

WHY PENNSYLVANIA LOST THE BIG GAME

FRANK ROTH GIVES THE EXPLANATION OF IT.

Some Magnificent Foot Ball Was Played by Both Teams—Combs' Unfortunate Mistake Made the Red and Blue Over-Anxious and a Number of Fumbles Resulted. Scenes After the Game Were a Fine Evidence of Sportsmanlike Spirit on the Part of Both Teams.

Written for The Tribune.

As often as it has been my fortune to write concerning athletics and the University of Pennsylvania, I never sit down to do it without a sense of happiness and elation. It is certainly quite an easy matter to write about foot ball, but when you are called upon to explain Pennsylvania's defeat at Cambridgeport nine-tenths of the critics picked her for a winner who have a very difficult task on hand. This is the first time that the red and blue has tasted the bitter sting of real defeat since '92. The Lafayette game was lost two years ago through experimenting. The critics universally conceded at the time that Penn was at least twenty points stronger than her opponents. There is no doubt that the Quakers lost the Harvard game because of atrocious fumbling by the backs and the unfortunate mistake of Combs in the first ten seconds of play, was really the deciding point of the game.

After that the men were too anxious not to repeat the fumbling and that anxiety caused them to drop punt after punt. In making Houghton kick continually, Captain Dibble showed great head work. The result of the game has set all sorts of rumors afloat. The most nonsensical "guards back" is a thing of the past. The "guards back" has been invincible for years and no team has been known to withstand the continual hammering. Stanz voiced himself freely before coming east with his team, that he had devised a system of defense to check "guards back" successfully. The game has been too recent to bear repetition of what that famous coach and his men said concerning Woodruff's style of play.

HARVARD'S CLAIM.

Harvard claims her defense was more than a match for it. Well, the best proof to the contrary is that on one occasion Outland's team pounded away for nearly seventy yards without once losing the ball and had Harvard found means to stop them that distance would never have been gained. When McCracken and Hare were given the ball they usually made their distance and on several occasions they burst clear through the line, carrying men along on their backs. When Pennsylvania lost ground it was on her attempt at coasting double passes, most of them costing distance which was hard to make up. Harvard's alert ends refused to be drawn in by the plays and generally nailed the man who was to make the play. Harvard's men played exceedingly good ball and too much credit cannot be given to Captain Dibble, who handled his men with wonderful ease and skill. His plays

A Carnival Of Furs

There's a chill in the air, and it leads us to announce the preparedness of our annual display.

For the women who prefer new ideas to old ones, this is a show worth attending; for we have carried over absolutely nothing from last year—these are all NEW.

Their novelty and beauty mark the source of their origin—our own imports from Paris, London and Berlin, and the confined styles from leading New York furriers.

We have bought largely and we have also bought well. It's THE GREATEST GATHERING OF FURS that we have ever shown.

Furthermore, these are our own garments, bought outright, and with each goes the Isaac Long guarantee of highest grade skins, perfection of making, and exclusiveness in style.

Touching the character of this collection—this hint of some of the leaders:

JACKETS--Of Alaskan Seal, Persian Lamb, Combinations of Broadtail and Sable.

CAPE--Of Electric Seal, Black Marten—Jerk, Mink—Stone Marten, Storm Collars, Cluster Scarfs, Collarettes and Boas, in all the Stylish Combinations of Fashionable Furs.

You will note the significant pre-eminence of moderate prices—prices unusually fair for such elegance as assembled here. Jackets up to $300, and other fur wearables as low as $2.49.

PREPARING TO MOVE TO THE SOUTH

THIRTEENTH WILL SOON BE EN ROUTE FOR GEORGIA.

Great Care Is to be Taken to Insure the Comfort of the Men During the Journey Southward—Regiment Is Now in Excellent Condition of Health and the Hospital HARRY A. C. MOORE, of Company A, Injured.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Camp Meade, Middletown, Nov. 11.—The preparations for the movement south of the Thirteenth regiment are now practically completed. The recent orders of the corps commander on this point are complete and cover all possible circumstances.

Extreme care is to be taken so as to insure the comfort and convenience of the men. They will carry with them travel rations for three days and the volume of each regiment must see to it that at convenient stations along the way coffee is prepared to be taken aboard the train and served to the soldiers. These places are to be determined after consulting with the conductor of the train and also with a view to the necessities of the trip. Food must also be provided for the horses.

The most stringent part of the order, however, relates to the medical care and supervision which are to be exercised. Each section must have with it one physician, whose duty it will be to thoroughly inspect the cars, to look to all the hygienic needs of the men and to have on hand an ample supply of medicines.

To make assurance doubly sure, the order further calls for the chief quartermaster and the chief surgeon to not only superintend all the work, but finally, when the train is ready to pull out, to verify everything which has been done. This has been rendered necessary on account of the long trip and the contingencies which may arise.

The Thirteenth happily is now in excellent health and will go south with much cheer and with hospital baggage which are a credit to the regiment. The men who have been absent on sick furloughs during the summer and fall months have returned to their commands and on an average the company losses are present as high as 95 per cent of the complement. A record which is not exceeded, if equalled, even by any other body of troops now at this camp.

Private Harry A. Moore of A company has the sympathy of his friends in the Thirteenth. Recently, while working on a wood detail and attempting to get out of the high army wagon, he became unbalanced and turned on his left foot, wrenching the muscle. The foot has been placed in bandages and Private Moore now walks with a limp. He is, however, recovering from the accident is somewhat painful for the time being it is no way serious, and the patient will soon be able to attend to his regular duties.

Catarrh Cured

Fullness in the Head and Ringing in the Ears

Getter in Every Way Since Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"For several years I had no cessation of the suffering caused by catarrh. I had a sense of fullness in the head and ringing in my ears. One of my nostrils was tightly closed so I could not breathe through it, and I could not clear my head. I tried several catarrh cures, but failed to get relief. Seeing accounts of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla I determined to give it a fair trial. After taking a few bottles I was satisfied it had effected a cure, for the catarrh no longer troubled me a particle and I felt better in every way than for years. I am now able to do a hard day's work on the farm." ALFRED E. YINER, Hoerstown, Pennsylvania.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Sold by all druggists. $1.00 a box.

UNABLE TO SEE FROM ECZEMA

I suffered with Eczema of the worst kind, my face and neck down to my shoulders were one inflammation, was not able to see out of my eyes for quite a while, and was unable to sleep for weeks, on account of the intense pain, which nearly drove me insane. My face and neck were swollen and made me look hideous. Had three doctors at different times, and not one of them could relieve me of my pain, swelling, and blotches. I used three bottles of CUTICURA Resolvent, four boxes CUTICURA Ointment, three boxes of CUTICURA Soap, and my friends and one of the doctors are surprised and asked, "When did you get well?" I tell them quickly, "Cuticura Cure." March 4, 1897. 23 Scholtz St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

moved southward. Each man had three days' travel rations and five days' field rations. The long train was made up of three sections, the last one having a hospital car attached. The last section of the Second Tennessee regiment did not get away until a late hour last night. While at the station some of the porters attacked an officer and one of them was stabbed. His name is Blue Ridge and he is said to be a noted distiller of moonshine in the Tennessee mountains. The First Maryland and Two Hundred and Third New York got away today some time, but the hour is not yet fixed. They are ready to take the cars. The Fourteenth Pennsylvania and Ninth Ohio battalions will leave on Sunday for Summerville, S. C. When the Second Tennessee regiment passed through here last night two girls from Middletown were discovered attired in soldier uniform on the train. They were going to follow their soldier lovers to camp, but they were arrested and placed in jail. General Young is disgusted with the delay in the movement of the troops south and issued orders today that he would hold the regimental commanders responsible for the delay. The First battalion of the Eighth Pennsylvania regiment will be retained here to guard the government property. The corps commander is well pleased with the location of Camp Meade there he has recommended that his corps be returned here next spring if it is not sent to Cuba earlier.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY RETURNS.

The Naval Hero States That Porto Rico Has a Great Future. New York, Nov. 11.—The United States cruiser Newark, in command of Commander Caspar F. Goodrich, and flying the flag of Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, arrived today from San Juan, Porto Rico, from which port she sailed on Nov. 6. On board the Newark with Rear Admiral Schley were his staff, composed of Flag Lieutenant James H. Sears, Flag Secretary B. W. Wells, Jr., and Ensign E. McCauley, aide, and Hon. Charles W. Russell, of the department of justice, legal adviser to the Porto Rican evacuation commission. The rear admiral had with him the report of the commission to the president, consisting of three bulky parcels with the documentary evidence, and estimated to contain at least 6000 words, which he is to take with him to Washington this afternoon. He looked well and said he felt well, though tired and in need of rest. He said the meetings of the commission with the Spaniards had been very harmonious, the report contains a full statement of the finances, the revenues and expenditures, the debts, the government and other conditions of Porto Rico and its nearly a million inhabitants. Rear Admiral Schley said that Porto Rico had a great future and has advantages fully equal to Cuba.
