

Social and Personal

Much interest is felt in the ladies' handpick match which will take place on the golf links at the Country club this afternoon.

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be the chief autumnal event at the Country club when the great tournament which has been anticipated with so much pleasure will take place.

Miss Frances Winton will give a luncheon on Tuesday next in honor of her guest, Miss, Loke, of Dayton, O.

Mrs. W. G. Parke is entertaining Mrs. Crowell, of Florence, Italy. At an informal dinner given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Parke, Miss Katherine Timberman was one of the guests.

There was great rejoicing yesterday in the Free Kindergarten and among those interested in the operation benefit for that cause, when it was announced that Secretary D. B. Atherton, of the board of trade, had consented to take the role of the Inquisitor in the opera to be presented next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixey, who are directing the affair, have made a most satisfactory impression. They are persons of culture and talent and are certain to make a success of the enterprise.

Among the members who will add much to the interest and success of the performance are: Miss Behl, Miss Augusta Archbold, Miss Hunt, Miss Welles, Miss A. E. Hunt, Jr., James Blair, Fuller, Strawn and others.

Mrs. H. H. Coston will entertain a company of ladies at a theater party on Saturday afternoon next.

The handsome colonial residence of Mr. A. B. Blair at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Mulberry street, is nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy.

If you have not enjoyed a drive over the Boulevard and around by the new reservoir of the Scranton Gas and Water company you have not known anything of the beauties surrounding this city.

Mrs. Charles Schlager has issued invitations for a reception on Thursday next in honor of her eldest daughter, Miss Mabel, who will make her debut at this time.

Mrs. J. A. Price pleasantly entertained the ladies of the McCall mission at her home on Monday.

Miss Jessie Welsh entertained at dinner last evening the Clarendon club. Covers were laid for six. Those present were the Misses Fanny, Maud, Laura, Grace Devine, Estella Tropp, Kathryn Fish and Jessie Welsh.

This city is probably never had as many really excellent theatrical productions as it is now getting in the Lyceum. The management is crowding every week full of attractions that no one likes to miss.

The house committee of the Scranton club held an important meeting yesterday and will recommend tonight the details of an event which will take precedence over most affairs of a similar kind ever held in this city.

HER POINT OF VIEW.

The following letter came to me this week. I append it as the alleged consequence of following my advice. Whether it may be regarded as a horrible example is difficult to determine. My ideas of being pleased with things and omitting fault-finding seem to be capable of a variety of applications.

Dear Saucy Bess—I read your sermon last Saturday and it certainly had a good effect on me. It set me to thinking that I ought to apply the healing clause to myself. It's growing easy for me to say spiteful things of other people and I haven't realized it, so I thought I'd start on a new tack.

I began Monday. Three girl friends were calling on me and I said to myself, "I'll be sure to take this chance. They expected me to take this chance. They expected me to take this chance."

The next experience was purely domestic. My mother decreed that I couldn't have the new tailor-made gown and counted on. She decreed it rather offensively, for she expected it to be the signal for hostility and a cyclone in the household for a week or two.

Loss—Five dollars which papa would have added to my allowance if I'd agreed with him. I'd always been a doer, a hypocrite. I've always been in the habit of agreeing with papa in politics.

Made brother Ned furious because I insisted he should be in Sam D. who likes the same girl. I have lost my reputation for good taste because I didn't call Mrs. B. a new name.

Had sixteen distinct snubs from people who used to depend on my authority for opinions. I didn't know they didn't like me. The minister wanted to kiss me, believing that I am seeing "light" on the foreign mission work.

My dearest friend stated frankly last night that hitherto she had always believed me consistent, but now she didn't "know what to think."

Miss Caroline Conkling, the teacher of physical culture at the Conservatory of Music, in a half amused, half vexed manner said the other day: "Of all the overworked words in the English language 'Physical Culture' is the most abused. The indiscriminate application of the word conveys are simply maddening; anything from a dumb bell exercise to an Amazon march is termed Delsarte and struggle as you may you can't get away from it."

TO REPUBLICANS OF THE COUNTY

CHAIRMAN WILLARD SPEAKS ABOUT THE CAMPAIGN.

Result in Pennsylvania Will Have an Important and Far-reaching Result—Candidates Who Have Been Nominated by the Republican Party Are Tried and True Men—Every Republican is Urged to Come Out Nov. 8 and Give His Vote for Entire Ticket.

The following address has been issued by Hon. Wm. Willard, chairman of the Republican county committee: To the Republicans of Lackawanna County: The splendid achievements of the administration of William McKinley are known and revered in every part of the country, but in every land where our flag floats at the mast-head of the ships in our triumphant navy.

Under the benign rule of our chief and the policy of his administration our wheat fields and corn fields have brought ample returns to our farmers, and our work-shops are again busy, giving employment to labor; and our currency has been firmly established so that every dollar in every man's pocket is worth one hundred cents. Shall the tide of prosperity stop or shall it go on till there are no unemployed throughout the length and breadth of the American people! This is the issue in the present campaign in Pennsylvania.

Willard has also issued a circular to the effect that he will be glad to see every Republican in the county who has a vote to cast, and that he will be glad to see every Republican in the county who has a vote to cast.

MUSICAL GOSSIP.

amount of fine-class advertising and curiosity was aroused that filled the houses wherever the vocalist appeared. As a consequence, fortune smiled upon the company and Mr. Van Osten's share of the season's receipts amounting to over $1000. Upon leaving company Mr. Van Osten stated he was fortunate in a business known as "Miss Philadelphia," which failed to bring many returns, and Miss Yaw started out under amateur management and met with many reverses. It is probable that the last move of changing her name will effectively close the doors of oblivion upon a meteoric career.

The Schubert quartette, assisted by Mrs. O'Brien, gave a concert last evening at the Lyceum. The program was very entertaining and attracted a large audience.

The newly-organized "Musical Culture Society" held their first rehearsal last Wednesday evening over Powell's store.

The Schubert quartette will entertain the school matrons on Nov. 2 at the high school auditorium, Institute week.

Mr. John T. Watkins has charge of a very large chorus at Haledale, Pa., also many good voices who study with him privately. His aim is the greatest resonance, flexibility and naturalness of tone production.

The North End Choral union is progressing under the leadership of Professor Griffith R. Davies. The choir numbers are present about sixty voices. Rehearsals are conducted in Archbold hall twice a week.

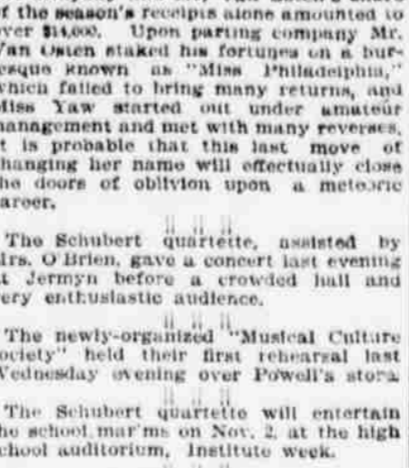

The singing at Elm Park Sunday school has never been heard to better advantage than at present, under direction of Mr. Watkins. The orchestra is of great assistance to the large volume of voices.

A male voice party was organized in Providence on Wednesday evening. Mr. John Evans, the tenor, is conductor. They will sing at the Lyceum on Monday evening. The Schubert Glee club of Providence, comprising about thirty-five voices, gave a successful concert at the Lyceum on Monday evening. The Glee club is a permanent organization and conducted by G. W. Morris. It contains some very fine solo singers.

BEST OF ALL DOCTORS!

Good Health of Countless Americans Due to Paine's Celery Compound.

Countless homes in every city in America have been saved from the sad loss of some despairing member by Paine's celery compound.

The story of the life-work of the discoverer of this world-famed remedy is familiar to most readers. The likeness of Dartmouth's greatest professor, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., given above, is the best portrait of him yet printed.

"Excepting his handful of magnificent statesmen and his military heroes," says the most recent writer upon and critic of America, "the people owe more to Dartmouth's physician-teacher than to any other one man."

"In every walk of life, among the highest officials at the national capital, in the homes of the best people in the large cities, among the everyday folks of the country, families in comfortable circumstances, families that 'live from hand to mouth,' and could not, if they wished, afford the services of any but an ordinary physician—everywhere I have met people to whom Paine's celery compound has been a blessing."

It was the world-famed discovery by Prof. Phelps of an infallible cure for those fearful ills that result from an impaired nervous system and impure blood which has endeared the great doctor to the world and made his life an era in the practice of medicine.

Prof. Phelps was born in Connecticut and graduated in medicine at Yale.

He will be continued a fortnight longer. Mr. Sothen will confine himself on his coming tour to the production of "The Old Doctor" and "The King's Ransomeer."

One of the interesting features of "Way Down East," the New England comedy drama which will be presented at the Walnut Street theatre on Monday evening, October 24, is a brilliant snow storm, invented by Mr. Joseph Gristner, who has been engaged as solo singer by the church, Haledale, Pa.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Madeline Lucette Ryley's "The Voyagers" seems to be a second frost for Roland Reed this season.

J. M. Barric author of "The Little Minister" has written a new comedy, "Two Friends of Women," which George Alexander will play.

Johanna Gadsch, the German prima donna, will make a tour of the country in concert prior to the beginning of her opera season.

The Wilkes-Barre Pique club had "A Night in Bohemia" Thursday night in honor of Hurr McIntosh, who appears at the Lyceum on Monday.

Mr. E. Graham is getting old. When he appeared here Tuesday night with the Della Fox company, he was a rather sad reminder of the dashing boy who some years ago assisted Minnie Palmer in filling theaters and making theatrical history.

On and off, which was seen at the Lyceum last week, had its first New York production at the Madison Square theater last night. It scored an instantaneous success and will be one of Charles Frohmant's big money-makers this season.

Margaret Fuller, who essayed the role of Phyllis in "The Prisoner of Zenda," at the Lyceum Tuesday night, is a conscientious artist who possesses real dramatic talent.

A new type of stage German has been invented by John C. Slavin who has got far away from the Weber & Fields type.

The members of the Schubert Glee society of North Scranton are making extensive preparations for their extended tour which is to be held in Company II on Monday Thanksgiving day.

Such proportions as to serve to attract the attention of the audience, are known followers of the establisshment. Several choirs representing various sections of the coal regions are listed for the main event. Taken as a whole the list promises to be one of the most enthusiastic

FATHER & SONS CURED OF ITCHING RASH

I had an itching rash under my chin, which kept spreading until it was all over my body. I could not sleep but was compelled to lie awake and scratch all the time. My father and two brothers were afflicted with the same thing, at the same time. We all suffered terribly for a year and a half trying in the meantime all the remedies we could find, but received no benefit. I bought three cakes of CUTICURA Soap and three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment) and they cured the four of us completely. RICHARD ANDERSON, Geneva, Utah.
