HAPPENINGS OF SOUTH SCRANTON

RESUMPTION OF OPERATIONS AT THE SOUTH MILL.

It Is Expected That a Record Will Be Established This Week-Number of Necessary Repealers Have Been Made During the Shut Down. Lackawanna Knitting Mills, Injured-Funeral of William Hughes From His Late Residence.

Resumption of operations at the South works of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, after a suspencion of five days, was made last night with the complete force of mer at Tuesday last the main stafting of the finishing engine at the rail department broke, causing the idleness noted. While the injury was being repaired a host of details in the running of the machinery of the mamnoth plant that since the improved system was put in, has not been running in the smoothest order given attention. It is now believed that the expectations of the management will be realized. As it is well known, some difficulty was met when the mill started up.

The new soaking pits were the greatest source of trouble. They are vastly different than the old style, and the men engaged at them did not readily grasp the knowledge of heating steel properly. During the recent suspension the men were given a schooling so to speak, and needed repairs were made on the pits. Work on the construction of four new pits is about finished, and when in operation will make a series of twelve.

speaking to a Tribure reporter last night, a man prominent in the a !fairs at the mill, stated that it is assured that before the present week is at a close a record breaker will be made in the history of the capacity of the plant. Under the old system there never was made more than sixty 'heats" when the mill was in operation day and night. Since the present order was adopted the number of 'heats' have not exceeded forty-five, but the gentleman speaking to the reporter said that the seventy mark will will be what is expected by the management.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

James Keltcher, a foreman at the Lackawanna Kultting rells, was painfully injured while at work Saturday, He was inspecting a machine that was in operation when his right hand slipped into the wheels. Fortunately he was in a position that enabled him to stop the machine. The member was bruised and out severely.

Manley was called and attended him. same mills, was injured in a simlliar manner earlier in the day. While standing at his post and "feeding" his machine, he turned about to converse with a companion worker. His nonattention to his work resulted in his hand being drawn into the cogs. It was smashed so eadly it was feared propriate to the occasion, amputation would be necessary. Dr. Manley, who is attending the boy, is of the opinion the hand will be raved. this evening.

Examination by a male physician is a hard trial to a delicately organized

She puts it off as long as she dare. and is only driven to it by fear of cancer, polypus, or some dreadful ill.

Most frequently such a woman leaves a physician's office where she has undergone a critical examination with an impression, more or less, of discouragement. This condition of the mind destroys the effect of advice; and she grows worse rather than better. In consulting Mrs. Pinkham no hesitation need be felt, the story is told to a woman and is wholly confidential. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass., she offers sick women her advice without charge.

Her intimate knowledge of women's troubles makes her letter of advice a wellspring of hope, and her wide experience and skill point the way to health. "I suffered with ovarian trouble for

The alarm of fire was sounded from Box 32, at the corner of Butler and Fourth streets, at 2.30 o'clock. The John B. Smiths, Electrics, No. 4, and Independents responded in quick succession in the order named. The fire broke out in Mr. Martin's side of the house and was caused by a defective flue becoming overheated and setting fire to the woodwork. The fire spread with great rapidity along the inside of the roof, making it dangerous work for the firemen, who were compelled to chop holes in the roof and crawl, with the hose, upon their hands and knees into the garret, where the smoke came pouring out in volumes. They worked with a will and soon had the fire under control. The damham's Vegetable Compound. AN EXCITING INCIDENT.

A motorman, conductor and an intoxicated man without a transfer, but with a revolver, gave a carload of passengers on car No. 131, Laurel Hill line, at 11 o'clock Saturday night, near the Nye residence, a great fright. The affair was caused by the conductor of one car failing to give the passenger a transfer when changing cars at the Mores Taylor hospital. Upon boarding car No. 131 the conductor came around for the fares. He had none, and tried to explain the reason. The conductor was told by a number of passengers who were aboard the other car that the man was a passenger, but he proceeded to eject him from the car.
