result and effect to be then produced all things are at present directed. The battalion drills for the past few afternoons have chiefly consisted of practice in marching in company front which will be principally used on account of the fine, wide streets of the Quaker City. The Eighth Pennsylvania accompaniment of the band, so as to accustom the men to not only march at the regulation rate of one hundred and twenty steps to the minute, but length of time, and over any kind of ground. This afternoon the battalion drills of the Thirteenth were enlivened by the presence of a part of the drum corps, which beat a lively step and put the boys on their mettle.

This is simply a carrying out of the ideas of Major General Young, of the First division, who is an enthusiast on the question of regulating military exercises by music. A short time ago he issued orders to the effect that the "setting up exercises" of the morning should be accompanied by music; then followed another communication directing all regimental bands to practice daily till they could continuously play at the rate of 120 steps to the minute. The result, battalions drilling to the sound of music, is not only novel, but quite agreeable and successful in its results.

PRACTICE MARCHES.

As a further preliminary to the exercises in Philadelphia, Company C has had two practice marches, one to Middletown yesterday, and the second to Hummelstown this morning. Today's march was begun after the boys had been put through their gymnastic exercises, and was a record-breaker. The company was in charge of Lieutenant Burkhouse, and made the trip over the longest road by Clifton. A distance of nearly six miles over heavy, sandy roads, which were not yet dried after the recent rains, up and down hill, with two short rests included, was made in an hour and thirty minutes. The boys kept up a continued cadence of 124 30-inch steps to the minute, and at times even increased it to 129 steps per minute, a task which is not so very easy as it looks, especially when accomplished an half a cup of coffee, two pieces of bread, and a little catmeal mush. A short rest was taken at the Hotel National, and the return trip of four miles was made in just sixty-five minutes. Those hardy trampers had only a few minutes in which to eat a very indifferent cold meal, and then went out for an hour and a half to battalion drill and immediately after to dress parade. There was no complaint, and supper," when the mess bell rang at half past five. They are up everything in sight. The example of C Company will be imitated, and before the trip to Philadelphia comes off all the mem-bers of the Thirteenth will have had a taste of marching over the country roads. Most of the men do not seem to relish the possible effects which are accustomed to that, and after the Philadelphia trip, it is probable that there will be many "tenderfeet" in the Sec-

According to present calculations the Thirteenth will leave here at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning, and return to camp Thursday night, or Friday

After a week's silence the band gave a concert this evening. The weather is fine and the moon shining. The boys all turned out to hear the music. Sergeant Eugene Fellows and Private William Harris, of F. went home this afternoon on furlough. The latter received a message informing him of the serious Illness of his daughter.

CAMP PERSONALS.

Private Church, of G company, left last night on a fourlough for the home of his parents in Hallstead. Private Maurice Embery, of C company, who is home on a sick furlough, has asked for an extension as he has not yet fully recovered. The extension Edward J. Kelly, of the hospital corps, has returned from a seven day furlough. He will be a valuable acquisition to the regimental hospital

TROOPS LEAVE WEDNESDAY. Go to Philadelphia to Take Part in Peace Jubilee. By Associated Press.

Camp Meade, Middletown, Pa., Oct. 21.-The troops who will take part in the peace jubilee celebration will leave for Philadelphia Wednesday morning via the Pennsylvania railroad. They will be moved by divisions and it will require twelve trains of twenty cars each. Chief Medical Officer Girard has arranged with the railroad company for two hospital cars for each division. Colonel Girard will have the city ambulances placed at his disposal.

Baking Powder

Made from pure cream of tartar.

Safeguards the food against alum.

Alum baking powders are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

Today twenty four more patients were sent to Philadelphia and by next week it is expected that there will be few serious cases in camp. The good work of the Red Cross people will soon be at an end. Preparations are now being made for the abandonment of this branch of the hospitals and the Red Cross forces will return to Philadelphia in ten days. Colonel Girard notified the society this morning that with the departure of the troops south the Red Cross hospital will be abandoned. He will employ the most competent female nurses sent here by the society to take charge of the wards of the hospitals in the proposed southern camps. They will be assisted by the reserve ambulance company, which is being recruited to 500,

Divisions quartermasters stations have been established at these camps and all supplies are being sent there. As fast as it can be gotten ready, surplus tents and other equipments at Camp Meade are being sent south, Sixteen Sibley conical tents are to be issued to each company at Camp Meade, with six men in a tent. Each tent will be provided with an oil stove. The Pennsylvania troops have been furnished with winter equipment. Four corporals of Company I and one in Company C. Eighth regiment, have been reduced to the ranks for overstaying their furloughs.

The body of Oscar Neuman, Company F. Thirty-fifth Michigan, who died yesterday in the First division hospital from typhold fever, was buried in Middletown cemetery with military onors. Mrs. Neuman and child came on from their Michigan home to attend the funeral. Major Phipps' battalion of the First Maryland will be relieved from pro-vost duty at Middletown Monday and return to the regiment. The two Maryland companies on duty at the government bakery, under command of Majer Lowndes, will also return to the regiment about Monday.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A new proposition of interest to the workingmen of the country has been suggested. It will come up at the next annual session of the American Federation of Labor, which will be held in Kansas City in December. plan can be worked successfully all boycotts now in force against corporations and firms will be declared off and a general fight made to increase the sales of articles bearing union labels. A member of the American Federation, in speaking of the subject, said: "Such nevertheless. something should be done to enliven the labor movement and extend the sale of union-made goods. Not one boycott in 50 is successful, because of the apathy of the workingmen themselves, as only from the offending employer. Thousands of dollars are expended weekly in the advertising of boycotts, This money would bring greater returns if used to extend the sale of articles the labor organizations of the country made goods when he could buy unionthan any that could be declared under | fered here, can take place.

the present system. This law would call attention to the union label of all crafts and increase the demand for union-made goods.. Organized labor should adopt new issues, the same as political parties. The word 'boycott' has been worked so long that the publie is tired of it, and even the workingmen themselves are striving to adopt something new-something that will be more effective." The growth of the union label agitation in this country has been phenomenal, and many European economists are studying the subject. Secretary James Loughridge, of the Union Label league, recently received a letter from Vienna, Austria, asking for information concern ing the workings of the Label and Consumers' league.

There seems to be no lack of new and up-to-date dwelling houses in course of erection in the vacant space lying between Gibson street and the Dunmore borough line. The latest contract is the one let last week to Spruks Bros., for the erection of a double frame dwelling house on Madison avenue, near the corner of Gibson street. Ex-Alderman O. B. Wright is the owner and will devote between $6,000 and $7,000 to the building of this house. Architect E. G. Worden drew up the plans. Though a double frame dwelling it will have the appearance of a single house. Its style will be colonial, the front elevation presenting a handsome appearance. Inside several new features will be introduced in the hard wood finishings. The molding running around the upper part of the room will form panels between doors and windows and will be adaptable to picture hanging.

The Lee Park Knitting mill of Wilkes-Barre, is referred to by the papers of that city as one of its leading industries. The mill is a two-story structure, 24 by 100 feet in size. At present men's half hose and misses' ribbed hose are manufactured.

Work in the Bethlehem Iron works is not so brisk at present as it was several weeks ago. Orders are on hand, however, to keep the plant running steadily for six months yet, but the night shift will soon be discontinued.

Lehigh Valley engines 650 and 482, a pair of monster freight pullers, have been introduced on the two day run between Mauch Chunk and Shamokin.

HIGH SCHOOL COURSE.

Opening of Diagram Postponed Until Monday.

Owing to the inclement weather of yesterday, the canvassers who were to deliver the tickets to subscribers to high school entertainment and lecture course could not make much progress. It has been found necessary, therefore, to postpone the opening of the diagram from Monday morning until Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. This is done entirely in justice to those who, by their subscriptions, made this course possible.

To those who have not yet subscribed the committee request us to say that they can obtain tickets at Powell's or the high school, or by notifying the committee. Any high school pupil will take your order for tickets. The tickets are going fast and by Thursday at least 700 season tickets will be sold. This will leave 300 desirable seats, as the seating capacity of the auditorium is 1,000.

One thing needs to be emphasize here and that is the fact that all pupils in any school of Scranton can get the season ticket for 75 cents
