COLONEL STONE'S PLATFORM.

It will be my purpose when elected to conduct myself as to win the respect and good will of those who have opposed me as well as those who have given me their support.

formia that the great Republican stronghold of Pennsylvania had fallen in her allegiance and had joined the Democratic column.

The cute Democratic Greeks who are trying to sneak into the Republican Troy, concealed in the wooden horse of state issues, would drop that at once and shout themselves hoarse over the great victory for cheap money.

There is absolutely no occasion for the sensational cry of protest which is being raised against McKinley's intention to buy islands already ours by right of conquest.

It would be to Mr. Wanamaker's credit if he would come out like a man and say whom he is for or against. The negative position is not popular with positive men.

Encouraging news comes from New York state. Everywhere within its borders Republicans are lining up. Each day adds to Roosevelt's strength.

There are none to whom political corruption appears so glaring as to the man who has failed to get an office.

The Challenge Accepted. The effort of Mr. Wanamaker to convey the impression that he was an invited guest of the city of Scranton and that the proprieties of hospitality were outraged when this paper in its editorial terms expressed its opinions.

Now that the leader of the revolutionary forces in Pennsylvania has thrown aside the mask and declared war as well upon the congressional as upon the state ticket, it behooves Republicans who are Republicans in spirit and in principle.

The issue thus raised is plain, specific and unavoidable. Mr. Wanamaker by his course has forced a show of hands. He has put himself against the Republican ticket from top to bottom.

Mr. Jenks says that if elected governor he will "try to prevent" the use of that Democratic victory as a stimulus to Democratic exertion in the presidential contest two years hence.

It is worthy of note that the proposition to pay Spain a sum of money for the Philippine islands has received as yet no official endorsement.

In demanding the Philippines we have agreed to assume such part of the debt as has been contracted and expended for honest internal improvement.

Whether there should also be payment to Spain of an additional sum, as a kind of peace offering, to partly restore her good humor and mollify the rough edges of her war wounds.

Pennsylvania Now the Pivotal State.

From the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette. IN 1882 and again in 1890 the Republicans of Pennsylvania through apathy and experiments with Democratic promises permitted the state to go Democratic and by so doing, in each instance, they encouraged the forces opposed to Republicanism throughout the country.

It counted for nothing that it had not done so, but had made the mistake of accepting the explanation that those state campaigns had no relation to national affairs, and of indulging in off-year apathy and experiments.

Are any of them so shortsighted they do not see that the policies which have been promoting the better conditions should not be handicapped, but should be strengthened and expanded?

When Mr. Wanamaker's agent bargained for and bought the vote of a candidate for legislator at the Hotel Jersey in this city in the last campaign for the senator, it was Mr. Connell that had the transaction, and Mr. Wanamaker felt that he was getting even last night by attacking him in his home.

John Wanamaker made a bluff about raising a regiment, but his patriotism is unimpaired and he is now "raising" something else.
