PORCUPINE SHOT BY GEORGE BROWN, CHURCH AVENUE.

Took Refuge Under the Porch of His Residence-Social Session Conducted by the Members of Lincoln Lodge of Odd Fellows-A. A. Vosburg Was Chairman of the Meeting-Stars Defeated the Crescents in a Game of Basket Ball in the Armory.

A huge porcupine was shot on the premises of George Brown, on Church Where avenue, on Saturday last. porcy hailed from is a mystery. The family have frequently seen the creature of late and Mr. Brown lay in wait with a gun, caught him running under his back porch, fired and killed him.

The animal weighed thirty-five pounds and was of a steel gray color. Many persons yesterday visited Mr. Brown's home and viewed the porcupine which will be stuffed.

LODGE ENTERTAINS.

Lincoln lodge of Odd Fellows last night had an enjoyable social session. The affair was highly commented by the visitors present and will tend to increase the membership and popularity of the Odd Fellows,

After all had gathered within the chambers of the council Attorney A. A. Vosburg gave the introductory address of welcome. He efficiently served as chairman throughout the evening A programme presenting a selection by the Dewey quartette, solos by William J. Owens, I. S. Jones, Joshua Johns, R. Jenkins and John Evans, was rendered and elicited unstinted praise from the audience. After the musical pact of the programme the lodge served delicious refreshments,

SPORTING NOTES.

"When I enter the arena of the Lenox Athletic club on November 22 to do battle with James J. Corbett, ring patrons who are present will see in a new Sharray to far as my fighting methods and ambitions are concerned, says Tom Sharkey, the aspirant for the heavy weight championship honors, "My aggressive, or what some persons have been unkind enough to terms rough tactics, will be conspicuous for their absence. Lucy are gone forever. Not because I believe them unfair, but because I am convinced that they are of little value against men of Corbett, Fitzeimmons, McCoy school of boxers. To win a contest from any of the men mentioned and earn the respect and admiration of pugilistic followers, it is absolutely essential that a boxer should employ clean cut and scientific methods. I believe that I have gained the knowledge necessary to the successful employment of such tactics in a ring contest and I think that all my admirers will agree with me when I spar with Corbett next month. I claim people will say that I am a new Sharkey. My methods heretofore were the same as those used by John L. Sullivan. I took old Sully as a model when I began my pugilist! career, and although I have always come out a winner I have been denounced as a foul and unscrupulous fighter. In view of my reputation Tuesday and Wednesday Evenings, October 25 and 20. as a foul fighter, it is strange that I was never disqualified in a contest. and when you consider that I have fought under so many different referees and got the money, I must have fought pretty near up to the standard f propriety. However, I am convinced that the Sullivan style of boxing is no longer popular, and that the man who employs it leaves himself open to critleism.

Jack Skelly returned last night from New York, where he made an unsuccessful effort to make another match between Jim Judge and "Mysterious" Billy Smith for the weiter weight championship of the world. Smith's manager absolutely refused to make a match, except under the conditions governing the former fight between the men, that is, fighting permitted when one arm is free. Skelly posted $1,000 as Judge's wager on the fight and agreed to give Smith the entire purse offered by the club that would secure the fight, no matter whether Smith won or lost, if he would fight in the other weight to be selected later before the Greenpoint Athletic club, of Brooklyn, within a few weeks.

OBITUARY.

Yesterday afternoon Richard Hall, of 219 South Main avenue, died at 1.59 o'clock. His death was due to the failure to rally from two successive operations performed upon him Thursday and Friony of last week for appendicitis. Mr. Hall unfortunately had not enjoyed the best of health for sometime and he was not in condition to withstand the shock of an operation. The operations were postponed until absolutely necessary as a last resort. Deceased suffered extremebut with great fortitude during the last few days.

He was born in Tunkhannock Sept. 10, 1844, where he resided until the war broke out. He then enlisted in the One Hundred and Thirty-Second Pennsylvania volunteers and went through with his regiment until the battle of Fredericksburg, where he was so badly wounded as to prevent his going into service again. He had been previously wounded at Antictam. Returning from the scenes of war, and his health permitting, he sought employment with the Delaware, Lacka-wanna and Western company in 1865. In 1866 he became engineer and was within a few numbers of being the oldest one in point of service with the company. Of late he has run on the milk as special, but was consulting or trial engineer,

He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, Ezra Griffin Post, No. 139; Hyde Park Lodge, No. 339; Free and Accepted Masons; Globe Lodge, No. 938, Independent Order Odd Fellows, and was treasurer in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Mutual Aid society. For many years he has been an active mem-ber of the Hampton Street Methodist church. His wife and one daughter, Miss Adeline, survive him; also one brother, John Hall, of Eynon street. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon from the residence at 2 o'cleck. Revs. J. B. Sweet and James Benninger will conduct the services. Interment will be made in the Washburn street cemetery.

Daniel Mathias, one of West Scranton's

dest and best known residents, died at his residence, 1318 Price street, yesterday morning shortly after 3 o'clock. Deceased was troubled for some time with kidney Avenue; Mrs. William Hazen, Mr. L. W. Hufford, M. Johnson (grocer), Mrs. Weeks lately. Sunday evening, however, John Jones, Patrick Judge, Potter he was so much improved that he was able to get up and he downstairs. Yester-day morning, as usual, his wife gave him his medicine about 3 o'clock and a few minutes later he complained of his heart, but turned over and went to sleep. From this sleep he never awakened. Deceased was borne in Macster, Carmar-thenshire, South Wales, in 1841, and was 57 years of age. He came to America in 1852, settling at Danville, Pa., where he married, and in 1861 settled in West Scranon, where he has since continuously resided. For many years he worked for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western ompany, but a few years ago was com-clied to seek outside employment. Re-ently he was agent for the Atlantic and

The St. Denis

NEW YORK HOTELS.

Broadway and Eleventh St., New York, Opp. Grace Church.-European Plan.

In a modest and unobtrusive way there are few better conducted hotels in the metropolis than the St. Denis.

The great popularity it has acquired can readily be traced to its unique location, its homelike atmosphere, the peculiar excellence of its cuisine and service, and its very moderate prices.
