ANOTHER BREWERY COMBINE.

New One Has Secured the Bartel Brewery at Edwardsville.

"An extensive brewery deal was close ed the latter part of the week when the Bartel brewery, of Edwardsville, which recently began operations, was disposed of to a New York syndicate," says the Wilkes-Barre Record. "The papers for several weeks have contained accounts of the syndicate's operations in New York state, but it has not been supposed that they contemplated an invasioa of Pennsylvania. "Satisfactory options were secured from the various stockholders of the Bartel brewery, Herman Bartel, the well known Syrncuse brewer, is president of the Edwardsville company and the principal stockholder. This brewhowever, is in no way connected with the Syracuse concern of the same name. Among those in this vicinity who are interested in the brewery are E. J. Rutledge, who is manager, and Mr. Reed, the secretary and treasurer of the company. Other stockholders are Sylvester Panksztis, of Edwardsville; M. C. Russell and Joseph Wal-hace. "The new brewery syndicate is com posed entirely of New York capitalists and they have been successful in gaining control of a large number of New York concerns.

"Mr. Reed, the secretary and treasurer of the Bartel company, informed a Record reporter last evening that while this deal had been practically closed. all of the stockholders having agreed to the sale, no formal transfer of interest had yet been made, and that the business would not be transferred for some time. The present management will be continued for several months and consequently no change will be made in the force. The change of ownership will not affect the output and the business will be conducted along the same lines as at present. Mr. Partel, it is understood, is not interested in the syndicate. He has built several brieweries, which he has sold soon after they began operations, the Lackawanna brewery at Scranton being an example. It was built by Messrs, Bartel and Hand, Mr. Bartel disposing of his interest soon after its erection. "The Bartel brewery of Edwardsville was built about a year ago and operations were begun the first of last July It is fitted up with the latest improved that of any brewery in the northeastern part of the state. The cost of erection was $300,000. The present output is about 1,200 barrels per week, and about fifty men are employed." When the local brewers combine was organized in this vicinity Bartel said he was going to start a brewery in this city to fight the syndicate, but he finally decided to locate his plant at Edwardsville.

RECEPTION IN THE FIRST CHURCH CLOSING FEATURE OF ANNI-VERSARY EXERCISES.

Seats Removed from the Centre of the Church and the Space Used for Reception Purposes-Bauer's Orchestra Furnished the Music. Names of the Ladies and Gentlemen Who Acted as a Reception Committee Last Night-Some of the Distinguished Guests.

One of the pleasantest features in nnection with the semi-centennial of the First Presbyterian church, was th great reception given last night to for-mer members and friends who gathered in large numbers and enjoyed the delightful reunion in what has long been a spot endeared by heritage and tradition to a multitude who in childhood or youth or age have spent many blessed hours within its walls. The guests on arrival were greeted with a surprise as the broad open space in the centre of the church, from which the two rows of pews had been entirely removed was covered with crash, and made an attractive reception room, where gentlemen prominent in the congregation and many prettily gowned ladies received the visitors. laver's orchestra furnished delightful nusic

The affair was in charge of the Ludies' Aid society, Mrs. John T. Richards, chairman; Mrs. H. V. Logan and Mrs. Richard J. Matthews. The reception committee consisted of the ladies whose names appear below, a number of whom being in mourning were not in attendance.

The committee originally was: Mrs. James McLeod, Mrs. Bennell, Mrs. James Archbald, Mrs. William Hallstand, Mrs. A. M. Decker, Mrs. E. P. Kingsbury, Mrs. H. V. Logan, Mrs. H. A Kingsbury, Mrs. William Plumley. Mrs. George Jessue, Mrs. Fred Tracey, Mrs. William Foole, Mrs. E. L. Buck, Mrs. Louis Mattes, Mrs. T. F. Watts, Mrs William H. Perkins, Mrs F. E. Watt. front of both lots, without correcting the false impression that he had signe for them both. When payment was denanded Mr. Fuller would only settle for the corner lot, for which he had signed, and the contractor went into ourt to recover from Mr. Fuller the research on both lots Judge Edwards holds that the under-aking between the parties was simply one of contract. The defendant h says, signed the written agreement for his corner lot only and is therefor only liable for one hundred and forty

The plaintiff is also directed to pay back to the defendant $24.75, which he inadvertently overpaid.

DIPHTHERIA PREVALENT.

Fifteen New Cases Reported Yesterday-Physicians Say Cases of It Are Always Numerous at This Time of Year.

The continued prevalence of diph theria is occasioning no little comment among physicians in all parts of the city. Fifteen new cases were reported to the board of health yesterday, probably cases which developed during Fri-day, Saturday and Sunday, while sixteen new cases were reported during lust week

Although the disease prevails every year at this season, so many new cases within so short a period is unusual and it is possible that physicians, stirred by the recent excitement over the No. 28 school cases, have been more alert than common to make their reports as required by law.

The fifteen new cases reported yes terday are distributed as follows: Providence, 7; Green Ridge, central city and Bellevue, 2 each; West Side and South Side, I each. Last week's new cases were: Bellevue, 9; West Side and central city, 2 each: Providence, Circen Ridge and South Side, 1 each. However, no deaths from the disease during this period have been reported. A well-known physician, in discussing the disease with a Tribune reporter vesterday, said: "It is a mistake to make any special comment on diphtheria just now. It is a disease infectious and contagious and consequently common at all times of the year and always very general at this season. I have no doubt that every other case.

reported as diphtheria is nothing more than tonsilitis or something similar. Why the cases are reported as diphtheria, is something I have my opinion about, but do not care to discuss."

Dr. W. E. Allen, health officer of the city, said last night in response to a Tribune reporter's inquiry: "No, there is no significance to be attached to the many cases of diphtheria. It is always prevalent at this time of the year and s no more general now than in past years at this season. There is posttively no reason, excuse or cause for putting anything in your paper about
