A BELIEF THAT HE IS DELAY-ING EVACUATION OF CUBA.

Washington May Assume a Sterner Attitude-Spain Has 200,000 Well Armed Men in the Island-The Captain General Collecting Revenues and Pocketing Them-He Has Not Attempted to Remove Mines in the Harbor-Will Give Our Commissioners No Information About

Washington, Oct. 28 .- Although It is now within a few days of three months since the protocol by which Spain agreed to renounce all claim to all sovereignty over and all her rights in the island of Cuba and immediately evacuate Cuba was signed, almost 200,000 Spanish troops are in the island.

The peace protocol was signed on August 12 and the military commission, of which General Wade is chairman, has been in Havana since the first week in September endeavoring to arrange the details of the evacua-

A RIG ARMY.

It was reported at the war department today that there were 118,000 Spanish regulars and 21,000 Spanish volunteers on duty in Cuba, in addition to $2,000 Spanish volunteers who are under arms but are not in active service. General Blanco has at this minute under his command an army of 191,000 Spanish soldiers, as thoroughly equipped and as immediately available as it was while the war was on. His force is as large today as it was at the beginning of the war, save for the 10,000 troops under General Toral, who surrendered to General Shafter at Santiago and were transported home at our expense. The Spanish commissioners in Havana protest that they cannot arrange for a complete evacuation of the island for six months. The American commissioners believe that the Spanish troops can be denorted within forty days if reasonable zeal is shown, and they have become impatient because of General Blanco's dilatory tactics. It is a fact that General Blanco bas not done anything toward the relinquishment of Spain's sovereignty In Cuba. He has been even more skillful in his dilatory tactics than have the Spanish peace commissioners in theirs at Paris. He has refrained from doing anything toward removing the mines from the harbor of Hayana, and has refused to put the American commissioners in possession of information as to the location of them or the control of them. That makes it impossible for our navy to remove them, except by tedious dragging, and on American ship entering the harbor of Havana today is as much at the mercy of the Spanish authorities as was the ill-fated Maine.

of the whole of the island of Cuba, cellects duties at the Havana custom continues to sell worthless military gether in New York city. property and to keep intact and under his own control all the modern fertifications of the city. In short, he is far from living up to the terms of the protocol, and it appears to the authorities in Washington as though spain is endeavoring deliberately to hold Havana as a pledge for consideration at the hands of the peace commission.

Spain could undoubtedly have all her troops out of Cuba before Dec. 1 If she was sincere. As it is, in spite of the pledges said to have been made by the commissioners at Paris, it is not improbable that the United States will have to assume a more determined attitude to obtain possession of the Island.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"Faust" at the Lyceum.

At 8 o'clock last evening every seat in the Lyceum was sold and many turned away because they could secure nothing but standing room. The production of "Faust" by Lewis Morrison and his company was responsible for the unusual throng.

Morrison and his spectacular drama e great favorites in this city, a fact that was never better demonstrated than by last night's great audience. The drama is superbly staged and Mr. Morrison has the assistance of a splendid company in interpreting it. This afternoon and evening "Faust" will be repeated at the Lyceum.

All ladies delight in seeing beautiful gowns, even if they are not permitted to wear them. In order that the ladies of this city may see and examine the magnificent gowns to be worn by Miss Annie Louise Ames, at the opera house next week. The management for Miss Ames has arranged to exhibit the wardrobe on the stage directly after the matinee performance next Tues-day. All ladies are cordially invited to view the gowns, which are said to be the finest worn by any actress on the stage. They were designed and made by Adolph Kriveruk, the court costumer of Vienna, who has made all the apparel worn by the royalty of Austria for the last eight years. They nust be seen and examined closely to appreciate the lavish expenditure of noney and time put on them. Seaver Royal Automaton will open every performance of the Waite company which will be at the Academy of Music all next week.

The Jolly Musketeer. Jeff de Angelis, long the favorite omedian of the famous New York 'asino and who has starred during the past two seasons in the great triple star alliance—Russell, De Angells and Fox-in "The Wedding Day," will be seen here at the Lyceum theater, Monday, Oct. 31, in Julian Edwards and Stanislaus Stange's entirely new and original opera comique entitled, 'The Jolly Musketeer." We may congratulate ourselves on getting ahead of New York city in the hearing of this opera, as "The Jolly Musketeer" is, in size and importance, one of the General Bianco remains in command red-letter bookings of the coming season. The Knickerbocker Burlesquers are coming to the Galety, commencing with a matinee Monday, October 31. company, than which there is no better known one on the road has met with a series of successes since its organization, and presents a bright, funny musical comedy, without the flavor of vulgarity to which so many so-called burlesque shows are obliged to resort. This company includes the three Gardners, Shayne and Worden, Raymond and West, Mae Taylor, Grant and Durand, Mike S. Whalen, Ada Ray, Jeannette Courtney, Vera Woods, Ru-by Raymond, Jessie Holden, Annie Hawthorne, Sadic Johnson, Charles Smith, John Pisteria and others. The costumes are magnificent and the scenery and stage effects superb. Do not fail to see the Knickerbockers.

New York, Oct. 28 .- The stock martet took on today many of the characteristics of a bull campaign in full force. Business was large and exceedingly well distributed, many of the usually inactive stocks being brought usually inactive stocks being brought. ecteristics of a bull campaign in full forward into the movement when the market was much less dominated by the specialties which, however, coninued very active, especially Sugar and Tobacco. The former stock was less violent in its fluctuations than on yesterday, and although it advanced $500 DOWN AND $50 MONTHLY BUYS A veral times, it met more stock than it could carry. It ended the day unchanged. Tobacco, on the other hand, after a factional decline, surged strongnearly 5 points. The rise was coupled with rumors of the flotation of the new plug tobacco company and the taking n of many large competitors in that field. Another conspicuous movement was that in the iron and steel stocks, which were led by the dealings in the securities of the new Federal Steel company when issued. Total sales of
