FIVE KILLED FIVE INJURED

a miracle to those who afterwards beheld the wreckage. The fact that there was a baggage, express and mail car on each train between the engines and passenger cars is all that prevented the loss of scores of lives. These cars were crushed in like so many egg shells, and the three engines were so demolished that they are like so many heaps of scrap iron. Only one of the men who were on the forward portions of the train escaped either death or injury. He was Fireman Boyle, of engine 417, on the down train, who jumped just before the collision occurred.

When the passengers picked themselves up from the various positions into which the collison had thrown them, they rushed out and hurried to the assistance of the injured.

Word was telegraphed to Wilkes-Barre and wrecking crews were hastened to the scene. Superintendent Mitchell followed, accompanied by a corps of physicians and Rev. Fathers Rea and McCarthy, of Ashley; and McAndrews, of Wilkes-Barre. The injured were gotten out of the wreckage and then the work of searching for the dead was taken up. The bodies of MacGregor and Engleman were not recovered until this afternoon.

Engineer McNally was alive when taken from the wreck, but he died at 10 o'clock a. m. at the hospital.

The passengers were brought to Wilkes-Barre over the "cut-off" and sent on their way. The wreck had not been cleared away up to a late hour last night. Police from Wilkes-Barre are protecting the mail and express matter.

ENGINEER'S STATEMENT.

Engineer Hohlfing when seen at the hospital yesterday afternoon, said:

"My train was considerably late and at White Haven I received orders to meet train No. 5 at siding No. 7 (which is located a short distance from Newport.) At Fairview I stopped and telegraphed for a pilot to pilot me to Sayre, I having received orders to run the train through to that place. Usually I run only as far as Wilkes-Barre. From Fairview I came down the backtrack at a good rate of speed, as we were late, but I often ran as fast before and had no trouble keeping my engine under control. But this morning about a mile above Newport station the engine got beyond my control. I cannot give any cause for it, I only know that my efforts to slacken my speed were in vain. I tried hard to regain control of the machine but it was impossible. I was powerless to avoid the crash that I felt was sure to come, and I whistled down brakes as hard as I could. My fireman, John Boyle, of Mauch Chunk, jumped from the engine before the collision, but my situation was so taken up trying to regain control of the engine that I stayed aboard till the crash came."

Hohlfing has been railroading in the valley thirty years and has been engineer for twenty years. He said he never before lost control of his engine and the fact that he did so this morning is absolutely unaccountable to him.

Alarm in This City.

When the news of the wreck reached this city early yesterday morning much alarm was felt here by persons who had relatives travelling along the line of the Lehigh Valley railroad and the office of that company on Lackawanna avenue and the newspaper offices received innumerable requests for information about the dead and injured.

At one time the wildest kind of rumors were in circulation and it was stated that the number of dead would reach forty.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

Engagement Closes Today.

The Elroy Stock company will close its successful week's engagement at the Academy of Music tonight when "The District Fair" will be produced. This afternoon "The Police Patrol" will be the attraction.

"Sunshine of Paradise Alley."

Ella Wheeler Wilcox says of Denman Thompson's "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," which will be seen here at the Lyceum Saturday matinee and night, that it is "restful." This would seem like a very warm recommendation of her good taste. A good deal of misery is crowded into the tenement districts of any big city but there is some happiness, and a lot of good nature. It would not do to blaze too much joy at these folks, lest the sunshine become sunstroke, but sunshine there is, and this piece is rather comforting to them that feel as if they ought to go a-slumming, but haven't time. Besides the famous Boston Verdi Ladies' quartette whose singing has been so pronounced a feature of the past two months, and whose services are retained for this season, there will be concerted music by the Acme Male quartette.

Will Present Two Plays.

Few actors are able to say that they have played one part four thousand times without missing a performance. Indeed there are only two in this country who have such a record. Joseph Jefferson's association with "Rip Van Winkle" is equalled only by James O'Neill's experience with "Monte Cristo." During last season Mr. O'Neill reached the four thousandth performance of this most popular of all romantic plays, and yet today his acting in the part is just as dashing just as spontaneous and thrilling as when he first played the part, and more clean cut and polished than ever. Mr. O'Neill's company this year includes several of the best known of his last season's organization and a number who will play the leading female roles. Mr. O'Neill will be seen in "Monte Cristo" at the Lyceum Monday night and Tuesday night he will present his new play "When Greek Meets Greek."

Next Week at the Academy.

Lewis F. Vance's big comedy company in a round of grand scenic and mechanical productions, which have never before been seen at cheap prices, will begin a week's engagement on Monday night, November 14, presenting the well known comedy drama entitled "Patent Applied For," said to be the most elaborate and ingenious piece of work ever staged.

On Tuesday another of this well known author's big realistic productions, "The Limited Mail" will be given. All of Manager Vance's plays will positively be produced with every inch of the original scenery, electrical and other effects, and under Mr. Vance's personal direction smooth performances can be safely promised. Ladies' tickets are available for Monday night. Night prices, 10 20 and 30 cents, and matinee, a uniform price of 10 cents.

The Gaiety.

At the Gaiety theater next week will be some of the best and most up-to-date and clean vaudeville ever seen in this city in Jacobs and Lowry's Merry Maidens Burlesque company. The performance opens with a ludicrous musical absurdity called "The Merry Maidens in a Night at the French Ball" affording an opportunity for magnificent scenic effects and beautiful costumes. The final burletta is a roaring absurdity called "The Merry Maidens' Seminary," which gives the entire company occasion to introduce many bright and brilliant musical novelties as well as comedy of a high order. The company includes some well known vaudeville people who are sandwiched in between the two burlesques, thus giving a full two and three-quarter hours performance. There will be matinees Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

GREAT OCTOBER TRADE.

Business the Largest of Any Month, Except December, 1892—November Bids Fair to Break the Records.

New York, Nov. 11.—R. G. Dun and company's Weekly Review of Trade will say tomorrow:

The country has safely passed the trial of "off year" elections. Before this election everywhere except political uncertainities favored business enlargement. The volume of trade has been the greatest ever known in October, and the greatest ever known in any month except December, 1892. The record for November thus far shows clearings 10.4 per cent. larger than last year, and 9. 3 per cent. larger than in 1892. The railroad earnings in October have been 5.2 per cent. larger than last year, and 8.0 per cent. larger than in 1892. Foreign trade shows an increase of 20 per cent. in October exports, while 38 per cent. in exports from New York last week, while imports show a gain of only 2. per cent. in October and credits against foreign bankers were piling up at an inconvenient rate. There was and is absolutely no anxiety about the currency, and the treasury is only too strong. When enormous exports of products are considered, it seems quite impossible for the country to meet with serious monetary trouble, especially in view of the past surplus in favor of this country. Wheat declined nearly a cent, but recovered all the loss, with Atlantic exports, flour included, of 3,033,509 bushels, against 3,274,489 last year, and the Pacific exports 1,016,981 against 1,592,352 last year. Western receipts 9,924,045 bushels for the week, against 7,255,514 last year, continue to render the holding back of stocks manifestly a failure. Corn has but slightly changed in price, with exports 2,062,331 bushels against 2,474,641 last year, and an increase of more than a half in western receipts. Cotton remains at the lowest price on record, with heavy receipts and without large milling demand.

Iron production, Nov. 1, was 242,787 tons weekly against 215,635 Oct. 1, and a decrease is seen of 35,241 tons in stock unsold outside the holdings of the great steel companies, indicating an actual consumption of 1,019,646 tons in October, about 283 tons daily greater than the largest ever shown in any previous month on record. The export demand is beyond all dreams, 40,000 tons rails for Northern Europe, and 100,000 tons plates, besides 4,500 tons billets from Pittsburg alone, with great quantities of bars, rods, wire and other finished products. The works are generally filled with orders, including many from ocean and lake ship yards, and many for cars, with seasonable demand for other products. The minor metals still advance, largely with the London demand, tin to 18.20 cents and copper to 12.62 cents bid for lake, with lead steady at 3.72½ in spite of heavy Mexican arrivals. Wool sales for the past week were only 7,437,500 pounds at the three chief eastern markets and were secured by concessions at all markets, as last week, making 18,234,900 pounds against 16,652,302 for the same two weeks last year, and 12,289,600 pounds for the same weeks in 1892. Many holders are refusing to abate their prices though large manufacturers bid below current market prices because of their uncertainty in regard to the demand for woolen goods, which has somewhat improved, and yet not greatly. It is growing in the minds of holders of wool at the east that the stocks of foreign and domestic wool on hand is much greater than has heretofore been supposed. Cotton goods are on the whole in better demand, although denims are slightly lower and little can be said of encouraging character as to the demand for staple goods of domestic use.

Failures for the week were 211 in the United States against 201 last year and 26 in Canada against 24 last year.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

They Are Progressing in a Satisfactory Manner.

Washington, Nov. 11.—A cable dispatch has been received at the war department from General Wade, chairman of the Cuban military commission, which says that everything is progressing very satisfactorily in Cuba and that the Spaniards are moving troops out as fast as they can secure transports.

Already 20,000 have gone and 9,000 more will embark from Porto Principe today and tomorrow. The department is quite satisfied with the report and it is believed that the Spanish troops are evacuating as expeditiously as it is possible within the means of the Spanish government.

Reception to Gen. and Mrs. Miles.

New York, Nov. 11.—General Nelson A. Miles and Mrs. Miles were given a reception this afternoon at the Hotel Majestic by the New York city chapter, Daughters of the American revolution. One hundred and fifty guests were present, including a number from kindred societies and many army and navy officers.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 11.—Wall street was prepared for an outburst of enthusiasm over stocks on the part of the general public after yesterday's ebullient enthusiasm on the part of the street itself. The Grangers, the Northern Pacifics, and the leading Southern railroads opened high. The public's enthusiasm apparently induced it to place large orders to buy stocks at the opening. The foresight of the large operators in making the opening level of the market a high one was thus justified and they fed the eager demand of outsiders quite freely. Prices, however, were fairly well maintained in the first hour, but in spite of the violent activity of the market it soon became evident that the supply of stocks was fully equal to the demand. Room traders detected evidences of realizing by large interests and commenced to sell the market with quite a marked effect on the Grangers. This had the effect of checking activity and the market fell into dullness until it received renewed impetus from the strength of special stocks. Prices generally rose to near the best again in sympathy with this movement and invited renewed buying for outside account through commission houses. But the level was not maintained in the last hour, when call money was marked up to 2½ per cent. and prices fell away throughout the list. Total sales were 733,500 shares.

PLENTY OF GOLD.

One Fear of the Bimetallists Has Been Exploded.

From the Times-Herald.

The continued increase in the production of gold is shown by the report of the director of the mint. During 1897 the output was $240,000,000, and a careful computation, based on the figures for the first six months of 1898, indicates that this year's production will reach $275,000,000. This would mean a production equal to that of both metals in the years previous to 1880. Since 1883 the production has been:

| Year. | Gold. | Silver. |
|---|---|---|
| 1883 | $ 95,440,000 | $115,300,000 |
| 1884 | 100,000,000 | 120,000,000 |
| 1885 | 119,196,900 | 140,706,400 |
| 1886 | 118,848,700 | 163,075,000 |
| 1891 | 130,650,000 | 177,542,300 |
| 1892 | 140,851,500 | 198,911,400 |
| 1893 | 157,144,800 | 213,941,300 |

In spite of this steady increase in the production of the worlds' chief money metal the fear that a time would come when gold would not be sufficient to furnish us with the necessary medium of exchange seems foolish. The new mines of Alaska, Canada, Africa and Australia are wearing forth a flood of gold. The stock of money in the world is increasing rapidly, and so great is the supply that it is going begging to the financial centers at nominal interest rates.

Every sign shows that gold will be plentiful enough for a monetary medium at least for years to come, and each day the unreasonableness of the demand for an inflation of the currency becomes more apparent.

PLENTY OF GOLD.

One Fear of the Bimetallists Has Been Exploded.

From the Times-Herald.

The continued increase in the production of gold is shown by the report of the director of the mint. During 1897 the output was $240,000,000, and a careful computation, based on the figures for the first six months of 1898, indicates that this year's production will reach $275,000,000. This would mean a production equal to that of both metals in the years previous to 1880. Since 1883 the production has been:

| Year. | Gold. | Silver. |
|---|---|---|
| 1883 | $ 95,440,000 | $115,300,000 |
| 1884 | 100,000,000 | 120,000,000 |
| 1885 | 119,196,900 | 140,706,400 |
| 1886 | 118,848,700 | 163,075,000 |
| 1891 | 130,650,000 | 177,542,300 |
| 1892 | 140,851,500 | 198,911,400 |
| 1893 | 157,144,800 | 213,941,300 |
| 1894 | 181,177,600 | 242,829,600 |
| 1895 | 193,304,100 | 216,292,500 |
| 1896 | 202,956,000 | 244,400,700 |
| 1897 | 240,000,000 | 220,000,000 |
| 1898 | 275,000,000 | 250,000,000 |

EXHILARATING.

From the Lancaster Examiner.

There is something exhilarating in the election of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt governor of the greatest state in the Union. It seems like an infusion of brecy honesty, the acme of bravery and the courage of ability into our political life; and so his success must have a beneficial effect upon both party organizations, not only in his own state, but throughout the nation. Talk as you please, the people admire pluck, the ability to conceive and the boldness to execute. For some score of years Colonel Roosevelt has been before the people as legislator, writer, lecturer, speech-maker, ranchman and soldier, and never was found wanting when it came to expressing his views or lacking in courage when maintaining them. With the winning personality of a Blaine and the eloquent fiery dash of a Clay, he becomes a typical figure in our politics and a representative of the coming class of young men who will find the arena of politics the noblest field in which to battle for honors and the commonweal.

They Don't.

"The greatest pleasure of my life I get from my music," said she.

"What a great advantage you have over your neighbors," replied the unfeeling brute.—Boston Traveler.

All in the Accent.

Slopet (as Miss Eastlake, his intended, finishes a solo)—What a voice!

Duncan (who has been rejected by Miss Eastlake)—Yes, what a voice!—Harlem Life.

A Field of Ferns.

Deep the mountain's rugged heart,
And hewed by nature's matchless art,
A field of ferns, in echo graced,
Reclineth in the valley's homely face.

Each fairy blade, in sunset's gleam,
Defines Lock "Midsummer's" magic "Dream;"
Restores lost Puck and his blithe train
And rakes Titania live again.

—Judge.
