MINE TRAGEDY.

One Man Killed and Another Badly Injured.

A terrible catastrophe, in which one man lost his life and another one was badly injured, occurred in this city Sat-Thomas Battle, James McDonough, Robert Judge and Joseph Wisley were engaged all day Saturday in timbering the roof of the mine on the south side, called No. 1 slope. The recent rains had loosened the earth and caused the roof to work menacing the workmen who entered the mice. The men had been working in the interior of the mine in the morning and towards evening began operations near the mouth of the slope, not fifteen feet away from the daylight. They could see and hear plainly the voices of the men outside the mine.

At about twenty minutes after o'clock the roof began working, and without any warning several tons of dirt fell upon the unfortunate men. Judge received much of the earth upon him, but was protected by the limber ing which fell over him and shielded his body. The timbers held to their fastenings on one side, while one end fell upon the ralls which run toto the slope. It is due to this elecumstance that Judge owes his life, for had the timbers given away at both ends he would undoubtedly have been crushed to death. As it is, he was crushed badly, but unless he is internally injured he will recover in a short time. Joseph Wisley, his fellow-worker, was not fortunate, for he received his death-A heavy rail, that had been placed across the roof to prevent its caving, fell and struck him across the neck, pinning him to the ground. The debris weighed so heavily on the rall as to choke the unfortunate miner to

When he was taken to the stirface life was extinct. Some persons entertain the idea that his neck was broken but the general opinion is that his breathing was shut off by the weight of the rail upon his neck. The other two miners luckily escaped any injury whatever, as they were not engaged under the roof at the point where it fell. A wife and six children survive Mr. Wisley, who was a prominent member of the C. M. B. A. and the Ploneer Father Mathew societies.

NOT A JUDGE OF WEIGHTS.

On account of his not being able to tell the difference between a pound and two pounds, between a basket containing thirty pounds and another which held sixty pounds, W. V. Fuller, of this city, was arrested in Scranton. W. J. Roberts, of that city, sold Mr. Fuller thirty pounds of fish last week and set it aside to await his calling for it. Fuler came, took up a basket containing sixty bounds and left the store with out being observed by the proprietor, who was otherwise engaged. However, Mr. Roberts noticed the error after the local fishmonger had left, and tolleving it to be intentional on Full had him arrested and all

Republican Rally Tomorrow Evening Cantata a Grand Success-Per

The people of Taylor generally will glad to learn that Hon, James M. Evacus, of Sharon, Mercer county, Pa., formerly a Taylor boy, is to be one of the principal speakers at the grand Republican rally to be held at Weber's rink, next Tuesday, October 25. Mr. Evens or "Ingo" as he is familiarly known to us, is a brother of Rev. John M. Elyans, known among the Weish cople as "Gwawrfryn;" Rev. Daniel vans and Mrs. E. E. Aston, of Wilkeselitics, has developed into a political peaker of marvelous power and pepthe state in the interest of the Repub-Hean parts:

The cantain "Our Flag" was successfully produced in Weber's rink under the anspires of the Welsh Raplist evening, continuing for three rights. The performance, under the licection of Professor John R. Franels, assisted by Sergeant John H. Thomas. The cost of characters, Libcrty was impersonated by Miss Edith Wynne Walkins. The sang in excellent taste and surprised her auditors, ant sograng voice and her renditions were enthusiastically applauded. Columbia was Miss Margaret Jones, of Scranton. In each of her selections the demonstrated the skill of a genius. Father Time was impersonated by James E. Watkins, esq., who was unexcelled for richness of tone and warmth of expression. Uncle Sam's part was rendered by Mr. Morgan B. Morgans, who sang in a most pleasing oice, which was heartily applauded. The impersonation of Prisoner of War completion of the paying of River by Mr. T. Dewitt Edwards deserves occial mention. Miss Bessie James as lower girl also rendered her part most satisfactorily. Liberty Daughters, Miss Olwen Howells and Sarah J. Hughes also sang their parts well. Thffair will, no doubt, net a sung sum

Teachers Appointed-Knights of Columbus in Town-A New Theatre

The school board held a special meeting on Saturday evening at the office ker, James McKinney, Forest City; P. of M. Donnelly and those who were intent upon attending the session, after climbing Butler hill, were disappointed Andrew, Joseph Monahan, F. B. Clifwhen they found the High school building in darkness. The following teachers have been appointed for the several Honesdale; Michael Hoy, of Hallstead; night schools about to be opened; Ore-gon school, Miss Toole; Miss Hart, owell, Wilkes-Barre, daughter of J. J. Hart, the Welsh hill school; Mr. Judge, Pine street school; Nora Hankee, No. 3 school, on Butler street, and Thomas H. Hopkins at the Junction. The appointments are commendable and redound to the credit and competency of Prof. Shields, as all the oung teachers were his former pupils in the High school building. The schools vill be opened next Monday evening,

Between three and four hundred visiters from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, including the grand officers from several states of the order known as the Knights of Columbus, arrived In the city yesterday at noon and at 2 o'clock a secret session took place in Armory bull, when a branch of the or der was organized in this city, conducted by the grand officers. This was followed by a district convention, which lasted for several hours, and after the election of officers an adjournment was in order to attend a banquet at Keystone hall at the hands of the local members. The affair was of the recherche order, but as it was, like the convention of the secret order, the reporters were deprived of joining in the festivities. After the menu had been thoroughly discussed, a literary programme was introduced, and several toasts responded to by the prominent officers and visitors of the order. The ladies are very much entitled to credit for the important part they took in the entertainment of the guests,

The 1900 Washer company, of Binghamton, will today open a branch store in the Troxell block, on Broad street, where the ladies will find everything in the laundry line from the best soap to the only serviceable and best washing machine in the world-the 1900. Louis Kester and family, who reside n Pittston township, had a narrow csape with their lives at an early hour on Saturday morning, when they were awakened from their slumbers, sur-rounded by flames. They made their scape from a second-story window, all that was saved were their nightelethes. The house was burned to the ground, together with its contents, nd besides a loss of $1,600. It is more than probable that this city will, before many months, have the deasure of boasting of a first-class theatre, and when this has become a fact, and the building completed, we will then have an oportunity of witssing some of the performances that re given in the first-class play-houses Scranton and Wilkes-Barre. Burgunder, who has charge of the theitres in both the above cities, will be proprietor, and the site of the new building will probably be between the A. H. Brown and Corcoran blocks, on Sketches of sermons preached in the Presbyterian church, Peckville, Sunday, Oct. 23, by Rev. S. H. Moon, D. D.

Morning sermon-Text, Acts, 5:32: 'And we are witnesses of these things, and so is also the Holy Chost, whom God hath given to them that obey him." The subject of this text may be called the spirits' amen to our witnessing for Christ. As the spirit-filled Christian preaches, Christ, the Holy Spirit, preaches with and in and through him, She huwayart sang one sale "Appear

Our work for Christ is that of nessing. We are not to be advocates ; nor pleaders; we are simply to bear witness to what we have seen and heard and known of Jesus Christ, The testimony is about Christ. If we wander off to other subjects, and preach politics and science and philosophy, and seek to air our own opinions, we shall have to preach alone. But if we confine ourselves to our commission, the spirit will give his powerful amen to all we say. Without the spirit's aid, the most learned and eloquent and Scriptural sermon has only a human power. But with the spirit's concurrent witnessing, the testimony of the feeblest saint has the might of divinity in it. Here is the pledge and assurance of success to every Christian who witnesses for years-to the one who gives his humble testimony in a prayer meeting, or gives a word of comto the afflicted, or tremblingly teaches a Sunday school class, or speaks a word in due season to the unsaved. It is not he that speaks, but the Holy Ghost that speaks in him, and his word shall prosper in the thing whereto the spirit sends it. Evening sermon-Text, I Cor., 1:24: But unto them which are called, both | Nicholson.
