It will be given at all the performances of the opera at the Lyceum on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The dancing of the cachucha will be on Friday at 9 o'clock at Powell's music store.

IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS.

Very Favorable Day for the Accused Alderman. Yesterday's session in the Kelly impeachment proceedings developed very little if anything unfavorable to the defendant, and much that tended in his favor.

In the alleged fictitious case of James Cleary against Lou Brown and Jessie Moore, the prosecution brought in a James Cleary who answered the description of the prosecutor designated in the indictment and to the probable chagrin of the prosecution he not only admitted that he was prosecutor in the specified cases against the two defendants named, but also substantiated every other averment of transcript, such as the number of subpoenas issued and served, number of oaths administered, the number of witnesses examined and the like.

Next the prosecution took up the cases marked under the heading of "straw bail." There was a lengthy discussion occasioned by the prosecution's attempt to show irregularities other than "straw bail" in the cases grouped under this heading of the bill of particulars. Commissioner (Carpenter) sustained the contention of the defendant that the examination should have to be confined to this one charge.

Among these latter cases was one in which John Sharack was named as bondsman. A man of that name living in Old Forge was put on the stand and examined as to whether or not he became bondsman in the case in question and whether or not he owned real estate of sufficient value to meet the bond. It developed that he was not the bondsman in question and his testimony was ordered stricken out. John Sharack, of the same name, residing on second street, was the bondsman in the case.

INITIATED NEW MEMBERS.

Fifty-Eight Received in Anthracite Commandery, Knights of Malta. Anthracite commandery, No. 211, Knights of Malta, initiated fifty-eight new members last night, at its hall in the Guernsey building. The ceremonies initiated thereto began at midnight and lasted until daybreak, this morning, or at least it was expected that they would continue until that hour.

At midnight a process was taken for luncheon which was served at Mitchell's dining room on Washington avenue. This is the last class of applicants to be received as charter members. The charter membership will close with 40 names on the roll, making Anthracite commandery one of the largest in the organization.

The initiations last night were conducted by G. Berry Uthman, sir knight commander; C. O. Swartz, generalissimo; Samuel Coslett, captain-general; Frank H. Young, prelate; E. P. Bone, recorder, and G. H. Pierce, of Philadelphia, grand recorder.

BOARD DID NOT MEET.

Colonel Ripple, John Gibbons and D. J. Phillips Only Members Present. A meeting of the board of associated charities was scheduled for last night but Colonel Ripple, John Gibbons and D. J. Phillips were the only members present, the other active members being out of town, and adjournment was made to a date subject to the call of Colonel Ripple.

The report of Mrs. Dugan, agent of the board, for the past two months is as follows: Total cases investigated since last meeting, 97; found worthy and aided, 74; not in need and not worthy, 23; transportation furnished for 3; lodging and meals for 6; employment for 11; sent to charitable institutions, 2; taken to industrial school, 6; sent to Carl School, to private reformatory, 2; to Hillside home, 3; sent to relatives, 7; arrested for non-support, 3; cases of children neglected, 2.

The next meeting will be the annual one at which officers will be elected and the work for the ensuing year mapped out.

SCHLAGER'S STORE ENTERED.

Burglars Paid It a Visit Early Yesterday Morning. Schlagler's cutlery store, on Washington avenue, was burglarized some three hours before daylight yesterday morning and a considerable number of articles stolen.

The booty includes twelve revolvers from the case and seven from the show window, a lot of razors, two pairs of handcuffs, a dozen or more knives, and probably a lot of other articles that Mr. Schlagler could not tell about until he makes a closer inventory. The burglars entered from the rear by forcing open a window.

Since the place was broken into some months ago, Mr. Schlagler has taken the precaution of keeping the doors and windows well barred. That was no hindrance to the visitors, however. Neither was the light which is kept burning all night.

STRANGE KIND OF A FIRE.

Broke Out in a Single Frame Dwelling on Wilbur Street. A single, frame dwelling house at 195 Wilbur street, owned by Charles Sullivan, was totally destroyed by fire which broke out at 9:30 o'clock last night.

An hour before the flames were discovered, the last wheel-barrow load of furniture was taken from the premises by a Polish family which has been occupying the house for several months. The building was insured for $200 in an agency represented by Walter B. Christmas.

NEW BUILDING OF THE COUNTY BANK.

IT WILL BEGIN TO DO BUSINESS IN IT THIS MORNING.

Banking Room Is the Handsomest in Pennsylvania—Mahogany and Beveled Plate Glass Are Used Extensively in the Finishing of the Apartment Where the Business of the Institution Will Be Carried On. Short Description of the Handsome Structure—Officers of Bank.

Pennsylvania does not possess a more conveniently or artistically appointed banking room than the one in which the County Savings Bank and Trust company will begin to do business this morning. The building is located at 207 and 208 Spruce street, and was designed and erected by the bank especially to suit its needs.

When the bank closed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the old quarters at 428 Lackawanna avenue, where it has done business since it was organized in 1872, were vacated and the effects of the institution moved to the handsome structure on court house square, which will be its permanent home.

The County is the first bank to follow the general tendency of business toward court house square and its location will be of great convenience to business men of that portion of the business district. Last evening all was hustle and bustle about the new banking building but when the hour for beginning business arrives this morning the bank will be found comfortably settled in its new and luxurious home.

The bank building is one of the distinct ornaments of court house square. The building has a frontage of thirty-two feet on Spruce street and is forty feet in depth. The front is of buff Indiana limestone, artistically carved and the general style of the architecture is Corinthian which lends a dignity to the structure that harmonizes well with the character of the business that is to be transacted there.

THE NEGRO IN POLITICS

Subject of the Address Delivered by Alderman Miller Before the Keystone Republican Club, in Bethel Hall.

Alderman W. S. Miller addressed the Keystone Republican club at Bethel Hall, next to Howard Place African Methodist Episcopal church, last night on "The Negro in Politics." He had an audience of over one hundred on this subject. Rev. H. A. Grant, of Howard church, and Rev. J. H. Bell, of Shiloh Baptist church, presided. Mr. Miller and they spoke some plain words to the negro about what he must do if he expects to be treated on an equal footing with the white citizens. The negro in the north and east, Rev. Mr. Bell said, who votes the Democratic ticket aids in the inhuman treatment accorded to the negroes in the south.

Alderman Miller began by saying that he intended to speak for the good of the negroes and therefore might be impelled to say some caustic things, but they would be prompted by a sincere desire for the betterment of his audience. The papers have said he is a candidate for mayor, what is not true, the alderman said; nor is he a candidate for any other office, therefore as it is after election he could not be regarded as coming before them for a selfish purpose.

But on election day a week ago he spoke at the polls in the district of the Fifth ward from 7 o'clock in the morning till the last vote was counted at night, and out of the 39 or 40 negro voters in that district only six voted and twelve others who came to know as the door opened and added not a little to the beauty of what he said. The walls are tinted a light olive green and the decorations are of old ivory. Throughout the room the color scheme is very artistically carried out and the general effect is very impressive.

LIGHT FIXTURES.

The light fixtures for gas and electric light are probably the handsomest ever put in place in this city. They were furnished by C. B. Scott. They are in the form of torches and of oxidized silver. The iron grill work used about the bank is of the same color, thus preserving harmony in the coloring of all the metal used in the room.

On the floor of the public lobby vulcanized rubber is used instead of tile. It was made to resemble tile and is less noisy and dusty and is said to be more durable.

Immediately in the rear of the teller's cage is the large safe handsomely equipped with burglarized cases, including an ornate wardrobe. This case has the Holmes electric protection. The driving of even so small an article as a pin through this wooden case after it is closed will ring an alarm in the police station instantly. As anyone near it is in full view of those passing on the sidewalk it will be seen that a burglar has small chance to operate in that institution. Close to this safe is the large vault guarded by the master door. There is also a large strong vault in the basement.

In the rear of the main banking building is a mezzanine story or gallery which contains the directors' room and an apartment for the bookkeepers. As on the main floor beveled plate glass is used in the partition between the two rooms.

THE FIRE PLACE.

One of the features of the public lobby is a beautiful fire place, the handsome masonry being that with which the wide chimney is faced contrasting strongly with the dark red of surrounding mahogany. Above the banking room are two floors on each of which are three suits of bachelors' apartments. The building throughout is fireproof.

The directors of the County Savings Bank and Trust company are: Louis Arthur Watres, president; Orlando S. Johnson, vice president; Arthur H. Christy, cashier; Louis Arthur Watres, Edward P. Kingsbury, Orlando S. Johnson, August Robinson, William P. Halstead, Everett Warron and John P. Kelly, directors. The names of these men are a sufficient guarantee of the substantial character of the bank.

WEST SIDE BRANCH.

Albright Memorial Library Extending Its Usefulness.

An innovation was arranged yesterday by the trustees of the Albright Memorial Library when another distributing station or branch of the public library was planned for the West Side. A committee composed of Judge Edwards, Benjamin Hughes and other prominent West Side citizens, met with Mr. Hattie Bell, Jr., and others from the library board and it was decided to open reading rooms in the apartments of the Welsh Philosophical society, on Main avenue.

An attendant will be placed there and a particular file will file white books from the library will be taken on order.

This movement on the South Side has been most successful. An average of twenty-one books per day is registered toward court house square. This is the large population of intelligent and progressive people on the West Side will appreciate the accommodations of their new privilege goes without saying. The Welsh Philosophical society will furnish the rooms, light, heat, etc.

QUORUM NOT PRESENT.

Meeting of Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Postponed.

The annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was fixed for yesterday, but a quorum did not materialize and adjournment was taken until next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the board of trade rooms. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

John A. Kemmerer, president of the association, said it never was in better shape than at present. The attendance at meetings is no measure of the effect. Many prominent citizens contribute liberally every year, and the agent is attentive to his duty and watchful that no abuses are tolerated. He makes a report to Mr. Kemmerer every day. The expense of running the association is small and there is no trouble in getting subscribers.

HYDE PARK AVENUE PAVE.

A Chance That It May Be Delayed Until Spring.

Henry Dixey, a representative of the Alcatraz Paving company, of Philadelphia, has the contract for paving with asphalt between Lafayette and Division streets on Hyde Park avenue, held a consultation with City Engineer Phillips yesterday relative to beginning the work.

Mr. Dixey is anxious to start immediately. He says it never was in better shape than at present. The attendance at meetings is no measure of the effect. Many prominent citizens contribute liberally every year, and the agent is attentive to his duty and watchful that no abuses are tolerated. He makes a report to Mr. Kemmerer every day. The expense of running the association is small and there is no trouble in getting subscribers.

diately and said the contract can be finished in three weeks. The surface to be paved is about 5,000 yards. The city engineer is equally desirous of having the contract finished, but is in doubt that it can be done in three weeks. The weather will have all to do with it. He will decide today whether to let the work begin immediately or defer it until spring.

CONDUCTOR'S COAT TORN.

Warrant for W. P. Boland by a Street Car Man. A warrant for assault and battery was sworn out yesterday against W. P. Boland by Conductor George O. Kagle, of the South Side line, before Alderman Howe. The warrant was served upon Mr. Boland and he was allowed to go on his own recognizance until 2 o'clock this afternoon for a hearing. Conductor Kagle secured the warrant upon the following information:

"That while he was in the discharge of his duty as conductor on the South Side line of the Scranton Traction company he was running car 12, that William P. Boland did lay violent hands upon him, tore his coat, and also threatened to do him bodily harm. The matter complained of occurred last Friday night.
