Reward Offered for Parties Breaking Ballot Box Seals-Social and Other

Mayor Harding, in a communication last night to the Gazette, offers a reward of $50 for the apprehension or information that would lead to the arrost of those who were implicated in the transferring from the city hall and breaking the seals of the ballot boxes, shortly after the last spring election.

There is mourning in the Democratic camp, and particularly on the defeat of McGinty for sheriff. Ex-Postmaster But alas! "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglee." Johnny has bud his share of political plume for the past several years, and like his friend, McGinty, who has been fortupute in the same kind of treatment, will have to do likewise.

On Thonkeglving night the Clerks ussociation will hold their annual ball at Keystone hall, and elaborate arrangements are being made by an efficient committee for the event.

At last the sidewalk in front of the Battle block is being lowered to the proper grade, and when completed will to a marked improvement. The same alteration should be made on Main street near the Pennsylvania Coat comrany bridge.

The Pennsylvania Coal company did not pay on Saturday as expected, but will do so on next Saturday. The other companies will pay during the week. On Sunday night the sidewalks and corners of Main street were blocked badly as it was generally the case before the police force was placed on duty. This was especially so when people were on their way to the several places of worship. But it was not the latter that were monopolizing the sidewalks, but those who are possessed of that pure, distilled cussedness that includes everything that is mean and Insulting. There were no police in sight at this time, and they ought to explain why this is so.

Our suburban neighbors, Scranton and other towns, appear to take a one-sided view as to the future of Honsedale in case the gravity road should suspend operation, as though the gracity railroad was all that gave Honesdale an existence. This is a mistake. Including Seeleyville and Factoryville, Honesdale supports at least twenty industries that give empleyment to from ten to one hundred and fifty navds. The pay roll of some of these industries will exceed that of the D. and H. Gravity road in Honesdale. The future is bright, and Honesdale will goon have better raincad facilities than ever before.

Lehigh Valley R. R. Connections With the New York & New Orange R. R.

It is worth remembering in this connection that the Lehigh Valley Railroad has nearly completed an extensive line of track from the main line which gives that read direct entrance to New Orange. The connection at Aldine is made directly with the Jersey Central. This connection nearly completed by the Lehigh road is a straw showing which way the wind blows and demonstrates more forcibly than words can do, the fact that all of the trunk lines are anxious to get into New Orange and share in the profits which will naturally arise from the growth and development of a new manufacturing and suburban town.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"Monte Cristo."

A drama the public never seems to get too much of is "Monte Cristo." Plays may come and plays may go, but the dramatic version of the adventures of Edmund Dantes seems destined, like Tennyson's brook, to run on forever. James O'Neill seems to have discovered the fabled fountain of youth for some of the veracious old theater-goers who saw him last night at the Lyceum declared he appeared not a day older than he did fifteen odd years ago, when he first thrilled them by his striking impersonation of the wonderful Count of Monte Cristo. Mr. O'Neill's acting last night showed the ripening effect of years of con-scientious endeavor. It was a remarkably fine piece of work. He had the assistance of a good company, one of the best, possibly, that has surrounded Mr. O'Neill for some time. They will be seen tonight in Mr. O'Neill's new play, "When Greek Meets Greek."

Vance Comedy Company. The Ellmer E. Vance Comedy company began a week's repertoire last night at the Academy of Music before house of a flattering size, which gave every evidence of being pleased. The play presented was "Patent Applied For," a well known play, which virtue is rewarded and villainy is punished in a way designed to please everybody. The scenery was good and the production was interpreted with intelligence.

The cast includes Miss Mollie Bennett. May Gerald, Messrs. Edward Weitzel, Leigh Wormser, G. C. Olm-stead, Arthur Lawrence, Harry Denver, Lester Hammett and Robertson. Reatrice, a small maiden, aside from clever acting, performed elever specinlty parts, as did also Messrs. Lester and Lawrence, to the immense satisfaction of the audience, A series of Balt. & Ohio popular plays will be presented during Brook, R. T. the week.

"The Merry Maidens."

This week the attraction at the Gaiety is "The Merry Maidens," a deidedly lively aggregation, who enterained large audiences yesterday afernoon and evening. The first part is described as "A Night at the French Ball," and the description is not miscading.

An olio in which a number of good pecialty artists appear follows. Nellie | Eric Hanley sang several songs which were | Gen. Elec. Co ... illustrated by the stereopticon, and Dan Int. Paper Co. ... Haitt and Tony Pearl played a numr of musical instruments in a very clever manner. Ada Stockolm and Jes-sie Herworth sang and danced, and Ed Brennan and James Curran, Irish Natl. Lead comedians, were truly entertaining N. Y. Afrbrake ... 1904, 1905 Sophie Everett sang several noisy N. Y. Central 1174, 1178, 117 songs that were noisily encored. She ont. & West is called "the magnetic spark." probably because she's shocking.

The performance closed with a scene in the Merry Maidens' seminary. The company will be at the Galety all this week, giving matinees Tuesday, Friday Phil. & Reading, Pr.

"The Heart of Maryland."

Next Thursday, at the Lyceum, "The Heart of Maryland," David Belasco's romantic play, which proved the theatrical success in New York, Boston and Chicago the past three seasons, bids fair to outrival in magnitude anything seen in this city for years. It recently played a remarkable engagement of one hundred nights at the Adelphia theatre, London. The one great scene, however, in this wonderfully effective drama closes the third act, and is known as the "Belfry sensation." The hero, condemned to death as a spy, escapes, and the bell in the old church tower is about to be rung to give a general alarm. The heroine rushes desperately through the gloom and up the winding, parrow old stairway to the top of the belfry and, springing forward, grasps the clapper and swings to and fro as the great bell sways back and forth. She thus saves her lover from capture and certain death by risking her own life.

The Brothers Byrne.

The Brothers Byrne, of "Eight Bells" fame, will appear at the Lyceum, Nov. 18 and 19, presenting their entirely new spectacular pantomimic comedy, "Going to the Races." It is claimed that this production is by far the greatest pantomime work ever produced, and is vastly superior to "Eight Bells" in all respects. The mechanical effects are simply amazing; the new tricks wonderful, and the scenery is strictly in keeping with the performance. The Byrne Brothers claim originality in all they perform, and copy from none, and are today America's representative pantomimic performers.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 14-The stock market has recently emancipated itself in a large degree from the influence of sugar, tobacco and such like uncertain quantities, but the violent gyrations of sugar in today's market could not but have a rather unsettling effect. Quotations were almost lost at the sugar post at the opening and were recorded all the way from 125 down to 124. Before noon the price was quoted below 119, and again before the close it went back to 124 The early decline was based on the fall in the loaning rate, which was taken to indicate the conclusion of the squeeze against the shorts; and the subsequent recovery came with the announcement of the advance in the prices of the product by the companies alleged to be engaged in a trade war of exterminations. The enormous volume of the transactions in this specialty gave it necessarily some sympathetic influence on the general But the railroad list generally showed a tendency to drag, and recent leaders were sustained at a level above Saturday's prices with difficulty, in spite of the additional advantage of some very striking gains in usually inactive stocks. The money market was more active and rather firmer today, and some apprehension is felt of a future rise in rates. Total sales Were 667,400 shares.
