FIRE IN A FACTORY. Was Productive of no Little Excitement Yesterday Morning.

At 9:50 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sent in from box 26, at the corner of Washington and Lackawanna avenues. When the central city companies responded, their attention was directed to the quarters of the Union Manufacturing company's shirt and overalls factory, which is located on the third floor of the old Monday building. The blaze did not start in the factory, but was caused by a pile of refuse paper becoming ignited in the rear of the plant.

The most exciting feature of the affair was the panic stricken condition of the thirty-five young women who are employed at the establishment. When the volumes of smoke filled the large room the cries of "fire" were made with a vim. A desperate dash was made for the elevator, which is operated by hand. Fifteen of the girls got aboard, but it came to a stop within a few feet while between floors. By the use of ladders the young women were removed.

BODY NOT IDENTIFIED. No One Has Claimed the Remains of the Man Killed Near the Tunnel.

The man killed about Nay Aug tunnel on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western road Wednesday night has not been identified. Attorney A. N. Walker viewed the body at Raub's undertaking establishment yesterday morning and failed to identify him. It was not George Crawford, who worked for Mr. Walker's father at Keelersburg and was in the city Wednesday.

Corner Longstreet viewed the body and will empanel a jury to investigate the case. If the body is not claimed by today's undertaker Raub will bury it at the expense of the poor board.

Had a Right to Expect It. "Next Sunday, brethren," said the Rev. Mr. Goodman, leaning benevolently upon his assembled flock, "I shall preach a sermon upon the evidences of Christianity, and I sincerely hope that one of these evidences will be a full house whether it rains or not."—Chicago Tribune.

Fickle Man. "George, before we were married you were pleased if I sat in your lap."

"Yes, dear."

"But, now, if I do, you say: 'Gracious, Julia—your're forever resting on my lame knee.'"—Chicago Record.

FOR A THIRD TIME FINCH IS WINNER

OPINION OF SUPREME COURT IN AN INTERESTING CASE.

Suit Over the Possession of Mine Machinery That Has Been Actively Before Court for Three Years. The Referee, the Court of First Instance and the Supreme Court Reach the Same Final Decision, but by Different Routes—Justice Dean's Findings.

Prothonotary Copeland yesterday received a copy of Justice Dean's opinion in the case of the Finch Manufacturing company against the Sterling company, which was decided in favor of the plaintiff at the recent session of the Supreme court in Pittsburgh.

The case is peculiar from this fact, that although the referee's finding of facts on the main question at issue was reversed by the local court and the local court's decision reversed by the Supreme court, all three decisions were alike in favor of the plaintiff, Ed. Torrey, who was the referee. He decided that the Chamberlain company was solvent and found for the Finch company. Justice Dean decides that if the company was insolvent the allegation of fraud was well founded, but holds that the insolvency was not proven and that the Finch company therefore wins.

CAUSE OF THE SUIT.

This is a suit over the possession of two engines, boilers, connections and pumps that were levied upon by the Chamberlain coal company at the instance of the Sterling company. The Finch Manufacturing company claimed the property by purchase. The Chamberlain company owed the Finch company a book account of $10,000. The Finch company offered to buy the machinery for its real value, $2,100, and credit it on the $10,000 account. The Chamberlain company accepted the offer and later delivered the goods to the Finch company in Scranton.

The Sterling company opposed this claim with the allegation that E. A. Finch, being president, director and stockholder, of both the Chamberlain and Finch companies the sale was irregular, he being aware, it was claimed, that the Chamberlain company was insolvent and by reason of this knowledge took an advantage that was prejudicial to the other creditors.

In response to this Mr. Finch averred that the Chamberlain coal company was not insolvent at the time of the sale and further that he did not vote on the sale at the meeting of the Chamberlain company's stockholders.

The case was referred to James H. Torrey, as referee, and he found that the coal company was not insolvent at the date of the sale and that the sale was not made in contemplation of future insolvency. On exception, however, the local court reversed the referee at this point, but adopted his general finding in favor of the Finch company, that "while it was presumptively a fraudulent preference, the presumption is rebutted by the facts, that the preference was in no way secured by solicitation or by the influence of Finch."

LOWER COURT REVERSED.

The Supreme court now reverses the local court's reversal of the referee. Justice Dean holds that if the coal company was insolvent at the local court declared, the sale could not have been otherwise than void, as Finch, from his prominence in the coal company, presumably knew of its insolvency, and his refusal to vote on the sale would not rebut the inference of fraudulent preference.

In accepting the referee's findings as to the company's solvency at the time of the sale, Justice Dean says: "At the date of the transaction the company had expended more than $350,000 in improvements, had really paid in advance, royalties to the amount of $55,000; it had valuable leases, the organization was new and from the very beginning the coal trade had been in such a state of depression that it had conducted a losing business; it had given an option for the purchase of the entire plant at the price of $487,500, which did not expire until January 1 following; a sale, at this figure, would have paid all the debts and saved a very considerable value to the stock. Although hampered by debts, it did not follow that the company was insolvent. The referee has found as a fact, on sufficient evidence, that the company was not insolvent at the date of the sale of this property, and that the sale was not made in contemplation of insolvency, it is not apparent to us that the finding is manifestly wrong. The fact sustains the decree and it is affirmed."

Judge Archibald, upon receipt of the decision, made an order directing the sheriff to turn over to the Finch Manufacturing company the $1,200.00 that was derived from the sheriff's sale of the machinery.

DEATH OF PRIVATE DWYER.

He Was a Member of Company B, Thirtieth Regiment. James Dwyer, a private of Company B, Thirtieth regiment, died yesterday morning at the Lackawanna hospital, of Bright's disease. He came to his home in this city on a sick leave two weeks ago and went to the Lackawanna hospital for treatment.

The death of Private Dwyer makes the number of members of the Thirtieth who have answered roll call for the last time, fourteen.

He was 25 years of age and was a printer by trade. When the first call for volunteers was issued by the Thirtieth he responded and was mustered into the regiment at Mt. Gretna. His mother, Mrs. Martin Dwyer, of Hallsburg, Pa., is in the city.

TIME FOR PAYING TAXES EXTENDED

PENALTY WILL NOT BE IMPOSED UNTIL AFTER DEC. 15.

Select Council Met Specially Last Night to Pass the Resolution Sent Over from the Common-Session of the Latter Branch Was Very Business-Like—Every Member Was in Attendance, But There Was No Speech-Making—The Ordinances Introduced.

City taxes will not have the penalty added until after Dec. 15. A resolution extending the time of payment without penalty until that date passed both branches of council last night. Select council met specially to pass the resolution and adjourned after having done so without transacting any other business.

The session of common council—and every member was in attendance—was entirely devoid of speeches or discussions. Things went through with a rush. The only break in the proceedings was when a resolution from select directing the city engineer to change the specifications of the asphalt repair measure so as to call for standard pitch asphalt was read. Mr. Gilroy made a motion to lay it on the table indefinitely. The motion carried unanimously.

City Engineer Phillips sent in a communication recommending that $28.25 be transferred from the fund provided for the Parbur court sewer to pay Mrs. D. Webster, as the contractor, Thornton & Co., failed to do the work in front of her premises and she had it done at her own expense.

PASSED TWO READINGS. Ordinances that passed first and second reading were as follows: Providing for the appointment of a permanent man as engineer for Nay Aug Chemical engine, providing for the appointment of a permanent man for Columbia Chemical company; providing for the paving and curbing of Breck court from Spruce street with asphalt; providing for the erection of an electric light on Wyoming avenue, near Grandview avenue; providing for the streets in the plot of John T. Richards and John A. Mears in the Fifteenth ward; providing for the erection of a fire hydrant at each of the following places: The intersection of Ninth and West 23d streets; the intersection of Hyde Park avenue and Rock street; the intersection of Twelfth and West Locust streets; and on Locust street, midway between South Main avenue and Twelfth street.

Ordinances were introduced providing for three electric lights in the Fourth district of Nineteenth ward; providing for the laying of five-foot flagstone sidewalks on both sides of Fig street from Pittston to Stone avenues; providing for the appointment of a permanent man for the Phoenix company; providing for an electric light in the Fifth ward; providing for the laying of flagstone sidewalks on the easterly side of Washington avenue, between Myrtle and Poplar streets; and providing for the purchase of three teams for the fire department, one for the Neptunes, one for the General Phinneys, one for the Cumberlandians and one horse for the use of the chief of the fire department.

ACTION CONCURRED IN. Resolutions concurred in were: Allowing George S. Horn to connect his property on Irving avenue with the Mulberry street sewer; directing the city engineer to use his best judgment in narrowing North Main avenue to lines that will preserve as many of the shade trees as possible; awarding the contract for Stipp court sewer to Vincent T. O'Hara at the price of his bid.

LIUTENANT DENTLER HOME. Came from Porto Rico on a Brief Furlough to Visit His Family.

Lieutenant Clarence E. Dentler, of the United States army, arrived in Pittston Wednesday evening on a brief visit to his family. Lieutenant Dentler, after closing the recruiting office which he conducted early in the summer, accompanied his regiment, the Eleventh infantry, to Porto Rico, in command of Company K, which position he yet holds. Upon the declaration of peace, the Eleventh was ordered into camp at Mayaguez.

On Oct. 10, Lieutenant Dentler was fortunate enough to secure a thirty days' leave of absence and at once sailed from Ponce on the United States transport Chester, hoping to make a quick passage home. In this, he was disappointed, as the Chester, upon touching at Santiago, was ordered back to Ponce. The two days spent at Santiago were not wasted, however.

The lieutenant procured a map and guide books and made a thorough inspection of the battlefield on horseback, visiting San Juan hill and the other points of special interest. Seven days after leaving Ponce the first time, he found himself back in that city. He then secured passage on the United States hospital ship Relief, which has for several months been bringing sick soldiers home from Porto Rico and Cuba, and landed in Philadelphia on Wednesday.

HAD NO GRIEVANCES. Joint Protective Board of the Brotherhood of Firemen Concluded Its Work in This City Yesterday—Officers Chosen.

"We had no grievance to consider; nothing to do in fact but elect officers," was the statement made last night by F. J. May, chairman of the Joint Protective Board of the Brotherhood of Firemen of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western system. The board which was in annual session in this city concluded its work yesterday afternoon and adjourned.

The officers chosen were: F. J. May, of Hallett, chairman; Thomas Gibbons, of Syracuse, N. Y., vice chairman and W. O. Smith, of Elmira, secretary and treasurer. Others who attended the meeting were: A. J. Corlizer, of No. 29, Scranton; J. J. Walsh, 34, Hoboken; John Finnerty, 27, Port Morris, N. J.; E. Prall, No. 1, Phillipsburg, N. J.; F. Wilcox, 27, Binghamton; P. H. Davis, Utica; Ed. Norris, Kingston; C. H. Connolly, 27, Buffalo.

President May has been chairman of the board for ten years and has always been elected by acclamation. With reference to the meeting Mr. May said last night:

"Our constitution and by-laws require that we meet annually and the meeting just ended was the regular, annual event. At this meeting it is customary to consider any grievances that may have cropped up. This year everything is harmonious; there are no wrongs that require righting."

"We take no little pride in the management of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, by whom the men of our brotherhoods are employed. There is a disposition to treat a man fairly and if he has a grievance he is accorded a fair hearing, something short-sighted railroad men think a bad thing to do. The harmony and good feeling that exists between the men and officials of the company are employed by, shows that when you respect a man and treat him as a man there is small danger of having much trouble with him. It is the discontented, ill-treated man that is a thorn in the side of the employer."

Besides showing a disposition to treat men fairly the management of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company stands at the head of the list in the matter of providing for the safety of its workmen. Ninety-eight per cent. of the rolling stock of that company is provided with automatic couplers, as against an average of 33 per cent. used by other railroad companies.

A Piano's Name. It takes a fabulous amount of money and years of ceaseless labor to make a piano famous. The ordinary piano buyer never thinks of this intangible factor, although the experienced music seller knows all about it, and generally prefers to sell the piano with a recognized name because it's easier and there's often more money in it.

At the Same Time there are meritorious pianos, the names of which are not widely known, simply because the builders cannot afford to expend the money necessary to make them famous. Consequently he sells his instruments to the dealers for their intrinsic value and trusts that their merit will win fame for him by and by.

All This Simply Means that such pianos are sold for what they are actually worth and buyers get full value for every dollar they invest in them. We have several such pianos in stock, all of the latest design and fully warranted. Prices $50 to $250.
