The members of the Column north bination chemical and hose company met in regular monthly service last street. President Corliss presided and the attendance of members was 11123 large. Routine matters were quicht disposed of. The committee of an rangements for the annual ball of the company, which is to be held in Mears' hall, December 21, reported progress. No action was taken in reference to the alleged internal troubles existing in the company and the good will and dispatch with which business was done belies any such accusation. In accordance with the steps necessary to be prepared for the advent of an additional permanent man in the company's service, an election was held for the choice of the company, David E. Davis, of South Decker's court, was selected over Henry Meyers, the other candidate.

When the vote was counted and was seen to be favorable to Mr. Davis, his opponent generously moved to make it unanimous. Mr. Davis will forthwith be recommended to the mayor very popular among the members, is carriest in his duties as a volunteer fireman and has been a member of this company for over six years bage, turnips, peaches, celery, lettuce.
