DREAMS WHICH COME TRUE

People Who Are "Warned in a Dream."

"Dreams are true while they last and do not live in dreams."

There are people who believe that every dream has some peculiar and personal significance.

Whenever they dream they consult a dream book to find whether the things dreamed of were favorable or unfavorable to their fortunes.

There are other matter-of-fact people who refer dreams to physical conditions, who ascribe them as did Solomon to "the multitude of affairs," or in a more modern spirit to a deranged stomach.

These people have a dream book, too. It is the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. And when they dream they turn the pages of Dr. Pierce's famous work to find out what the cause of the disturbed condition is, and what they must do to correct it.

You realize that a healthy sleep is a dreamless sleep, and in so far as the sleep is broken by dreams, so far there are physical conditions unfavorable to health.

A pathological consideration of dreams would reveal that in certain cases dreams of a related character are associated with certain specific forms of disease.

Severe stomach derangement with its complications involving the digestive tract and the liver, will frequently breed dreams of a peculiar nature, such as the illustration portrays.

You dream that you are on the slippery, crumbling verge of a precipice, grappling with all your strength against some madman who seeks to hurl you down to death.

You wake in a profuse perspiration, your heart beating violently as from the effects of an actual struggle.

If you consult THE SCIENTIFIC DREAM BOOK, it will tell you that your dream was a sign that your stomach needed instant attention, or it might be fulfilled in a fearful wrestling match with the monster Disease on the edge of the precipice of death.

The trouble is that people in this condition are often content to seek some palliative, some tablet or other, which will relieve the immediate trouble.

This merely hides the symptoms. It temporarily stops the manifestation of disease but it does nothing to cure the ailment.

A man might as well suppose that he could stop the flight of time by stopping his watch, as to imagine he has stopped disease by stopping its symptoms.

The need in such a condition is a radical remedy, a remedy which will begin with the cause of the trouble and reach out to the various effects. The need is of a remedy which can be counted on to cure, and in curing to re-establish the entire system on a sound basis of health.

It provides such a medicine as this many physicians have tried and one physician has succeeded. It has been the pleasure of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the "Invalids" Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., to have devised and prepared a medicine which he calls that healing preparation, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

The success of this medicine in curing diseases of the stomach and alimentary and nutritive system, places it above every known remedy available to the sick and suffering.

The action of this remedy is entirely philosophic. Its ingredients, carefully sought in years of patient experiment and compounded with regard to their alterative properties, will give the "Discovery" the power to alter or change the morbid or unhealthy condition of the several organs upon which the health of the entire body depends.

Experiment and experience have established the fact that a large percentage of diseases have their origin in a deranged condition of the stomach, the organs of digestion and nutrition and the blood-making glands.

It was found that affections of the liver, the lungs, the heart, the kidneys, and the nervous system, were not cured when the organs specially affected were directly treated, but when the treatment was directed to the alteration of the conditions of the stomach, the digestive and nutritive tracts, and the blood-making glands, these remote diseases of heart, liver, kidneys, lungs and nerves, were cured as the stomach was cured.

On this experience was based the axiom first formulated by Dr. Pierce: "DISEASES WHICH ORIGINATE IN THE STOMACH MUST BE CURED THROUGH THE STOMACH."

This would seem to be a self-evident proposition. Take an illustration in the flower garden at your home. There is a rose for example. Its leaves begin to curl, its petals to droop. It does not grow. You know that the life of the plant comes from the soil. It is in the soil you must look for the cause of the falling rose tree.

You can give the rose a supporting staff, a crutch to lean on, but while this supports the rose it won't save it. It still droops and weakens. Go down into the soil, search out the cause of the trouble, and you will find that the flower gets its nourishment, its life, its strength, its color, in the soil. In the soil is the secret of its disease. What the soil is to the plant the blood is to the body—the source of vitality. It is from the blood that the strength of body, brightness of brain, clearness of complexion, which are the supreme signs of health, and the blood out of which the whole physical fabric of the body is built is manufactured in the laboratory of the stomach and its associated organs.

It is here that the healing properties of "Golden Medical Discovery" come into play. It restores the power of assimilation so that the requisite nourishment is provided for the separate parts of the body; nerve, muscle, blood and bone. It pushes off and casts out the inert and useless matter which poisons the blood and clogs the system. It makes new blood, pure in quality, abundant in quantity which pours a healthy tide through the circulatory system. It makes sound flesh and healthy fat, not the flabby fat and loose flesh which result from the use of the nauseous preparations of cod liver oil, and their mitigated emulsions.

"THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE," Moses said it. Science affirms it. We have never gone beyond that simple definition of physical life. We never shall. When life fails, we must look to the blood. When life fails we must find the cause in the blood. It does not matter where the assault of disease is made, the requirement is the same; sufficient pure blood to build the walls of the body in strength against the invader. In its action on the blood-making glands Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery fills all the requisites of a perfect medicine for the blood. It supplies the weak lungs with new blood, and pure blood, and puts them in a condition to throw off disease. It supplies the various organs with the required pabulum from the blood, and they grow strong and do their work perfectly without strain. Then work becomes pleasure and sleep is dreamless.

The general signs of a dangerous disturbance of the stomach and its affiliated organs are uneasiness and fullness in the region of the stomach, impatience, irritability, depression of spirits and anxiety. The appetite fails, food doesn't "taste good," there's a bitter taste in the mouth, the breath is offensive, the head aches, the sleep is disturbed, the complexion is sallow. Not all these symptoms will be present in any individual case, but any of them mark the proximity of the sufferer to the danger line of disease. Whenever these symptoms appear, the sure, short way to regain health is to commence the use of the Golden Medical Discovery.

"I am happy to say that your wonderful medicines have saved my life," writes Mrs. Pettie Jacob, of Pine Mills, Wood Co., Texas. "I suffered nearly three years. Words cannot express what I endured. I had pains through my chest and all through my body. I also had pain in back and head. Was so nervous at times could hardly go about. No one can imagine what I endured. I got every morning when I got up that I could not live to see the sun go down at night. I had two of the best doctors our country afforded. They attended me for six months but did me no good. I only took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one of 'Favorite Prescription' and two vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' Now my health is better than it has been in four years. My weight was 115 and now I weigh 141 pounds. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines to many of my friends for I believe they will do all that is claimed for them. The medicines saved my life when I had given up all hope. It appeared that I could see death staring me in the face all the time."

"I can say to you, one bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has cured me sound and well, after suffering two long years with stomach disease," writes W. H. Brasswell, of McAdenville, Gaston Co., N. C. "My health is worth all the world to me. I will praise you as long as I live."

There is positively no drop of alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It contains no opium or other narcotic drug, neither sugar nor syrup, which are sometimes injurious to weak digestion. Without any of those ingredients the "Discovery" preserves its pleasant flavor and healing properties in perfection in any climate and under all conditions.

Profit is paramount with some dealers. It is profit only which leads them to substitute other and inferior articles for medicines for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with its splendid record of cures. Sensible people will decline to experiment with strange medicines. The "Discovery" is a remedy proved and tried. Anybody is "just as good" for the dealer if it says him. Nothing is "just as good" for you unless it will cure you. No medicine has so great a record of cures as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Therefore refuse all substitutes. We are "carefully and wonderfully made," yet how ignorant we are of the intricacies of the marvelous mechanism of the body. Every day sees men and women take the first step in the path of physical suffering and mental misery for lack of the one warning word of wisdom, which would reveal their danger. That word timely in its utterance, clear in its meaning, complete in its comprehensiveness, is what the "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" has for every man and woman, old or young. This great book is given away by the author, Dr. Pierce, without any cost whatever to the recipient except the expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper edition, or 31 stamps for the edition in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A MARRIAGE PLANT.

Beautifully Situated for Making Runaway Couples One.

From the Hartford Courant.

The Rev. A. H. Burroughs, perhaps better known as "Parson Burroughs" of the city of Bristol, Tenn., probably bears the distinction of marrying the most runaway couples during the last nine years of any licensed clergyman in this country.

Parson Burroughs is an ordained Baptist minister of the state of Virginia. In August, 1889, he decided to give up regular preaching and moved to Bristol, Tenn., where he leased the Nichols House and established himself in the hotel business. The hotel building is a two-story and a very dilapidated structure.

He soon discovered that his location and his authority to perform the marriage ceremony could be put to a profitable use. During the last four months of his hotel life he had been called upon to marry eleven couples, nearly all of them being runaway couples, and in the case of either one or both of the contracting parties there were insurmountable obstacles in the way of their getting married in the state where they lived, for they were nearly all from the states of Virginia or West Virginia. He made an investigation and found that the marriage laws in the state of Tennessee permitted any woman of twelve years of age and over, and any man of fourteen years of age or over to be married without the consent of their parents or guardians, while in the states of Virginia and West Virginia the consent
