

NOTABLE VICTORY FOR PRINCETON

DEFEATED YALE IN A VERY SPIRITED CONTEST.

Sons of Old Eli Were Unable to Score—Poe's Run During the First Half Was the Most Sensational Seen on a Foot Ball Field For Some Time—Condensed History of the Game—Penny Defeated the Indians—Results of Other Games Played Saturday.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 13.—The valorous Yale team yesterday so successfully upheld the colors of Old Nassau against Yale are the heroes of Princeton, and even the respect for Sunday which is traditional here could not prevent the students for doing a certain amount of decorous honor to their heroes of the gridiron.

The game on Brookfield after yesterday's game was a more spirited contest, one that will live long in the history of foot ball. The score was 6 to 0, a solitary touchdown and goal, made by the Orange and Black after a sensational run of a hundred yards by Little Poole. Yale failed to score here yesterday afternoon, fully determined to make history by beating Princeton for the first time in football on her own field. They were surprised and dismayed and the New Haven contingent wended its way sorrowfully and dejectedly toward Havenwards, leaving as mementoes in the hands of the Princeton youngsters crisp bills and banknotes, enough to make this stand old college town livelier than it has been for many a day.

In a paragraph the history of the game like this. After the first five minutes Yale forced the play and got to Princeton's 12-yard line. There she fumbled the ball, and Little Poole, quick as a flash, nicked it up, eluded two Yale backs and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. That was the play that spelled victory for Princeton. Yale kept her fire on the defensive all the rest of the half. In the next half Yale started in to get a touchdown right off, but hit the ball. The flight wagged in middle field toward the end, where Princeton, acting as mementoes to Yale's goal line, but could not score again.

The game was a heartrending one for the Yale coaches and the Yale "rooters" generally, for they were forced to watch their strong attacks, well planned and brilliantly executed up to the last moment, fade away into nothingness through one lone play after another. A week ago the Quakers met defeat largely because on the defensive they couldn't catch naps. Today Yale's downfall was due, too, to slippy fingers and miscalculations. Her backs dropped the ball at critical moments.

Princeton's careful coaches had been counting on some of the very weaknesses that Yale displayed, and had thought all the rigors, and had tried to make merrily out of them. The New Jersey men had no doubt felt confident that the lack of practice on the part of one or two of Yale's stars would show early in the game, and that these were just the things to take advantage of. And the Princeton tushers took advantage of them to the full.

Two or three times the Yale eleven worked up the field with the ball, right through the Princeton line. On the other hand Princeton tushers were rather judiciously executed, could not make much impression on Yale's line, and twice when close to the New Haven goal the Tigers' attack petered out, and they could not score. Had Princeton's interference been as competent as Yale's the Orange and Black would have followed in an 18 to a victory rather than a 6 to 0.

But six points on the right side are just as good as sixty, and Princeton deserves to the full her hard and brilliantly won victory. The New Jersey youths started the season under rather discouraging circumstances. They couldn't last year and with their backfield for the coming season badly broken up. But with characteristic courage the Princeton men set to work, and in the face of many setbacks developed a team that for snappy, eager play it would be hard to equal. The coaches have worked early and late, and deserve the reward that they have gained. Old Nassau has produced a race of football heroes, and the members of yesterday's victorious team will deserve to be numbered among them.

VICTORY FOR PENNSY.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—The grand finale of the formation of Pennsylvania was brought into play yesterday in the football game at Franklin field, between Pennsylvania and the Indians from Carlisle school, and won a victory for the team by the score of 25 to 5.

Before the mighty rushes of red and blue in their favorite play, the Blue Indian braves wavered, broke from their steady line, allowing the Quakers steady consecutive gains, until a total of six touchdowns and five goals from touchdowns gave to Pennsylvania the top score of 25.

The Redskins' only score was a goal from the field by Whitecloud in the first half. Whitecloud tried for another goal from the field in the second half, but failed. At no other stage of the game was the Pennsylvania goal in danger, although more than once in the second half was in the Quakers' territory.

HARVARD AND BROWN.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 13.—Harvard defeated Brown on Soldiers Field yesterday in a game that at any other time in the season would have been called an exciting one. The victors scored 6 points to Harvard's 17, and came so near scoring a second time that only a inspired decision saved the Harvard goal line.

The game was full of long runs and brilliant individual plays, but was decided by a combination of a brilliant showing against Pennsylvania. In the first half Brown played a brilliant game, and made one phenomenal run of fifty yards through nearly the whole Brown team.

The Olympic football team of Princeton, defeated the Jolly Eleven Juniors on the James Boys' ground yesterday afternoon by a score of 18 to 2. The game was to decide the 150 pound championship of this city and owing to this fact it was fiercely contested. As the score shows, the Olympics outclassed their opponents in every point, particularly in the point of skill, and at no time was the Olympic's goal in danger. The score of the Jolly Eleven resulted from a safety and an Olympic's player touching the ball on the kick-off, afterwards falling on it behind his own goal. The principal features of the game were the long runs by A. Hagen, Gavan and Mangam, and the tackling of Culkin and George Hagen. The teams lined up as follows: Fleming. ...left end. ...Cones McCool. ...left tackle. ...Swift A. Hagen. ...guard. ...McHale Hartery. ...center. ...Purvis Wilson. ...right guard. ...Lawrence. ...right tackle. ...Riley G. Hagen. ...quarter back. ...Sherman Campbell. ...left half back. ...Cusick Gavan. ...left half back. ...Kirkwood Mangam. ...right half back. ...Campbell Culkin. ...full back. ...Nealon.

St. Thomas college football team added another victory to the long list in their column Saturday, when they met and "whitewashed" the Tankham eleven in their own town. The Scranton team played in good form and scored ten points. Saturday night the Scranton High school club and St. Thomas will meet at Athletic park.

HARRY SPENCER of this city, has three consecutive times won the international shooting match championship. Thursday last at the match at Schuylkill, Pa., he was the victor, his score being 60 out of a possible 100.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

'The Sunshine of Paradise Alley.'
Denman Thompson's play 'The Sunshine of Paradise Alley,' which is supposed to be a more or less faithful representation of tenement house life in New York, was produced at the Lyceum Saturday afternoon and evening before fair sized audiences.

James O'Neill Tonight.
James O'Neill is this year making a most elaborate scenic revival of 'Monte Cristo,' in which play he is really too well known to require comment. Never did an actor have a part into which he put so much of himself, and than does James O'Neill in his varied renditions of the role of Edmond Dantes. It is, as everyone knows, a part that calls for four distinct and separate characterizations, the sailor boy, full of youth and happiness; the old man, bowed with sorrow and long years in prison; the noble orator, and then the elegant and polished count, whose vengeance is finally accomplished. No actor in this country could play the part, or rather life the part for that is what O'Neill does, in a way to even approach the artistic merit with which he has endowed it. Mr. O'Neill's present company is admirably suited to the requirements of the various parts in 'Monte Cristo' and an excellent performance may be expected. Tonight Mr. O'Neill will present 'Monte Cristo' and tomorrow night he will be seen in his new play 'When Crock Meets Crock.'

'The Heart of Maryland.'
The mass produced triumph of David Belasco's successful production, and dramatic career was in the production of his play, 'The Heart of Maryland,' in New York which brought 'Bellevue' to the attention of the managers of the city of Scranton. This play, which is the most popular attraction of the decade, retaining the balance in its favor until the close of the season. Since then it has been presented with the same result in all the leading cities of the east, and recently closed a successful run of 109 nights at the Adelphi theater, London. With a company of specially selected players 'The Heart of Maryland,' this romantic tale of realism, of humanity, love, passion and constancy, will have played for the first time in this city at the Lyceum next Thursday night.

At the Gaiety Theater.
Beginning with the matinee today the well known Jacobs and Lowry's Merry Malines Burlesque company will make their appearance in this city for a limited engagement. It is unnecessary to go into detail regarding this organization, as they have established for themselves a well earned and successful reputation, this being the third season that this company have been touring America with no small degree of success. It may be recalled that they were one of last season's successful hits at Music Hall and this year are far superior in their general ensemble and make-up. There is upwards of thirty-five people comprising the organization, among whom are many well known names and artists who have reached the top round of the ladder of fame. Following the matinee this afternoon the usual Tuesday, Friday and Saturday matinees will be given.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 13.—The process of digestion of railroad and corporate securities was continued on an enormous scale at today's short session of the stock exchange. The public were in the market as buyers again at the opening and very heavy orders placed with commission houses were executed throughout an extended list. The result was a very active and broad market, the constant exchange of securities going on in the first hour resulting in rather unimportant changes in prices, except in a few cases. With the completion of the buy orders the resulting offerings were in a way to exceed the demand in the second hour and prices showed a sagging tendency. But the violent advance in sugar to 12 3/4, or an almost eight point advance, checked the movement in large part, turned the traders to the bull side and induced the shorts to cover hastily. The result was a strong close, notwithstanding the final slump of over two points in Sugar and net gains reaching a point or over in many cases. The important movement in the At-hison securities was continued and gave tone to the whole market. The principal activity in the movement showed a tendency to shift from the preferred to the common stock, which advanced 1 1/4 on the day. The preferred stock showed a bulge in demand, the former closing at a net advance of 1 3/4. Other properties in which the leader in this movement is interested were also notably strong, including People's Gas, Rock Island and Brooklyn Transit, but the stock market showed a bulge in tendency. The strength of Louisville and Southern preferred was due to the excellent traffic returns of the two roads for the first week in November. Total sales were 361,500 shares.
