SCULPTOR WENTZEL'S EXPERI-ENCE WITH A BEAR.

Death of a Former Sheriff of Susquehanna County-The Man Who Beat His Sister by Mistake. Chance for Live Men to Develop Carbondale and Honesdale-Fell from a Tree.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Nov. 8 .- When a gang of bluestone quarymen came from the Equinunk section to Deep Hollow last summer they brought with them a huge cinnamon bear, the remnant of a onehorse menagerie. The brute was named "Dewey," and he became a great pet with the quarrymen and the vicinity farmers. He made himself generally useful about the camp and the gang valued him highly. One day of last week the quarymen went to Binghamton to attend a political meeting leaving "Dewey" alone in the camp. Dur-ing the afternoon there sauntered into the camp one Wentzel, a blue stone cutter, hailing from Rutledgedale over in Wayne county somewhere. Finding no one at home he proceeded to make himself comfortable until the return of the quarrymen. Putting his blanket and "kit" on the ground he collected some deadwood, built a fire and began to eat some corned beef and crackers, The second mouthful he swallowed he was startled by hearing a growl just behind him, which made him drop the food on the ground and brought him to his feet with a jump. Looking, he saw coming toward him at a rapid gait and with mouth wide open a huge cinnamon bear. He gave a bound for an oak tree, which he climbed with a rapidity which afterward astonishe! himself. As luck would have it, the tree was a large one and had a convenient fork about twenty feet from the ground. Before the bear reache! the tree Wentzel had climbed into the fork, and, throwing his arms around a limb, clung to it with grim determination, while the bear put his huge foretree like a reed. Failing to shake Wentzel out of the tree the bear uttered the Gravity of the situation. several deep growls, and then went spiffing toward the fire and began to eat Wentzei's litle store of provisions. Wentzel took advantage of the bear's absence, and, getting a rope out of his pocket, tied himself firmly to the tree. After devouring the provisions, the bear began to tear the blanket, inwhich he found a hard, shiny substance which he tried to eat, but finding it too hard, he dropped it between his forcpaws and then brought it down with a smash upon a rock beside the fire. A terrific explosion rent the air, while bear, tons of earth and great pieces of rock went skyward like a flash, When the quarrymen returned they found Wentzel in a dead faint in the tree. One of the party climbed up to him, and, cutting the rope, lowered him to the ground where he soon recovered. He had sustained little injury, but his clothing was literally stripped from his body by the force of the concussion. A few pieces of flesh almost the width of a man's hand was at that could be found of faithful old "Dewey." The cause of the explosion was a large cartridge of dynamite, which Wentzel carried in his blanket, and which the bear exploded by concussion. Wentzel was fitted out with lothing and resumed his tramp The Deep Hollow quarrymen sincerely

Life may be a burden, but to most of is it isn't heavy as a shroud. It is said of a great man who just died that "he began life as a barefooted boy." Come to think, we boys all began life that way.

Don't cry over spilled milk. It may two-thirds water. When a young man sits in the parlor talking nonsense to his best girl-that's capital. But when he has to stay in of evenings after they are married-that's labor. The bald-headed man is just as well satisfied with a back sent as with a

It is not the biggest thing that makes the most commotion. Take a mouse in a prayer meeting for instance, If you wish to keep your enemies from knowing any harm of you, don't let your friends know any. Satan can get more fun, with less exertion, among a lot of church singers than in any other coterie upon earth. If you want to get a good idea of the ottenness of politics, question a defeated candidate after election.

EXPECTED MOVE

TO THE SOUTH

WHAT GENERAL GOBIN HAS TO SAY ABOUT IT.

Eighth and Thirteenth Pennsyland Fifteenth Minnesota Gave a Brilliant Exhibition of Brigade Movements Under the Command of General Gobin-Details from the Thirteenth Packing Up Effects of the First Division Hospital.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Camp Meade, Middletown, Pa., Nov.

8.—After two days of unusually stormy weather, during which strong winds followed heavy rains, camp presents a very pleasant appearance today. Sat-urday night and the early part of Sunday morning everything was drenched and this process was immediately followed by brisk western winds, which tore over the plains and rolling hills of camp for twenty-four hours in a most wicked mood. Tent pegs had to be driven deep in order to withstand the pressure on the canvass, and in spite of every precaution there were several collapses.

At this date a private knows apparently as much about the time and manner of our contemplated movement from here as the highest officers. The Tribune correspondent had an interriew this afternoon with Brigadier General Gobin in regard to this matter, and the general stated that, while he had no definite knowledge on the subject he had arrived at some conclusions of his own. He is under the impression that of the troops in the First division the Third brigade will be the earliest to break camp.

The question of the time is still unsolved, but the brigade commander was very emphatic in expressing his preference for an immediate movement, as, he said, the weather is undoubtedly growing too cold for the accommodations which the men now have and they should not be kept here any

LETTER FROM SOUTH.

General Gobin also stated that he ad just received a letter from Lieutenant Brindel, of the Eighth Pennsylvania, who was detailed to go South ome time ago in the interests of the Third brigade, and who is now quartered at the Hotel Arlington, Augusta. Lieutenant Brindel reports that he is acting in the capacity of depot quartermaster, that he is now looking into the matter of erecting storehouses, and is raving a hospital built. In addition to this he also says that the place selected for the camping grounds of of time in the loading of the troops, the brigade is delightful, and the weather exceptionally pleasant.

One of the prettiest military pateants which has yet been seen at this camp was presented here this after- lights will be furnished by Chlef Comnoch, when the Eighth and Thirteenth Pennsylvania and Fifteenth Minnesttr., comprising the Third brigade and sunmanded by General Gobin, marched to the drill and parade grounds of the Eighth and gave a splendid exhibition of brigade movements, which are almost a lost art here. It was a beautiful sight to behold those complex evolutions of extended columns of solid blue passing and repassing over the green sward. The drill, which was witnessed with much interest and curiosity by the soldiery of the other encamped in the neighborho of the drill grounds, lasted an hour and was followed by review and dress parade. Throughout the drill and the elaborate military ceremonies which uccreded the men gave a good account of themselves and elicited words of warm praise both from General Gobin and from their own officers. Thus ends the last exercise in Pennsylvania of that famous old Third brigade, of which the Eighth and Thircenth are left, and which in its prime was the pride of the people of the Keystone state.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Mysore hands commenced with a burning on my flagers. When I rubbed them you could see little white pimples, and I felt like twisting them out of their sockets. I had high fever and cold chills, nights I had to waik the floor until I fell asleep. My hands peeled like an onlon, the flager nails got loose, the water ran out, and there the burning frowns. My hands pulled up worse than a toad, the water ran through the bandage out to the floor. I went to a dector for a year. I got Curicus Resolvent and Cuticus as Soar. The nails hardened up, peeled off, and my hands are now cured.
