HISTORY OF SILURIAN LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS.

Was Organized Over Seventy-Seven Years Ago and Has Had on Its Roll of Members Some of the Most Representative Men of This Part of the City-Name of the Present Officers-Personal Mention and Notes of Minor Interest.

Few lodges of Odd Fellows out of eighteen in this, the Lackawanna district, enjoy the same degree of financial and numercial strength as does Silurian lodge, No. 763, which meets every Friday evening in Evans' hall, on South Main avenue. In fact this same holds good in comparing it with lodges of other orders hereabouts. From its institution over twenty-seven years ago through many besetting difficulties and trials, it has retained its integrity, and each set of officers have endeavpred to maintain this standard.

On May 12, 1871, twenty-four good citizens of West Scranton, residing in the Fifteenth ward, or what was then a part of the Fifth, met in Levi's hall, corner of South Main avenue and Eynon street, and organized Silurian lodge. The ceremonies were in charge of District Deputy Grand Master Joseph Kirkbride, of Olyphant. Assisting him was a degree team from the Olyphant lodge. This team comprised Noble grand, Andrew Patten; grand warden, Benjamin Walters; grand secretary, John C. Edwards; grand treasurer, P. C. Powell: grand inside guardian, William Reese, The institution ceremonies conclud-

Out of these ten are dead, being the Thomas D. Davies, Joseph Lewis, Sr., John P. Lewis, John Levi, William Johnston, Abiathan Phillips, Thomas Gore, John Evans, Daniel Evans, Noah Roderick and Isaac Griffiths, William Myles, David C. Powell, Aaron James, Daniel T. Powell and Lewis H. Jones are still alive, but are not now mem-its twenty-fifth anniversary with great erlat, having present as guests of hon-or, fifteen of the charter members. WEST SCRANTON During the twenty-seven years of its existence 361 members have been iniliated and the present membership is now one hundred and fifty one, The lodge has a total valuation of over $6,000. It was represented during the late war by one member, Albert J. Jones, who was also a member of Guths band, which was attached to the Second North Carolina, stationed at Camp Russell, Raliegh, N. C. The lodge enjoys the distinction of having had one of its members, Financial Secretary David Cadwgan, elected deputy grand master for the present term. The "team" which assists Deputy Cadwgan in the installation work among the several lodges is from this lodge and is the best by far that was ever organized for this special work. The team comprises: Grand warden, John Howard Kelly; grand secretary, John Francis; grand treasurer, John Horn; grand marshall, D. J. Davis; and grand guardian, William Lewis. Sometime in the near future the lodge will have the finest set of Odd Fellow paraphernalia in eastern Pennsylvania. They have set aside $400 to purchase it.

Many of the most respected citizens of this side belong to this lodge and t stands for the best development and advocacy of Odd Fellowism. The present set of officers are: Noble grand. William Hopkins; vice-noble grand, Thomas J. Thomas: secretary, William Lewis; assistant secretary, Walter Wilkins: financial secretary, David Cadwgan; treasurer, John H. Kelly; noble grand's appointments, right supporter, D. D. Evans; left supporter, Henry C. Jones; warden, Roger Ev-ans; conductor, Thomas W. Jones, right scene supporter, Henry C. A NEW COURT.

The block on North Main avenue, between Price and Lafayette streets. will be divided on the north side by a court sixteen feet which will extend through the block to North Hyde Park avenue. The proposed court will run through the Stark property on North Main avenue, and will be called Stark court or Merrifield place. This property which was willed by the late Hiram Stark to his daughter, Mrs. Cora Merrifield and son George Stark, is to be built upon by the heirs.

A new double frame dwelling will be built facing on North Hyde Park avenue Elight, six-room houses will be built in the rear adjoining the present double house, now facing on Hyde Park avenue, but which will be moved back to face on the proposed court. more six-room houses will be erected. facing on the court. The work has been let to Contractor George Cooper, of South Hyde Park avenue, and excavations are already under way. In the spring Mr. Stark intends building a handsome residence on the vacant plot adjoining the Simpson Methodist church. This work will give employment to several grades of the industrial classes and add greatly to West Scranton's improvement

NO PAVE THIS YEAR.

Judging from present indications Hyde Park avenue will not be paved this year. The Alcatraz Paving company is decidedly anxious to begin work and are positive that they can finish in three weeks. City Engineer Phillips, however, is not certain that good weather will be available during that time and does not propose to take any risks of a torn-up street, a half-laid pave and trouble during the winter.

Though all concerned are anxious to see the pave laid the city engineer's action is generally conceded to be the safest course as there is every indication that unsuitable weather is liable to begin at any time and paving operations could not then be carried on and prove satisfactory.
