FUNERAL OF THE LATE J. L. LAWRENCE.

Impressive Services Conducted in the Providence Methodist Episcopal Church by Rev. William Edgar Over the Remains—Hallowe'en Reception—Marquette Council Literary Circle Elects Officers—News of Wesser Movement in Paraglyphs.

J. L. Lawrence was buried yesterday. The final scene in the life of a pioneer representative of this city and a man who sized up to every obligation on this earth were pathetic and an emphasis of the great esteem the grand old man was held in. The family residence on Summit avenue was filled with people during the morning hours. Persons in all walks of life were present.

There was brief preliminary services held at the house before the remains were borne to the Providence Methodist Episcopal church, where impressive services were held. A large body of mourners filled the church. Rev. William E. Edgar, pastor, assisted by Rev. Richard H. Jones, an intimate and long standing friend of the deceased, officiated. Rev. Mr. Horns offered prayer and eulogized the exemplary character of the deceased in a few well chosen remarks. Rev. Mr. Edgar delivered the funeral sermon. His basis of talk was from the following text: "If there be any virtue, if there be any praise, think on these things." Reference to the long standing of the deceased in the church, his invaluable support and philanthropic spirit, sincere Christianity were brought to notice. Mr. Edgar's remarks evoked the deepest emotion. During the services a quartette composed of Miss Saunders, Mrs. Norton, Fred Smith and Richard Latham rendered sacred music.

The floral emblems were beautiful and profuse. Two floral gifts, one from the Sunday school class which he had taught for a period of twenty-five years, and one from the Sunday school board, were exceedingly beautiful. After the remains were viewed the pallbearers, Thomas Jenkins, John Fidler, Joseph T. Powell, W. H. Anderson, Thomas Shotton, John Armstrong, assisted in their conveyance to their final resting place in Forest Hill cemetery.

SOUTH SCRANTON. Alderman Lentos, who presided over police court yesterday, had only one vagrant who was picked up the night before by Patrolman George Jones. The prisoner by his answers led the alderman to believe him innocent and he was sent for to examine him. The doc tor would not pronounce him insane, but thought he might be suffering a mental ailment from overindulgence in liquor. He was sent up for thirty days. Thomas Barrett, who failed to appear in Alderman Lentos' court Monday night to answer a charge of assault and battery, was arrested by Patrolman H. Lavelle, as told in this column yesterday, visited the alderman's office yesterday afternoon and gave good and valid reasons for his failure to appear. He was released on his own recognizance and the charges of assault and battery were dropped. Lavelle was not well founded, in the alderman's opinion and he was told that if he would not answer the charges of assault and battery, he would be arrested and taken to the jail. He then gave a check for $500 to answer the charges of assault and battery. He then gave a check for $500 to answer the charges of assault and battery. ALL HIS BONES BROKEN.

Remarkable Series of Accidents to an English Collier. From the Lancet. As might naturally be expected from his hazardous occupation, the collier is frequently injured by accidents underground. But the following particulars deserve, I think, a space in the Lancet because of the strange series of fractures sustained by the man, as well as the remarkable coincidences in the date of their occurrence. A man, aged forty-four years, short and well built, was first attended by me on August 26, 1890, for a compound fracture of the left leg, resulting from a portion of the roof or top falling and striking him, while following his employment in Rieca colliery. The patient made an uninterrupted recovery and was able in about six months to resume his work underground. The patient's previous history, told by himself and corroborated by others, is very remarkable. With the exception of an attack of typhoid fever, which he had when eighteen years of age, and two or three attacks of quincy subsequently, he had not suffered bodily in any way. He was always very temperate and led a strictly abstemious life. He had no misfortunes in the mine were many and are remarkable from the fact that they all happened on the 26th day of August. Here is his record. At the age of ten years he fractured his right index finger. It happened on August 26. When thirteen years old he fractured his left leg below the knee through falling from horseback, also on August 26. When fourteen years of age he fractured both bones of the left forearm by stumbling, his arm striking the edge of a brick, August 26. In another year, on August 26, when fifteen years of age, he had compound fracture of the left leg above the ankle by his foot being caught under an iron rod and his body falling forward. Next year, again on the same date, August 26, he had compound fracture of both legs, the right being so severely crushed that it had to be amputated at the lower third of the thigh. This was caused by a horse, hitched to a train of coal, which, running wild underground, caught him in a narrow passage, crushing both legs severely. After this he did not work on August 26 for twenty-eight years, and little wonder, for in the year 1890 he forgot his fateful day and went to work with the result that he sustained the compound fracture which I have mentioned in the beginning. After this he has studiously avoided working on August 26, though never missing work at other times.

DAY'S DOINGS OF DUNMORE BOROUGH

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Teachers Who Are Not Keeping Up to the Standard Required of Them Will Be Discharged if They Do Not Improve in Their Work—Council Meeting Did Not Take Place—Evidences of Hallowe'en Observances, Church, Society and Personal Notes of General Interest.

The regular monthly meeting of the school board was held in No. 1 building last evening. Messrs. Wilson, Bronson, Kellam, Webber and McPens being present. Bills aggregating $1,302.52 were approved. Mr. Webber, chairman of the committee, appointed to select and buy a tract of land in Prospect park for the erection of a new school building, reported that he had seen several of the property owners in regard to purchasing from them and found that several lots could be bought at reasonable prices from the Throp estate. The committee was continued with instructions to do what they thought best in the matter and report the same at the next meeting. Superintendent Bovard, in his monthly report, said there were several teachers who are not keeping up to the standard required of them.

MUST IMPROVE THEIR WORK.

If they do not improve in their work they are to be discharged. He also reported that the number of pupils enrolled for last month was 2,150, or an average daily attendance of 93 per cent. The revision of the rules and regulations, of which he has charge and which were adopted by the board and if they proved satisfactory adopted, was laid over until next meeting. The grounds around No. 5 building were reported to be in a bad condition. During the past two weeks two children have fallen and hurt themselves owing to the condition of the yard, which has never been graded or otherwise repaired and which, unless repaired before winter sets in, will render it impossible for the children to reach the school house. The night school subject was brought before the board again for discussion. A petition from a number of citizens from the Sixth ward, being presented to the board. It was, however, mislaid and the matter was put over until the next special meeting. Traction Officer Thornton was the subject of an interesting discussion. It was clearly understood that he was being paid a salary, or by the number of school days he worked per month. Mr. Wilson stated him to work around the different buildings which needed repairs. Mr. Kellam objected to this thing of paying a man $2 per day for work that can be done for $1.50 at least. Several bills were brought before the board that dated back for over a year. These will not be paid unless vouchered for by the committee man who was on the board at that time and who ordered it. This is becoming an old thing now and the board is preparing to have a law, which will require all to have their bills there the first meeting night in the month. They then adjourned to meet Tuesday, November 15.

COUNCIL DID NOT MEET.

The council met last evening, but no business was transacted. It adjourned to meet Thursday evening. The regular monthly meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church was held last evening in the church parlors. Following the school subject which requires all to have their bills there the first meeting night in the month. They then adjourned to meet Tuesday, November 15.

CHINCHILLA.

A most picturesque surprise party was tendered to Mr. John Webster at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson on Hallowe'en night. Mr. Willis Leonard entertained the company with some fine selections upon the piano. At a seasonable hour refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Willis Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Hart Griffin, the Misses Jessie Snyder, Edith White, Clara Von Storch, Helen Leach, Cora Gernon, Lina Storch, Miss Cole, Fannie Kennedy, Gertrude Kennedy, Mrs. Konrad, Bernice Hall, Willis Leonard, Edward Leonard, Ralph Bailey, Charles Miller, Joseph Crosdale, Ralph Newton, Jet Von Storch, Ralph White, Elmer Stocum, William Wheeler.

A SUMATRA PARASITE.

It is a Flower of Prodigious Size and Repulsive Odor. From the Providence Journal. Among the marvelous plants that the last century has made known none is more remarkable than the huge parasite Rafflesia. It derives its name from Sir Stamford Raffles, who in 1818, was governor of Bencoolen, in Sumatra. He was at one time on a tour of the island, accompanied by Lady Raffles, Dr. Arnold and quite a party of Europeans and natives. Suddenly they alighted upon the flower of prodigious size and repulsive odor, more than a yard across, and weighing fifteen pounds. Its color was a light orange, mottled with yellowish white, the whole thing lit and visited by carrion insects. Later investigations showed the plant to consist of flower alone, directly parasitic on a species of climus. It never has stem or leaves of its own. The famous Robert Brown bestowed the name on the plant Rafflesia. Arnold, commemorating thus the titles of both discoverer. Several species are now known, differing much in size, but little in essentials. Their growth occupies but a few months. They first appear as knob-like protuberances protruding from the bark of various species of climus. The flowers remain expanded only a few days, then becoming a disgusting mass of putridity. As in the similar case of one well-known carrion flower, the insects, attracted by the odor, also assist in the pollination. These parasites flower at a different time from the host plants, thus making their own blossoms more prominent. They have been cultivated in various botanic gardens, especially in the east. This plant is among the giant flowers, ranking in size with the great water lily of the Amazons, and with some of the huge tropical aroids. A peatflower in Trinidad is said to be several feet in length, its banner, or upper petal being alone a foot long. The range from these titans to the almost invisible flower of water starwort is tremendous, but the little is fashioned as carefully as the great. Nature leaves no corner unfinished for the reason that it is minute.
