COLONEL STONE'S PLATFORM.

It will be my purpose when elected to so conduct myself as to win the respecand good will of those who have opposed me as well as those who have given me their support. I shall be the governme they support. I shall be the government of the whole people of the state. Abuses have undoubtedly grown up in the legis-lature which are neither the fault of one party nor the other, but rather the growth of custom. Unnecessary investigations have been authorized by commit tees, resulting in unnecessary expense to the state. It will be my care and pur-pose to correct these and other evils in an far as I have the power It will be my purpose while governor of Pennsylvania. as it has been my purpose in the public positions that I have held, with God's help, to discharge my whole duty. The people are greater than the parties to which they belong. I am only jealous of their favor. I shall only attempt to wir their approval and my experience has taught me that that can best be done by an honest, modest, daily discharge of public duty.

When the ballots are counted week after next it will be found that Pennsylvania has not lost faith in either Republican principles or Republican leadership.

THAT DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer. The Scranton school authorities are nat The Scranton school authorities are nat-urally anxious to get rid of the diph-theria epidemic prevailing in a portion of that city, and they are also anxious to trace the origin of the disease. The pa-tients, some sixty-two in number, are nearly all pupils of one public school, a fact which indicates that the school was the place from which the disease was spread even if it did not originate there. The closing of the school was a step in the right direction, but the discovery that the ventilating shaft was connected with the ventilating shaft was connected with the sewer should not be too readily accepted as a final and complete explana tion of the origin of the epidemic, for the breathing of sewer gas will not of itself produce diphtheria any more than the sating of apples will produce cholera.

At such a time there is some danger man has been responsible for the entire that the discovery of the connection be-tween the sewer and the ventilating shaft may produce a fancied security that will cause the overlooking of the real source of ause the overlooking of the real source of nfection. That danger is lessened by the common practice of disinfecting school houses thoroughly and in every part af-ter an epidemic has prevailed. The fre-quency with which epidemics break cut in the schools immediately after the opening of the school year suggests that the germs of the school year suggests that the germs of disease have remained over from the previous school year. The closed, darkened and empty school buildings pro-duce a condition of damp walls and foors that are specially favorable to the multiplication of diphtheria germs.

> The remedy for this would be to keep the school rooms open during the sum-mer, to let the sun shine in them and the air to blow through them, and to give the rooms a thorough disinfection just before school begins instead of waiting for epidemics of diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and other diseases to break out before these steps are taken.

THE MAJORITY'S WISH.

From the Philadelphia Press. It is absurd to say that the people o this country cannot govern a colony. Such an assertion has nothing to rest on except the inclination of some few per-sons always ready to depreciate their own country at the expense of foreign na-tions. The best government on the face of the earth is that of the United States. for Fair Play. We can govern colonics better than any other nation. It may be a question for fair discussion as to whether or not the United States should undertake to govern the Philippine Islands. But it is not a question of doubt as to whether or not we are as a nation competent to do it. We can do it well; and as the great majority of the people believe that we should retain the Philippine Islands, and this is a nation where the majority rules, that will probably be the outcome. The majority will be disappointed over any other settlement of the question.

An Object Lesson.

The Baltimore American, in the his standpoint in a clear, forcible manner, who knows his case is not so desperate as to call for the aid of mudslinging, is far more apt to command the attention of the public than the loud-mouthed bawler."

Application of these observations can be made without impropriety to the present Pennsylvania campaign. We have had in this contest much loudmouthed bawling, much throwing of mud and a tremendous quantity of personal defamation and scandal. One of the candidates for governor, a gentleman bearing next to his name the honorary title of Doctor of Divinity, has traversed the state frantically denouncing all his adversaries as thieves and robbers; another candidate, afraid to face his own party's record on national issues, has manufactured a set of spurious state issues and has predicated his appeal for votes upon the hypothesis that the Republican party is an organized conspiracy of public plunder; while yet a third gentleman of prominence. ence professing to be a Republican, has in the bitterness of jealousy and revenge, spread broadcast at great financial cost the literature of abuse and misrepresentation and the machinery of party disorganization upon which these different factors in opposition to Republicanism chiefly base their respective hopes of success. Study of the tactics of Dr. Swallow, Judge Jenks and John Wanamaker might not seem to sustain the Baltimore American in its belief concerning a recent gain in Democrat.
